STATE OFFICIALS PLAN COMPLETE PROBE OF FIRES

Chief Deputy H. H. Pomeroy
Speaks at Local Meeting
Of Business Men; Action
On Situation Is Promised.

COOPERATION URGED BY SHERIFF WILSON

Arson Theory Substantiated
By Fact Declares Priebe;
Many Measures Advocated

"We haven't got any clues yet, but we are going to stay on the job until something is definitely accomplished." This was the statement of H. H. Pomeroy, chief deputy of the state fire marshal's office at the meeting of citizens held Monday afternoon to consider the matter of fire protection. Chief Pomeroy and Deputy L. B. Davis attended the session together with city and county officials, and declared that the state intended to make every effort to locate the Oregon City fire bug.

The meeting, sponsored by The Morning Enterprise, was for the purpose of discussion the problem and determining whether or not municipal action was advised.

Both of the state men, Fire Chief Priebe and Sheriff Wilson declared that in their opinion the majority of them were not from natural causes. Oregon City Pomeroy said, had not had the full amount of attention that cases here warrant, but arrangements have made for the detailing of two men to cooperate to the fullest extent with the local authorities in a complete investigation.

Cooperation Is Aim
As the result of a conference a secret committee of three representing the Oregon City merchants and business men has been appointed to cooperate with the state authorities and the local officers.

No rewards will be offered by the business men, nor any vigilance committees formed. The entire investigation will be left in the hands of the state officers, it was decided, Monday.

Speaking at the meeting H. G. Edgar, pastor of the Presbyterian church outlined the committee of public safety which operated in Seattle to meet an exceptional condition there. L. A. Henderson in a communication, urged the organization of a vigilance committee. Mayor Shannon pointed out the fact that the police department is handicapped by lack of men and cannot conduct an independent investigation. R. W. Kirk, city school superintendent, sketched the recent Barclay School fire and told of the investigation which had resulted in no clues whatever.

Legislation Is Urged

C. Schuebel urged the passage of an ordinance which would clear the streets after 1 a. m. except where legitimate business demanded. Clarence Farr pointed to a number of individual fires and branded them as incendiary, urging the posting of a reward. A. A. Price urged the purchase of additional apparatus.

Need for an organized investigation was cited by Wm. Stone and by O. D. Eby. Eby urged the employment of an expert in the line to trace the cause of the fires.

Fire Chief Wm. Priebe declared that a large majority of the fires were without doubt incendiary and stated his reasons for the decision that the recent Elks Temple fire was the work of a fire bug. He urged the purchase of additional hose and more apparatus. Cooperation with the department and the officials was urged by Linn E. Jones, while W. W. Woodbeck scored the state office for its failure to obtain results in the investigation of the other fires, which date from last January.

Citizen-Ad Asks

Sheriff Wilson, declaring that it was definitely established that the fires were not from natural causes urged any of the men present who had definite information or suspicions to communicate with the officials. Ray Cooper, A. C. Howland and S. O. Dillman spoke briefly upon the fire as it affects the insurance corporations and insurance investigation. F. C. Garke declared that many of the fires might have been from natural causes and urged more care in cleaning up the town and removing fire hazards.

Water Connection Urged

Pointing to the possibility of a break in the water supply, J. W. Moffatt urged the connection of the Oregon City and West Linn mains, as suggested about a year ago by the state fire marshal's office. Those who attended the session were: M. R. Cooper, L. O. Harding, C. Schuebel, Harry E. Draper, Edward Busch, Linn E. Jones, A. A. Price, E. G. Cauffield, C. G. Miller, C. P. Farr, M. D. Latorette, W. Woodbeck, George H. Tracy, Jr., R. L. Shepherd, S. O. Dillman, R. W. Kirk, Wm. M. Stone, A. C. Howland, E. S. Nelson, H. C. Stevens, G. A. Frost, O. D. Eby, W. A. Long, H. G. Edgar, Wm. Ingoll, H. C. Gadke, W. E. Griffith, Thomas F. Ryan, Wm. Priebe, Wm. J. Wilson, L. B. Davis, H. H. Pomeroy, C. Schuebel, W. L. Little, L. Ruchonich, J. W. Moffatt.

IN SOCIETY

Mr. and Mrs. William Gardner entertained at a Thanksgiving dinner at their home.

The rooms were prettily decorated, as was also the table, where places were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Blake Bowland, Miss Edith Lindstrum, Frank Lindstrum, of Portland; Miss Blanche Gardner, Emil Larson, Mr. and Mrs. William Gardner.

Mrs. A. J. Surber, of this city, and Mrs. Gus Bergren, of Glen Echo, were guests at a luncheon at the Fordham apartments in Portland Tuesday afternoon. The hostess was Mrs. Warren Smith, who entertained in a most charming manner.

Mrs. Gus Bergren, in a delightful manner, entertained at a Thanksgiving dinner at their home at Glen Echo.

White chrysanthemums formed a most effective decorative scheme.

The table was centered with white chrysanthemums, and places were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan and son, Bobby, of this city; Mrs. W. W. Marr, of Gladstone; F. A. Miles, Mr. and Mrs. Bergren and son, Fred, of Glen Echo.

