LOGAN, Sept. 12.—The annual reunion of the Bird family, descendants of Robert and Rachel Bird, pioneers of 1847, was held Sunday, Sept. 3 at Gladstone, Ark. About one hundred enjoyed the day, which was fine and also the camp dinner served on the long table at Pioneer cove in the park. Sickness prevented several from attending. It was three fourths of a century ago that these pioneers left Lacom, Illinois, on March 27, 1847, with the Sawyer train. They landed here Oct. 27, 1847, just eight months enroute, with their families. The Sawyer brothers were prominent in the early history of Oregon City. They built a large sawmill which was destroyed by fire of incendiary origin. The Robert Bird donation claim is what is now known as Stafford, and the cemetery there is a part of it. William Bird lived at Stafford many years. His brother, John Bird, made his home near Lafayette and died there in 1894. The late Marion Hendrick of McMinnville was a grandson of Robert Bird also. The next meeting is to be at the same place in August next year.

The same officers were re-elected to serve the ensuing year. Pres. Laura L. Kierchem, secretary and treasurer Grant Corby, Saleem; executive committee, Mrs. Kierchem, V. D. HERESY CHARGED TO BISHOP BROWN BY EPISCOPALIANS

Retired Arkansas Clergyman Accused in Report Made to General Convention Now Holding Meet in Portland.

ALLEGED ATTACK ON CHRISTIANITY BARED

Clerical Trial Recommended, Deposing of Minister May Follow Formal Hearings.

PORTLAND, Sept. 13.—Heresy charges were formally filed with the house of bishops of the Episcopal General Convention today against the Rev. William W. Brown, retired bishop of Arkansas.

Bishop James R. Winchester, who is now active bishop of the Southern state, presented the charges in the form of a report of a special investigation committee. The report recommended that Bishop Brown be given a church trial and deposed from the ministry.

The special charges are not listed, other than in general terms. The report alleges, however, "In view of the antagonistic attitude he has taken recently toward Christianity, this committee moves that he be brought to trial for heresy and deposed from the ministry."

Bishop Brown, it is reported, has lately denied the divinity of Christ. He is not in attendance upon the convention.

The report of Bishop Winchester, as chairman of the committee, was received by the presiding bishop and referred to the committee in petitions and memorials which will conduct a hearing and make a report to the house of bishops either sustaining or disapproving of Bishop Winchester's recommendation.

Should the house decide to order a trial of the Arkansas prelate, it is probable that an ecclesiastical court will be convened at which Brown will have opportunity to defend his utterances.

NO RIVER LIKE THE JORDAN

Characteristics of Historic Stream Have No Counterparts Elsewhere in the World.

In one matter, Palestine enjoys an advantage obvious at once to the student of her maps. The River Jordan, which Joshua crossed dryshod, in which Naaman the Syrian bathed away his leprosy, and where John the Baptist preached, is unique. Among the rivers of the world, there is no other like it. The source of the Jordan is 900 feet above sea level. From that source to its outflow, the distance is only sixty miles, but it is a distance which the river itself, by the frequent winding, more than trebles. The flow is not into any open sea, but into a lake surrounded entirely by mountains and exhausted only by evaporation or soaking of the water into its bleak and desolate shores. This lake is so charged with various salts that to sink in its waters is impossible, while bathing severely tests the complexion. Most remarkable of all is the fact that the lake, supposed to contain the ruins of Sodom, Gomorrah and other cities of the plain, is situated 1,300 feet or thereabouts below the level of the sea. Nowhere, not in the Grand canyon itself, is there a phenomenon so mysterious and so sensational.—P. W. Wilson in the World's Work.

Where mosquitoes abound, a preparation combining one ounce of oil of citronella with four ounces of melted vaseline should be rubbed on the face and hands. Persons who object to the odor of citronella could use this castor oil one ounce, alcohol one ounce, oil of lavender one ounce. Both preparations were used by workers in the Panama canal zone and gave great relief until the extermination of mosquitoes was undertaken. Neither preparation should be allowed to get into the eyes.

Miles or Wire in This Apparatus. A million-volt transformer of 1,000 KVA capacity is being built by a leading electric company for its experimental laboratory at Trafford City, Pa. The windings of this transformer contain nearly 70 miles of wire. The terminal bushing is the largest ever built in the Westinghouse shops. Special machines had to be fitted to turn the bushing on this account. Its length is 19 feet, and it is 4 1/2 inches in diameter. The static shield will be 10 feet in diameter and 20 inches deep. The bushing will weigh about 9,000 pounds when completed.

BRUMFIELD HANGS HIMSELF IN CELL AT PENITENTIARY

Rope of Canvas Strips Out Of Mattress Is Used to End Life; Dummy in Bed Made With Pillows and paper.

TWO LETTERS LEFT; INNOCENCE ASSERTED

Murderer Ties Own Hands To Prevent Struggle If He Should Fail upon Resolve.

SALEM, Or., Sept. 13.—Richard M. Brumfield, Roseburg dentist, under death sentence for the murder of Dennis Russell of Dillard, Douglas county, committed suicide in the Oregon state penitentiary here during the noon hour today by hanging himself with an improvised rope made from strips of canvas torn from the mattress of his bed.

Two letters left by Dr. Brumfield were found by the prison officials. These were addressed to Dr. Brumfield's wife and to James Lewis, warden of the penitentiary. In both letters Dr. Brumfield declared that he was innocent of the Russell murder and expressed a desire to end it all.

Dr. Brumfield apparently had laid his plans for the suicide with a view of eluding any suspicion on the part of the prison attendants. The blankets on his bed had been rolled, a newspaper had been laid on the pillows, and a table on which were a number of letters, books and trinkets, stood at the inside of the cell door. To the casual observer standing outside the cell the setting indicated that the doctor was lying on the bed.

After placing the rope about his neck the doctor apparently climbed upon a guard rail a few inches above his bed, from where he threw the other end of the rope over a steam pipe near the ceiling of his cell. He then fastened his hands with straps torn from a sheet and jumped into space. Penitentiary officials said that Dr. Brumfield took the precaution to tie his hands that he might escape a struggle in case he weakened.
