

ANNUAL PICNIC OF WOOLEN MILLS BIG SUCCESS

Ten Cars Carry Employees Over P. R. L. & P. R. R. To Crystal Lake Park

ATTENDANCE OVER 2000

Splendid Program Athletic Contests And Dancing Enjoyed—Is Declared "Best Ever."

Ten coaches, each loaded with a happy throng of workers from the Oregon City woolen mills force, made the trip on Saturday morning last from the company's plant, Main and Third streets, to Crystal Lake Park for their annual picnic. There were over two thousand persons and included the families and friends, guests of the management.

In addition to the bountiful basket The weave room women defeated the games in the afternoon and dancing in the evening.

In the forenoon the spinning and carding departments matched bats against the mill in a 12 to 4 victory, and Rose Schroettlin, and in another mill women by a score of 21 to 2, and again the weave room men romped first to the good in a departmental relay race, in which there were eight entries. In the general tug of war Ernest Kamrath was winner.

The boxing matches resulted in much fun, big scrap and no bloodshed. In one of them Elsie Miebe and Rose Schroettlin, and in another, Carrie Lang and Mamie Gaylor furnished the battle royal.

Among other events and winners were: 50 yard dash for girls, Harriet Robinson and Geneva Jones; girls' 50 yard dash, Rose Schroettlin, Elsie Miebe and Carrie Lang; special 50 yard dash, Pearl Crow, Hazel Samtel, Rose Schroettlin; men's 50 yard dash, L. Kerns, A. Rothe, Frank Mostlath; 100 yard dash, Thos. Murphy, A. Zala, Charles Clayton; 50 yard dash for men over 45, Wm. Bottomly, A. Weinberg, W. W. Covey; potato race, Marion Proffitt, Eva Jones; women's cracker race, Carrie Lang, Florence Randall, Rose Schroettlin.

The arrangements were excellent, the spirit of genuine good will prevailed and all enjoyed the occasion to the fullest extent and declare this, the fifth annual event, the very best ever.

Union High School To Open September 5

The union high school at West Linn will open its doors Sept. 5th for school work. A complete faculty has been secured for the coming year, as follows: Chas. F. Beatie, science and athletic coach; W. W. Davis, manual training; Vesta Lamb, commercial; Helen Leathers, girls' physical training and music; C. O. Main, mathematics; Erna Readen, domestic science; Ruth Schaeffer, history; Myrtle Tobey, English; J. W. Sutherland, foreign languages; J. L. Gary, principal.

An increase in enrollment over that of last year is looked for, as many students who have formerly attended Portland high schools, are planning to enroll. The total enrollment for last year was 181; this year it is expected to exceed 200. Pamphlets outlining the courses and work offered have been mailed to a large number of prospective students, and judging from advance inquiries the school will be crowded.

An automobile bus will be operated again this year to bring in students from outlying districts, where no other means of transportation is available; about thirty-five were accommodated in this manner last year.

West Linn high school has made a wonderful growth in the past two years and it has accomplished much in that time to bring it to the attention of the educational world.

The school is equipped with the very best in the line of apparatus and school supplies, and has been very fortunate each year in having a faculty composed of competent instructors, who know the value of co-operation.

The student body organization is a live one, and has had the full support of the students, thus enabling it to do a great deal along constructive lines. The parents and patrons of the district are progressive boosters, who know the value of good schools, and they have selected a board of education who devote a great deal of time to bettering the schools.

All indications point to a big year at the school opening.

Mr. and Mrs. William Howell and little daughter Betty have returned to their home at Oregon City, after a most delightful motoring trip to Seattle, Tacoma and Everett, Wash. While in Everett they visited Mrs. Howell's uncle, Dr. Fred Hedges, and family.

JUDGE NOBLE OFFERS REMEDY FOR BOOZY WOOZY BUG

Suggests Penitentiary Sentences As Effective Means To Stimulate Regard For Law.

In addition to fining his bootzeship $500 and presenting him with a sentence of 90 days in jail, Judge Noble further informed Lawrence Thompson that he regretted his lack of power to give him a term in the penitentiary. The Judge evidently believes in a good stiff jail sentence as the best means of dealing with bootleggers and moonshiners, and in this opinion he is only one of those who believe in the enforcement of the law.

