

EXCITING BALL GAMES ARE SCHEDULED FOR BALANCE OF SEASON

The machinists and plumbers of the Crown Willamette Paper Company played a base ball game on the diamond at Gladstone Park Thursday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, which drew a large and enthusiastic crowd of mill employees.

The score of the plumbers team was 19, while eleven was the machinists' score. The star player of the game was Worden, of the plumbers. There was one home run made by the latter team, and this was followed by a lost ball that was not recovered. Bert Baxter and C. Rittenhouse proved to be efficient as umpires.

The following was the lineup of the plumbers' team: Courand, catcher; Thompson, pitcher; G. Schwartz, first base; L. Schwartz, second base; Allen, short stop; Pooler, third base; Hopp, left field; Lilly, center field; Worden, right field.

The lineup of the machinists was: Conway, catcher; Bernier, pitcher; H. Seiler, first base; Grafton, second base; Young, shortstop; Zirbel, left field; Dower, center field; Swanson, right field.

Mill A. sawyers, have challenged the winning team to a game and this will be played in the near future, the date of which has not yet been announced.

The baseball team of the Hawley Pulp & Paper company has challenged a picked nine from the Crown Willamette Paper company, and this will be one of the most exciting games pulled off at the Gladstone diamond this season. There will be fans galore from both mills to add to the enthusiasm.

HOME ROBBED WHILE OWNERS ARE ABSENT ON VACATION TRIP

During the absence of the J. N. Webster family at Oswego, their home was entered and robbed Wednesday, and so far there is no clue to the robbers.

An entrance was made into the house by means of the cellar and the robbers made their escape in this manner. The house was thoroughly ransacked, and a number of pieces of valuable jewelry taken, among which was a gold watch, a keepsake of Mrs. Webster, presented to her by her deceased mother, which she valued highly.

The robbers displayed unusual nerve, and had entered the kitchen, prepared a meal, helping themselves to whatever they could find. Some of the victuals not partaken of remained on the table. They had prepared themselves coffee, and cooked bacon and had a regular feast before leaving.

As a result of the number of robberies which have been committed in Oregon City during the past two weeks by a lone man, who has been carrying a flashlight to help him find his "bearings," some of the people here are prepared to meet him. Among these were Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Bunn, of Sixth and Center street. Mr. and Mrs. Bunn, who were sleeping on their sleeping porch, were aroused from their slumber Tuesday night at 12:30 o'clock, when they found a man coming towards their apartment, using his flashlight. Mr. Bunn called to the man, which frightened him away.

The Quality Of Mercy

In the news yesterday morning was the sad account of the snuffing out of the life of a young man from the Damascus district, who came to an untimely end when a team which he was driving ran away and overturned a load of lumber, causing his instant death.

This young man was on an errand of mercy when he received his call and by all the rulings of man-made laws should have been under the protective guidance of an All-Wise Providence and free to continue with his good work. A neighbor, less fortunate than himself, had sustained the loss of a barn through fire and this young man and another neighbor had volunteered their time and horses to the work of hauling lumber to be used in replacing that loss.

It is hard to understand why he, with youth, happiness and the good will of a host of neighbors should have been selected to make that fatal trip, unless we accept the fact that to him was due something better, greater and more to be desired in a higher plane of existence than it was possible for him to receive here on earth.

In an earlier age a Man was called by his Father to make the supreme sacrifice that his brothers on earth might receive a lessening of their burden of doubt, and His life of righteousness and truth has been handed down to us as an example by which to square our actions. In truth may it be said that John DeYoung has fulfilled his mission on earth and has been called to take his seat in that temple not made with hands, 'eternal in the heavens.'

AIR FLIGHTS BRING THRILLS TO OREGON CITY RESIDENTS

So favorably was he impressed with his air flight at Canby a few days ago with a pilot from Portland, Captain R. J. Young, harbor master of the Willamette Navigation Company, whose home is at Willamette, has decided to take a similar flight as soon as the opportunity is offered.

Monday morning Captain Young, in company with J. P. Lovett, a superintendent in the Crown Willamette paper mill, and D. M. Shank, also connected with the company, motored to Canby, where they satisfied their desires to undergo the thrill of a flight.

The first of the party to go up was Captain Young, who made an ascent of 4000 feet and made the trip to Oregon City and return to Canby. Captain Young says it beats steamboating every way, and little did he realize what a beautiful valley he was living in until he reached the 400 foot altitude. He says he is now ready to take all the dips, banks, spurs and whirls of flight whenever an airplane comes his way. The round trip to Oregon City was made in 20 minutes.

The next one to try the "ship" was Mr. Shank, but the height he reached was only 2000 feet, although he claims this was a good starter, and will go higher the next time he has the chance. Mr. Shank says it is a wonderful feeling that thrills one as the plane mounts the upper air, but all fear leaves as one ascends. After reaching a height of 2000 feet Mr. Shank says the country below appeared like a wonderful large painting. Away in the distance were farms and golden fields of grain, and mountains, and the scene was a panorama that he will not soon forget.

Mr. Lovett, upon reaching Canby, decided it looked safer to be on solid ground than in the air, but thoroughly enjoyed watching his companions fly.

