COMPULSORY EDU- CATION BILL FACES GREAT OPPOSITION

Result Would Be To Abolish All Sectarian And Private Schools

INITIATED MEASURE

Subject Debated Pro And Con Over State Submerges Other Political Issues Of The Campaign

The Compulsory Education Bill is an initiated measure—a proposition to amend Section 5259, Oregon Laws, relating to compulsory education. Its purpose is set forth in the bill itself, as follows:

"Requiring any parent, guardian or other person having control, charge or custody of a child over eight and under sixteen years of age, from and after September 1, 1923, to send such child to a public school during the entire school year, excepting: (a) children physically unable; (b) children who have completed the eighth grade; (c) children between the ages of eight and ten living more than one and one-half miles, and children over ten years of age living more than three miles, from a public school, except when transportation is furnished; (d) children taught by parent or private teacher."

The ballot numbers are 314-Yes and 315-No.

This proposed measure is the basis of more serious and animated discussion than all of the other initiative measures combined, not excepting the income tax bill.

According to those submitting the favorable argument in the "voters" pamphlet, the inspiration for the measure is a resolution adopted in 1920 by the Supreme Council A. and A. S. Rite for the Southern Jurisdiction of the United States; in June, 1920, by the Grand Lodge of Oregon, A. F. and A. M., and in June, 1920, by the Imperial Council, A. A. O.
Nobles Mystic Shrine, as follows:

"Resolved, That we recognize and proclaim our belief in the free and compulsory education of the children of our nation in public primary schools, supported by public taxation, upon which all children shall attend and be instructed in the English language only, without regard to race or creed, as the only sure foundation for the perpetuation and preservation of our free institutions, guaranteed by the Constitution of the United States, and we pledge the efforts of the membership of the order to promote, by all lawful means, the organization, extension and development to the highest degree of such schools, and to oppose the efforts of any and all who seek to limit, control, hinder or destroy the public school system of our land."

(In next week's issue a resume of discussion, both pro and con, will be given.)

EDITORS STUDENTS' QUESTS AT COLLEGE HOMECOMING

Oregon editors have been invited to join the Beaver rooters for a real "make-up" party at the annual homecoming day football game between the Agricultural college and the University, at Corvallis, November 18.

"Yell all you want to, for who or whatever you want to, see the big classic, eat all you can, and make a day of it with the other high-brows," is the only condition of acceptance.
The college will attend to the rest.

The gang will lunch at 12 as guests of Sigma Delta Chi, the fraternity of whiters, has been and would-be, play high jinks—maybe steal around a few minutes, review the Varsity "O" procession, and see the game as guests of the student assembly at the "theatre" party in the new big stadium erected by the students.

The students have already sent complimentary season tickets to the editors for all athletic events on the campus, and these tickets are of course good for homecoming day. "Party" reservations will be made for all editors of country, town and farm periodicals who send acceptances.

Sunday School Organized

(From our Sandy correspondent) After several months of inactivity, the Methodist Sunday school was reorganized last Sunday, with Mrs. Alta Gentry, superintendent, and Mrs. Ella Baumbach, assistant. The full quota of teachers has been secured and it is hoped to make this a success.

Here's A Big One

W. S. King sold a big type Poland-China hog to the Mellike & Koellermeier market last week, which weighed, dressed, without heart and liver, 522 pounds. The monster animal was raised by Mr. King, who is one of Clackamas county's well known stock raisers, at his Lake View farm, near New Era.

The Democratic Nominee Offers Plans For Tax Re- duction In The State

Pierce, Capitalizing Taxation As The Dominant Issue Continues Vigorous Campaign

(A Resume)

Unmindful of the increasing impression which is being broadcast to the effect that the tide of political favor is being turned against him, the Democratic nominee is swinging around the circle at record pace.

In reply to the continued demand of his opponents for his declaration of plans for reduction of taxes, he has laid down, as definite planks in his platform: (1) Economy in every department of state; (2) A severance tax on all timber taken from forest reserves; (3) A state income tax; (4) No more bond issues; (5) State refunds for grazing privileges in the forest reserves; (6) Consolidation of boards, bureaus and commissions; (7) Simplified government, economically administered; (8) Guarantees that taxes derived from new sources shall not be absorbed in increased expenditures; (9) State tax on gross earnings of public service corporations.