Thompson was arrested on Friday night for moonshine operations, after the sheriff and deputies had located and captured his still. Two copper stills of 75 and 50 gallon capacity were found in one building, while in another was 300 gallons of mash in barrels.

With an eye to economy and thrift, the operator used one of the stills for the manufacture of the booze and then made a re-run through the other.

Thompson claims he sold his product to Portland parties. Not having paid his fine, he has begun boarding out both fine and jail term in the "bootleggers' paradise" in the basement of the court house.

Marriage Of Everett Dye Is Announced

Announcements have been received here of the wedding of Everett Willoughby Dye to Miss Harriet Elizabeth Gates, at the home of the bride's parents in Chicago. Everett is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Dye of this city, a graduate of the Oregon City high school and of Oregon Agricultural College. After his return from the world war, Everett settled in Cleveland, Ohio, where his brother Taft is a prominent lawyer.

Miss Gates is a daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. S. Gates of Chicago, and niece of Herbert W. Gates of the American Board of Missions, and Dr. Caleb F. Gates, President of Roberts College, Constantinople.

The young couple met in Cleveland, where they will make their future home.

MICHAEL COLLINS, IRELAND'S CHIEF ASSASSINATED

Michael Collins, head of the Irish Free State government, was shot and killed from ambush on Tuesday by rebels, whom he was trying to pacify.

For some time his life had been threatened. His escapes while leading his troops against the insurgents had been miraculous and it was only when apparently the last of those who are in arms against the government were on the wane that he was taken thus from his country's service.

The death of Collins is a stunning blow to Ireland. He it was who, with Griffith, had been instrumental in inducing his people to accept the free state government. He was the head of the government and finance minister of the Dail.

Ireland mourns his loss as the outstanding figure among her military heroes and statesmen.

The effect on Ireland's government, with De Valera still in opposition, is difficult to forecast.

"Way Of Transgressor Is Hard"

Mrs. Charles Straight, whose recent moonshine operations brought her into court, was fined $500 and sentenced to six months in the county jail. Her sister, Mrs. Smith, who was in the house with her and destroyed some of the stock of booze while the officers were attempting to capture it, was sentenced to sixty days in jail.

At this writing this paper is informed that both are at the Straight home, awaiting the preparation of a place at the jail for their reception and maintenance. Care of the three children of the Straights will be arranged for.

A Fine Record.

During a trip through the Monitor-Macksburg section of Clackamas county, state traffic officer Griffith and deputy Long from the sheriff's office, weighed up no less than thirteen trucks engaged in transportation and found them all O. K. so far as loading was concerned. This test is encouraging and may be taken as one result of the present campaign in law enforcement, and a growing desire to preserve the roads for future truck traffic. Here's commendation for the drivers, themselves.

Home Made Happy.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Coats of 113 South High street, city, are the proud parents of a baby girl, born at the Oregon City hospital this morning.

Tennis Championship Decided.

In the men's finals in the Baraca court tennis tournament, Gordo Ramsted is winner, defeating Glen Hawkins, his nearest opponent. Ramsted formerly played on the Willamette University court.

TARIFF LEGISLATION PASSES BY STRICT PARTY VOTE

Only Borah, Idaho, Bolts Outright—LaFollette Paired.

SENATE VOTE 48-25

Measure Sent To Conference Between Senate and House—Will Be Rushed To Completion.

The Senate has passed the Fordney-McCumber tariff measure, after one of the most bitterly fought tariff contests in the history of congress. The vote was 48 to 25.

Party lines with very few exceptions were held together on the bill. Borah was the only Republican who voted no and LaFollette, of Wisconsin, was paired with Norris against it. Three democrats voted for it. These were, Randall and Broussard of Louisiana and Kendrick of Wyoming. McNary and Stanford, of course, registered for it.

Comments on the bill show diametrically opposite views on it, as is usual on tariff legislation of any kind.

McCumber declares its result will be the stabilization of American labor, while David Nash, democrat, who led the fight against the bill, says it is the most abominable legislative act of the present congress.

