CAMPAIGN TO PUT CITY HALL ON HILL WAGED VIGOROUSLY

Voters Urged To Study
Manner of Balloting Before Going to Polls

OPPOSITION STRONG

The Hill Improvement Club Sets Forth
Advantages Of Hill Site.
In Circular.

With the location of the City Hall to be settled by ballot at the election next Tuesday, arguments pro and con are being waged throughout the city.

This matter has long been a bone of contention dividing the city more or less into hostile camps. The voters once voted to build the hall on McLoughlin Park; the council in opposition to some members of its own official family went ahead and staked the outline for the foundation; and then an injunction followed by an adverse court decision knocked the whole plan to "smithereens." An attempt to build it on the side of the bluff between Seventh and Eighth Streets died "a bornin'."

Then the council "riz" right up and put the proposition on the ballot.

And now as it is arranged on the ballot more or less confusion is inevitable. The result may be one site, two sites or no site at all. On the manner of voting, however, the Hill Improvement Club has issued a circular of discussion and instruction.

They urge:

1. That the Hill site is nearly twice the size of the downtown site and contains ample space for city offices, firemen's quarters, fire truck and the auditorium while the downtown site offer cramped quarters for the firemen, truck and offices with no auditorium.
2. That the difference in values between the Hill and Downtown sites is $15,000 in favor of purchasing the Hill site.
3. That 85 percent of the city's population and homes are on the hill—an argument for the hill there.
4. That the possible delays owing to trains crossing Tenth Street at the foot of Slinger Hill may be minimized by an automatic signal system located at the top of the hill and connected with the train service below the bluff.
5. That the Hill site is central, of easy access by elevation from the downtown district; that its selection will break down existing sectional prejudice and stimulate general growth and progress.

INSURANCE ON SCHOOL BUILDING CHANGED.

In last week's issue of the Banner-Courier under the title of "The school board meeting for October there appeared this paragraph:

After considerable discussion, it was unanimously agreed to reduce the insurance on the gymnasium from $17,500 to $10,000, and to place $4,500 more on the Eastman and $3,000 more on the Barclay buildings.

During the week the editor's attention has been called to the fact that the original insurance taken in September, 1921, on the gymnasium, was $21,500, instead of $17,500, and that $15,000 of this amount was held by one agent.

The amount has been reduced by the present board to $10,000, upon the basis that as there is no heating plant in this building and it is fireproof also, such a load of insurance was a waste of money.

In response to request this paper makes this correction. Every effort to cut off unnecessary costs is commendable.

NIGHT CLASSES ARE FORMED AT HIGH SCHOOL

A number of night classes have been organized at the High School in Oregon City. A class in High School Civics under Miss Miller meets on Tuesday night, a class in English on Thursday and a typing class on Wednesday night under Miss Fink.

A great deal of interest has been shown in both the women's and men's gymnasium classes. The women's class, under Miss Cordelia Weversick became so large that it has been necessary to divide it into two classes of about forty members each, meeting on Wednesday and Thursday evenings. The class for men which has just recently been organized under Mr. King has about fifteen members.

Other classes will be organized as fast as there is a demand for them.

WORK TO START SOON ON NEW COUNTY JAIL.

Work on the county jail will soon begin is the recent report. Steel for the construction has arrived in Portland and in a few days, be in this city ready for the workmen.

Great Britain's New Premier Endorses Irish Treaty

Andrew Bonar Law, new premier has been endorsed as the Conservative and Unionist candidate in Glasgow. His candidacy for election is received enthusiastically in general.

As leader of the Unionist party, he declares that if the party is returned to power, the first task will be to make good the Anglo-Irish treaty both in letter and in spirit, and to cooperate with the Irish government.

A manifest from Bonar Law declares it will be the government's earnest aim, if he is returned, to give wholehearted and practical support to the League of Nations, to fulfill the obligations Great Britain has undertaken abroad but not extend her commitments, but preferably to curtail them, and to maintain friendship and good understanding with the United States.

