PEOPLE BLAMED FOR CONDITION

wield the bludgeon. He told of his career as district attorney at Denver and of gruffers he had convicted and then felt that the people were to blame for the graft.

"I have often wondered," said Governor Carlson, "which would draw the biggest crowd, a trained baboon or the greatest political economist? I recall that as governor of Colorado, after the state had been cleaned up, I did not receive one word from civic clubs or churches but I got word from the gamblers later on, and it sometimes appears that the gamblers and saloon keepers are the only persons who study politics."

"Did you ever hear of a church inviting their representative in congress, their mayor, their senator or any public official to speak to them? Usually they are too busy studying the Fiji Islanders or are praying for other 'lost souls,' but I declare to you that virtue has long since learned to say its prayers; it's time to see virtue develop a punch."

"Democracy may only become permanent through brotherhood of men. National compactness must depend on an equal tie of hearts and all progress must come through stable government. Government must not only respond to but must actualize democracy and the actuality may be brought about by the subjugation of personal fortune to the greater service that rich or poor may render the body politic by meeting on the basis of brotherhood."

Wm. A. Bone gave his popular lecture, "The House of Man," during the afternoon session and the Fillion Concert company, of finished artists, gave the prelude to both addresses.
