Old Soldiers March in Parades and Conduct Patriotic Ceremonies at Cemetery

Patriotic interest was at a high pitch in Oregon City and other parts of the county on Memorial day, Tuesday. In this city old and young combined to fittingly perpetuate the memories of the thousands of soldier dead, and especially of those once brave lads who fought for their country's honor and terminated their worthy lives within this county. Banks, stores, public and private offices and the schools were closed during the day and large numbers of people visited the several burial places about the county.

In Oregon City the school children combined with the G. A. R. and the Woman's Relief corps and Company G. O. N. G., to make the day one to be remembered for the patriotic interest that was manifested. In the morning at the regular school hour children assembled at the Barclay school and, escorted by a corps of veterans, marched to the McLoughlin institute, where their ranks were increased by the addition of the pupils of the institute. This body marched to Willamette hall and heard patriotic addresses by Superintendent F. J. Toose and Father Hillebrand, headmaster of the McLoughlin institute.

Following the program at Willamette hall the children and their escorts marched to Mountain View cemetery where the following interesting program was held:

Music, Drum Corps; prayer, Rev. R. A. Stockwell; crowning monument, officer of the day; unknown dead, Rev. T. J. Williams; Lincoln's Gettysburg Address, Fred J. Toose, Jr.; Ritualistic Ceremonies of Meade Relief Corps No. 18; Taps.

Each one in the long line of marchers carried a bouquet of pretty blossoms, which were distributed on the graves of the soldier dead in the Mountain View burial ground. A great many flowers were collected by the pupils and by the members of the G. A. R., as well as the ladies of the Meade Relief corps, and the graves at Mountain View were bowered of floral beauty when the morning ceremonies had been concluded.

A pretty tribute was paid to the memories of the sailor boys who made history for the United States in the wars into which the naval forces have been called, when the relief corps, accompanied by Beach's boys' band marched to the suspension bridge and cast flowers upon the waters of the Willamette. If only the fragrance of the flowers finds its way to the waters of the Pacific it will grace the world's greatest grave, where many thousands have found their last resting place and where the headstone of memory reads with a simple line of honor.

The ceremonies of the day were concluded at a largely attended meeting at two o'clock in the afternoon held at the high school auditorium.

The old soldiers, the relief corps school children, Company G. O. N. G., and the boys' band attended the exercises at the high school and combined to render the feature program of the day.

The following program was rendered at the high school:

Music, Oregon State Veteran Drum Corps; introduction, Commander A. F. Stokes; invocation, Rev. J. K. Hawkins; adjutant's report; "Star Spangled Banner," Mrs. Imogen Harding Brodie; remarks, Mayor E. C. Hackett president of the day; address, Comrade M. L. Pratt; patriotic exercises of Oregon City schools, under direction of Superintendent Toose, as follows: orchestra, high school; song, "Flag of Nations," Eastham school; recitation, "A Brotherhood of Heroes," Velma Randall; patriotic song (selected) Misses Naomi and Eschel Armstrong; recitation, "The Bivouac," Eunice King; recitation, "Driving Home the Cows," Sammy McLarty; patriotic song, "Cheer Old Glory," Eastham school; recitation, "Memorial Day," Frances Bowland; vocal music Barclay school; "The Star Spangled Banner" (pantomime) Carrie Cunningham, Alice Linzer, Monta Tobin; orchestra, high school; taps, Mrs. Imogen Harding Brodie.

Club Aids Library

The members of the Currinsville Priscilla club are assisting in a practical way in the maintenance of the Estacada library. The club recently produced a successful playlet and held a supper in addition. From the funds thus realized the ladies have appropriated $5 to the library. Although the institution is removed from the Currinsville neighborhood the women there realize its value to the entire community and are willing to make it successful.

SCHOOLS STANDARDIZED

Superintendent and Supervisor Complete Work for Spring Term

On Wednesday evening School Superintendent Calavan and Supervisor Vedder attended the standardization exercises at the Barton school, and presented the pupils with the pennant which is the token of credit for the work done to merit standardization. The teacher and pupils at Barton had prepared a very interesting program for the evening and a fine luncheon was served.

