Mr. Hateson has been disposing of his cream to the Clear Creek Creamery company, and is now to engage in making butter at his dairy farm. Mr. Hateson and son returned to Viola Wednesday evening. Mr. Hateson is a native Oregonian and knows how to farm and operate his dairy business in a first class manner.

Sheriff Wilson and G. L. Hedges, district attorney, made an automobile trip to Ardenwald on Tuesday morning, and had an experience with some of the bad roads of Clackamas county. The automobile leaped into one of the chuck holes, and Sheriff Wilson states that he is sure there was no bottom to it. The machine became mired, and one of the good natured farmers residing close by gave the officers his assistance and brought their automobile from the hole. They had no sooner gotten out when along came another automobile, and it, like the Wilson machine, plunged into the same hole and the farmer, who gave his assistance to Wilson and Hedges, brought the second automobile out. The farmer seeing that business was commencing to get rather rushing, but not much in it for him, decided to throw up the job, and get to his farm work. The Oregon City officers offered to settle with him for extracting the machine from the mud. The roads in some parts of the county are in such condition that many of the motorists are waiting for better weather before venturing out in their machines.

Several weeks ago, W. H. Cook, deputy county assessor, brought to the office some of his prize beans from his farm home near Oswego. These were to be presented to one of his friends, who was considering the food preparedness campaign now occupying so many people's attention. Some of the beans disappeared from the jar. The two young women deputies, Miss Gertrude Wilson and Miss Virginia Shaw, were accused, as they are members of the National Honor guard of this city, and were among the enthusiastic members of that organization considering the planting of beans and potatoes. They, of course, denied taking the beans, until a few days ago, when Mr. Cook spied some of the beans peeping out of the window boxes and palm box. It wasn't long before Cook found just where the missing beans were. The young women confessed, and said that before starting in on a larger piece of ground they desired to try their hand at farming. Seeing that they were lucky in growing these seeds, they are now contemplating planting much ground to beans, providing Mr. Cook supplies them with beans. These will later be turned over to the government. On Tuesday afternoon beans were planted in window boxes, tin cans or anything that had dirt in it at the county assessor's office.

ONE of the prettiest of weddings was solemnized at Liberal on May 9th, when Miss Edna Vick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Vick, prominent residents of Clackamas county, became the wife of Mr. Lavelle Burghardt, also of Liberal. The marriage was performed at 8 o'clock by Rev. F. J. Dening in the presence of about 50 relatives and friends. The church was prettily decorated with spring flowers. The bride was becomingly gowned in white voile, and her long tulle veil was held in place with a wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses. The maid of honor, Miss Mildred Rowen, of Portland, wore pink, and carried pink carnations.

Following the marriage ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where refreshments were served. The home of Mr. and Mrs. Vick was beautifully decorated. Mr. and Mrs. Burghardt left for a brief honeymoon, and upon their return, they went to housekeeping. Mr. Burghardt is engaged in farming. The bride is one of the most popular young women of Liberal. She was born and reared in that place, and has a host of friends far and wide. The bridegroom is a well known young farmer, and is the son of Mr. Burghardt, of Salem, who was among those to attend the marriage ceremony.

IN SOCIETY CIRCLES

MISS Clara Pearl Mitchell and Mr. Joseph M. Justin, well known and popular young people of this city were united in marriage on Sunday at high noon at the Pro-Cathedral, Portland, when Father Cronin performed the impressive rite ceremony. A few intimate friends of the contracting parties attended, and following the marriage ceremony a luncheon was enjoyed by the bridal party at the Portland hotel, after which the bridal party made a motoring trip on the Columbia river highway. Upon the return to Portland the newlyweds were entertained by friends. They returned to Oregon City on Sunday evening, and in September will be at home to their friends in their bungalow at Eleventh and Center street, now occupied by C. A. Miller and family.

The bride is the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Mitchell, prominent residents of Sandy. She attended the Oregon City high school, and later accepted a position in the office of the county assessor in this city, remaining as a deputy in that office for eight years. In January she accepted a position with the First National Bank of Oregon City, and will remain with the institution until September.

