

LOCALS AND PERSONALS

Allies Go To Spokane—

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Allen, who have made their home in Oregon City for the past year, where Mr. Allen has been advertising manager for the Morning Enterprise, will leave soon for Spokane, Wash., where Mr. Allen has taken a position in the advertising department of the Spokane Chronicle, a large evening paper. Mr. and Mrs. Allen have been occupying the Brodie residence during their stay here, and which has been taken over by Mr. and Mrs. Jones. Mrs. Allen left on Saturday for Portland, where she is to visit relatives before proceeding to Spokane, and Mr. Allen will sever his connections with the Morning Enterprise on September 10. Both have made many friends in Oregon City during their stay here, who regret their departure.

Miss Newman Returns From South—

Miss Effie Newman, after visiting for the past five weeks in Southern California, returned to her home in this city on Thursday evening. Miss Newman has had a delightful time and stopped at many interesting places. Making her headquarters at Santa Barbara, where she visited her uncle, W. A. Newman, she also went to Long Beach, where she was the guest of her brother, Ernest Newman, and wife, recently leaving Oregon City for that place. Miss Newman spent a brief time in sight-seeing in San Francisco while enroute home, making the trip to the Cliff House and Golden Gate park. She will resume her duties in the Eastham school in two weeks, having charge of the sixth grade.

Miss Clark to Resume Duties—

Miss Addie Clark, teacher in the Highland school of Portland, who has been the guest of her brother, Albert John F. Clark, and family, will leave for Portland Monday evening to resume her duties. Miss Clark spent a portion of her vacation in Boston, Mass., where she was a delegate to the National Educational Association. Miss Clark has also visited among her numerous friends while here, having taught in the Oregon City schools before going to Portland.

Postmaster Enjoys Few Days Off—

Postmaster J. J. Cooke and wife, accompanied by their niece, Miss Mary Hathaway, of this city, and their granddaughter, Miss Fay Cooke, of Portland, left on Saturday morning in their automobile for Bar View. While there they are to be guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Carter until Monday. Mrs. Carter is sister of Mrs. Cooke. This is their second trip to the resort this season, spending the week end each time.

Enjoys Visit in California—

Mrs. R. Gilmore, of Gladstone, who is making her home at the residence of Mrs. Della Young, returned to Oregon City from California on Thursday evening. Mrs. Gilmore accompanied her husband to California by automobile three weeks ago, and while in Carney, Calif., she was the guest of Mrs. Gilmore's mother. She made the return trip by train and had a most delightful time while in the south.

Redville Residents Here—

John Hughes, formerly of Redland, accompanied by his brother, Tom Hughes, both of Redville, Oregon, were in Oregon City on Friday, making the trip by automobile. Mr. Hughes' sons, Kenneth and Francis, accompanied their father as far as Oswego, spending the day at that place, returning to Redville on Friday evening.

Go Hunting at Tiller—

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Haas and son, Donald, left on Saturday morning on a hunting trip in Southern Oregon. While on the trip they are to be guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Parker, of Springdale, homestead, in the Tiller section. The Parker family resided in Oregon City before making their home in the southern part of the state.

Gallons of Huckleberries Gathered—

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Larson, of Troutdale, accompanied by J. N. Wallace and sons, Prentice and Dennis, Lester Grimes and Troy Solomon, of Gladstone, spent the week-end at Government Camp. While there they went into the mountains for huckleberries and returned with about twenty gallons of berries.

Come From Redland—

Mrs. A. I. Hughes, of Redland, was in Oregon City on Friday, where she came on business. Mrs. Hughes was accompanied to Oregon City by her father, George Hitchbottom, of Redland.

Comes to City Friday—

Mrs. D. J. Makinster, of Beaver Creek, was an Oregon City visitor on Friday.

IN SOCIETY

The marriage of Miss Bertha E. Spilman, daughter of Mrs. M. A. Spilman, of Portland, and Albert J. Lund, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Lund, of Gladstone, was solemnized on Sunday afternoon, August 27, at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. Lund in Gladstone.

The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. Willis E. Pettibone, pastor of the First Baptist church.

The bride was beautifully gowned in white crepe de chine and carried a shower bouquet of pink carnations. Her long tulle veil was held in place by a wreath of orange blossoms, and her shower bouquet was of pink rose buds.