Tomorrow the Fir Grove school will be standardized and at the same time an all-day rally will be held. Both the county school officers will attend the rally and are on the program for brief addresses. The standardization pennant will be presented by Mr. Calavan, and a large number of friends and patrons of the school are expected to enjoy the program which has been arranged and the luncheon which will be served.

FISH NOT TROUBLED AT LADDER IN FALLS

COMPLAINTS FROM THE UPPER RIVER HAVE NO FOUNDATION, SAYS WARDEN

The fears of the upper valley communities, which have complained for several years that salmon could not get into the upper waters of the Willamette because of defects in the fish ladder at the falls in Oregon City, will probably be set at rest as a result of the report prepared and published late last week by Carl D. Shoemaker, state game warden.

Mr. Shoemaker, with aides, including lower Columbia river fish packers, was in Oregon City last week and conducted a thorough investigation as to the condition of the ladder and determined that fish were going over the falls in great numbers. The investigation resulted from the receipt of complaints from the Commercial club of Albany and from sportsmen at other points along the river. The authorities themselves were determined to reveal the true conditions because, if fish did not get over the falls eggs would not be available for the state hatchery on the McKenzie river.

The party which investigated here last week found that fish mounted the ladder without difficulty and later in the week the state game warden made two trips to the falls independently and he affirmed the findings of the first investigation.

While in Oregon City Mr. Shoemaker made the statement that a large run of salmon was indicated for this year and that the egg take at the McKenzie hatchery will be very large, if not a record breaker.

SOCIALISTS SELECT COUNTY CANDIDATES

NOMINATE FULL SLATE AT CONVENTION AND WILL SEEK ALL OFFICES

At the Socialist County Convention held at Knapp's hall in Oregon City on Saturday the party elected W. W. Myers permanent chairman and Claude Howard secretary. Resolution setting forth the platform of the party in this county were prepared by a committee comprising Robert Ginter, P. W. Meredith and W. N. Horton. The executive committee members elected were W. W. Myers, P. W. Meredith and Robert Ginter.

Legislative nominees of the socialist party are John F. Stark of Maple Lane, M. V. Thomas of Bull Run and P. W. Meredith of Mount Pleasant. Nominees for other offices are as follows: Sheriff, J. A. Randolph, of Viola; commissioner, F. H. King, of Logan; school superintendent, Ola Ogilvie, of Canby; county clerk, G. F. Knowles, of New Era; recorder, Emma Rayner of Clackamas; treasurer, W. N. Horton of Maple Lane; surveyor, J. W. Baker of Pleasant Hill; coroner, James S. Imel, of Abernathy.

Resolutions adopted at the convention follow:

"Whereas, the Socialist party represents the wealth-producing class of the world, and is the only international political party, and whereas the wealth of the world is concentrated in the hands of a few non-workers, who control the political and military powers of all governments; and whereas, in order that the human race may progress in freedom, peace and prosperity, political and industrial powers must be co-operatively administered by those who produce and distribute necessities of humanity.

"Therefore, be it resolved that we favor government based on the industrial power of the people, instead of political power based on interest, rent and profit.

"And be it further resolved that we favor the co-operative commonwealth, universal peace, and all conditions favorable to the growth of the human intellect.

"Therefore, we, the Socialist party of Clackamas county in convention assembled, re-affirm our adherence to

OFFICIAL COUNT OF BALLOTS COMPLETED

SEVERAL REPUBLICANS NOMINATED BY DEMOCRATIC VOTERS IN PRIMARIES

Without changing the results of the unofficial press count of the primary election ballots, the official count of the democratic tally sheets has been completed by the county clerk. In the race between E. T. Mass and Maxwell Victor for sheriff the lead of the latter was reduced by two ballots in the official count, so that Victor was nominated by a majority of only 8 votes. The unofficial count gave Victor a majority of 10 votes.