In this latter suggestion the new premier is in full accord with Lloyd George, who is making a strenuous campaign for return to power. Which ever way then, the British election goes the friendship and cooperation of the United States.

LOGAN COUPLE CELEBRATE 50th WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Over Fifty Descendants Including 4 Generations Were Represented At The Reunion.

Mr. and Mrs. John Schuettel, well known residents of Logan, celebrated their golden wedding Sunday, October 22, 1922, with a family reunion at their home.

Those present were: Mrs. Rosia Gallagher and sons, Mrs. Lydia Schlappi and family, Mr. and Mrs. O. V. Bryan and daughter, all of Portland; Mr. and Mrs. Christ Malae and family of Milwaukie; Daniel Malae and family of Hoodriver; Mr. and Mrs. John Boss and family, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Tschopp and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gottfried Straben and family, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Moser and family, and Mr. and Mrs. John Schuettel, all of Logan.

More than fifty descendants and near relatives enjoyed the affair. Four generations were represented at the reunion.

Mr. and Mrs. Schuettel were natives of Switzerland. Mrs. Schuettel (Miss Rosina Bigler) emigrating to America in 1869, and Mr. Schuettel in 1871. They were married October 25, 1872, in Schanensee, Ohio. Two years after their marriage they went to Missouri, where they lived until 1880. In 1880 they started for Oregon, making the trip in an emigrant train, and reached Portland, Oregon, July 9, 1880. They settled in Logan, Clackamas County. They have lived here ever since, with the exception of seventeen years which were passed in Portland.

The couple had seven children, daughters, five of whom are living.

Older Girls' and Boys' Conference

A little more than a year ago, the first Clackamas County Older Girls' and Boys' Conferences were held in Oregon City.

This was pioneer work but never the less, attended by God's blessing and a large measure of success.

The second Clackamas County Older Girls' and Boys' Conferences will be held in Oregon City, November 10-11, 1922.

Every girl and boy in Clackamas County between the ages of 15 and 21 years, is entitled to attend with his or her teacher.

There will be a registration fee of 25c to cover the cost of programs, badges, etc.

All entertainment will be furnished free of charge.

Conference opens Friday afternoon at 4 p. m., at the Baptist Church, and closes Saturday at 12:30.

The banquet is free for girls and boys with their teachers.

Boys and girls will meet together Friday at 6:30 p. m. for the banquet and opening session.

Saturday morning sessions will be held in separate churches.

Urge your girls and boys to attend. These conferences are a great inspiration and help to the girls and boys. Your Sunday School and community will be benefited.

MRS. CARL SMITH.

Truck Knocks Roadster Into Ditch (From Our Canby correspondent.)

Archie B. Holt of 1032 Oak street, Salem, Oregon, while driving with his wife from Portland to Salem in a Buick roadster, was knocked into a ditch two miles south of Canby, last Thursday night, by a Willamette Valley truck.

THE ELEVENTH HOUR

Emerging from mysterious meeting places a few men taking into themselves the name of "recallers" published several weeks ago, thru their Morning recall organ, now sitting serenely "on the fence"—five charges which now appear on the recall ballot.

That spite and revenge are the bases of these charges are obvious. Their filthiness and petty venom turn voters against the recall. The Judge denies these charges and defies proof whereupon the "recall committee" sets up "headquarters," hires a "manager" at $100 a month to sleuth, dig up, and emphasize everything that may be warped into charges or to make votes against Judge Cross.

The five charges have fallen flat. For example, where the charges declare that the "warranted indebtedness of the county during his incumbency has increased," etc., the public records show a decrease of several thousand dollars—an attempted deception for votes. The charges hold the Judge alone responsible for court actions, when the committee knows and the public knows that he has ONLY ONE vote while the two commissioners have TWO votes in deciding county matters including roads and that they over-rule him at will—Another attempt to deceive and to influence the voters to recall the county Judge.