The matron of honor was Mrs. B. H. Sefton, of Portland, who is sister of the bride. She wore apricot colored messaline, with over-skirt of maline.

D. H. Sefton was best man.

Lohengrin's wedding march was rendered by Miss Ruth Lund, sister of the bridegroom.

The marriage ceremony was followed by a dinner. The guests were: Mrs. M. A. Spilman, Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Sefton, Mr. and Mrs. L. Katz and son, Vernon, of Portland; Mr. and Mrs. Dave Lund, Mr. and Mrs. George Adams, Fred Lund, George Lund, Lila Lund, Ruth Lund, Thomas Peoples, Bernitta Grimes, Bert Richards, Elva Peoples, Agnes Hays, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Woodward, Mr. H. Parteau, Lola Vedder, Mrs. L. James, Ollie Oman.

The bride was a popular employee of the Meier & Frank store of Portland, having been connected with the credit department for the past five years.

Mr. Lund is a mechanic, and has been with the Studebaker Service company in Portland for the past two and one half years.

Mr. and Mrs. Lund are to make their home in Portland.

The 69th birthday anniversary of Mrs. Minnie Knopp was observed at her home at Gladstone last week, when a number of her friends congregated and enjoyed the afternoon in a social manner.

Attending were Mrs. Strohmeier, Mrs. Altenried, Mrs. Schwock, of Oregon City, Mrs. Schoenheinz, Mrs. Snibel, of Gladstone, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Pace, Mr. McGee, Mrs. Crandall, Ed. Mielke, of Portland.

Mrs. Margaret Stewart, whose birthday anniversary occurred on Sunday, August 27, was taken by surprise when twenty of her friends called in a body and spent the evening. Refreshments were served, and a birthday dinner.

The time was devoted to vocal and instrumental music and games.

The enjoyable affair was planned by members of the Stewart family.

On Saturday evening at 8 o'clock occurred the marriage of Don Overton, and Opal E. Ross, both of Willamette. The ceremony was performed at the Baptist parsonage by Rev. Willis E. Pettibone, in the presence of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Williams.

One of the enjoyable features of the birthday dinner held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Harding last Sunday was the reading of a cablegram from Mr. and Mrs. Harding's son-in-law, Edward E. Brodie, minister to Siam, and his wife, dated at Bangkok, Siam, congratulating Mr. Harding on reaching his 79th birthday anniversary. The cablegram arrived shortly before the dinner, and a complete surprise to Mr. Harding.

The table decorations corresponded with those of the dining room, when gladiol and asters were used. These varieties of flowers were also used in the decorative scheme of the living room and parlors.

The hostess was presented with useful gifts in honor of the occasion.

Places were laid for Mr. and Mrs. George A. Harding, their son, Lloyd Harding, of Oregon City, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Harding, and children, Virginia and Susannah; Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Harding, Mrs. Robert Bean, of Portland; Mr. and Mrs. Pearl Gregory, Herbert Barlow and Bernice Barlow, of Salem.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. King and daughter, Miss Herminia, who left Oregon City last January for a visit in Isle of Man, the old home country of Mr. King, returned to Oregon City last Saturday afternoon after a most delightful voyage, but have come to the conclusion that there is no place like the United States. While overseas they were entertained by many relatives in a most entertaining manner and took many side trips.

Mr. and Mrs. King and daughter were accompanied to Oregon City from Portland by Mr. and Mrs. Forbes Barclay Pratt and daughter, Betty, who attended a family reunion at the Locust farm, old home of Mrs. King, and Mrs. Ward B. Lawton, the latter entertained at dinner. Other members of the family attending were Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Williams of Astoria; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Warner and son, Robert, of Hillsboro; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rudeen, of Portland; and Douglas King, who has been on the steamship "Richmond" plying between Portland and San Pedro. Mr. and Mrs. Joehneke and children, Kathryn and Frederick, of Canby; Mrs. Augusta Warner of Oregon City.

The Gypsies, an organization of which Miss Helen Daulton, who is to leave for the East soon, is a member, entertained in her honor at a picnic on the island near New Era on Tuesday evening, when among the events of the evening were swimming and a supper. The supper prepared over a huge bonfire was thoroughly enjoyed.

The remainder of the evening was devoted to singing, and the return trip was made at a late hour.

