Keep Fit and Feel Fine

Foley Cathartic Tablets are a wholesome physic that thoroughly cleanses the bowels, sweetens the stomach and arouses the liver. For indigestion, biliousness, bad breath, bloating, gas, or constipation, no remedy is more highly recommended. Sluggish bowels are the direct cause of many ills and the indirect cause of many more. Undigested food poisons the whole system. Don't be careless. See that your bowels are regular. Keep fit. Then you will feel fine.—Jones Drug Co.

He Couldn't Stand Prosperity

Thomas A. Edison once said of a man in his employ: "His executive ability was greater than that of any other man I have yet seen. His memory was prodigious. His conversation laconic and movements rapid. He disappeared one day, and although I sent men everywhere it was likely he could be found, he was not discovered. After two weeks he came into the factory in a terrible condition as to clothing and face. He sat down and, turning to me, said: 'Edison, it's no use; this is the third time. I can't stand prosperity. Put my salary back and give me a job.' I was very sorry to learn it was whisky that had spoiled such a promising career. I gave him an inferior job and kept him for a long time."—Collier's Weekly.

How to Please Your Employer

To please your employer show that you have a little spirit. Make it clear to him that you do not wish to be imposed upon. He will admire that in you. If he asks you to work most of the time you're at the office or to do a little something extra you say, "What do you think I am?" Tell him he knows what he can do with the job if he doesn't like the way you handle it. He will admire your spunk. If he sneaks in and catches you loafing tell him you're only human. Maybe he will then give you a raise. Then again he may only give you a boot.—Brooklyn Eagle.

One Man Overcomes a Nation

Jean Angot, who died in 1551, was a French merchant in the African and East Indian trade. When some of his ships had been taken by the Portuguese he fitted out an armed fleet that kept Lisbon blockaded until the government of Portugal indemnified him for his losses. At one time he was immensely wealthy, but he lost in speculation and in money lent to the king of France, and the closing years of his life were passed in destitution.

Sells Only the Best

"I tried to explain to my greener what is meant by calories in food." "Yes." "But he cut me short by becoming indignant and saying that he had made it a life long practice never to sell anything that was not in perfect condition."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

A Strategic Retreat

"John, what is a proletarian?" "Marx, my dear, I am astonished you should ask me such a question, and before the children too!"—Baltimore American.

Each to His Task

"You women can't drive nails." "What are you crowing about? You men can't manure 'em."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

BILLY SUNDAY AGREES TO DEED-ICATE BUILDING AT CHAUTAUQUA SUNDAY

voices, under the direction of Hartbridge Whipp, sang Gaul's "Holy City," following the address in the afternoon. This feature received a splendid reception from the huge audience, Mr. Whipp's solo, "A New Heaven and Earth," causing prolonged applause.

Among the Portland soloists who took part with Mr. Whipp were Miss Goldie Peterson, soprano, Mrs. Mitylene Fraker Sites, contralto, Miss Anne Mathison, contralto; Harry Miles Whetzel, tenor, and Mrs. Leona Fisher Whipp and Miss Lucile Murton at the pianos. These singers augmented the wonderful chorus Mr. Whipp has been training during the sessions at Gladstone.

With Mrs. J. V. Guthrie, secretary of the Oregon State Sunday School association, in charge, nearly 2,000 people attended the services in the morning and at 1:30 in the afternoon Graus' Tyrolean Alpine Singers opened the program with a prelude to Dr. Brougher's talk.

Wood Briggs was heard Sunday night in a sermon-lecture entitled "Playing the Game." Mr. Briggs applied the game of life to the war and said that in order to win America must be mentally, morally and physically prepared and he declared the first two are as necessary as the last. Mr. Briggs is a native of the South and he speaks with the delightful drawl and intense spirit of the orators of his section.

The topic of the lecture sermon given by Rev. W. C. Buckner, at Gladstone Chautauqua Saturday morning was changed from "A Man Four-Square," to "The Outlook for the Kingdom." The forum hour was devoted to discussions before the Oregon Consumer's League and included problems of the war as they affect the consumer and how to meet the conditions. The prelude to "Misunderstood Mexico," W. L. Mellinger's lecture, in the afternoon, was given by the high class Wassar Company, whose entertainment pleased the big crowd. Saturday night the Wassar company repeated their number as a prelude to the famous Mawson Antarctic pictures.