But the "manager" must earn his munificent salary of $3.84 a day. The stenographer must be kept busy and "headquarters" must be maintained. The "manager" MUST make a SHOWING, and a HUNDRED DOLLARS per Affidavit MUST be had at the ELEVENTH HOUR. Judge Cross replies in this issue to a sample of them.

The frantic efforts of the "king pins" of the recall to control the county court are as pitiful as they are inimical to the government of Clackamas County.

A third candidate for county commissioner is relied upon to split the Republican vote. This might defeat C. W. Kruse, whose business ability, independent bearing and good judgment were recognized in his nomination. Then with Cross out of the way the "chiefs" of the recall movement would be in command. If Cross were recalled, Kruse would be a small minority and control of the court would be in the same hands. A vote FOR Kruse and AGAINST the recall will be a vote for an EFFICIENT County Court of THREE members.

Why the committee which selected the recall candidate has not made a single statement setting forth his qualifications comparing them with those of the present judge is strange. To be thus ignored by those who thrust his present enviable position upon him must appeal to him as at least unappreciative. It must be "Love not Caesar less but Rome more."

To recall any official on the flimsy charges filed against Cross would brand the law permitting it as an opportunity to magnify petty spite into tyranny.

The recall committee and hired manager have been hinting that they have MORE charges "up their sleeve." They have NOT YET produced anything but petty accusations such as might be brought by defeated candidates, job seekers or others denied favors against any county judge in that state.

To bring out NEW charges after this date and when there will be no opportunity to refute them thru the Clackamas County papers, will be COWARDLY. Such procedure will be RESENTED by the voters as it will be an ELEVENTH HOUR attempt to BLIND them into voting for the recall.

ROOSEVELT STATUE UNVEILING NOV. 11

Representatives From The Counties Will Be Present, Dr. Waldo Coe Is The Donor.

Included in the Portland observance of Armistice Day, the unveiling of the bronze equestrian statue of Theodore Roosevelt will take place. Participating in the parade will be military and veterans' organizations and civic and fraternal societies to the estimated number of 5000.

The reviewing stand will be located at the intersection of Broadway and Stark Streets. The reviewing party will be headed by Brigadier General Richard M. Blatchford, and Lieutenant W. B. Marr. The line of march will be in charge of chief of police L. V. Jenkins.

Representatives of the allied nations are expected to take part in the parade, consuls riding in automobiles decorated appropriately.

After passing the reviewing stand the parade will proceed to the park blocks facing the Ladd school, where the various organizations will take up position and attend the exercises in celebration of the dedication, unveiling and presentation of the statue of Theodore Roosevelt. The Spanish-American War Veterans will officiate as guard of honor at the dedicatory exercises, the principal features of which President Harding dedicating the statue to the children of America, an oration on Theodore Roosevelt as patriot, soldier and citizen, the presentation address by S. C. Pier, city commissioner, and the speech of acceptance by Mayor George L. Baker on behalf of the city of Portland.

A unique feature of the ceremonies arranged in honor of the dedication of the Roosevelt statue is the school children's parade, which will occur at 10 o'clock Armistice day morning.

In addition to companies of regular troops from Vancouver and national guard companies, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the Spanish-American War Veterans, the G. A. R., represented by about 200 members in autos, the American Legion, the disabled American veterans of the World war, other veterans' organizations will be in line. The statue is a magnificent representation of art and is the gift of Dr. Henry Waldo Coe, a close friend and ardent admirer of Roosevelt.

TAX DEPARTMENT MAKES GOOD SHOWING

During this tax collection period the Clackamas county tax department has issued 500 more receipts than last year. There has been collected also a considerable part of the 1921 tax, as shown by the following report:

Republicans Review Record Of Gubernatorial Candidate Pierce.