INVESTIGATION OF TELEPHONE RATES TO BE INSTITUTED

By an order issued by the Public Service Commission of Oregon at Salem on August 5th, an investigation will be instituted by the Commission into the legality and reasonableness of all the rates and charges, rules and regulations of the Pacific Tel. & Tel. Company for exchange telephone service rendered entirely within the State of Oregon, and a hearing in this matter will be held before the Public Service Commission of Oregon in its offices at 252 Court House Bldg., Portland, on Wednesday, August 27th, beginning at 10 o'clock in the morning. The purpose of the investigation is an examination of the recent increase in rates made by the Telephone Company and at the meeting held in Portland testimony will be introduced covering all phases of the subject.

In the display window of Dr. Roy Prudden on Main street is being exhibited a copy of one of the first issues of The Oregon Spectator, from a collection of relics and curios owned by H. S. Stevens. Mr. Stevens, who has many rare relics of the early days at his home, values the edition of the Spectator most highly. This is volume 1, No. 5.

PORTLAND COP MAKES SUCCESS OF RAISING PEDIGREE POULTRY

R. E. Butler, prominent poultryman of Clackamas county, who is also on the Portland police department, was in Oregon City Friday. Mr. Butler brought to this city to be shipped to the Bonna Terra ranch at Drain, Oregon, twelve full blooded White Leghorn cocks, for which he received $100. The cocks were as fine birds as have ever been seen in Oregon City, and while here attracted unusual attention, especially by poultry fanciers who saw them.

Mr. Butler is carrying on the poultry industry as a sideline to his employment in Portland, and is thoroughly enjoying his vacation days among his birds. He has 2000 pure-blood Single Comb White Leghorns on his farm, 1500 of which are this year's birds and 500 older birds. He raised 15,000 chickens last year, and for the coming year plans to raise 30,000. He already has orders for 15,000. So many orders have come to his poultry farm recently that he is unable to supply the demand.

The birds Mr. Butler is engaged in breeding are not show stock, but are of the best egg laying strain. One of the birds among those he has on his farm has attained a record of an average of 200 eggs a year. These birds are of pedigree stock and are trap nested.

The White Leghorns are raised by means of the incubator, and Mr. Butler expects to install 27 incubators for next year's hatching, each of which will have a capacity of 500 eggs. Mrs. Butler devoted her attention to the incubators when these are filled with eggs, and she has been very successful in handling the egg hatching.

Mr. Butler came to Clackamas county three years ago to engage in the poultry industry. At that time he had $100 and 25 hens. He first invested in a full-blooded White Leghorn cock, paying $25 for the same. Today his property and his poultry amount to $7000. This is an illustration as to what energy and knowledge will do for the man who works.

Mr. Butler has one of the finest poultry houses in the state. It is 24x140 feet, and was built at an expense of $1150. It is always kept in a most sanitary condition, and many visitors each day enjoy the privilege of visiting this modern poultry barn. The visitors are always given a cordial welcome.

The Butler poultry farm consists of five acres, but the proprietor is negotiating for the purchase of more land, as his business is increasing so rapidly as to necessitate more room.

D. W. Anderson, father-in-law of Mr. Butler, is assisting in operating the poultry farm.

REAL ESTATE ACTIVE IN VICINITY; GOOD DEALS ARE CLOSED

A number of important land deals have been closed in this city during the week indicating that business in the real estate line is unusually active.

The beautiful farm home of H. A. Heater, located at Maple Lane, about three miles from Oregon City, has been sold through A. J. Bockhold, of the Dillman Realty Company, to A. Frazier, of Canada, who will take possession the first of next week. This is one of the finest country homes of Clackamas county. It is not one of the best in the Northwest. The house consists of nine rooms, is plastered, has a hot and cold water system, furnace and all modern conveniences that a home in the city enjoys. There are 60 acres of land, much of which has been improved. The price paid by Mr. Frazier is understood to have been in the neighborhood of $11,000. Mr. Heater has been a resident of Clackamas county for 15 years, and was in the drug business for 20 years before coming to Oregon City.

Mr. Bockhold has also made a deal in which 30 acres of land located on the Beaver Creek road eleven miles from Oregon City was traded by Mr. Olinger to E. B. Lowe for 320 acres in Harney county. Mr. Olinger will take possession in the very near future.

The Westley Howard place of ten acres, situated on the Plank road in the southeastern part of the city was sold through Mr. Bockhold to Mr. F. A. Palmer of Portland recently. Mr. Palmer has sold this place to Mrs. Jane Thomas, who has been a resident of this city for some time past.

ATTEMPTED ROBBERY OF WICKHAM HOME IS FRUSTRATED BY ALARM

Shortly before three o'clock Thursday morning Alonzo Wickham, who resides at Third and Madison streets, heard footsteps on the front porch of his home and sounds which would indicate that some person was endeavoring to pry open an window which was fastened down.

Mr. Wickham, being unarmed, turned on an alarm system which he had recently installed and then made an effort to identify the intruder as he crossed the street after being scared away by the ringing of the alarm. He saw the stranger, who is presumed to be the same person who is guilty of the numerous robberies which have been pulled off in Oregon City during the past few weeks, but he kept in the shadows so well that Mr. Wickham was unable to get a good sight of him.
