

CANBY AND SOUTHERN CLACKAMAS

TWO PORTLAND WOMEN
HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Two Portland women were injured Sunday morning in a freak accident which happened on the Willott Springs road, about one mile east of Canby. The injured, Mrs. Ed. Mozorsky, Royal Arms apartments, and Mrs. Sam Bernstein, 234 Whitaker street, suffered scalp wounds and were brought to Portland by the Arrow Ambulance company. Both were taken to the Emmanuel hospital for treatment.

According to information brought to Portland by other motorists, the two women, with their husbands, were headed for the springs in a large new sedan. Without warning the front wheel suddenly left the axle and rolled into a nearby berry patch. The car was thrown with considerable force against a bank. The occupants were badly shaken up and cut by flying glass.

Large Berry Crop
Sent to Canneries

CANBY, July 18.—That Canby has now become one of the most important shipping points for berries has been proven this season. 120 tons of berries have been shipped to the cannery at Woodburn. Since July 3 to 17th, there have been 85 tons of Logan berries shipped out of this city through the Oregon Growers' Packing Company, with O. B. Long as local manager in shipping. The picking is still continuing in the yards. The berries shipped so far represent one-half of the output this season. Approximately 90 acres of land in this section of the county are planted to Logan berries, and next season will see more, for many farmers are contemplating planting larger areas to this variety of berries. Had not the hot weather continued the yield would have been much larger this season, as many berries perished before they could be harvested.

Picking of Logan berries will continue for at least a week longer, and then will come the evergreen berries, when large shipments will be sent from this section. Among those specializing in the Evergreen berries is Dr. W. E. Hempstead, of Canby, whose farm is located near the banks of the Pudding river. Dr. Hempstead has these berries arranged in well cultivated rows and growing on beaver dam land. His crop will be large this year.

Last week the Schmidt Produce Company of Canby shipped from Canby by 85.12 pounds of Evergreen to the Graves cannery at Woodburn. The largest shipment in one week was of the week of August 26 when there were 22,929 pounds of berries shipped to Woodburn by the produce company. With the crates and boxes furnished to the growers, the cannery company paid out $3644.32.

Two Districts Will
Canby High School

CANBY, July 18.—At a meeting held in the auditorium of the Canby high school on Monday evening it was decided to omit two districts of Clackamas county when establishing the union high school at Canby. The special election to vote for the union high school is to be held in July. The districts to be eliminated from the list will be Needy and Union Hall. One of the main reasons to eliminate the Union Hall district is on account of road conditions in winter making it impossible for some of the students to attend school in this city.

The districts to be included in the high school proposition wins out will be Canby, New Era, Macksburg, Lone Elder, Mark's Prairie, Central Point, Mundorf, Union Hill, District No. 91 Oak Lawn and Barlow.

In the election of school director it will be necessary for each district to choose a man, and five chosen from the eleven districts, who will serve as a school board.

Good Hop Yield Is
Forecast at Canby

CANBY, July 18.—The prospect for a good hop crop in the vicinity of Canby is encouraging to most of the hopmen. John Smolinsky, owner of a 10-acre hop yard about four miles from Canby, is engaging pickers for the season, and has secured the service of J. J. Sandness, a really dealer of Canby, to assist in getting pickers. Mr. Smolinsky says his hops are in fine condition.

Among the other hopmen of the Canby vicinity is Frank Kratzenberger, of Macksburg, whose hops are also in excellent condition.

Birthday Party Is Given Miss Swank

CANBY, Or., July 18.—E. J. Swank and daughter, Miss Blanche, of Highland, accompanied by little Tommy Lancaster, motored to Canby on Thursday evening, where they were guests for the night at the home of William Bridge, grandfather of Miss Swank. They returned to their home on Friday morning, accompanied by Mr. Bridge and Miss Bridge, aunt of Miss Swank. The birthday anniversary of Miss Swank was celebrated on Sunday, July 16.

The home was beautifully decorated with wild flowers and potted plants, and with the attractive mountain scenery and bracing air, altogether made it an event long to be remembered.

The guest of honor, Miss Swank, was the recipient of a number of useful and pretty gifts.

Ditch Automobile
To Avoid Collision

CANBY, Or., July 18.—By being too considerate to a woman driver of a Ford automobile on Sunday, M. J. Lee and his brother-in-law, De Clark of this city, the latter an employee of the Southern Pacific Railroad company, went over a barb wire fence and landed in a field, but the only damage done was that to the automobile driven by Lee. The men were not injured except receiving a few scratches when coming in contact with the barb wire fence.

The Canby men were on their way to Aurora to visit at the home of their brother-in-law, Edward Bradt, and in attempting to pass the woman driver, she failed to give room to pass, and in order to prevent a collision with her car the men "ditched" their car with the above result. The woman continued on her journey, failing to offer assistance.

Old Swimming Hole
Near Canby Popular

CANBY, Or., July 18.—Swimming is now one of the most popular pastimes of the people of Canby, and the old swimming hole at Good's bridge, about one mile east of Canby is well patronized.

