Margaret Gleason Is Fatally Stricken

Mrs. Margaret Gleason, prominent pioneer of Oregon City, widow of the late John Gleason, died suddenly at the family home at Fourteenth and Center streets Monday night at 11:30 o'clock. Although Mrs. Gleason had been an invalid for the past nine years, her health failed after she was stricken with nervous breakdown following the death of her husband.

Deceased was born at Letterkenny, Letterleague, county of Donegal, Ireland, March 12, 1852. When a girl she came to the United States first settling in White Plains, N. Y. Several years later she came West, making her home with a sister, Mrs. Mary Hayes, of San Francisco where she resided for 13 months. Following her residence at that city, she went to Salem, where she made her home with her sister, Mrs. Kitty Short, and where her marriage to Mr. Gleason occurred in 1870. The following year she and her husband moved to Oregon City, where she has since resided, except for a short time when the family returned to Salem. For fifty years Mrs. Gleason has made her home at Fourteenth and Center streets.

Mrs. Gleason, before taking ill, had done many acts of charity. She was an active member of St. John's Catholic church, and is widely known throughout Clackamas county. She is the last member of her family.

Surviving deceased are the following children: M. J. Gleason, Miss Mary T. Gleason, John T. Gleason and Mrs. A. J. Haas, all of Oregon City. Three grandchildren, Charles Melvin Gleason, Miss Nellie Gleason and Donald Haas of this city, also survive. A niece, Miss Mamie Burns, and also a nephew, J. C. Burns, are of Portland.

Mrs Gleason was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles McMonagle, of Ireland.

Malar Jersey Herd Wins Many Prizes

SANDY, Nov. 20—The Malar herd of Jerseys consisting of 13 head returned from the Pacific International stock show with colors flying. The 13 head won 14 ribbons, thereby exhibiting no animal that didn't stand in the money.

The topper was the bull, "Helen's Poppy's St. Mawes," a senior yearling who won first "The Blue" in a class of nine entries. This proves that he has type as well as pedigree. He is the son of "Poppy's St. Mawes", a Gold Medal bull and "Noble Lad's Lady Helen" who is a winner of silver and gold medals and the Medal of Merit, with a record of 858 pounds of butterfat.

A. Malar has sold a bull of L. L. Griffin of Cottrell. This is a beautiful animal, being the offspring of the two blue ribbon winners of the Malar herd at the International in 1920.

A. Malar has resumed the official testing of his Jerseys, having placed seven on test on Nov. 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Fischer of Firwood recently purchased a fine two year old registered Jersey cow from N. C. Sorenson of Washington.

Big Price Paid for Jersey Herd Sire

SANDY, Nov. 21—Carl Power, a prominent dairyman of this section announces the sale of La Belle's Noble Fern, a Jersey herd sire that Power raised, and which received the second senior award at the recent International stock show in Portland, competing with 11 other choice sires. The sale was made to P. H. Maston of Victoria, B. C. for the sum of $1500. This bull is a half brother to the animal that won the senior award and grand champion over all. It is also the grandson of the $15,000 bull, shown at the San Francisco exposition in 1915. Powers will be allowed to keep the bull until Feb. 1, when he will ship him to his new owner, who is one of the biggest breeders in Canada, and keeps a herd of 80 purebreds. This is the largest sum received for a single animal among dairymen here, and helps to put Sandy on the dairy map for sure.

Mrs. Ed Siefer Is Laid to Final Rest

SANDY, Nov. 21—The funeral of Mrs. Ed Siefer of Boring was held at the Methodist church in Boring yesterday. Mrs. Siefer died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. G. Rich of Portland, Nov. 17.

The deceased was 52 years of age and was a pioneer of the Damascus country, being well known and beloved all through this section of the county. Mrs. Siefer had been ailing for over a year, but a sudden attack of pneumonia caused her death. Funeral services were held in Portland before the body was brought to Boring for the final rites. The interment was at the Damascus cemetery, and was in charge of the Boring Rebekah lodge. Beside her husband, eight children survive, all of whom were present at the funeral.

Eagle Creek Grange Prove Royal Hosts

SANDY, Nov. 20—The Sandy grange was invited to break bread with their neighbor grange, Eagle Creek, last Saturday and these ladies surely served a "spread" that will not soon be forgotten. There were 51 seated at the first table, which was decorated with flowers and food to tempt any Epicurean's appetite and artistic sense as well.

Dinner was served to about 80 people, after which Mrs. J. R. Hughes, lecturer, put on a literary program, which honored the approaching Thanksgiving day. Then live discussions followed, in which the Sandy folk took part, also members from the Garfield grange. Master Holder of Garfield grange invited both Eagle Creek and Sandy to visit them at their next meeting.

Domestic Science Work Is Studied

SANDY, Nov. 21—Domestic science work is carried on at Pleasant Home very successfully by ladies of the neighborhood who meet at the home of Mrs. Martin Lennart. An instructor is furnished without cost from the O. A. C. extension service who is an expert dietician.

