BE CANNY

Get that canning impulse. Make your hoe this summer keep you an opener busy next winter.

Get ready for canning season now. Regrets are the only things ever canned in the jars you forgot to order. Can nothing that can be kept without canning. Dry such vegetables as corn, string beans, navy beans, mature Lima beans, okra, etc.

You can brag about your garden all winter if you have your canned evidence on the dinner table.

Concentrate products, especially soup mixtures, so that each container will hold as much canned food and as little water as possible.

Really there is nothing to canning fruit and vegetables except care, cleanliness, fresh products, jars and heat.

SOME PLEASANT FACTS

The Liberty Loan of 1917 was a great success in whatever aspect it is considered. The government called for two billion dollars and over three billion dollars was subscribed for by more than four million people. This large subscription and this great number of subscribers were obtained after a short campaign, from a nation that as a people were not accustomed to purchasing government bonds. The spirit with which vast numbers of citizens and organizations worked to make the loan a success is not an unimportant element in making the loan not merely a success but a triumph.

It should be remembered, too, that the bond issues of other nations were sold when the foe was either on their territory or at their very gates. Our bonds were sold when danger was far from us. There was no duress, there was no hysteria, and there was but little war spirit. The bonds were bought in the calm exercise of patriotism and sound business judgment after a campaign of education and information.

Richmond, Va., the old capital of the Confederacy, bought a Liberty bond for every five inhabitants. Montana, in the far west, largely exceeded its quota of bonds. Little villages all over the country exceeded their quotas as the metropolis of the country did. There was hardly a state, city or community that did not do the same. Poor crop conditions, a recent great fire and other local causes resulted in two districts falling a little below their allotments, but the large over-subscription everywhere else more than made up for this unavoidable deficiency. Cities with large foreign-born populations subscribed as liberally as others.

The united spirit of the American people, the solidarity of the nation, made up as it is of people from all nations, have been demonstrated.

A second loan is contemplated within the next few months. The same things that made the initial loan of two billion dollars a success will operate to make the new one equally successful. In fact, the information regarding government bonds and finance now possessed by the people of the country will make the placing of the next issue of bonds less difficult. Those subscribers of the first issue who were not allotted their full subscription will give the new issue a start of more than a billion dollars, since it may be regarded as certain that they will not lose the opportunity to obtain the amount of government bonds desired.

CONSIDER THE AGENT

Dramatists who are in search of material for a "play with a punch" are invited to direct their attention to the station agent in a small town. Shirt-sleeved and unassuming, the rural transportation expert possesses nevertheless all the elements of humor, grit and energy which go to form our conception of American character. In him the romance of railroading finds expression. He is the reception committee that greets the stranger on the platform of Lonesome Town. He is the town directory and the information bureau toward which you turn eagerly, and it is with his assistance that you take your departure. You feel that in him at least you have for the time being a proprietary interest, and he doubtless feels the same about you.

Conversely with the size of the town his duties increase, until we find him good naturedly holding down the duties of mayor, chief of police, store-keeper, janitor and winder of the town clock. He ships your freight, sells you your tickets, checks your baggage, tells you when the train goes to Kankakee, whether it is on time, how long it will take you to get there, names the best hotel and agrees with you that it looks like rain. He builds a fire in the waiting room when it is cold and in the summer swats the flies. He keeps one ear cocked in the direction of the ticker, and listens to what you are saying with the other. On the way out to the front platform he frequently collides with himself dashing madly to the telephone or the telegraph instruments.

For the trains that rush by, he has a wave of his hand for the engineer and a shout for the brakeman on the rear platform. For those that stop he finds time to hustle baggage and passengers aboard, exchange pleasantries with the crew, and kid the conductor about his youngest baby. He still finds time to make out reports that would give the average man writer's cramp, and he trundles homeward in the evening on a bicycle never sure that he will enjoy a full night's rest.

The station agent isn't inclined to boast, and he looks far from ferocious, but there's many a passenger who owes his life to the mental alertness of this railroad representative. Likewise, many a highwayman is behind pentenary bars today because he tried to take liberties with the watching of the Company's property.

Withal the station agent is a friendly chap when people give him half a chance. He realizes that he is trusted with the Company's honor in playing host to the great traveling public, and he is said to his credit that he fulfills the trust to the best of his ability. He realizes that his is the duty of giving the stranger a pleasing impression of both the company and the locality the agent represents. He realizes that many people, unaccustomed to traveling, count on him to assist them, and he has learned by experience that courtesy brings the quick appreciation of both his employers and those whom they are endeavoring to make their steady patrons.