Opposed to these tax plans, Mr.
Pierce declares, are the public utility corporations, the lumber barons and others whose taxes would be increased thereby. He further points "out that while one-half the property of this state is exempt from taxation, much of the other half is paying little or no tax because it is invested in stock, bonds and other property not accessible to the assessor. This leaves but a small portion of the property really owned, and to support the government this small part consisting of farms, city homes, and buildings and livestock must bear the terrific burden of taxation."

The candidate further points out that Oregon is on the basis of per capita population, the most heavily bonded state in the Union, and pledges himself to halt, if governor, further issues. He takes a "wallop" at the 480 state-owned automobiles; the employment of counsel outside the attorney-general's office for the banking department; and to what he terms "payroll functionaries, hangers-on and other unnecessary help in the employment of the state," declaring for more work or "fire" for said employees.

With two more weeks of campaigning, Pierce will cover Multnomah county and a few strategic points outside.

Bids For Grading The South End Route Thru City Are Sought

Progress is being made on the South End Route over the Pacific Highway, thru the city. At its meeting in Portland, November 21, the state highway commission will receive bids for the grading of the route over the hill south. This much of the procedure has been decided upon by the commission. This route had been decided upon by the city council of Oregon City, which has no funds with which to improve Railroad avenue now.

Both commission and city hold in abeyance the improvement of Railroad avenue to divide the traffic surge to pass thru the city upon completion of the Pacific highway bridge across the Willamette here.

For a long time the state authorities held and have adopted, in fact, the latter route as the final permanent route to be opened by the city at a future date.

Women's Club Meets

(From our Sandy correspondent)
The Women's Club of Sandy was hostess at a delightful little affair last Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Scales, in the form of a miscellaneous shower, honoring Mrs. Oren Gauger, nee Josephine Dixon.

After the usual club business was disposed of, the afternoon was turned into a social affair. Refreshments were served to the following: Madams Essex, Gray, Shelly, Smith, Bosholt, Hornicker, E. Beers, G. Beers, Duke, Peirce, Harris, Shipley, Laurende, Mulhollen, Dixon, Gauger, Scales, Miss Bernice Dixon and Miss Margaret Miller.

The club will meet with Mrs. Duke the first Thursday in November.

Community Sing Sunday Evening

(From our Sandy correspondent)
The second of the community sing services will be held in the M. E. church, Sunday evening, Mr. Henderson, of Portland, who was billed to appear, cannot be present, but there will be an unusually fine musical program by local and visiting talent.
Among the numbers promised is "The Holy City," by Lyman Worneck; solos by Mr. Essex, Mrs. Mullhollen, Miss Miller, and reading by Mrs. Robert Jonsrud. Also a trio, selections by the audience. Everyone is urged to come.

Oswego Election Near.

Time is growing closer for city election. A new mayor, six councilmen, marshal, recorder and treasurer are to be elected.

D. B. Fox will run for recorder and as yet there is no opposing candidate for that office.

Leslie B. Savage has already declared his candidacy for mayor. Tom Clintefelter is a possible candidate for the council. He was a former mayor of the town.

SHIFTING SANDS

The recall committee were very jubilant over their accumulation of 2,556 names to their petitions. It was given out from headquarters that 22 per cent, or 562 names might be thrown out on account of "irregularities" and there would still be enough left. Their boastings were clothed in biblical lore and the manager was filled to overflowing with jubilation.
But the irregularities on the petitions exceeded the most liberal allowance.
One petition was one-half "irregular" on the face of it. There would not be enough names left after checking to put the recall on the ballot. Wow-ow-ee!—a sudden shift! Headquarters and the head employee get busy. They have it! The law wasn't clear anyway.
It didn't state that the clerk should throw out the names of RECALL petitioners. This formality applied only to INITIATIVE petitions anyway.
They had the notarial seal. What further evidence of regularity ought to be required, quoth the manager.