Last Friday a luncheon was served to the ladies which was prepared and demonstrated for the class. Illustrations were given to show the growth of muscles, and how to build up the body.

These classes have been held every month for some time.

MRS. CATHERINE WARE

SANDY, Nov. 20—The burial of Mrs. Catherine Ware, aged 81, of Portland took place at Cherryville, Nov. 16. Mrs. Ware was the mother of Luther Ware and grandmother of Geo. Odell of Cherryville. Also mother of Mrs. Elsie Fegles, who used to stay in Sandy at the home of Casper Junker.

Womens Club Meets At Mrs. Esson Home

SANDY, Nov. 20—The Sandy Women's club enjoyed the regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Edna Esson on Thursday. The day was stormy and the attendance was smaller than usual, but a pleasant social time was enjoyed after the regular routine of business was transacted. Refreshments were served by the hostess and her mother.

Those present were Mrs. Shelley, Mrs. Bell, Mrs. Shipley, Mrs. Scales, Mrs. Gillett, Mrs. Connors, Miss Margaret Miller, Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Esson, Dorothy Esson.

Thanksgiving Song Service to Be Held

SANDY, Nov. 22—A non-sectarian Thanksgiving song-service program will be given at the community church next Sunday evening, Nov. 26. The program will include a ladies' quartet, mixed quartet with F. D. Eason as bass. Mrs. Thomas Clifford, will sing a soprano solo, Caroline Chown will sing, there will be duets, etc. and a varied program of interest to all. Be sure and fill up the church again Sunday evening. No collection. Everybody welcome.

Basket Social and Program Is Planned

SANDY, Nov. 22—There will be a program and basket social at the Sandyridge school house Saturday night, Nov. 25, at which time a program will be given the school children under the direction of Miss Genevieve McGarrity, the teacher. The proceeds will be used for curtains and other accessories for the school house. An invitation is extended to everyone to come and see the new school house and have a fine time.

Surveyors Busy on Road Near Cottrell

SANDY, Nov. 22—County surveyors have been at work recently near Cottrell making an estimate as to the probable cost of paving that section of road. It seems there was an allotment made of $55,000 for the bluff road when the bonds were voted and the taxpayers will pass on the proposition of cement pavement at their road meeting on Saturday, Nov. 25.

BABY DAUGHTER ARRIVES

SANDY, Nov. 20—A baby daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Christianson of Powell Valley on Sunday at 1 A. M. The child weighed seven and three-fourths pounds. Mrs. Christianson went from Sandy to Gresham on Saturday and is at the home of her sister, Mrs. Paul Stone. The Christiansons will return here, and will have charge of the switch board in the phone exchange.

MRS. LEHNFIELD ILL

SANDY, Nov. 20—Mrs. L. Lehnfield was taken very ill last night and was taken to Portland this morning to her daughters' home where she can receive immediate care. It was feared she was taking pneumonia.

SANDY LOCALS

Friday night (Nov. 24) is the big night of the Pleasant Home Ladies' Aid bazaar. Mrs. M. Lenmartz is the efficient president of the Aid.

The road district meetings had to be postponed until Saturday, Nov. 25, presumably to make the same legal, as the meetings were announced too soon to give the required advertisement. Remember the meeting of taxpayers at the Sandy city hall, at 8 P. M. to vote additional tax for road purposes.

Mass was held at 8 and 10:30 A. M. last Sunday at the St. Michael's Catholic church by Rev. Father Boniventura.

Now that W. R. Telford is Justice of the Peace at Boring folks down there will have to be good.

J. C Duke was down at the Duke ranch for a week digging potatoes like a 'regular" farmer.

Rev. S. F. Pitts was in Sandy recently and was driving a car. Pitts says he has a fine crop of potatoes but cannot sell them. However, potatoes are selling in Portland at $1.00 per sack, if reports are true.

"Buz" Thomas is back again after about a year's absence. Thomas says he has been in every county in the state during the year but two, cruising timber. He also did some work in Idaho.

Mrs. Joe Caldo and Mrs. Alta Gentry of Cottrell attended the Sunday school convention at Troutdale.

A meeting was held at the Bull Run community hall recently and a Sunday school was organized with Jack Greenwood as superintendent and Mrs. Butler secretary.

Walter Krebs returned from Portland Monday morning. His sister, Mrs. Henry Herman was taken out of the hospital on Sunday.

Corn Fritters

These are a favorite garnish for fried chicken or Belgian hare. To a cupful of fresh corn pulp cut from the ear allow a half cup of cracker Add two eggs, whites and yolks beaten together, and seasoned with salt and pepper. Have ready a very hot spider or pancake griddle, well greased with butter or olive oil, and drop in the batter a spoonful at a time. When the fritters are brown on one side turn to the other, that they may be well cooked through. Four minutes will make them a golden brown.
