BOYS AND GIRLS WILL TEST COWS

SECOND ANNUAL PICNIC OF
COW TESTING ASSOCIATION
SATURDAY

The second annual picnic of the Clackamas Cow Testing association will be held at Cedar Hill Dairy farm near Logan Saturday, July 28. The registered herd of fine livestock owned by N. H. Smith, proprietor of the farm, is expected to attract many lovers of pure bred stock. Other herds in the neighborhood of Logan will also be viewed. A feature of the day will be the judging of live stock by boys and girls, for which ribbons will be awarded the winners. Several speakers from Portland and the Oregon Agricultural college will be present.

The officers of the association who are working with G. F. Johnson, secretary of the Oregon City Commercial club, on the arrangements for the picnic are Henry Thiessen, of Milwaukie, president; Mrs. A. I. Hughes, of Logan, secretary-treasurer; R. L. Badger, Beaver Creek, Charles Rider, Oregon City, and A. A. Spangler, Spangler station, directors. The official tester is A. W. Finch, of O. A. C.

MAYOR AND FIRE CHIEF SOUND TIMELY WARNING

Several small brush fires in this city recently have served to emphasize the danger from fire at this season and citizens are being warned by Mayor E. C. Hackett and Fire Chief Ed Lavier to take every precaution against unnecessary risks. Moss, allowed to collect on the roofs of houses, is especially dangerous, says Chief Lavier and immediate steps should be taken to eliminate the danger by cleaning the growth from the buildings.

REFUSE TO OBTAIN HEALTH CERTIFICATE FOR MARRIAGE

Not a single marriage license was issued by County Clerk Iva Harrington during the week which closed Saturday night. Miss Harrington thought the war draft would stir up some activities in the marriage market but she was disappointed. Two inquiries for marriage licenses were the nearest approach to issuance. The men who applied refused to obtain a physician's certificate of health, which is necessary to secure a license in this state, saying they would go to Vancouver, Wash., for their marriages.

"THE MIND OF GERMAN"

On page three of this issue of the Courier appears the lecture given by Dr. Frank Bohn entitled "The Mind of Germany," which excited more comment than any feature of the recent Chautauqua. His conclusions, clearly and concisely given, show the trend of thought in the minds of the people of our principal enemy.

SUNDAY RAPS RED RAG OF ANARCHY

"GOING TO HELL IN CAR LOAD
LOTS," SAYS NOTED
EVANGELIST

DEDICATES NEW AUDITORIUM

Eight Thousand People Crowd Into
New Structure to Hear Billy
"Swat the Devil"

"Why, hello, Red, old top. Come up here beside me. Oh, ma! Here's Red," said Billy Sunday as he stepped on the platform at the Gladstone Chautauqua Sunday and saw W. G. Barnes, county judge of Deschutes county and former baseball player at Northwestern university with Sunday. Barnes and Sunday, although the closest of chums while in college, have not met before during the 25 years that have elapsed since that time.

This was but one of scores of such incidents that occurred during Sunday's visit to the Chautauqua and his lecture Sunday afternoon.

Sunday furnished what the crowd wanted. He was the characteristic Sunday seen in the photographs of him, and he won favor with his opening remarks: "I am glad to be back in Oregon, the state that gave more men for war proportionately than any other."

"We're making money by the bucket load, but we're going to hell in car load lots," said Sunday, in defense of his statement that the Ten Commandments are enough of a guide for right living. "It's a good thing to have money, but it's a good thing to sit down and take an inventory once in a while and see what you've got. Public opinion can't judge, either. Galileo said that the world was round and the public said, 'Galileo, you're nuts.'"

Taking his stand upon the origin of the Ten Commandments, Billy Sunday said, "I want to say right now that God Almighty wrote the ten commandments on those tablets of stone and Moses was given the tablets but he didn't do the carving."

A warning to the nation to block the trend of lawlessness, of revolt and dissatisfaction was held out by Sunday. Considering each of the Ten Commandments, he gave to each an appropriate characterization.

"You'd think cussing was in the public school curriculum," said Sunday, as he illustrated his remarks with an adjective to each sentence for a while. "They all cuss. The teacher of the golfer, the ballplayer, but he has justification some times, take it from me. You'd think a man would have to be pretty mean to cuss his father or his mother, wouldn't you? Well, the man who cusses his Heavenly Father is infinitely worse and he can go to hell."

"God has blessed the men and the nations that have kept the sabbath," Sunday observed, and said that "there is a large class of foreigners coming to this country who have no regard for the sabbath and who don't intend to become citizens or join in the national life."