Attending were Mrs. Robert Goodfellow, Mrs. Hattie Daulton, Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Latourette, Dr. and Mrs. L. A. Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Livy Stipp,

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Keith, Miss C. Barclay Pratt, Miss Helen Daulton, Edward and Linwood Latourette, Bobby Morris, Jeanette and Edward Keith.

Miss Madge Warner and Ernest I. Hollingsworth of this city, were married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Warner, on Friday evening, September 1st, at 8 o'clock.

The impressive ring ceremony was performed by Rev. A. H. Thompson, pastor of the Methodist church, in the presence of only relatives of the contracting parties.

The bride was attractively attired in white crepe de chine and carried a shower bouquet of pink carnations.

Miss Donna Warner, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and her brother, Sidney Warner, was best man.

Refreshments were served during the evening.

The rooms were prettily decorated for the event.

The rooms were prettily decorated honeymoon, which will be spent at the beach, and upon their return they are to take up their residence at Fourth and Washington streets.

The bride, who is a well known young woman of this city, is popular among her many friends, and was the guest of honor of a number of social events preceding her marriage.

Miss C. Barclay Pratt and her sister, Miss Bolly, were charming hostesses at a party at their home on Wednesday evening, when their guest of honor was Miss Helen Daulton, who will leave on Monday evening for Ballston, New York, where she is to spend several months visiting her sister, Mrs. Fred Sherman.

The evening was devoted to cards, with Mrs. Raymond Canfield winning the prize for the highest score and Miss Daulton the guest prize.

Refreshments were served following cards. Mrs. M. D. Latourette and Miss Ethel Graves of Portland, assisted in serving.

The home was prettily decorated for this occasion when daintily colored asters, roses, gladiol and Golden Glow were used. Trailing vines, effectively arranged on the mantels added to the artistic arrangement of the decorative scheme.

Enjoying the affair were Mrs. Edward McLean, Mrs. Gertrude Leithwaite, Mrs. L. A. Morris, Mrs. Livy Stipp, Mrs. Nieta Barlow Lawrence, Mrs. Alice Carey, Mrs. Raymond Canfield, Mrs. M. D. Latourette, Mrs. W. E. Pratt, Miss Wynne Hanny, Miss Helen Daulton, Miss June Charman, Miss Ethel Graves of Portland, Miss Nan Cochran, Misses Pratt.

Among the enjoyable social events of the past week was the Schoenborn family reunion at the country home in Eldorado, the affair being held on Sunday, August 27. Among the features was a picnic dinner served under the trees.

The event was in honor of Mrs. Hugo Schoenborn of Hackensack, N. J., and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. William Schoenborn of Newark, N. J., who are enjoying their first visit to Oregon.

The rooms of the Schoenborn home were prettily decorated with cut flowers.

Attending the affair were Mrs. Augusta Schoenborn, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schoenborn and children, Beverly and Maureen, of Oregon City, Mr. and Mrs. Al Schoenborn and children, Donald and Violet of Carus, Mr. and Mrs. Nat Smythe and children, Colville, Forest and Ian of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schoenborn and children, Marvin and Nolan of Eldorado, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schoenborn and children, Richard, Arthur and Marjory of Eldorado, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Schoenborn and children, Richard, Norman and Marlan of Molalla.

Mrs. Hugh Schoenborn and Mrs. William Schoenborn, since arriving in Oregon City have been delightfully entertained by relatives of this city and of Eldorado, Carus and Molalla.

They were guests of honor on a motoring trip over the Columbia River highway on Saturday, accompanying Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schoenborn and Mrs. Augusta Schoenborn. On next Wednesday they are to accompany Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schoenborn to their summer home at Rhododendron, where they are to spend several days. They will make a number of side trips from that resort, among them to Government Camp over the new highway and get a wonderful view of Mount Hood.

Other trips are being planned for their pleasure before their departure for their homes in New Jersey. They will leave about September 12.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Parker entertained at their home in Gladstone in honor of the latter's mother, Mrs. Moir and son, Walter, who have been visiting at the Parker home and also with Rev. and Mrs. Hardie Connor.

Mrs. Moir and son will leave Sunday for Globe, Arizona, and the Connors family for California.