With regard to the rates affecting the northwest especially, there is vigorous contest. The farm bloc tariff desires have been quite generally mustered, but what changes will occur as a result of the conference can only be conjectured. The Senate favors 33 cents a pound on clean wool, the House 25 cents. The Senate defeated the 50 cents a thousand on shingles and voted for free logs, free hides, 24 cents a pound on hops and 8 cents a pound on butter and all butter substitutes. On hides, hops and butter fats the House and Senate concurred.

The following are some of the rates so far agreed upon:

Cattle weighing less than 150 pounds, 1 1/2 cents per pound; over that weight, 2 cents.

Sheep and goats, $2 per head. Lunch, there was a program of athletic Cheese and substitutes, 5 cents per pound, but not less than 25 per cent ad valorem.

Live poultry, 3 cents per pound; dressed, 6 cents. Eggs in shell, 8 cents per dozen; frozen, 6 cents per pound; dried, 18 cents.

Honey, 3 cents per pound. Halibut, salmon and mackerel, 2 cents per pound.

Barley, 20 cents per bushel; oats, 15 cents; rye, 15 cents; wheat, 30 cents.

Cherries, natural state or in brine, 2 cents per pound; maraschino or preserved, 45 per cent ad valorem.

Walnuts, 4 cents per pound, unshelled; 12 cents, shelled.

Onions, 1 cent per pound. Potatoes, 58 cents per 100 pounds.

Hay, $4 per ton.

Hop extract, $240 per pound.

It is estimated that the schedule will produce upwards of $600,000,000 annually.

Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Howell and sons, Cleo and Mirie, of Oregon City, and Mrs. David Catto and son Everett of Gladstone, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Eaton and son Robert Merle of Portland, accompanied by Mr. Eaton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eaton of Canemah, motored to Albany Sunday. They made several stops on the way.

POULTRY SWARMS AND PROSPERS ON THIS FARM

Over Fifteen Hundred Standard Bred Rocks Cackle And Crow In The Dimick-Waldron Yards.

"Flocks on a thousand hills" is a familiar phrase. A thousand flocks on a hill would be an exaggeration, and yet it requires but a vivid imagination to stretch the facts to these dimensions on the farm of Judge G. B. Dimick, near Hubbard, conducted by F. C. Waldron.

There are thoroughbred Plymouth rocks of the heaviest laying strain obtainable from the most famous yards in the country, of all ages and sizes, but with uniformly standard color and markings.

The general plan of housing is in colonies. The flocks are standard quality, with plenty of greens growing for the present and for winter use.

With over fifteen hundred head of young stock to select from, Mr. Waldron will have many prize pens of show and laying birds, hard to match in laying and breeding or beauty qualities.

That the manager is a thorough student of the art of improving both breeding and laying qualities and attractiveness of his flocks is apparent. That he loves the work and makes it a matter of his best thought and effort is shown in the splendid progress he is making.

Oregon City Folk On Long Auto Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Green and children and Mrs. W. C. Green, will take a trip to Bellingham, Wash., tomorrow morning on a visit to relatives enroute, and in Bellingham. They will go via auto through Aberdeen, Seattle and Anacortes, where they will visit Rev. and Mrs. J. R. Landsborough. They will be gone a week.

West Linn After The Speed Fiends

West Linn Council will employ a special speed cop to enforce the law against speeding within the city limits, including n and between Willamette, Bolton and West Linn. Offenders will be punished to the limit.

Among other matters coming before the council at the regular meeting last night, was the awarding of a contract for grading and paving the balance of the West Linn-Willamette highway to Packer & Schram for $11,387.10. There was but one other bid.

SENIORITY RIGHTS DEFER SETTLEMENT OF R. R. STRIKE

The settlement of the railroad strike depends now upon the matter of seniority. Although at the beginning of the strike, the men were urged to come back under seniority rules, they ignored the request and new men were taken on with the understanding that they would be retained under conditions assumed.

Now, however, those who went out on strike are holding steadfastly to these rights as a condition of return to work. And on this phase of the matter both executives and men are as far apart as ever.

Farm Bureau Will Picnic On Labor Day

The Clackamas County Farm Bureau will picnic on Labor Day, Monday, September 4, at the Spiritualist camp grounds, near New Era.

George Mansfield, president of the state farm bureau, will give the principal address. There will be other speakers also and a program of music. Everybody is requested to come, bring a basket lunch and enjoy a good time.