Mr. Weydandt, owner and proprietor of the new resort, is meeting with success in operating what is known as "Canby's Automobile Park" and many tourists as well as local people are finding much enjoyment each day at the resort. On Sunday many motored from Portland as well as Oregon City.

Martin J. Danielson, 42, and Bertha C. Smith, 42, both of Canby, were granted a marriage license at Vancouver.

OPENS ART SHOP

CANBY, Or., July 18.—M. Francis Nelson, an artist, has opened a new place of business in this city known as the Mt. Hood Sign Shop, and located in the Grant White building on Front street in the southern part of the city. Mr. Nelson has taken a lease on the property and is contemplating enlarging the present quarters. The rooms he is now occupying will be made into an office and display room, while at the rear will be the studio.

Mr. Nelson is making a specialty of pictorial wall work for theatres, cafes and restaurants as well as commercial mercantile advertising in pictorial signs and bulletin work.

WAITING ROOM ESTABLISHED

CANBY, Or., July 19.—The Canby-Oregon City bus line has established a waiting room in the Sheldon company's drug store, thus allowing the passengers a most convenient and ideal place to wait for the outgoing bus.

The bus lines has changed parking places, and will be found at the corner of Front and C street where the drug store is located. This new location will be of great convenience to those desiring to take passage on the bus.

SMITH-DANIELSON

CANBY, Or., July 18.—The marriage of Mrs. Bertha Smith, owner and operator of a restaurant of this city, and Morton Danielson, also of this city, took place at Vancouver, Wash., a few days ago.

JERSEY BREEDERS
GATHER TO TALK
OVER PROBLEMS

Special Meeting of County Organization Is Held Here; Field Representative From National Club Is Speaker.

11TH COMMANDMENT
CITED FOR RANCHER

Local Visitors are Guests at Banquet; Dimick Presides; Ryan Talks on State Fair.

A special meeting of the Clackamas County Jersey Cattle Club, attended by nearly 100 ranchers and cattle breeders from over the county, was held in Oregon City Wednesday. The special meeting was called at the instance of P. B. Astroth, field representative of the American Jersey Cattle Club, who is making a trip through this district and spent the day in Oregon City with the county organization.

The feature of the morning session was the showing of a series of slides on Jersey cattle, and a lecture covering the same point, given by Mr. Astroth. A majority of the slides dealt with record Jersey cattle. A two-reel motion picture on the control of bovine tuberculosis also was shown.

Banquet Is Served

At the banquet served in the Commercial Club rooms at noon, Mr. Astroth again spoke outlining plans for the betterment of the club work and the advancement of the work of breeding pure bred cattle. "The 11th commandment of the rancher should be 'Feed, Weed, Breed and Advertise,'" he declared.

Judge Grant B. Dimick presided at the meeting as toastmaster.

Among the speakers were Thomas Ryan, president of the Bank of Commerce. Mr. Ryan told of the showing made by the county at the state fair and asserted that it could have been much better and that improvement should be made.

Mrs. A. Malar, ex-secretary of the Clackamas County Jersey Cattle club, spoke on the "Woman's Part in the Farm Program." Mrs. Malar was secretary of the Club last year when it received the prize for having the best Jersey cattle in the country. Much of the success of the club was due to her earnest efforts.

Talk Given by Field Man

C. M. McAllister, field man for the Union Stock Yards, addressed the meeting on "The Place of the Horse on the Dairy Farm," and Harry West, who is one of the foremost Jersey raisers in the state, gave a resume of his activities in the Jersey field, and stated that it should be the aim of every Jersey breeder to improve and maintain a higher grade of cattle.

D. Brooks Hogan, formerly of the Ladd Farm, but now of the Areglow Farm near Cottrell, told the assembly of cattle raisers of his trip west and maintained that the Jersey cattle of Clackamas county compare favorably with any of the cattle he had seen on his trip.

During the meeting the Club passed a resolution to have signs, bearing the 11th commandment for the rancher, printed and to distribute them among the members of the club to post in their barns as a constant reminder of the duties of a good breeder. According to Mr. Astroth, this is the first club in the country to take such an action.

Digest of Automobile News

By the U. S. Department of Commerce

Motor Vehicles Decrease

The year 1921 saw a decrease in the sale and operation of motor vehicles in the Philippines, but the first quarter of 1922, according to dealers, shows some improvement, says District Office Manager, Logan, Manila, reporting to the Department of Commerce. There were 1,865 new motor vehicles registered and 11,476 re-registered during 1921, making a total of 13,341 as compared to 13,493 during the previous year, a net reduction of 152 vehicles.

A considerable number of motor vehicles were out of operation due to the high price of motor fuel, high wages of drivers, heavy charges for repair work, and the bad condition of the streets and highways on account of the government's retrenchment policy. Road maintenance is now receiving greater attention in the cities and provinces.