The recallers then protested the further check by the county clerk.
The district attorney acquiesced on the basis that the recall is based upon a constitutional amendment and not governed by the same law which provided for the checking of signatures on the initiative petitions. Whoop-ee-ee! Another shift, more jubilation, and with the technical sanction of the law, selfish ambition and political spite will be waged against the Judge, the recall will be in full swing from now until election day. Still another shift takes place.

Judge Cross could have delayed the checking by legal process until the re-callers had sworn in enough signers

Few Aspirants For County Offices Have Filed Candidacies

The candidates for local county offices are limited this year to a single quartet.

For County Judge J. U. Campbell is opposed by George L. Story. For constable in this district D. E. (Jack) Frost will pit his political strength against Ed. Fortane.

Judge Campbell has occupied the circuit bench in this judicial district for thirteen consecutive years. Based upon his service on the bench and upon his large personal and political following, his friends expect for him an easy victory.

George Story is a lawyer, served a term as city attorney in which position he made an excellent record. While his campaign is of the quiet kind, it is prophesied that he will show surprising strength when the vote is counted.

Judge Campbell has the Republican and Democratic nominations. Mr.
Story is running independent.

Ed. Fortane has been constable four years and is running on his record.
His declaration is to enforce the law promptly and impartially.

D. E. (Jack) Frost is an experienced official, having served as deputy sheriff, constable and truant officer. His slogan is enforce the laws as they are and his hobby is "boys."

Baptist Church Will Observe At Home Day October Twenty-ninth

The First Baptist church of Oregon City will be at home at Ninth and Main streets, all day, October 29, 1922, to the people of Highland, Carver, Logan and other points of Clackamas county, whom Rev. A. J. Ware is serving.

Rev. Ware will preach at 11 a. m., and 7:30 p. m. After a basket luncheon, a program and open forum, commencing at 1:30 o'clock, will be in charge of the county missionary committee, and at 6:30 p. m., the young people meet.

Tables and all dishes, utensils, tea, coffee, sugar and milk will be provided by the church, and the contents of baskets, which all are requested to bring, filled with meats, relishes, salads, pastry and fruits will be arranged in cafeteria style, in charge of experienced chefs and waiters.

The Jennings Lodge orchestra of 14 pieces will perform morning and afternoon and the visitors take part in the open forum and program.

The meetings are intended to transact important business and at the same time enjoy a sociable day with friends and co-workers. All persons interested in the communities where Rev. Ware works are cordially invited.

U. of O. Has Big Increase of Students

Two thousand, five hundred fifty-three persons are enrolled in the extension division of the University of Oregon, including the correspondence study and Portland center students, according to Earl Kilpatrick, director.

to equal the 1984 required, but this would have meant a special election.
Mindful of economy for the taxpayers of this county and with a desire to give them opportunity to express their attitude toward his service to the county, he refused to cause delay and the recall election will be held with the regular election November 7.

That there is growing disgust with the recall is obvious. The flimsiness of the accusations, the variegated political complexion, revealed more and more as the motives and activities of the original sponsors of the movement are unmasked, are turning voters, until now passive in their attitude, against the recall.

Expressions of disgust with the movement to put a third candidate into the field to defeat Kruse and thus to gain control of the county court, are common and increasing every hour.

The accusations against Judge Cross are condemned as too flimsy to justify a recall. Over one hundred business and professional men, mostly taxpayers in this county, have gone on record in Oregon City alone, as opposed to the recall and brand it as disastrous to the best interests of Clackamas County.

The recall accuses the Judge of extravagance. It is up to its sponsors to justify this claim. Here is a sample of what he HAS done. When he went into office in 1921, the state highway commission held a debt of over $500,- 000 against Clackamas county for work and materials on the state highway, including bridges within Clackamas county. The Judge took aggressive action to reduce this indebtedness and to hasten the construction of the bridge at Oregon City.
Though there had been for some time no progress, he worked and plead with the commission for a reduction of debt and progress on the bridge.

The result of these negotiations was that the bridge is nearly completed and the debt adjusted at $240,000, $90,000 of which has been paid. Give the commissioners due credit for their influence in this deal and credit is still due the County Judge for splendid service and a big saving for this county.