Dr. and Mrs. George Hoeye had as their guests on last Sunday Judge and Mrs. DeArcy, this sister, Miss Theresa DeArcy of Salem, Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Gilmore and two children of Junction City, Oregon, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hoeye and Mrs. Brewster of Portland.

Rev. and Mrs. George E. Williams entertained at their home in Gladstone Thursday evening in honor of Rev. and Mrs. Hardie Connor of the Baptist church who will leave shortly for California. Rev. Connor has been pastor of the Baptist church of Globe, Arizona, and the Connors family for California.

A delightful dinner was served at 6 o'clock.

Covers were laid for Rev. and Mrs. Hardie Connor, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Gault, Rev. and Mrs. George E. Williams of Gladstone and Miss Gatchell of Lebanon, who is a guest of Rev. and Mrs. Williams.

During the past two months Rev. Williams and Rev. Connor have worked together, holding union meetings at the Gladstone churches.

TO MRS. ATLAS

Women coming into the time when every privilege is open to them, are not forgetting their oldest and first privilege, the making of things a little better for the men and the children. They used to say it with housekeeping entirely, but now they are saying it with the ballot and with organized movements wherein great numbers of them can unite to accomplish what no one can do alone. They used to say it for the house and yard, now they say it for the city and the nation.

But—there is always a but—they should not take themselves too seriously. Mrs. Atlas, you will not have to bear the world on your shoulders alone. Mr. Atlas, who carried it on his shoulders from the days of Grecian tradition, has no notion of resigning his share of the burden bearing, now that you have come along to help him. He has been interested in these very things for many years, before you came to think about them, perhaps, and he will appreciate your cooperation. It was a pretty hard lift for poor old Atlas, all by his lonesome, but the world ought to be carried along quite easily, with Mr. and Mrs. Atlas both getting their shoulders under it.

TOMATOES

Think of all the centuries since the first garden—and we have only used tomatoes in this hemisphere less than one. This hemisphere is their native sphere, too. They are indigenous to South America, but, like a prophet, were least appreciated at home, and we had to be introduced to them thru Europe, where they were called "Love's Apples," and regarded to have peculiar amatory qualities, as pickles are among swains today. For long years they were cultivated in gardens as curiosities, and oh, how tempting they must have looked to small boys and girls with an eye for red, but they were considered poison and dutiful mamas long kept the secret of their wholesomeness, from being found out.

Now we give them to babies and invalids as second only to orange juice in vitamins.

The South is commercializing them more and more, shipping the green in unbelievable amounts to the North, where they ripen in due time and we eat them raw all year round. Italy has even gone so far as to make a tomato seed oil which they use in making soap.

Millions of quarts of tomatoes are canned each year in factories and many times more millions are "put up" in the homes. Tomatoes keep easily, because of their acid, which is germicidal. When they spoil in the can, it is usually because the tomatoes had spoiled spots in them, or the cans were not sterilized. The nicest way to can them is the one-period cold pack method.

Wash; scald until the skin loosens; put quickly into cold water; remove skin and cores; and pack into cans, without adding water. Add a teaspoon of salt for each quart; seal tin cans tight; but leave tops of glass jars loose. Sterilize from ten to twenty minutes, according to the kind of cooker you use. Seal.

Wrap glass jars to exclude light as it fades and affects the flavor of canned tomatoes. With the above method the vitamins are preserved and the fruit is almost as delicious as if uncanned.

The early tomatoes are the best flavored, and finest for canning. Green tomatoes will ripen and achieve color off the vines, but they are choicer if they ripen completely on the vines.

HATS

"When they're up, they're up. And when they're down, they're down; And when they're only half way up, They're neither up nor down."

This is as true of the hat brim just as it was of the Duke of Agyle's men, in the classic college song.

Rims are "exclusively at random"—turning up, down, half-way. You pay your money and take your choice. Some even have double rims, one turns up, one turns down. These are for mug-wumps.

Colors will be less boydenish than in the spring; the pendulum swinging now to the neutral shades, and black in the lead.

Silk is the season's best and will hang on, perhaps all winter—looking less dull and desolate than the bundled up velvet.

Hats are growing in size, approaching the picture hat.

Soft cuddly shapes are still the style, hugging lovingly about the head (except the rim—which goes off on a tangent). The ideal hat should look as if it grew on the head and was not something set on top.