The following program was given by the pupils of the Canemah school Wednesday afternoon, preceding Thanksgiving:

Song, "America," school recitation, "Armistice Day," Cora Kinzy; reading, "People Are Surely Queer," Peggy Wynore; recitation, "Something to be Thankful For," Erma Freeman; reading, "The Dog and His Master," Verma Rakel; song, "Ten Little Indians," 1st, 2nd, 3rd grade boys; reading, "Uniqueness," George Rakel; song, "Little Pilgrim Maiden," 4th and 5th grade girls; reading, "Story of Blind Bill," Esther Beissel; recitation, "Thanksgiving Philosophy," Ray Turner; violin solo, "Gypsy Melodies," Bernice Rakel; reading, "How To Treat A Horse," Walter Coulson; recitation, "Their Secret," Lowell Blackburn; song "Thanksgiving Day," 1st, 2nd, 3rd grades; reading, "Post Mortem Praise," Harold Fessler; play, "The Day Before Thanksgiving," 4th, 5th grade readings, "Soldiers' Bous," Guy Holford; concert recitation, "Ship of State," 6th grades.

Rev. Edgar of Oregon City made a pleasing address appropriate for the occasion before a large and appreciative audience.

Robert Glinther principal, Miss Ruth Limbucker intermediate, and Miss Thelma Chamberlain primary, are the teachers of the school, having arranged the program.

The marriage of Miss Dorothy Louise Mohr and Hersel Raymond Saunders, of this city, was solemnized at the home of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Saunders, of Tenth and John Adams streets, Saturday evening, November 25. Rev. A. J. Ware, of this city, officiated in the presence of relatives and several intimate friends.

The ceremony was performed at 8:30 o'clock. As the bridal party entered the living room Miss Myrtle Tracy rendered Lohengrin's Wedding March.

The bride was attractive in a dark blue suit, with a corsage bouquet of white carnations.

Miss Grace Reynolds, becomingly gowned in dark blue, with corsage bouquet of pink carnations, was the bride's maid.

Wilbur Hayes was best man.

Following the ceremony the bridal party left for Portland, where a wedding dinner was served at the Multnomah hotel. Mr. and Mrs. Saunders remained in Portland for several days, making their headquarters at the Multnomah.

Upon their return to Oregon City, the young couple have taken up their residence for the present time with Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Saunders, parents of the bridegroom.

The bride is a well known young woman of Oregon City, where she has resided for a number of years, and recently resigned her position as stenographer in the office of Attorney Dean Butler. She is the daughter of Gus Mohr, of California, where she resided before coming to Oregon City.

The bridegroom, who is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Saunders, is among the popular young employees of the Hawley Pulp & Paper Company. He attended the Oregon City schools before employed in the paper mills.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ketels, who reside near Parkplace, entertained Friday evening at an informal dancing party in honor of Miss Erma Roche.

Among the features of the evening, which were highly appreciated was the Highland fiddle dance given by Miss Wanda Thomas. Miss Thomas appeared in costume.

Refreshments were served during the evening.

Chrysanthemums and ferns were used in an effective manner in decorating the rooms of the Ketel home.

The chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ketel and Mrs. Scheerer. Enjoying the affair were Miss Erma Roche, Miss Dorothy Scheerer, Miss Mary McMahan, Miss Lola Vedder, Miss Ruth Lund, Miss Hazel Fauer, Miss Glenna Miranda, Miss Mary Louise Merrick, Miss Wanda Thomas, William Woodsell, Robert Watts, Arthur McCormick, William Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. Ketel and Mrs. Scheerer.

They are selling around nine cents each—as high as $1.08 a dozen. They are being sold by the carload. Another thing that amused me may shed some light upon the cost of tobacco. In Connecticut where a large part of the wrapper tobacco is grown I was astonished by the numerous hop fields. I asked how it happened that the state had taken to hop raising and I was informed that they were tobacco fields, but that they were wired on poles like hop fields, and acres and acres covered with cloth to prevent the leaves from being damaged by the hail storms.

"I noticed a predisposition in the east to buy in small quantities," he continued. "They buy by the peck where we buy by the bushel. In Washington coal is selling by the paper bag full. It draws 25 cents for 15 pounds or about $30 per ton. This is caused somewhat by the shortage but it is the same thing with potatoes, and other commodities.

"Europe? No, there was not much talk of the financial condition in Europe. The financiers believe that we are as prosperous as we can be at present, barring the condition of the farmer. The European situation does not enter into the general discussion.

"The railroad situation. The railroads are still feeling the results of the strike. Few eastern trains are again on time. The inactivity of the shops is still being felt in poor rolling stock. Coming west, at Rocalto, we were late and delayed for an hour and a half waiting for a freight engine. Our own engine was said unable to take us on and we went with freight engine as far as Harrison before a regular express locomotive was available.

"The car shortage is still somewhat serious. The chairman of the public utilities commission in Idaho told me that the state was still 3000 cars behind for the moving of its fruit crop and that thousands of dollars worth of crops had been ruined through failure to move.

"Throughout the entire middle west, however, I found that there is a general misunderstanding of their condition. It is believed that during the past few years they failed to keep up with the general line of progress, but the manager of the federal reserve declares that their neglect of current improvements has been due to the fact that they have liquidated much of the public debt. The present progress has necessarily been sacrificed to improve their financial condition. This is especially true of Iowa, Kansas and Nebraska."