"I am no transcendentalist," said Billy, leaping through the air and hanging over the edge of the platform, "but if you don't like this country take your dirty carcass and beat it back again. You come over here and become car-buncles on the neck of the body politic. You flaunt your rags of flags and out of this dirty bunch comes the men who kill McKinleys, the Prussian Liberty gang and this great army of lawlessness."

"We see about this red flag of lawlessness. Now, if you put a red flag on the railroad track the engineer will flatten every wheel on the train before he will pass that flag. Well, God is putting out the red flag. He is putting out the semaphore, and we've got to act."

"Honor thy father and thy mother," said Billy. "The young buck who is ashamed of his father and mother because they seem faded and not quite up to his style forgets that if his mother had thought less of him and more of herself she wouldn't be faded now."

"The time is past," said the baseball player-evangelist, "when the Turks can ever lift their dirty red flag over Mesopotamia again. The Kaiser said that he and God were in partnership. He's a liar. He and the devil are partners. If he waits till I holler 'Hurrah for the Kaiser,' he'll see me in hell first."

Nearly 8000 people crowded into and around the new auditorium which Sunday dedicated with a few words before beginning his address. Every vantage point on the rocks around the building, the low limbs of trees and improvised chairs and platforms, was occupied by a listener, and for three-quarters of an hour after the lecture the crowd pressed forward to shake the hand of the speaker.

Mrs. Sunday, who takes almost as much of a part in Mr. Sunday's delivery of his lecture as the evangelist himself, their son, Paul, and Edward Comstock, vice-president of the New

THIEVES ROB POST OFFICE AND HOME

WILLAMETTE STORE LOSES
SHOES AND J. C. HAINES'
HOME IS ENTERED

Thieves took advantage of the presence of Billy Sunday at the Chautauqua Sunday and were active in several parts of the county. A store at Willamette was entered and money and goods stolen and the home of J. C. Haines, Jr., near Oswego, was robbed. At the Haines home the thief took a 100 pound sack of sugar, two sacks of flour, silverware, a gold watch which was a present from Mr. Haines' father on the former's 21st birthday; three silver watches, a 22-caliber rifle, one revolver, six loaves of bread, a cake and several pies, four bars of soap and a can of home-made soap, satin for two dresses, a bed quilt, a present from the Ladies' Aid society to Mrs. Haines; a pair of ladies' slippers and a ladies' gold ring. This is the second time the place has been robbed. Thieves stole a child's bank containing $4.85 a week ago Saturday while the family was at Chautauqua.

The postoffice was in the store at Willamette and over $50 worth of stamps were taken with a pair of loggers' shoes and three pairs of dress shoes manufactured by Goodman Bros. Shoe company with the firm's name stamped on the soles. Ewalt Leisman is the postmaster and proprietor of the store.

MAJOR DAUGHTERY FILES SUIT FOR DIVORCE HERE

Major Willard F. Daugherty, Third Battalion, Oregon National guard, filed suit for divorce from Susan Anna Daugherty in the circuit court here Tuesday, charging cruelty. Major Daugherty claims he gives his wife $100 a month and alleges that she runs bills above this amount contrary to his wishes. He complains of frequent visits which he says she made to the camp at times when female visitors were not allowed and that these visits impaired his efficiency as an officer of the armed forces of the United States of America. They were married in Vancouver, Wash., January 28, 1916, and have no children.

Mrs. Lelah R. Tucker asks the restoration of her maiden name, Lelah Graves, and a divorce from Phillip H. Tucker, whom she alleges sent her to Canby when she needed medical attention and then failed to communicate with her. They have no children and were married in this city on February 20, 1907.

HOUSEWIVES, ATTENTION!

Housewives who contemplate putting up fruit this season will find many helpful suggestions under the caption, "Helpful Hints for Home Canning," on page 6 of this issue of the Courier. OLDS HURT AGAIN

Graft in Injured Leg Loosened by Stumble Over Hose

D. W. Olds, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Olds, of Oak Grove, was taken to the Good Samaritan hospital in Portland as the result of an accident which occurred while he was helping make repairs on Molalla avenue in this city Thursday afternoon. Mr. Olds recently recovered from a serious accident which necessitated grafting pieces of bones from his left leg to broken bones in the right leg. He stumbled over a steam hose Thursday and loosened the graft. He will be unable to leave the hospital for a week or more.

"HOODOO" NOT DRAWN

Thirteen and Twenty-three Escape
Drawing in Draft

Thirteen, the supposed "hoodoo" number and "23," the "skidoo" number, are the war draft numbers of George Andrew Holschu and Oliver Leek, respectively, for Clackamas county. Before the drawing their friends "kidded" them more or less on the possibilities of the numbers being drawn, but the completed list of names fails to show that either of them were selected and they are having the last laugh.