Portland, Ore. (To the Editor)—Walter Pierce, democratic candidate for governor, has succeeded in creating the impression that if elected governor he can cut taxes in two. The claim that he can reduce taxes 50 per cent is simply a vote catching extravagance upon which to ride into office. Let us see how much a governor has to do with Clackamas County taxes.

The total amount levied on Clackamas county property this year is $1,498,401. Of this 76 1/2 per cent was levied by county and local authorities for schools, roads, city and town purposes. How could any governor cut this local part of the tax bill in two? Reduction of these local taxes is up to the voters in the local districts.

When cornered, Mr. Pierce admits his 50 per cent tax cut promise is intended to apply to state taxes only. Let us see how this works out on Clackamas county.

Only 23 1/2 per cent of all Clackamas county's taxes this year were state taxes—for soldiers' bonus 2 1/2 per cent, for market roads 2 1/2 per cent, for state aid to elementary schools 5 per cent and for state higher educational purposes 7 per cent, the latter including the educational aid to the soldiers and sailors, as well as all the mileage bills and appropriations for Oregon Agricultural College and University of Oregon.

Senator Pierce introduced several of these tax measures and supported all of them. Which ones will he cut out?

The balance of the state tax, 6 1/2 per cent of the total Clackamas tax bill, goes mainly to support institutions caring for the insane and other afflicted, besides paying expenses of state government. Even if Mr. Pierce cuts this amount in two he would reduce Clackamas county's tax bills only 3 per cent. The Clackamas county man who now pays $100 tax would still pay $94. Yet even this amount could not be cut in two without turning insane, feeble minded, orphans and other dependents, out upon the public for charity.

The claim that taxes can be reduced 50 per cent or any other substantial amount, by a governor or through his influence, is so preposterous that it is obviously intended only for campaign purposes.

The problem of tax reduction is mainly a local one, up to the people of the various taxing districts.

Of the total tax bill of Oregon this year, $40,473,906, only 23 per cent or $9,373,376, was levied as state taxes. This amount included soldiers' bonus mileage necessary for soldiers' loan bond redemption, market road mileage, for state aid to elementary schools and all the mileage and appropriations for state educational institutions, including the soldiers' educational aid.

Only $2,514,080, or 6 per cent of all taxes paid in Oregon this year, were for general state purposes outside of roads and education, while 94 per cent were taxes voted by the people of the state or of local taxing districts, or for purely local expenses under control of the people of each county and locality.

As state senator, Mr. Pierce introduced more bills than any other member, of the kind that increases taxes. He voted for practically every appropriation and mileage bill that came up and has caused high taxes by his bills and votes more than any other member of the legislature in the State of Oregon in 20 years. C. E. INGALLS.

Demands That Legislation Be Enacted Requiring Voters To Write And Speak In English.

The Seventeenth annual convention of the Oregon Parent Teacher's Association closed its sessions on Saturday night last, having outlined much work for the future.

Many resolutions were passed, touching directly on child welfare. The theme of the convention was "The fundamental rights of childhood."

Cooperation Urged.

This association went on record as follows in regard to child welfare. "Be it resolved that the Oregon Parent Teacher association, a branch of the National Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher Associations, co-operate with other child welfare organizations in the promotion of standard juvenile courts in Oregon, on skilled probation service, adequate detention facilities, private hearings, the elimination of all publicity on the part of the press, the presence of a woman at all juvenile hearings."

"And we further pledge the most earnest support and cooperation of the Oregon Parent Teacher association in the protection and aid of neglected children in our respective communities and further that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to every county judge (juvenile judge) in the state of Oregon."

Three Text Books Endorsed.

Resolutions were also passed pledging the support of the association to free textbooks for the public schools, protesting the practice of allowing questionable amusements at county fairs, endorsing the project of the W. C. T. U. in establishing a state children's industrial farm, touching on verbal education and the improvement of films, endorsing the proposed changes in the state industrial school assuring cooperation with other organizations in requesting legislation demanding that voters shall write and speak the English language.