By another creditable deal with the highway commission by the County Judge and his associates, the Mount Hood Loop, covering a distance of 30 miles thru valuable land, and passing thru rapidly growing communities, including Sandy, is now being constructed at a cost to Clackamas county of only $83,000, already paid. Multnomah county pays $170,000 toward this $1,000,000 highway, and not a foot of it within her borders. Does anyone believe that the recall candidate could improve upon these results obtained under the present court?

When King George could not find sufficient soldiers to crush the independence and patriotism of the Americans in the early days of our history, he employed mercenaries to assist.
Other nations were moved to protest, which accounted, in part, for the glorious result—American Independence.

The whole recall movement is as "shifting sands." A recall, based on causes so slim that it requires the establishment of "headquarters," the employment of special employees to help "dig up" accusations, evidences, proofs and promised revelations, is a travesty on justice. It is a blow struck at popular government.

The voters resent it, as they should.

Lloyd George Opens Poli- tical Warfare On Opponents

Enthusiastic Receptions Accorded The Former Premier As He Tours
The Country

Having resigned the premiership, Lloyd George demonstrates his fighting Welsh blood by going before the country for restoration to his former prestige and power. Bonar Law, who has been entrusted with the formation of a new ministry, is at his new task. He and the Welsh wizard of statesmanship are friends—but of such procedure is English politics.

The former premier is concentrating his efforts in forming a Georgian party with sufficient strength to control the house of parliament after the next election. His declarations favor the Liberals and it is this element that promise to support the man of his democratic type.

The ex-premier is full of his old-time fire and humor. His speeches carry with him popular sentiment and are accorded enthusiastic reception everywhere.

The coalition government was broken up," declares Lloyd George, "because the conservative party was not getting enough out of it." He defends the peace treaty and declares the world democracies will not continue to bear the burdens of armaments. He pays a tribute to Balfour, who reached an agreement with the powers at the Washington conference on disarmament, which he endorses.

Indications Are That City Ticket Is Com- plete

At the present there are two candidates for mayor of Oregon City—Mayor James Shannon, who seeks re-election on his record, and J. J. Tobin, former councilman, his opponent.

For the city attorney's office there two aspirants—O. D. Eby, present incumbent, and William Stone, who formerly held this position.

For City Recorder—C. W. Kelly, nearing the close of his first term as recorder; John Morris, employee at the Hawley plant; John Liberg, likewise employed, and formerly in the abstract business, and R. E. Woodward, employee of the C. W. Paper Company.

Rumors are afloat to the effect that there may be another candidate for mayor—the name of W. H. Howell being mentioned.

In Ward 1, Fred Metzner holds over and A. L. Beatie opposes councilman Alman Hodgson, now serving by appointment. In Ward 2, H. S. Mount holds over and Happy Roake is unopposed. In Ward 3, Richard Greaves opposes the re-election of Frank Cross.
In Ward 4, Ed. Vanukken holds over and Jack Cameron is unopposed.

As usual, the political prophets and those who have "inside information," announce the personnel of the next chief of police, street superintendent and other appointive officers, as a result of the mayoralty contest.

Olcott Now Waging Vigor- ous Campaign Thruout Oregon

Governor Declares Administration One Of Economy—Refutes Statements Of His Opponents

(A Resume)

Contrary to prophesies made early in the campaign, Governor Ben W.
Olcott is now on a speaking tour over the state in behalf of his candidacy for re-election. He is accompanied by former state treasurer Tom Kay, who is a candidate for the house of representatives.

The governor speaks in defense of his administration, which is being mercilessly assailed by the Democratic candidate for the governorship.

Olcott, referring to the expenses of the state government, shows that during his administration there has been the peak of high prices and that he has worked faithfully to keep down expenses. In referring to the work of the state highway commission, he declares his appointments of the very best; that he had vetoed every attempt to inject politics into this department of government and that the department has met efficiently its tasks.

He declares the state institutions, philanthropic and penal, have been maintained at reasonable cost, and that everything has been done to cut down expenses here.

Without mentioning his opponent, the Governor refutes the statements that taxes for the state's institutions are $7,500,000 per annum, and shows them to be only $3,000,000 annually.

In the course of his itinerary, in answer to inquiries about his fraternal and religious affiliations, his record is shown to be no church affiliation, a mason and shriner.