Wants Title or Money

H. H. Kirchheim filed suit in the circuit court here Thursday to collect on a promissory note for $500 alleged to be due from Mary E. Kehres, formerly Mary E. Ridderbusch, Herman Ridderbusch and Harvey E. Kehres. The note was assigned to Kirchheim by Harvey Kehres and the former asks interest from July, 1913 at seven per cent or the title to lot 3, and frame dwelling, block 1, Junker's Addition, section 13, township 2 south, range 4 east.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be removed and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Halls' Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Halls' Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists, The Circulars Free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

Annie Therese Davault In "Polly of the Circus"

Gifted Dramatic Reader Presents Charming Interpretation at Chautauqua

ANNIE THERESE DAVULT, one of the most gifted dramatic readers in America, is to be featured on the Ellison-White Chautauqua, in an interpretation of "Polly of the Circus." With astonishing success under the grilling eyes of the best critics, Miss Davault has scored repeated triumphs in the reading of "The Melting Pot," "Music Master," "Peg O' My Heart" and Dickens' "Christmas Carol." In "Polly of the Circus" Miss Davault completely mirrors all the tender charm of the incomparable little play.

PORTLAND WORKERS GIVE FREE ENTERTAINMENT HERE

Members of Portland local No. 228, United Garment Workers, gave a free entertainment in Willamette hall here Saturday night under the auspices of the Oregon City Paper and Pulp workers' union. Nearly 600 workers and their wives and friends crowded into the hall and heartily applauded the efforts of the entertainers. Violet Covert in recitations and a club swinging exhibition, was encored several times, as were Louise Eggerton, in a guitar solo, Sam McFarland, vocal solo, and a comedy sketch by Mrs. L. Gee and Miss Covert.

Mrs. L. Gee, president of the garment workers, who is known as "Mother" Gee, addressed the meeting and urged the workers to organize. Her quaint description of a girl asking for more pay and the replies of the employer caused considerable amusement.

The Oregon City Courier and the Oregon Daily Journal (except Sunday) for $4.75.

U. P. Gives Maps

The Union Pacific System has just issued a folder map of the United States, which on account of its convenient form and the important information it contains should at this particular time be of unusual value to the public. Copies may be had by writing to Wm. McMurray, general passenger agent, Portland, Ore., or any Union Pacific Agent.

CONCERT AND DANCE NETS $400 FOR HOSPITAL FUND

The concert and dance given by the 3rd Oregon regiment band under the auspices of Mrs. W. R. Logus in Busch hall here Saturday evening met the approval of a large audience which crowded into the spacious hall and netted $400 for the hospital fund of the regiment. Mrs. Logus and her assistants visited the businessmen and mill officials of the city and the latter responded liberally in purchasing tickets for the event. Under the direction of Perthal Downey, assisted by H. Cole, 35 members of the band played several selections in the business section of the city before the concert began at the hall.

NOTED SOPRANO WILL SING HERE

Mary Adel Hays of New York With Band.

The joint concert appearance of Mary Adel Hays, prima donna soprano of New York, with the Royal Venetian Band at Chautauqua, will be the greatest musical attraction featured at the Ellison-White Assemblies.

MARY ADEL HAYS.

this season. Miss Hays possesses an unusual range of three octaves, and the astonishing ease with which she does the coloratura roles is equaled only by the warmth, smoothness and strength of her voice in sustained passages. She especially excels as a band soloist, the volume and power of her tones rising easily above the heavy brass accompaniment.

PIONEERS VISIT SON

Parents of G. F. Johnson Have Lived in State Many Years

Mr. and Mrs. Burr Johnson, of Pendleton, are here visiting their son, G. F. Johnson, of the publicity department of the Oregon City Commercial club, after attending the reunion of the Oregon Pioneer association, of which both are members.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson are real pioneers of Oregon. Mr. Johnson came to Oregon with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Johnson, from Indiana in 1844. He has made his home in Umatilla county since 1871. Mrs. Johnson came to Yamhill county from Texas in 1847 when she was six months old, and has resided in the state since that time.

PAVED ROADWAY OPENED

Highway North of Dedman Farm Now Being Paved

The roadway between Clackamas station and the Multnomah county line, which has been paved, was opened to traffic by T. A. Roots, Clackamas county road master, Saturday morning. The portion of the road north of the E. P. Dedman farm will be closed for a month and teams and motorists must use the road leading along the government hatchery until the work is finished. Other roads will be paved when this work is completed.