There are approximately 6,000 miles of roads in the Philippines, about 4,000 miles being of first or second class construction and suitable for motor traffic. At the close of 1921, there were 16,559 licensed drivers of motor vehicles in the Philippines.

Engineering Lockout Settled

Advices received at the Department of Commerce would indicate that a considerable amount of business will be lost for this season by the British motor industry because of the eleven week engineering lockout which ended in June by the acceptance of the employer's proposals by the various labor unions. Manufacturers state that many prospective purchasers have withheld their orders for the year and that other large orders have gone to makers in the United States, Germany and Germany. Certain makers are well stocked with chassis. The Rolls-Royce and several other large plants were forced to shut down in early May. A few non-federated firms turned out more cars during the lockout than ever before in their history.

America Leads in Imports

The United States furnished 5,600 of the 7,283 passenger cars and trucks imported into Denmark during 1921, according to information received from Consul General Marion Letcher, Copenhagen.

New Luxury Tax on Vehicles

Acting Commercial Attache S. H. Cross, Brussels, writes that a luxury tax in the form of a 5 per cent stamp tax on the retail price of all motor vehicles, except those used exclusively for professional or commercial purposes, has recently gone into effect in Belgium. Demonstration cars bought by dealers are subject to this tax. Accessories are also taxed and repairs are taxed insofar as the value of parts used.

Car Service in Victoria

The railway authorities in the State of Victoria are about to use railway motor cars for the convenience of the traveling public, having in mind the low cost of such service. Says a report from Consul General Sammons, Melbourne. The first car is a 5-ton motor truck chassis built by the A. Co. of England, which has been built over to carry 43 passengers and haul a trailer with capacity for 12 passenger and 2 tons of freight at a speed of 25 miles per hour.

American Cars in Siam

The number of passenger cars in Siam in 1921 reached the total of 1,300, sixty per cent of which are of American make, according to advices received at the Department of Commerce from Consul Davis, Bangkok. Seventy-five per cent of the 150 trucks and 20 per cent of the 450 motorcycles are from the United States. These figures are based on actual registration in Bangkok and careful estimates outside of that city.

American Cars Dominate

Most of the motor vehicles in the Straits Settlements and other British Malaya are used in the cities, very few being owned and operated in the outlying districts. Vice Consul Blackard, Singapore reports that the majority of the cars and trucks are of American make. There are 890 passenger cars, 339 trucks and 1,502 motorcycles. The latter figures cover only the larger and more populated states, but motor vehicles in other states than these given are practically negligible.

Road Construction in Panama

Something over $1,500,000 has already been expended on hard surface road construction in the Republic of Panama and more than $3,500,000 is still available for continuation of the work, according to a recent report of the Chief Engineer of Roads. The work is proceeding under two contracts, at the rate of $235,000 per month, and 68 kilometers have already been completed while preliminary work has been finished on 63.5 kilometers, says Consul Orr, Panama, in a report to the Automotive Division of the Department of Commerce.

No Motor Trucks Imported

Motor trucks are not being imported into Czechoslovakia at the present time, according to a report to the Automotive Division of the Department of Commerce by Consul Winans, on account of the low value of that country's currency and the high import duty amounting to 65 per cent ad valorem, and a 2 per cent turnover tax. Motor trucks of local manufacture having a capacity of 2½ to 3 tons are selling for about 11,000 Czechoslovak crowns (about $2,000 U. S. Currency). Motor equipment, however, is being imported from Germany and Italy, whose rates of exchange permit the purchase of goods in Czechoslovakia.

Alcohol a Motor Fuel

Consul General A. Gailin, Rio de Janeiro, reports to the Automotive Division of the Department of Commerce that an alcohol mixture can be used successfully as a motor fuel and at a lower cost than gasoline, according to tests recently completed by the Sociedade Nacional de Agricultura, of Rio de Janeiro, Brazil.

The experiments were made with two Zenz cars, weighing 2,150 kilos each, over a distance of 45.1 kilometers, and in comparison with a light

American car weighing 330 kilos, using gasoline.

The first car received 20 liters of a mixture composed of 65 parts of alcohol (95 degrees), 25 parts of ether, 9.5 parts of kerosene, and 0.5 parts of pyridine. The second car received the same amount of a mixture composed of 83 parts of alcohol (95 degrees), 10 parts of ether, 5 parts of kerosene, and 2 parts of pyridine. The first car made an easy start and an easy run; the second had difficulty in starting, and the motor ran smoothly only at the end of the trip. The consumption of the first car was 95.5 cubic centimeters of the alcoholic mixture per kilometer ton; that of the second, 129 cubic centimeters. The light American car consumed 126 cubic centimeters of gasoline per kilometer ton for the same distance.

The selling price of alcohol at the Campos sugar mills in Brazil is about 275 reis per liter (about $0.27 per gallon at the average 1921 exchange rate of $0.125 per milreis), while the price of gasoline is 750 reis (about $0.75 per gallon).
