WIERD STORY TOLD ATTORNEY HERE BY ASYLUM REFUGEE

Escapes From Morningside
Sanitarium And Comes To Oregon City

WANTS INVESTIGATION

Claims That He Was Committed To The Morningside Institution On a Fake Charge Of Insanity

If the story told by Martin Perwes, who escaped from the Morningside hospital in Portland Tuesday night and came to Oregon City, proves true, then the plot for a novel in real life has been laid, and the moving picture world will have a story of a tragedy in real life that will produce more than the usual thrills.

The story told by Perwes to a local attorney was to the effect that he had been railroaded to the Morningside hospital, on a charge of insanity, preferred against him in Unga, Alaska, where he was employed in a fish cannery. Perwes is about 35 years of age, a native of one of the provinces of Russia.

While working in the cannery at Unga he became acquainted with a fellow worker who sometimes went under the name of Charles Gutenberg. During their acquaintance, Gutenberg became confidential and confided in Perwes the fact that he had been married twice and had attempted to poison one of his wives. From incidents connected with his story Perwes became convinced that the wife Gutenberg had attempted to poison was his sister, whom he had not seen in years, and whom he supposed was living in Boston.

Perwes in his story tells that he became convinced that his theory that the wife whom his companion had told of his attempt to poison was his sister and that he decided to come to the states and continue his investigations. He had traveled a distance of more than 100 miles over mountains almost impassable, enduring untold hardships, when he was pursued by his former companions led by Gutenberg, returned to Unga, where insanity charges were filed against him. Then being no asylum for the insane in Alaska he was committed to the Morningside institution. He claims that he had requested the privilege of consulting an attorney to get his story before the public and secure his release, but was denied the privilege.

After telling his story he was willing to give himself up to Sheriff Wilson for return to the Morningside institution, after a promise was given him that his case would be investigated. While Perwes is not of a high type, in conversation he appears rational and manifests no apparent trace of insanity.

GOVERNOR'S THANKS- GIVING PROCLAMA- TION ISSUED

In accordance with annual custom and following the suggestion of the president of the United States, Oregon again will lay aside her busy cares for a day, to render thanks for the munificent blessings bestowed by an omniscient Creator.

For all of these blessings; for our prosperity; for our resources; for our rugged and our bewitching scenery; for brave and true hearts in men and women, freely may we pour our full mite of thanks, as God has been bountiful, indeed.

But may we also ask that this be a day of peace and forgiveness. That it may be a day on which the people set aside forever any ill-timed rancor, if such may exist. That the people of the state may render above all that all are brothers and sisters, fellow Americans. That they may remember the true spirit of America gushes from a spring deeper than the superficial flow of factionalism or shallow feud.

May it be a day of thanksgiving on which we all raise our voices in unison, remembering the time honored injunction that we read the same Bible and worship the same God.

Hours of tribulation and trial are sure to fall upon a people torn asunder by strife and dissension. Our democracy was cradled in the belief and nurtured in the thought that all men are created equal and given the inalienable right to worship God as their own conscience might dictate. Every nation that has strayed from that doctrine has been split on the rock of destruction or has tolled its weary way through centuries of blood, travail and tears.

We are at the cross roads. To the right stands an America, impressive upon the rock of eternal truth. To the left lies an America bleeding, torn by strife and dissension. May the God of our fathers preserve us from pursuing the left hand turning.

Firm in the belief that our people may throw aside the cause for strife and stand firm, united in common patriotism, and that this will be a Thanksgiving day when a common voice raises itself to reach the ears of our common Creator. I, Ben W. Olcott, by virtue of the authority in me vested as governor of the state of Oregon, hereby do proclaim and declare Thursday, November 30, A. D. 1922, as Thanksgiving day, within the state of Oregon.

And may it bring years of contentment, happiness and harmony.

In witness whereof, I have here to set my hand and caused the seal of the state of Oregon to be hereunto affixed. Done at the Capitol at Salem, Oregon, this 14th day of November, 1922.