CLACKAMAS COUNTY BUSILY BUILDING GOOD ROADS

Every Available Piece Of Machinery In Use—Help Scarce

FUTURE PLANS LAID

Eight Roads Either Complete Or In Process Of Construction—Bond Money Used.

In various sections of Clackamas county, the grind of the rock-crusher, the crunch of the steam roller, the rattle of trucks and the clank of shovels and other road making implements is heard. It is the intent of the county court to complete all sections of roads now under construction before the fall and they have already made considerable progress on plans including surveys for next year's schedule.

At present work is progressing rapidly on the Molalla road, leading out from Oregon City. The county portion of this section will be completed this week, after which the contractors will begin on the Harborside and then the South-end roads.

On Market road, No. 1, two miles are scheduled for completion this year; sections on market roads Nos. 2 and 3 will be completed, also two miles on No. 4. One mile on the Stafford and 2 1/2 miles on No. 5 and on the Wilsonville-Butteville portion 2 1/2 miles will soon be done, while on No. 7 one mile will be finished and on No. 8 about one and one-half miles is completed. The Buckner Creek Hill is practically finished also and the Oswego-Wilsonville road, including the Stafford section, is graded approximately two and a quarter miles.

The bond roads are financed by money obtained from the sale of the bonds and the other roads by market road money and special subscriptions. Although help is scarce, by means of the improved road machinery now owned by the county, the work is progressing quite satisfactorily everywhere.

Carver Residents In City

Mrs. J. J. Hattan and daughter were in Oregon City on Monday and while here paid the Banner office a very pleasant call. Mrs. Hattan is this paper's valued correspondent for her prosperous and up-to-date community.

Former Residents Of Hoff Visit Relatives

A. B. McReynolds and wife of Fort Worth, Texas, are visiting relatives and friends in Oregon City and Beaver Creek. Mr. McReynolds taught school in Oregon several years—two years at Union Mills.

Mrs. McReynolds is the daughter of Henry Henrich, who was for years road supervisor of Beaver Creek.

Mr. McReynolds recently received his degree from Texas Christian University, where he attained considerable distinction as an orator and debater. He represented the college every year in intercollegiate contests, besides winning many oratorical prizes. He was never beaten in debate.

After their visit they will tour Canada and return to Texas Christian University, where he will take post-graduate work and Mrs. McReynolds will study in the College of Music.

Mrs. A. D. Jackson and daughters, Lucile and Marguerite, have returned to their home at Oregon City, after a month's vacation enjoyed at Rockaway beach.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS WILL BREAK GROUND FOR NEW HOME

Supreme Chancellor Will Conduct Ceremonial On Saturday at Vancouver, Wash.

The Knights of Pythias of the Oregon and Washington Domains will meet together in a grand ceremonial at Vancouver, Wash., on Saturday, this week. The occasion will be the breaking of ground for the magnificent new Pythian Home.

This first act toward construction will be participated in by the membership of both states. The first shovelful of earth will be removed by the Supreme Chancellor, George C. Cabell.

The program of the day includes a monster parade at 1:30; the ceremonial of breaking ground; addresses, and reception to the Supreme Chancellor.

In the evening, at the People's Theatre, in the city of Portland, initiatory services for a large class in the first rank will be put on under direction of the Supreme Chancellor, who will later give an address.

A large delegation of Knights from the local lodge are planning to attend the ceremonial at Vancouver and a still larger number the initiatory service and address at the theatre in the evening.

Union High School Question Undecided

Ten of the eleven districts affected by the proposed consolidation for high school purposes with the plant located at Canby have voted on the project. The result to date is five districts favor, four oppose and one tie.

Marks Prairie district will vote on the matter Saturday this week, making final decision.

JERSEY CATTLE CLUB SCHEDULES MEETING

The C. C. J. C. C. will hold its regular meeting Saturday, Sept. 9th, at 10:30 a. m., at the farm of Mr. and Mrs. John Cole, in the east part of the town of Molalla.

Basket dinner at noon. Everybody welcome to attend this meeting.

JOHN L. LIENHART, Secy., C. C. J. C. C.

Tourist Travel Biggest Ever.

The largest number of tourists ever known to visit the northwest have been pouring into Oregon, Washington and British Columbia, during July and August.