The bridegroom is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Justin, well known residents of this city. He has resided in this city most of his life, and for the past ten years has been connected with the Price Brothers' Clothing establishment. For some time he was manager of this company's store at Dallas.

THURSDAY afternoon, May 17, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Hughes, there was a delightful surprise and "shower" for the twin babies who are not quite two months old. She was born and reared in that place, and has a host of friends far and wide. The bridegroom is a well known young farmer, and is the son of Mr. Burghardt, of Salem, who was among those to attend the marriage ceremony.

ONE of the prettiest home weddings of the season was held at the home of Mrs. R. A. Schoenborn at Seventh and John Quincy Adams streets, on Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock, when her youngest daughter, Miss Elsie Schoenborn, was united in marriage to Mr. Ernest H. Cross, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cross, of this city. The impressive rite ceremony was performed by Rev. J. W. MacCallum, pastor of the Congregational church, in the presence of relatives, and a few friends of the contracting parties.

MISS Emma Thomas Franzel and Mr. Leonard Wilbur, prominent young people of Stafford, were united in marriage at the home of Rev. and Mrs. W. T. Milliken, of this city, on Tuesday at 12:30 o'clock. The bride was prettily gowned in white voile. Following the marriage ceremony, the young couple left for a brief honeymoon, and upon returning will make their home at Stafford, where Mr. Wilbur is engaged in farming.

Couple Back From Honeymoon.

Miss Ida Beugli, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Beugli, of Molalla, and Mr. Arthur McKinstler, of Liberal, son of Mr. McKinstler, of Liberal, were quietly married at the German Evangelical church, Portland, on May 4th. Attending the marriage ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. G. McKinstler, of Portland and Mr. McKinstler, the father. Following the marriage ceremony, the newlyweds left on a brief honeymoon, and have taken up their residence on the farm of the bridegroom at Liberal. Upon their return they were given a reception by their many friends, and presented with many handsome and useful gifts.

The bridegroom and bride are among the most popular young people in that section of Clackamas county.

Surprise Party For Clarence Weddie. Clarence Weddie, son of B. P. Weddie of Stafford, is preparing to take a vacation trip to Montana for the summer and his young friends in recognition of the fact that it is his first trip away, gave him a farewell surprise party at his home Wednesday night. Clarence is quite popular in his community and many young people were present. An informal program of music was rendered by the Misses Peters and others. After an evening of social games, delicious refreshments were served. Everybody had a royal good time, and wished Clarence a successful trip and a speedy return. He expects to look after some investments while gone and may not return until the late fall.

Milliken, pastor of the Baptist church, officiating. The marriage took place at the Baptist parsonage in the presence of a few friends and relatives of the contracting parties. The bride was attired in white crepe de chine, and carried a shower bouquet of white carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. Kinney, after a brief honeymoon, are to make their future home at Portland.

YOUNG PEOPLE MEET TO PLAN RELIGIOUS WORK

The Sunday School Christian Endeavorers of eastern Clackamas county met at Estacada for a rally Sunday. The young people were addressed by G. Evert Baker, of Oak Grove, and Elbert Charman of Oregon City, president of the Oregon Christian Endeavor union. Discussions were held concerning various phases of the Endeavor work.

The Endeavor societies of Estacada and Springfield were only recently established but already have large enrollments.

A number of visitors attended the rally, including Lorraine Ostrom, Jennings Lodge; Dr. Roy D. Prudden, Elbert Charman, Miss Della Hinckman, Miss Marion White, Oregon City; G. Evert Baker, Oak Grove; Miss Jennie Mullan and Miss Shirlee Swallow, of Wichita.

ASKS FOR A DIVORCE 3 YEARS AND A DAY AFTER THEIR MARRIAGE

The day after the third anniversary of her marriage to Collis Wood, Mrs. Ida Wood filed suit in the circuit court here Monday asking for a divorce. The Woods were married in Seattle, May 20, 1914. Mrs. Woods alleges desertion in her complaint.

An order was issued today by Circuit Judge J. U. Campbell restraining Geo. P. Rush from drawing any of the money which he now has in an Oregon City bank, and ordering him to pay $40 a month to his wife during the process of a suit which she has brought against him for divorce.