The feature of Friday's program was the singing of Miss Mary Adel Hays and LoZito's Royal Venetian Band. These artists were repeatedly applauded, Miss Hays' numbers being especially pleasing to the large crowd which attended at night. The program rendered by the band during the afternoon included patriotic and classical music. Miss Hays' opening number, "Se Serranno Rose," by Arditi, gave opportunity for full play of the wonderful range of her voice. In the mad scene from "Lucia," by Verdi, her dramatic powers were demonstrated. She responded to encores by singing "Suavene River" and "Home Sweet Home," and she sang the former with the feeling that only a daughter of the south can put into the song. Miss Hays is a native of Georgia and studied abroad and in New York for eight years before taking up concert work.

An added attraction at Chautauqua, Saturday, July 21, when the vast new auditorium will be dedicated, is the 3rd Oregon Band, which has been engaged to give a military concert preceding the regular evening program. The band will appear at seven o'clock and occupy 45 minutes of the time before the Musical Arts Quartet give their popular concert and Montaville Flowers delivers his patriotic lecture, "Guarding the Golden Gate."

The program for Tuesday was started by Rev. W. C. Buckner with a sermon lecture entitled "Life's Broken Ships," in which he said that some of the disappointments encountered sometimes turn out to be blessings in disguise. During the forum hour Ada Wallace Unruh was heard, taking the place of Mrs. George McMath, who was unable to be present. "Adding Years to Your Life," was the enlightening health lecture delivered by Dr. Henry Smith Williams following a splendid musical concert largely featured by vocal solos rendered by the Daveny Festival quintet. The quintet appeared in a prelude to an illustrated lecture on the North Woods by Chauncey Hawkins, one of America's foremost naturalists and wild game photographers.

Monday was "Woman's Day" in every sense. The program was largely occupied by women and under the direction of the Oregon Federation of Women's clubs. Mrs. Chas. Castner, state president, delivered the lecture in the afternoon and a reception was given in her honor at five o'clock in the Junior Chautauqua building.

Mrs. Jennie Kemp, state president of the W. C. T. U., also spoke; Mrs. Millie Trumbull, of the state welfare commission, was heard at the forum hour on "The Patriotic Child," and Mrs. Marvellus, formerly Faye Huntington, who appeared last year with the Royal Hungarian orchestra, sang "Off to War" and "My Nigger Baby."

Added features were heard at night in an impromptu program arranged by Miss Beryl McGilvray, who has charge of the "Kiddle Kamp" and child study hours at the park. Miss McGilvray sang "My Laddie," and responded to an encore; Miss Opal Whitley, who is teaching bird-lore, gave a recitation depicting bird life; Private Richard Gray, of the 3rd Oregon, sang "Mandaly," and Cornetist L. Moehne, of the 3rd Oregon, gave a cornet solo. Miss Mabel Volkmar, of this city, accompanied Cornetist Moehne, and Miss Frances Cross, daughter of H. E. Cross, "daddy of the Chautauqua," was at the piano during the songs of Miss McGilvray and Private Gray. These numbers preceded the pleasing entertainment given by the Australian Manikins, which kept the children in the audience in an uproar of laughter during their performance.

Chaplain Gilbert, of the 3rd Oregon, was heard during the forum hour yesterday. He told of life among the soldiers and the work of religion carried on there. The concert in the afternoon as a prelude to Hon. W. I. Nolan, given by the Smith-Spring-Holmes company, who appeared in a grand concert last night. Mr. Nolan's talk is called "Father Adam and Brother Bill."

Mrs. M. E. Houghton, who has been suffering with heart trouble, is greatly improved in health and will take up her work in a few days, her physician predicted Monday. Catarrahal Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflammation of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surface of the Eustachian tube. Halls' Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surface of the system. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Halls' Catarrh Medicine.