BEN W. OLCOTT, Governor.

COUNTY BUDGET IS READY TO SUBMIT TO VOTERS DEC. 30

Pruning Knife Has Been Freely Used in Several Departments

GEN'L ROAD LEVY CUT

Appropriation Recommended to Care
For County Club Leader During The Coming Year.

The tentative County budget for the coming year has been prepared by County Judge Harvey E. Cross, Commissioners W. F. Harris and W. A. Proctor, assisted by Joe J. Thornton, H. W. Kanne and A. D. Gribble, the three latter acting as representatives of the taxpayers. The main expenditures are fixed by statute and offer no opportunity for the application of the pruning knife. For those expenditures over which direct control may be exercised, the committee united in the following recommendations which will be placed before the taxpayers at the general budget meeting to be held December 30th.

In the item of county machinery $15000 was appropriated against an appropriation of $20,000 made last year. All paving appropriation will be limited to $5000. Last year the appropriation for bridges was $55,000. This year the amount was cut to $43,000 and of this amount $13000 was definitely placed on the Pudding river bridge between Marion and Clackamas counties at Aurora. This will leave $30,000 for the general bridge levy bring little more than half of last years expenditure for bridge purposes.

The general road levy was cut to eight mills as compared with an appropriation of 10 mills last year. The budget will contain a request for $2300 for maintaining the office of the county agent, and $1700 for a club leader, designated in the budget as assistant to the county agent. Last years budget carried the appropriation for the county agent but dispensed with the club leader. The sentiment of the committee was not unanimous for the appropriation for the club leader and at the budget meeting this question will doubtless be the subject for a spirited discussion.

Advocates of a county health nurse did not appear before the committee with a request for recognition it being understood that their appeal for inclusion in the budget is to be made direct to the taxpayers at the December meeting. Similar action is also expected from the committee of teachers appointed at the recent teachers' institute, instructed to ask for an appropriation to provide for furnishing an automobile and an amount sufficient for its upkeep for the county superintendent of schools.

KEEN CONTEST ON FOR HONOR OF NAMING BRIDGE QUEEN.

The Christmas season in Oregon City promises to be enlivened by a spirited contest between Oregon City and West Linn as to which city will be accorded the honor of furnishing the queen to preside over the festivities attending the opening of the new bridge.

Mayor James Shannon, Oscar D. Eby and William Andersen have named Miss Harriett Phipps, as the candidate for Oregon City. Mayor Harry Greaves, Charles Shields and John H. Beam have named Miss Veda Barnes to represent the west side city. Votes will be sold to determine the popularity of the rival candidates, the proceeds to be used to help defray the expenses incident to the celebration of the formal opening December 28th.

DEPUTY SHERIFF RALL CHARGED WITH ASSULT.

P. J. Schneider of the Monitor section is confined to his home said by his attending physician to be suffering from the effects of bruises sustained at the hands of L. A. Rall deputy under Sheriff William J. Wilson. The warrant for Rall's arrest was sworn out by J. W. Egan, chairman of the road meeting, at which place the trouble is said to have started. Rall will be given a hearing in Justice Noble's court. The trouble is said to have been the outgrowth of ill feeling that was brought about through the recent recall election.

Voted Special Levy

Oregon City, at the road meeting held Saturday evening voted to levy a two and one half mill special levy, which will provide approximately a fund of $7500 which will be used as a fund to care for Oregon City payment on the Oregon City-West Linn bridge. Oregon City according to the arrangement made with the state highway commissioners is required to make four annual payments of approximately $7000 each as her share of the cost of building the new bridge.

Hawley, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Hawley, also of Portland, which took place in that city on Saturday evening, November 25.

The ceremony was performed at the home of the late Judge Watson, in which the bride's parents had been married. Rev. E. H. Pence of the Westminster Presbyterian church officiated, using the ring ceremony.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Phyllis Metschan. George Pusey of this city, uncle of the bridegroom, was best man.