In the complaint Mrs. Rush alleges that since their marriage August 3, 1916, her husband has neglected her. Especially has this been the case since the birth of their only child one month ago. Mrs. Rush alleges, and says that her husband has been to see the child only once and then only after being persuaded to by her relatives. Mr. Rush, who is employed by the Crown Willamette Paper company, is said to have $200 in a local savings bank. This, Mrs. Rush asks the court to give to her, as well as alimony of $40 a month.

When John J. Casto, defendant in divorce proceedings brought by his wife, Masie M. Casto, failed to appear in his own defense Monday, Circuit Judge Campbell granted a divorce to Mrs. Casto.

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENT IS CHOSEN PRINCIPAL OF PARKPLACE SCHOOL

Robert Barnett, a graduate of the 1917 class of the Oregon City high school and a student of the teachers' training course, has been elected principal of the Parkplace school, and will also act as instructor of the seventh and eighth grades. He succeeds Miss Coralie Amrine, who has been elected principal of the Clackamas school. Other teachers chosen at Parkplace are Amy Peckover, fifth and sixth grades; Osella Anderson, third and fourth grades; Marie Holmes, primary.

MARRIAGE LICENSE ISSUED

A marriage license has been issued here to Anna Ridder and George F. Backman, both of legal age. They are residents of Sherwood, Oregon.

APPERSON'S ESTATE IN CLACKAMAS COUNTY IS VALUED AT $40,566.13

Showing a total valuation of $40,566.13, with holdings in Clackamas, Multnomah and Polk counties, an appraisal of the estate of the late John T. Apperson was filed in the office of County Clerk Iva M. Harrington here today. The estate is divided into tracts in the three counties as follows: Clackamas, $40,566.13; Multnomah, $17,906; Polk, $5150.

A petition was filed with the county clerk asking for a writ of review of the estate of Lulah Toedtemeier by the heirs of the estate today.

Judgment for $316.65 is asked by F. B. Schoenborn from Emma E. Milstead, alleged to be due on a promissory note. Joseph Meindl also appeals to the courts, in a complaint filed today, to collect $1250 for him which he says O. W. Eastham and Daisy B. Eastham owe on a promissory note of several years' standing.

MT. PLEASANT SCHOOL CLOSED BY DIRECTORS BECAUSE OF MEASLES

Because practically one-third of the 90 or more students of the Mount Pleasant school either are confined in their homes with the measles or are just recovering from the disease, the board of school directors Friday ordered the school closed for the remainder of the term.

Three teachers are employed at the school, with Mrs. O. A. Barnum as principal. Some opposition to the closing was met with but this was overruled by those who felt that the term was so nearly completed that the remaining three weeks should be sacrificed for the sake of checking the epidemic of measles.

Much of the opposition arose from the teachers, who even though they will be paid for the entire term, believe that the remaining weeks are of vital importance in the completion of the year's scholastic work.

TWO MORE YOUNG MEN RESPOND TO CALL OF NATION BY ENLISTING

Charles Graham, salesman for the Huntley Drug Company, is another of Oregon City's young men to hear the call to the colors, and has made an application to be enrolled in the ambulance corps that is being recruited for service with General Pershing's division in France. He will take his physical examination Wednesday. The ambulance corps is being fitted out under the direction of Dr. Green, of Portland, and is expected to be en route for Europe within two months.

Mitchell Story, the third member of the Morning Enterprise force to answer his country's call, has applied for enlistment in the navy.

REDLAND WOMAN DIES AT OREGON CITY HOSPITAL

Mrs. Laura Steininger, wife of I. C. Steininger, a prominent resident of Redland, died at the Oregon City hospital on Tuesday evening, May 22, following an illness of several months. The remains are at the undertaking parlors of Myers and Brady, of this city, and will be shipped to Molalla this morning on the Willamette Valley Southern Railway, where the interment will take place in the family lot in Adams cemetery. The funeral services are to be held at the Methodist church at Molalla at 1:30 o'clock, with Rev. Snyder, pastor, officiating.

Mrs. Steininger was born in Nebraska, and was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Carpenter, well known residents of Molalla. She was born on March 15, 1895, and was 22 years of age at the time of her death.