The association endorsed the 1927 Fair and the appointment of at least one woman on all school boards and other committees where the public welfare is concerned.

Terrible Accident Occurs At Power Plant At Bull Run

A compensator on a generator at the Bull Run power plant exploded on Wednesday at 11:30 o'clock in the pit where men were working. Ennis Townsend was killed instantly by the explosion and Fred McKee, a cousin of Mr. Townsend, was so badly burned that he died last night.

Mr. Townsend has lived in Bull Run several years. He leaves a widow. McKee lived in Estacada with his family consisting of wife and child.

Big Crowd Greet Judge H. E. Cross At Estacada

At Estacada last Wednesday night, County Judge H. E. Cross, upon invitation, addressed an audience of 150 representative citizens, the first address he has made since recall "headquarters" were established.

The judge gave a resume of what had been accomplished during his term of office and spoke of the work and plans contemplated, including road construction.

His address was straightforward and free from criticism or retaliation relative to the recallers. He expressed appreciation for the expressions of confidence in his administration and for the assurances of loyalty to him in the present campaign.

C. W. Kruse, who defeated W. H. Harris for the Republican nomination for county commissioner was at the meeting and spoke briefly. Both speakers were received enthusiastically and assured of satisfactory results November 7.

THE RECALL MANAGER ADMITS HIS PRICE $100.00

County Judge H. E. Cross Meets Charges And Sponsors Of The Recall Over Clackamas County

With the support of an aroused public sentiment favoring him, Judge Cross meets in the present campaign the sponsors and their "Hundred-dollar manager" squarely on the flimsy charges contained in the recall. Everywhere he has appeared he has been greeted with offers of support. In his speeches he has shown no hatred and made no attempt at revengeful criticism. His discussions of the work of the county court have dealt with facts and have been generous in credit to the commissioners for their cooperation.

At Estacada last Wednesday night at a community meeting attended by a large crowd he reviewed the work of the court including outline of the road program during his term of office. Expressions of approval of his administration were general. C. W. Kruse, candidate for county commissioner was also enthusiastically received.

At Mount Pleasant, the home of Secretary Hobbs of the recall committee, on Monday night this week the judge gave an address on the work of the court and discussed with several king pins of the recall committee, the issue of the campaign. This part of the program was both amusing and instructive. The Recall Committee's Secretary in reply to the speaker's question, answered "alright" treatment; the committee's manager admitted that he got $100 per month from the "Committee" while the senior County Commissioner forgot his manners briefly under the exhalation of the occasion and when asked by the judge how much of the hundred dollars HE paid, replied "none of your business." The recall committee present didn't divulge any of the NEW and horrible charges they have promised. Direct report of the meeting endorses the Judge's account of his stewardship. The committee present "embraced an opportunity" and "showed hands."

Stafford turned out en masse to hear Judge Cross and C. W. Kruse on Tuesday night. The "recall committee" were either unrecognized, unknown or absent with a lone exception.

In addition to discussion of the road program Judge Cross explained why certain stockholders of a prominent bank were opposing him and why he opposed the payment of over three thousand dollars damages in order to construct Corral Creek road which is an average of less than a mile distance parallel to Market road number 6 which will cost at least $50,000.

Judge Cross will speak at several more places in the county before election day.

BRENDLE—AMEN

At the home of Rev. and Mrs. A. J. Ware on Saturday last week, in the presence of immediate relatives and a few friends, Miss Ollie D. Amen and R. Manard Brendle were united in Marriage by Rev. Andrew J. Ware. Following the ceremony a dinner was served at the home of the brides parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Amen of Gladstone. The young couple left immediately for McMinnville where they will spend their honeymoon. Mr. and Mrs. Brendle will make their home in Portland, where Mr. Brendle is freight inspector for the Southern Pacific Railroad company. Mrs. Brendle is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Amen of Gladstone and Mr. Brendle the son of Mrs. Florence Brendle, also of Gladstone.