The west and northwest bound trains are loaded to capacity while automobiles from every state in the union may be seen with pennants flying, rolling along through city, village and countryside, along this coast.

BALANCED FEEDS MAKE MEAT

With Suitable Rations and Careful Supervision Farmer Should Make Hogs Pay.

There is no place on the farm where it will pay the farmer for keeping his weather-eye peeled, and his think-tank active, as when he is feeding his domestic animals. Balanced rations will help to turn coarse feeds into high-priced meat products, but along with balanced rations must go balanced personal supervision. With both, the farmer who can't make money raising hogs in these days has something to learn.

The lack of protein causes animals to shed their hair late in the spring, and causes them to fatten slowly during the early pasture season. The feeding of straw likewise causes this condition.

Good Mixture for Lambs. Lambs should begin to nibble at grain when about two weeks of age. A good mixture is ground corn two parts, crushed oats two parts, linseed meal one part, wheat bran one part.

Mrs. H. W. Freeze and daughter, Miss Alice Freeze, who have been in Oregon City visiting their son and brother, Dr. H. W. Freeze, and family, left last week for their home in Boston, Mass. They stopped at Salt Lake, Utah, and Chicago on their way.

TWO MORE PARTIES POLITICAL ARE LAUNCHED

Two Meetings Held On Same Day and Organizations Formed

RESULTS CONJECTURAL

Plans For Future Development Laid By Organizations—Progressivism Is Emphasized.

The political atmosphere of Oregon was rendered more tense than ever on Saturday last by the launching of two new political parties in Portland.

Before the records in the late lamented Hall-Olcott record had had time to dry, there appeared on the political horizon these two illuminations.

The first of these—the "Progressive Party of Oregon," with an attendance of about 300 persons, met at the Central Library in Portland, planned for state and county conventions and adjourned. Norman Richards and George L. Cleaver were chairman and secretary, respectively. Fred L. Gifford with these two, it was shown in the minutes of a previous meeting, had been appointed a committee to arrange for state and county conventions. Gifford is head of the state organization of the K. K. K.

It was made clear that two chief planks will be found in the platform of the party after the state convention—compulsory education through the first eight grades in the public schools and America for Americans, including no land holdings by aliens. At the conventions, which will be held as early as possible, a candidate for state treasurer will be nominated and probably endorsements of other officers made. The membership roll was opened at this meeting and about 100 persons enrolled.

The second "third" party movement was launched in Alisky Hall on Saturday evening and was presided over by W. P. Wagner. F. C. Coulter, a leader in this meeting, attended by about 75 persons, deplored the fact that housewives and laborers were not found in the legislature and produced figures tending to show that two-thirds of the working man's production goes to payment of interest on indebtedness.

This party announced platforms including and embodying the principles of occupational registration and removal of political parties from the ballot, ownership and control of public service corporations, operation of state and community banks and participation in all public works by resident registered voters of the state only.

A Coming Event.

Word has reached the Banner-Courier office of a wedding planned for next Monday. But this medium of local news won't tell. No, sir! Editors who are neighbors should not speak boldly of the others plans, especially when a younger brother editor is one of the two happy participants in such a glorious event.

With best wishes for future years of highest success and happiness, the Banner-Courier sends greetings.

Partnership Formed.

W. H. Nelson and P. L. Randles have formed a partnership for the purpose of engaging in general blacksmithing at the old stand of W. H. Nelson on Fifth street, this city.

Coal Commission Proposed.

A measure providing a commission of men to investigate the coal industry has been passed by the House of Representatives. The members will represent the public, the proposition to include operatives and miners was rejected.

Dan Lyons Takes Position.

Dan Lyons, Jr., has accepted a position on the Bend Bulletin and left for his duties yesterday morning. Dan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Lyons of this city and attended school here before taking up journalism at the state university during the past two years.

Charter Given Lodge

Walluga Lodge, No. 181, A. F. & A. M. of Oswego, Oregon, received its charter last Wednesday evening. Deputy Grand Master Schellenbarger officiated. Special invitations were sent to constituent lodges of the district and about one hundred and twenty-five visiting brothers were entertained at a big banquet after the meeting.

Charles J. Hood, who has been critically ill at the Oregon City hospital, is slowly improving.