Mrs. Steininger is survived by her husband, I. C. Steininger, two children, one of whom is two years of age and the other three years of age; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Carpenter, of Molalla; three sisters, Mrs. Carl Gray, of Oregon City; Mrs. Edward Anderson, of Molalla; Miss Maude Carpenter, of Molalla, and one brother, Orville Carpenter, of Molalla.

Portland: Columbia Engineering works launched a 170-foot auxiliary schooner.

OLD RESIDENT IS RECOVERING FROM ILLNESS

James Moore, one of the old residents of this county, who was taken to the Oregon City hospital on Sunday evening, where an operation was performed by Drs. Guy and H. S. Mount, is improving, although Mr. Moore is 86 years of age. It is through the kindness of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Hawley Sr., and W. P. Hawley Jr., that the operation has been performed.

Mr. Moore, thirty years ago, became acquainted with Mr. Hawley and his wife, and the old gentleman on several occasions favored Mr. Hawley and his wife at Bridal Veil. These kind acts have never been forgotten by the millowner and his family. He had been told that if ever in need of assistance to call on them. He did so, and on Sunday afternoon the old gentleman called for Willard P. Hawley Jr., of this city, to come to his bedside at his home near Milwaukie. The young man at once visited the sick man, who was found in a dangerous condition. Dr. Guy Mount, who was summoned, pronounced it appendicitis, and Mr. Hawley at once ordered the man to the hospital with orders to give him the best of care and attention at his expense.

Mr. Moore has a history which is of interest. He has been around the world many times, having been a seaman in his early days. While on the Ascension Island near Australia Mr. Moore assisted the natives with their shipping, and he was held in the highest esteem by every native on the island. He was furnished with six of the best of servants without charge, and was adopted as the son of the crown prince. Mr. Moore enjoys telling of his harrowing experiences while on the sea.

When called upon at the hospital on Tuesday morning, following the operation, Mr. Moore told W. P. Hawley Jr., that he was greatly improved, and that he was going to recover rapidly.

REFERENDUM ON LAW ELIMINATING THE ROAD SUPERVISORS FAILS

Promoters of a plan to refer to the people the law abolishing the office of road supervisor and otherwise amending the road code were unable to secure sufficient signatures to submit the law, which is known as House Bill 519. Several weeks ago a local organization of farmers was formed here to fight the bill, and referendum petitions were sent out to every section of the state. The organization lacked funds to employ petition circulators and the voluntary work of the road supervisors and other opponents of the law was not sufficient to obtain enough signatures by more than 5000. The position of road supervisor will be abolished, under the law, January 1, 1918.

SPEEDER IS FINED FOR OFFENSE WHICH WOULD NOW BRING JAIL TERM

Because he was arrested at about 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon instead of after midnight Sunday, J. C. Brauchman, who was taken into custody by Motorcycle Officer H. E. Meades on a charge of speeding his car, escaped with a fine of $50 instead of receiving a penitentiary sentence from Justice Kelso of Milwaukie today. Brauchman was arrested by County Motorcycle Officer H. E. Meades near Milwaukie Sunday afternoon, charged with driving his automobile at a speed of approximately 40 miles an hour while he was in an intoxicated condition.

Under the new state law, effective at midnight Sunday, Brauchman would have been liable to a fine of not less than $50 nor more than $500 or to a penitentiary sentence, for the new law makes the driving of an automobile while intoxicated, a felony.

POTATOES WILL SOON BE PLANTED BY GIRLS IN HONOR GUARD TRACT

Through the assistance of J. W. Moffett and Charles Parker of the Oregon Engineering company, the members of the girls' honor guard of Oregon City are today in a position to undertake the actual planting of their garden tract in the north end of the city. The land was plowed by employees of the engineering firm, and it will be harrowed with a disc plowed by Gus Englebrecht, and the seed potatoes donated by J. W. Draper of West Linn will be planted by the girls within a few days. In addition to this land, which consists of about an acre, the guard has a patch of beans at Mount Pleasant and another tract of potatoes at Gladstone donated by O. E. Freytag.