Mr. Kay, in his speeches in support of the Governor, assails the record of candidate Walter M. Pierce and shows that in the senate he voted for 95 per cent of the bills which increased state taxes. But the criticism launched against the Democratic candidate's school fund loan has been the most effective campaign material used against him, it is acknowledged.

Everywhere in eastern Oregon the Governor has been enthusiastically received and as generally assured of his re-election. The entrance of Senators McNary and Stanford and Congressman Hawley into the Oregon campaign still further strengthens the probability of Republican success at the polls on November 7th.

HEALTH EXPOSITION HELD IN PORTLAND

The Oregon Health Exposition, which opens today in the municipal auditorium in Portland, will be probably the biggest of its kind ever presented in the Pacific northwest, declare health experts now working industriously in an effort to have everything in working order on the opening day.

Official from the entire state will be in attendance on the opening day, and any city which can present 150 certificates declaring that many persons as desirous of attending the exposition, may secure fare and a half train rates to Portland and return.

The opening day will mark a giantic pageant, led by Hygeia, goddess of health, and attended by Governor Olcott and Mayor Baker of Portland.

Free medical service, clinics and information booths, will be open and ready to serve all who come to them, during the entire period of the big show. Motion pictures, lectures, dancing, pageants and literature will be at the disposal of the 100,000 visitors expected on each day of the exposition.

Mrs. William Elliott Guest of P. E. O.

At the home of Mrs. Orel A. Welsh, on Tuesday afternoon, occurred the meeting of Chapter P. O. E. Mrs.
Welsh and Mrs. Ruth Canfield served a delicious luncheon, after which Mrs.
Elliott, of Portland, gave a very interesting and instructive talk on "Women of the Bible."

Mrs. Holt and Mrs. Charles Gratke were also guests.

Members present were: Mesdames, Agnes Schueble, Lillie Bowland, Jeanette Scott, Caddie Paine, Ella Risley, Elsie Oatfield, Winnifred Andresen, Pearl Tracy, Clara Jack, Emma Toose, Olivia Clark, Josephine Meldrum and Mrs. Arthur Beattie.

New Grocery Opens

A. L. Rose, formerly associated with Smith's Tire Shop, has constructed a new building and will open a grocery store at Molalla avenue and Hilda street, this week. Mr. Rose will carry a complete stock of groceries, flour and feeds.

Parent-Teachers To Meet at Milwaukie

The Clackamas county council of parent-teachers will hold its first meeting Wednesday, November 1st, at the Milwaukie high school. The board will meet at eleven. The Milwaukie circle will serve lunch at 12:30, followed by a talk on the domestic relations court by Judge Kanzler. Mr.
W. S. Uren will talk on taxation. A business meeting will follow. For reservations write or call Mrs. M. S.
Shrock, Milwaukie, Oregon. Tel. Milwaukie 32.

Judge McBride Calls

Judge Geo. McBride of Portland, transacted business in Oregon City and was a caller at the Banner-Courier office, on Thursday.

SECURITIES NEGOTIATED BY SCHOOL BOARD THIS WEEK

Advisory Budget Committee Is Appointed—Insurance
Readjusted

BILLS ALLOWED

Arrangements Made To Convert Warrants Held By Bank Into Bonds Bearing Less Interest

At the regular October meeting of the board of directors of Oregon City school district, arrangements were agreed upon for the conversion of fifty thousand dollars of the warrant indebtedness held by a local bank at an interest rate of six per cent, into bonds bearing a five and one-fourth per cent rate. This is good business, saving the district in interest, relieving the personal responsibility of members of the board and with the present instalment of taxes paid in, will mean that the district will be on a cash basis.
The sale was negotiated thru Ralph D.
Moore, Portland, with C. Schuebel as consulting attorney.

After considerable discussion, it was unanimously agreed to reduce the insurance on the gymnasium from $17,- 500 to $10,000, and to place $4,500 more on the Eastham and $3,000 more on the Barclay buildings. The gymnasium contains no heating plant and is considered a safe risk at the lower amount.

The board appointed as advisory budget committee, John R. Humphreys, F. J. Toose, Happy Roake, John Trimble and Charles Graves.

The following bills were allowed:
