

CANBY AND SOUTHERN CLACKAMAS

CANBY TO HAVE OREGON GROWER BRANCH STATION

CANBY, Jan. 26.—(Special).—The establishment of a receiving station of the Oregon Growers is practically assured here following the conclusion of an acreage survey made by experts of the marketing organization. While no definite announcement as to the arrangements has yet been made, it is understood that sufficient berry acreage has been signed to warrant the operation of a station there.

This is the first entry made into this county by the Oregon growers, and is the outgrowth of a campaign, fostered by the farm bureau here, to stimulate co-operative marketing.

75 ACRES NEEDED

Surveys of other districts in the county are to be made in the near future and it is probable that other distribution points for Clackamas county produce will be established throughout the county. At Canby, a total of 75 acres or more of loganberries was needed to be signed upon the association contract in order to form a sufficient basis to establish the organization in charge of the shipping point there. Last year, there was no efficient organization. A large part of the berry crop, according to the farm bureau's statements, was lost through inability to reach the markets, a defect which they claim the co-operative system under a statewide organization will rectify.

SCOPE IS WIDE

Although the loganberry industry here has been taken as the nucleus of the receiving station here, it is understood that other small fruits will be handled, if acreage can be secured which is large enough to warrant shipments in considerable quantity. The association will maintain a warehouse here, supervising the distribution completely in the same manner as it is handled through other points over the state.

Local growers are in hopes that they will thus secure a wider range for their products. Last year, considerable money was lost due to the low price which their fruit commanded in the markets of this vicinity, while they were unable to reach the markets further east, where, due to the shortage, a much higher price prevailed.

ACTION SIGNIFICANT

The establishment of the Oregon Growers at Canby is regarded as an entering wedge which will pave the way for the further development of cooperative marketing over the county.

The survey was made by Earl Percy and M. Bean, representatives of the association. They were successful in getting over 100 acres in and around Canby, where the berry industry will be carried on, so that the members of the old Canby Growers' association will market their berries next season through the state association. This will be ready for business when the first berries will be placed on the market.

The officers of the local association will act as a committee, and are J. H. Mitchell, president; R. E. Cherrick, vice-president; C. H. Sheldon, secretary; J. E. St. Clair, treasurer. This committee will look after the establishment of the station here and also for receiving and shipping the berries.

DISTRICT WELL KNOWN

Canby has long been famous for fine berries grown and marketed. The soil is not only adapted for growing luscious strawberries, but Logan and raspberries as well, and the Evergreen berries are now raised in large quantities in this section. Last season Carl Schmitt Produce company shipped to the Volcanos 36,114 pounds of Evergreen berries, for which four cents per pound was paid, with boxes furnished. The amount paid by the Produce company for these blackberries was $2,444.52. Since there was an unusual demand for the Evergreen berries during the past two years, a large number of the farmers in this section of the county are devoting their attention to growing this variety of berries on a larger scale in the near future. The vines are hardy and do not require attention like other berry bushes of vines, and the crop is always large, even though if weather conditions are unfavorable for other berries.

ELECTRIC RATE AT CANBY TAKEN ON ADVISEMENT

CANBY, Jan. 25.—(Special).—Re-adjustment of the electric rates in force in this vicinity under service from the Molalla Electric company has been taken under advisement by the Public Service commission, following a lengthy hearing which was concluded last night. Farmers from Hubbard, Barlow, Aurora, Donald and the adjacent districts, appeared in protest to the rise which the company put into effect six months ago.

The increase, which was over 100 per cent boosted the rates to $1.25 for the first k. w. h. and charges of 15 cents for the next 14 k. w. h., next 20, 8 cents, next 20, 5 cents, and a charge of 4 cents for over 60 k. w. h. A rural charge of 50 cents additional was made.

EXPERT WITNESS TESTIFYS

The public service commission was represented by J. D. Beebe, of Salem, and the company was represented by Will T. Neill, consulting engineer who appeared as an expert witness and Chester A. Murphy, Portland attorney, Philip Hammond, city attorney, represented the consumers.

According to the commission's figures, the fixed capital utility of the company amounts to $63,504. Neill maintains that the accumulative total capital involved in the company up to December 31, 1921, was $114,742.23, which would give depreciation, computed by the commission, as $45,288.89.

DISTRIBUTION SHOWN

The commission showed distribution of equipment in Canby to the amount of $807, while other districts had a distributing equipment as follows: Barlow, $826; Aurora, $272; Donald, $1,935; Hubbard, $5070. In the rural sections from these cities the distributing equipment is: from Aurora, $392; from Canby, $2567; from Donald, $18,553; from Hubbard, $11,680.

The commission in computing depreciation, adopted water rights, power plant and product equipment on the Molalla river, not in operation since July 31, 1920, was obsolete and of no value to utility at the present time.

REVENUE IS DETAILED

Revenue from Canby amounted to $809.11 during the year of 1921, and from other places amounting to the following: Barlow, $426.10; Aurora, $141.95; Hubbard, $594.87; Donald and including Wilsonville, $3408.30. The total annual income for 1921 was $21,941.33. This includes all of the rural lines, most of the rural lines being from Hubbard. There are about 70 miles of transmission lines. The total expense of 1921 amounted to $13,029.63.

The utility claimed making 8.08 per cent profit on other investment including income from all sources.

The public service engineers and statisticians showed that the company was earning 11.91 per cent on investment.

The hearing was held at the request of the cities of Canby and Hubbard and on the public service commission own motion.

CANBY MAN CONTRACTS TO RAISE 35,000 CHICKS

CANBY, Jan. 24.—(Special).—Elmer W. Gribble, one of the most prominent poultry fanciers of Clackamas county, whose farm is located about half a mile from Canby, has secured contracts to supply various poultry fanciers of the Northwest with white leghorns, which will call for 35,000 baby chicks. Last year there were 30,000 baby chicks shipped from this farm to all sections of the Northwest, and all birds were reported in excellent condition upon reaching their destination.

INCUBATORS ARE SET

Mr. Gribble has fifteen incubators in the large concrete incubator house, all of which are set, and the first hatching will occur about February 1. Each incubator has a capacity of 450 eggs. Each week during the hatching season these incubators will bring forth young chicks.

Mr. Gribble has 1500 laying hens at his farm, all of which are full-blooded White Leghorns.

Since last hatching season he has made a number of improvements on his poultry farm. Among these is the erection of a brooder house, 16x32 feet. There are fifteen modern buildings, and the main buildings are supplied with fresh water. Plenty of green food is kept before the birds, especially kale.

FARM IS SMALL

The poultry farm consists of nine acres. Mr. Gribble has engaged in this line of business for the past nine years, and has made a big success in his undertaking.

One of the features of this farm is that the visitors are always welcome, and shown every consideration when visiting from the time the eggs are placed into the incubators until they are able to run in the brooders or to view the fine breeding stock in the larger buildings.

PETITION FOR RECALL OF MAYOR PUT ON FILE

Enough Signers Back Political Issue at Milwaukie to Call Election; Snyder Still Firm.

MILWAUKIE, Ore., Jan. 23.—Petitions for the recall of Mayor J. M. Snyder were filed Monday afternoon with D. P. Mathews, city recorder. Approximately 125 names had been secured by circulators of the four petitions. The active campaign to force the mayor's resignation was started early last week, when charges of misconduct of city affairs were directed against him.

Supporters of the recall proceedings maintain they have fifty more names than necessary to insure a special election.

Within five days after the petition is filed, the recorder will issue a call for a special election to be held within twenty days thereafter.

Mayor Snyder has not receded from his original determination to fight the recall movement. His antagonists expect to support G. C. Pelton, former city executive of Milwaukie, as the candidate in the special mayoralty race.