Phillip O'Farrell, arrested here Monday for being drunk, signed a pledge that he would abstain from using intoxicants for all time and three of his friends agreed to pay $25 fine if he breaks the pledge. GUARDS INJURED ON "JOY RIDE"

PRIVATES FAULKNER, STREET-
ER AND ALDERMAN CON-FINED TO HOSPITAL

WHEEL CATCHES IN TRACK

Use Machine Furnished by Hawley
Pulp & Paper Company to Expedite Duties

Privates Faulkner, Streeter and Alderman, of the detachment of the Third Oregon stationed here to guard government property and the mills of this city, are confined to their quarters today as the result of an automobile accident which occurred at the railway crossing over the county road here between 12:30 and one o'clock this morning.

Private Streeter is probably more seriously injured than the other members of the party who were out for a pleasure ride. It was necessary for Dr. C. A. Stuart to put several stitches in a deep gash in Streeter's scalp which was torn open when the young man was thrown from the automobile. The other men are badly bruised and may be injured internally.

The men, according to Sergeant Petty, who is in charge of the detachment, were "going a little fast" when they attempted to turn into the road over the track, and one of the front wheels of the machine caught in the rails. The front wheels were smashed and the car badly damaged. It was left at the side of the road and the men sought medical aid.

The machine is a rented car, being furnished the soldiers by the Hawley Pulp & Paper company whose property it is being guarded with other property in the city. The car is the property of the Pacific Highway garage.

FRENCH ARRESTS BOYS WHO TOOK CORVALLIS ROADSTER

Just one hour after telephone advice were received here to arrest two boys for the theft of an automobile belonging to William T. Johnson, of Corvallis, Chief of Police Lee French had the young men in jail. They are Laveridge Axtell, 17, and Victor Aldrich, 14, sons of Laveridge Axtell and Frank Aldrich, of Corvallis.

The boys said they intended to go to a farm owned by Axtell's father about six miles from this city. The farm is operated by A. J. Hodge and the boys said they expected to get employment from him. They had no money and planned to abandon the machine when the gasoline supply ran out.

They both said they ran away because they were not "treated right at home," but when asked to name any wrongs they had suffered they were unable to do so. The boys were returned to Corvallis by the chief of police of that city Friday night.

10 GRADUATES AT BIBLE CONFERENCE

DR. MARK A. MATTHEWS AND NOTED IRISH EVANGELIST
OPEN BIG MEETINGS

Interest among Bible students here is centered in the Oregon Bible Conference which opened at Gladstone Park Monday with Rev. Dr. Mark A. Matthews, of the First Presbyterian church of Seattle, as the principal speaker. Dr. Matthews is the pastor of the largest Presbyterian church in the world, and has been active in the political life of Seattle. He is credited with being the moving spirit behind the conviction of former Chief of Police Wapenstein several years ago when Seattle was the mecca of underworld characters. He was also very much in the limelight in the recent trial of Mayor Hiram C. Gill and the Billingsley brothers for bootlegging. Dr. Matthews was heard Monday evening on "He is Coming." He also spoke Tuesday morning on "The Four Judgments."

In addition to Dr. Matthews many other noted Bible students and preachers were heard during the week's conference. H. A. Ironside, Bible teacher and writer; Rev. S. J. Reid, of Belfast, Ireland; Mrs. John W. Troy, singing evangelist; Dr. Walter B. Hinson, evangelist; Dr. Alexander Beers, pastor of the First Methodist church of Portland; Dr. Walter Duff, superintendent of the conference; Mrs. J. E. Fee, Canadian missionary to China, and E. J. Bulgin, noted evangelist, and other speakers appeared.

Ten members of the Bible institute in Portland will be graduated at the Oregon Bible Conference in Gladstone Park this evening. Dr. Sam J. Reid, of Belfast, Ireland, will deliver the principal address. The members of the class have completed two years' study under the direction of Rev. and Mrs. Walter Duff.

The graduates are Harley Holgren, who will take up Bible teaching; Harold Proppie, who will continue in his seminary work; Mr. and Mrs. Ford and G. Ebbert, who will enter Sunday school missionary work; Miss Lillian Wright and Miss Hundrup, who will enter the foreign mission field; and Miss Martz, who has just returned to her home in Ohio.

"The periods in Christ's life prior to his incarnation, his crucifixion, his ascension, leading people to the life of prayer and finally to the Christ-possessed life mark the stages of salvation through Christ's life," said Dr. Walter Benwell Hinson, of the First Baptist church, Portland, before a large audience at the conference yesterday. Dr. Hinson's subject was "Saved by Christ's Life," and he outlined the five most powerful points in the life of the Saviour.