WOMAN WHO CROSSED PLAINS IN AN OX-CART DIES AT WOLFE CREEK

Mrs. Catherine Taylor, widow of the late J. C. Taylor, died at Wolfe Creek, southern Oregon, Sunday morning at 9:20 o'clock, after a few days' illness of pneumonia. The remains were brought to this city, her former home, Monday evening, and the funeral services will be conducted Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, with interment in the family lot in Mountain View cemetery. The remains are to be laid beside those of her husband, J. C. Taylor, who died in this city thirteen years ago. Rev. W. T. Milliken, pastor of the Baptist church, will officiate. Mrs. Taylor has been a member of the Baptist church for many years.

Mrs. Taylor's maiden name was Catherine Robison, and she was born at Lafayette, Indiana, July 10, 1828. She was united in marriage at the age of 22 year, to J. C. Taylor in Jones county, Iowa. Remaining there for some time, she started for Oregon, crossing the plains in 1867 by ox team, settling first in what is now Marquam, Clackamas county. Making their home at that place for two years, they left for Silverton, where they resided for two years, and then came to Oregon City, where Mr. Taylor passed away, and Mrs. Taylor lived until about eighteen months ago, when she left for Long Beach, California, to visit her daughter, Mrs. C. D. Story, and also to visit another daughter, Mrs. Edwin Martin, who resides near Long Beach. Returning to Oregon about two weeks ago to visit with her daughter, Mrs. Edwin Story, of Wolfe Creek, she was stricken with pneumonia, being ill but a few days before her death. Her daughter, Mrs. C. D. Story, of California, and her daughters, Mrs. Edwin Story, of Wolfe Creek, and Mrs. Frank Welsh, of this city, were at her bedside when she passed away.

Mrs. Taylor is survived by the following children: Mrs. Edwin Harrington, of Gladstone; Elbridge Taylor, of Lake View, Oregon; Mrs. C. D. Story, of Long Beach, California; Mrs. Frank Welsh, of Oregon City; Mrs. Edward Story, of Wolfe Creek, Oregon; Mrs. Amy Martin, of Lost Hill, California, and Mrs. Myrtle Patton, of Royal, Iowa. She is also survived by seventeen grand children, and seven great grandchildren. County Clerk Harrington and Dr. Orel Welsh, of this city, are grandchildren of Mrs. Taylor.

Mrs. Taylor was well and favorably known in Oregon City, and Clackamas county, where she had many friends. She was of an unusually cheerful disposition, and had won hundreds of friends by her charming manner. In sickness or in trouble Mrs. Taylor was always ready in giving a helping hand. Although 79 years of age in July, Mrs. Taylor was very active for her age.

WM. MOLDENHAUER OF CLACKAMAS HEIGHTS DIES, AGED 75 YEARS

William Moldenhauer, one of the old-time residents of Clackamas Heights, about one mile from this city, died at that place on Sunday evening at 8 o'clock. The funeral services are to be conducted at Clackamas Heights Tuesday afternoon at 1 o'clock, with Rev. William Krayberger, pastor of the German Lutheran church, officiating. Interment will be in the Mountain View cemetery.

Mr. Moldenhauer was a native of Germany, and was born May 2, 1842. His wife has been dead for a number of years.

EDITH SAGER IS DEAD, AFTER A BRIEF ILLNESS

Miss Edith Sager, thirteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Sager, died on Sunday at the family home at Clarksburg, after a brief illness. The funeral services, which are to be in charge of the Myers and Brady establishment of this city, are to be conducted Tuesday afternoon at Clarksburg. Interment is to be in the Clarksburg cemetery.

COMPANY WOULD CUT TIMBER IN MONITOR TRACT

The Clackamas County Driving and Rating company has been incorporated, with James Adkins president and William M. Stone secretary, for the purpose of transporting logs, lumber and timber products on Coal and Butte creeks. It is estimated that there is 500,000,000 feet of available timber for transportation. Application for a franchise has been made to the public service commission, the granting of which will be the signal for the beginning of operations. The company plans to build a sawmill three miles above Monitor, or to construct a spur on the Willamette Valley Southern from Monitor to that point, where the Morrison mill was formerly located.