This principle, in fact, applies to the entire costume. It should be harmonious and blend with the wearer's personality, as if it belonged to her. No portion of it should look detachable, or lonesome.

SMILES

Jim—"Now please don't tell what I told you, Jack."

I swore I'd keep it mum."

Jack—"Till not let the cat out of the sack."

But where did you get it from?"

Jim—"I got that secret from the wife."

—All women are like that—They can't, on peril of their life, Keep a secret under their hat."

Man Is Arrested on Intoxication Charge

William Boylen, a West Linn farmer, was arrested last Saturday night on the charge of drunkenness. He is now in the city jail on default of $25 bail. His hearing will be held Tuesday.

The Fire We Had Did No Damage to Our Vault and Safe

It was confined to the upper floor of the building and the only damage done, our banking room was caused by water seeping through from the upper floor.

However, had our banking room burned, the contents of our safe and vault would not have been damaged in the least.

Do you keep your valuables in as safe a place? Does it occur to you that your home or place of business may be the 'next' place to suffer from fire?

Why not rent a Safe Deposit box at this bank, put all your valuables in it and be SAFE? Do it TODAY.

Vacationists Return From Motor Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Igo, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Wilson, returned to Oregon City the first of last week from an enjoyable motoring trip to the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Cutting, at Trout Lake, Washington.

Among the places of interest while at Trout Lake were trips to the lava and ice caves, which are about five miles from Trout Lake. The lava caves were especially interesting. Upon entering the big opening of the cave there is a large room, from which there is a pathway leading further underground, extending for about two miles. In going through it was necessary to carry torches, for the rooms were dark. In the ice caves icicles hanging from the ceiling are to be seen.

Fishing was enjoyed at Trout Lake and there was always a big supply of fish for the menu at the Cutting home. With hiking and motoring trips from the big farm the Oregon City party had one of its most delightful outings.

Wedded Bliss Short: Man Wants Divorce

Suit for divorce was filed with the county clerk yesterday by Clare G. Morey against Lady Alice Morey. The couple were married on July 30th of this year. Morey charges cruel and inhuman treatment. He is a G. A. R. veteran, and a school professor. He asks also that the defendant's name previous to her marriage be restored to her.

NEW PLUMBING SHOP OPENS IN GLADSTONE

Earl G. Williams, a Gladstone plumber for the past three or four years, has taken a lease upon the corner room of the ground floor of the Odd Fellows building from A. D. Paddock and has started the Central Plumbing and heating work and carry supplies and fixtures. Mr. Williams has already secured several good contracts and predicts that the fall season will be a very active one in the building line.

Ed Moore, who has been conducting a small garage at his home in Gladstone, will shortly open a large garage on the ground floor of the Odd Fellows building here, this having been originally intended for such purpose, and was so used for a time. It certainly seems as though Gladstone, with the local and transient business ought to furnish a good trade for a garage.

The first meeting of the year of the Gladstone W. C. T. U. will be held at the home of Mrs. Ada Seivers, Tuesday, September 6, at 2:30. A full attendance is desired as plans for the year's work will be made at this meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Meeds and children, Mary and Fred, returned to their home in Gladstone Tuesday after a most delightful two week's motor trip to Spokane where they were the house guests of Mrs. Meeds' mother. The return trip was made through northern Idaho, camping at the many beautiful auto camps. Mary and Fred Meeds will resume their studies at West Linn high school on September 5th.

Hall and Sons, of Oregon City, are putting in a new filling station at the Junction of Arlington street and Clackamas Boulevard on the Freytag property.

The party of motorists who left here two weeks ago for Newport have returned to their homes. While at Newport they occupied three of the Seacrest cottages. Those going were: Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Hagerman of Milwaukie; Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hammack and son, Egbert, of Portland; Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Niles and sons, Franklyn, Burlin and Newell; and Mr. and Mrs. R. M. McGotchle of Gladstone.

S. M. Eby of Vancouver, Washington, spent the week end with his son, Edward W. Eby and family of this place.

Paul Whitcomb has accepted a position with the Freytag and Catto grocery of Gladstone.

Selvester Schorer, formerly connected with Freytag & Catto, has accepted a position in Portland.

Mrs. Emma Adams of Portland is visiting her sister, Mrs. Wm. Amen, this week.