Dr. H. A. Ironside gave his second lecture on the book of Daniel yesterday morning and, using a chart, he graphically described the relation of the book of Daniel to other books of the Bible. Dr. Ironside closed his lectures before the conference this morning. Homer Cox, of Friends' church, Portland, and Dr. Alexander Beers, pastor of the First Methodist church, also spoke yesterday morning. Following the graduation exercises, at which 10 students were graduated, Dr. Sam J. Reid, Belfast evangelist, gave the principal address of the day.

Today is Woman's day at the conference. Mrs. J. E. Fee, a Canadian missionary to the Chinese field for 14 years, will be heard on the subject, "Is American Christianity Practical?" Mrs. Walter Duff and Dr. Ironside and Dr. Reid will be the other speakers today. Elwood J. Bulgin, who conducted a series of evangelistic services in Portland two years ago, will open his course of lectures tonight with the subject, "Will the Old Book Stand, or Ten Reasons for Believing in Inspiration."

THREE WHO ATTEMPTED TO JOIN COLORS ARE DRAWN

At least three men drawn in the great war draft from Oregon City made attempts to join the colors when the first call came. They are Attorney Phillip Hammond, who tried twice to join the officers' reserve corps; Wallace Caulfield, who took the examination for the engineer corps, and Chester Carothers, who also attempted to get into the engineers' corps. Other well known young men of the city whose names were drawn are Edwin A. Hackett, who is recovering from a serious accident; Emil Schatz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Schatz, and Arnold Schneider, all of whom live on the same street, and are close friends.

Elmer R. Hasselbrink, the one-armed baseball player, of Wilsonville, is another of those drawn from the draft bowl, but will be exempted, but was turned down at his examination because of broken arches which he sustained while working in one of the mills here.

Shelly Faces Serious Charge

Percy Shelly, a former livery proprietor of Sandy, was arrested here by Sheriff W. J. Wilson Saturday night on information from Hood River, where the man is wanted to answer charges of alleged manslaughter. Constable Ollinger, of Hood River, took the prisoner to that city Sunday afternoon.

WILL NOTIFY MEN WHEN CALL COMES

THOSE DRAWN ON FIRST DRAFT
NEED NOT REPORT UNTIL BOARD CALLS

ORDER OF DRAWING SHOWN

Failure of Drafted Man to Receive
Notice Will Not Be Good
Excuse

Within a few days official lists of the draft serial numbers, showing the order in which they were drawn in the lottery at Washington, will reach the various county exemption boards. Following receipt of these lists, the boards will notify the men called up on the first draft.

Until then it will not be necessary for those subject to call on the first draft to report. But as soon as they receive notification from their boards, they must report promptly on the day designated.

The first step taken by each board will be to post in a conspicuous place a list containing the names of all the men registered in its county or district, in the exact order in which they will be called on the first and all succeeding drafts. A copy of this list will also be given the press for publication.

Let it be emphasized again that this list will have not only the names of the men to be called out on the first draft, but of every man registered, in the order in which he must be called. No person whatever has any authority to change this order.

Having posted this list and given a copy to the press, the board will then notify by letter every man called up on the first draft. Each man will be directed to appear before the board for physical examination on a specified date, which will be within seven days of the mailing of the notice.

Failure to receive this notice will not be accepted as an excuse for not appearing on the day set. The burden of appearing when he is called is on the man himself; there is a heavy penalty for failure to answer the call.

Remember, that regardless of whether a man intends to apply for exemption or discharge, he must appear for physical examination on the day set. He has seven days from the posting of the list and the mailing of the notice to him by the board in which to file application for exemption, and 10 more days in which to file proof.

And remember again, that no claims for exemption because of employment in necessary industries, including agriculture, can be considered by your county exemption board. Such a claim must be made to one of the three district appeal boards, at Portland, Eugene or La Grande. It can only be made then after the man has passed his physical examination and been certified by the county board as called for military service and not exempt.

After you have appeared before your county exemption board and passed the physical examination, it will still be some time before you will actually be called out to join the army. You will be notified when it is time for you to report for service.

WANT 8-HOUR DAY

Pulp Sawyers and Barkers Walk Out
at Milwaukie

Many of the employees of the Hawley Pulp mill at Milwaukie walked out this week following their demand for a ten per cent increase or an eight-hour day. The company signified a willingness to grant a nine-hour day and six cents raise to sawyers and 10 cents to barkers with no raise to the rest of the employees. No trouble has developed because of the strike.