Proceeding the marriage, Miss Frances Baker gave an impressive vocal selection, and as the Lohengrin wedding march was being rendered by Miss Pohlman of Baker, Oregon, the bride party entered the parlor.

Following the marriage ceremony refreshments were served.

Beautiful decorations of cut flowers, potted plants and palms, enhanced the beauty of the bridal parlors and added to the impressiveness of the ceremony.

Many beautiful gifts and numerous congratulatory messages were received by the young couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Hawley left Saturday evening for New York, where they will sail on the S. S. Aquitania for Europe. They will tour England and other foreign countries, including Italy, France, Spain and Switzerland.

Upon their return they will take up their residence in Portland, where they are to erect a beautiful home.

Miss Metschan, the bride, is a popular and accomplished young woman of Portland, and has a host of friends in that city. Her father, Phil Metschan, is president and manager of the Imperial Hotel of Portland.

Mr. Hawley, who is vice-president and general manager of the Hawley Pulp & Paper Company, is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Hawley. He is well known and popular in Oregon City, and is a member of the Oregon City Commercial Club and Live Wires, and of similar Portland organizations. He has been connected with the Hawley Pulp & Paper Company's plant in this city for a number of years, being advanced to the vice-presidency and general management about five years ago.

FIRE OF INCENDIARY ORIGIN DAMAGES A. O. U. HALL

Fire, believed to be of incendiary origin, badly damaged the old A. O. U. W. Hall at 7th and Center streets, at 1:15 o'clock, Tuesday morning.

The fire broke out in the upper part of the structure to the rear of the hall, which is unoccupied. The back part of the building and the roof were burned and the Hub Grocery and Seventh Street Meat Market were damaged by water.

Fire department officials are convinced the blaze was of incendiary origin, following their failure to discover any natural causes, and the story told by a mill worker, who reports seeing two men hurriedly leave the upper floor of the building about thirty minutes before the fire.

Damage to the building, which is owned by the Welch estate of Portland, and to the Hub Grocery and Seventh Street meat market is estimated at between $5,000 and $6,000.

COST HIGH SCHOOL EDUCATION IS HEAVY BURDEN ON COUNTY

Lack of Union High Schools
Is Costing County Neat
Sum Each Year

COST MOUNTS YEARLY

Nearly One-Fourth Of High School
Students Being Educated In Other Counties.

During the school year of 1919-20, there were 833 pupils enrolled in the eight standard high schools of Clackamas county. The following school year, 1920-21, the number increased to 984. The last school year, 1921-22, the high school enrollment increased to 1144, with the promise of a proportional increase the present school year.

While this work was being done in the high schools of the county, Clackamas county, or rather that portion of the county not included in high school districts, was sending high school pupils to outside counties in the following numbers: In 1919-20 this county sent to Marion county 34 pupils, in 1920-21 the number was 36, and in 1921-22 the number was 69.

During the same period the number sent to Multnomah county was 148 for 1919-20, 147 for 1920-21, and for 1921-22, with the records not yet complete, the number is estimated at 160. Washington county has cared for, during the three year period, seven for the first year, twelve for the second and sixteen for the third period. Yamhill county, in like manner, has cared for twelve during the first period, and eight the second period. No report is available for 1921-22.

The bill of Multnomah county for tuition has increased from $10,614.68 in 1919-20, to $18,184.01 for the past school year. The total tuition bill to the four counties—Multnomah, Marion, Washington and Yamhill—amounted to $27,142.87, or a little more than $105.00 per year for each pupil attending the outside schools.

While the theory of the law may have been correct, in actual practice we have pupils living within three miles of Oregon City's high school, but not in the limits of the school district, who are going north to Portland, passing through Milwaukie, where there is a splendid high school maintained and being trained in the high schools of Portland, and the county, or rather that portion outside the high school districts, footing the bill.
