August 2 Is Date Set For Holding Historic Pageant

The date for Oregon City's Historical Pageant, depicting the history of the city, has been definitely set for August 2, according to Ada Losh Rose, who is directing the work.

The pageant will be staged at the Willamette falls, the Willamette river and on both banks between the new bridge and the temporary footbridge. According to present arrangements the program is to begin at 8:30 p. m. and last for about two and one-half hours.

The furnishings of groups of people and material for the different scenes or epochs has been divided among the various fraternal organizations and churches of the city.

Pageant to be in 11 Episodes Eleven epochs or episodes of the early history of the city, beginning with the arrival of Lewis and Clark and ending with the return of the gold seekers from the gold fields of California, will be shown.

The first, the fall Lewis and Clark, being shown the fall by the Indians, will be in charge of the Episcopal church.

The arrival of Astor's Brigade in 1812, and the attack upon them by the Indians, which comprises episode two, will be handled by the Moose lodge. In this episode the Indians taking part in the attack and also in the great Indian council will be furnished by the Red Men's lodge.

Historical scenes of the pioneer Dr. John McLaughlin, founder of Oregon City, and the Hudson Bay Company have been placed in charge of the local Knights of Columbus. T. W. Sullivan, of this city and a prominent member of the Knights of Columbus, will take the part of Dr. McLaughlin.

Jason Lee Arrives
The establishing of the first Methodist church by Jason Lee and the arrival of the Rev. from the East, will be handled by the Methodist church. Dr. Parker at the falls, Indian slave markets, showing the Indians trading squaws for ponies and other articles, Indians fishing and Indian camps compose episode five.
The first scene will be furnished by the Presbyterian church. The Indian scenes will be furnished by the local Red Men and a group of Indians from Mollala. Mrs. Wane Robbins, of Mol-lala, has charge of Mollala's contribution to the pageant.

Early Spirit Depicted Episode six, depicting the arrival of the first white women in Oregon City, will be handled by the pioneers.

The scene of Governor Abernathy, first governor of the provisional government of Oregon, meeting the emigrants arriving from the East with "54-40 or Fight" painted on their wagons, is in charge of the Congregational church. Episode nine, showing the arrival of Captain Kilbourne in his ship the Brig Henry with the first furniture and millinery will be handled by the Rebekahs and Odd Fellows.

News of the Whitman massacre, the Cayuse war and the arrival of captives will probably be handled by the local post of the American Legion and the Women's Club. The final episode, which depicts the receiving of the news of the discovery of gold in California, the rush for the gold fields, the return of the gold seekers and the arrival of General Joseph Lane, first territorial governor of Oregon, has not been definitely assigned.

Children to Participate
The pageant proper will be preceded by a prologue depicting the thought that fairies lived in the Oregon country before the Red Men came. The fairies scene will contain about 100 children, led by Betty Forbes, who has been chosen to be the fairy queen.

It is planned to make the historical pageant an annual affair with the view of having it fully developed by 1929, when Oregon City will celebrate its one-hundredth anniversary.

PIONEER MEETING HELD AT HARDING RESIDENCE

Plans for perfecting the Oregon Pioneers Association were discussed at a meeting of the Oregon Pioneers in the home of Geo. Harding Friday evening. The first point taken under consideration was the matter of drawing up a constitution and by-laws. Action on this matter, however, was deferred until a later date, as it was brought up that a constitution and by-laws had been drawn up at a meeting held at the Gladstone Chautauqua last year.

A motion was made to get in touch with Colonel Miller, now a resident of Portland, and ascertain whether or not a new constitution and by-laws would be necessary. After an agreement was made to hold another meeting about the middle of next week the session was adjourned.

20 PEOPLE INJURED IN BOOTLEGGERS' BATTLE

READING, Pa., July 21.—Twenty persons are in local hospitals, eight in a serious condition, and four others, Earl Snyder, Oliver Wentzel, Denney Tyrlist and Charles Erst, prominent local athletes, are under arrest charged with inciting a riot following a free-for-all fight between alleged bootleggers, whisky runners and consumers here today, which involved 200 persons. The Franklin Produce warehouse was cleaned out. A hurry-up call to the police prevented more serious results.

OREGON CITY MAN WEDS GIRL FROM GLADSTONE

A marriage license was issued here Tuesday to James W. George, 30, Oregon City, and Myrtle Huey, 24, Gladstone. The couple were married by Judge E. J. Noble yesterday afternoon.