Positions Are Wanted

The Oregon City Commercial club has received an inquiry from the U. S. Veterans Bureau concerning positions for a number of exservice men who have received vocational training through the help of the government. Positions are wanted for auto mechanics, electricians, accountants, telegraphers, photographers, creamery workers, window trimmers and a number of other occupations. Any one knowing of positions open may communicate with Elbert Charman, secretary of the Commercial Club.

CORNERSTONE LAID FOR ODDFELLOWS' FINE NEW TEMPLE

Ceremony Is Witnessed By a Large Assembly of Members And Friends

THE DAY IS IDEAL

Dedication Address Of Unusual Merit Given By Rev. Henry Spiess, Judge J. F. Ryan In Charge.

On Sunday the 22nd the cornerstone of the new I. O. O. F. Temple was laid and the building formally dedicated. "The day was ideal for the ceremony and a large gathering of the lodge membership and their friends were present."

Preceding the services at the temple the members of the Muscovite and Rebekah lodges met at the old hall downtown and from thence marched to the new structure headed by the drum corps from City View lodge.

In the cornerstone were deposited a copper penny of 1850, a quarter dollar dated 1857, a list of members of Oregon Lodge Number 3, Willamette Rebekah lodge number 2 and Falls Encampment number 4. Copies of the bylaws of the three orders and the constitution and bylaws of the Oddfellows Home of Portland were also deposited in the cornerstone. The primary significance of the pieces of money were the ancient dates and the fact that they were contributed by members of long years of standing in the lodge.

Judge Thomas F. Ryan, Past Grand Master of the Domain of Oregon I. O. O. F. was in charge of the service. Mrs. Walter Wentworth sang and Rev. Henry Spiess a member of the Oregon City Lodge, gave the dedicatory address.

The ceremony was most impressive. The address was replete with noblest sentiment expressed in sincere, eloquent words in behalf of a genuine lasting brotherhood. The building itself is a credit to its builders, to the city and a monument to the unity and progress of the Order.

History of Candidates For Circuit Judge Is Sketched

In the sketch of candidates for circuit judge of this county, Attorney George L. Story and Judge J. U. Campbell, it was stated that Mr. Story has been city attorney one term.

In justice to Mr. Story it should have stated that he was for several terms city attorney under the administrations of Grant B. Dimick, George C. Brownell and E. A. Hackett, mayors of Oregon City. Mr. Story is a native Oregonian, his parents coming to Oregon in 1853. He has been a practicing lawyer since 1894. He is painstaking, logical and conscientious in his profession and was an active, able official during his service to the city during his several terms. His campaign is of the quiet order, though steadily gaining support.

Judge Campbell candidate for reelection, has been on the circuit court bench of Clackamas County for 13 years, and is well known throughout the county and state. Served in the Spanish-American War. Has a strong following who confidently expect to see him returned to his present position by a good majority in recognition of his many high qualities of service.

A Near Holocaust

The fire last night in the Chas. Nash property on 7th and J. Q. Adams nearly proved a real tragedy. But for the fact that the fire truck was located close by the entire building would have burned with a probable loss of human life. As it was, the tenants including several small children barely escaped.

This fire proves beyond a doubt that the logical location for the truck is on the hill. At the Welch fire and also the Smith fire the truck was unable to climb the hill speedily on account of the motor being clogged. Had the fire truck been housed on Main Street, the buildings would have burned down as the truck can not climb Slinger hill with necessary speed when cold.

Schoolmasters' Club Meet

The Clackamas County Schoolmasters Club met on Saturday last at the West Linn Union High School building in regular session. About 20 members were present.

A luncheon was enjoyed at the Crown Willamette Inn. The next meeting will be held at the Oregon City High School, November 25.

CANBY MEET ENDORSES CROSS

At the Canby political rally on Tuesday night this week a resolution was unanimously passed commending the administration of County Judge Cross and pledging him support in the present campaign.