For the nomination to the state legislature J. E. Jack leads with 41 votes. George C. Brownell, republican, is second with 15 votes and E. C. Latourette and Dr. Dedman, the latter republican, are tied for the third nomination with 13 votes. A peculiar feature of the democratic primary was the nomination of J. E. Jack as representative from the 16th district as well as from the joint district. Rex Lammpan, of Oak Grove, received 6 votes and Burton 5.

The official count of the democratic primary returns, as compiled by County Clerk Harrington, follows:

Delegates to national convention, state at large: Armitage, 726; Bennett, 774; Crawford, 620; Hollister, 433; Morgan, 528; Morrow, 473; O'Reilly, 295; Helen Tomlinson, 330.

President: Woodrow Wilson, 1111; Bryan, 1; Cummins, 2.

Vice-President: Elliott W. Major, 221; Thomas R. Marshall, 880; Cummins, 1; Ford, 8.

Presidential Electors: O. P. Co-show, 983; B. E. Haney, 1000; P. J. Neff, 980; D. W. Sheahan, 999; J. H. Stevenson, 997.

Representative, 16th district: J. E. Jack, 41; J. E. Hedges, 5; Earl Latourette, 13; G. C. Brownell, 15; Dr. Dedman, 13; Rex Lammpan, 4; C. Schuebel, 9; C. L. Bates, 1; Frazier, 3; Kraxberger, 1; Stevens, 7; Starkweather, 2; T. S. Bates, 1; T. Meyers, 2; Grazier, 10; L. L. Bates, 8; Jos. Meyers, 8.

Representative in Congress: W. C. Hawley, 6; Mark Weatherford, 6.

Joint Representative: Burton, 5; Jack, 13; Lammpan, 6.

Justice of Supreme Court: Moore, 7; Bennett, 5; Greaves, 14; Turner, 9.

Secretary of State: Olcott, 52; Moores, 9; Starkweather, 2; Blake, 16.

Judge of Circuit Court: Campbell, 22; Dimick, G. B., 1; A. King Wilson, 8.

County Clerk: Miss Iva Harrington, 53.

Sheriff: Victor, 458; Mass, 450; Albright, 1.

Assessor: Johnson, 888.

Commissioner: Risley, 880; Proctor, 9.

District Attorney: Hedges, 890.

Recorder: Boyles, 11.

School Superintendent: Calavan, 26.

Constable: Ed. Fortune, 226.

Excepting Victor, Risley, Johnson and Hedges, all names were written in on the democratic county ballot.

ROSARIANS PLEASED

Entertainment on Booster Day Was Greatly Enjoyed

A letter sent to O. D. Eby, president of the Commercial club, by Dean Vincent, prime minister of the Royal Rosarians, who were entertained in Oregon City on Booster day, expresses the good will and appreciation of that organization for the splendid entertainment that was provided for its members here. The letter to Mr. Eby reads:

"On behalf of the Royal Rosarians, wish to take this opportunity of expressing our appreciation of the many courtesies extended to the Royal Rosarian delegation in Oregon City last Saturday while we were your guests at your rose show and Booster day. Certainly, no event in the history of the Rosarians had been more thoroughly enjoyed than this visit to Oregon City, and many compliments and favorable remarks were made with reference to the splendid way in which all of the features at Oregon City were carried forward.

"We are very glad of having had the opportunity of paying this official visit to Oregon City."

To Serve Warm Lunches

The Molalla Parent-Teachers' association has voted in favor of establishing a hot lunch service in the public schools, to be started at the opening of the fall term of school. At the meeting of the Parent-Teachers' association officers were elected for the ensuing year as follows: President, Mrs. J. W. Thomas; vice-president, Mrs. F. G. Haveman; treasurer, Mrs. George Case; secretary, Mrs. J. L. Tuley.

the principles of international socialism, and also to the national platform as adopted in 1912.

"We further favor the national resources of Oregon, such as timber, water, water power, fish, land, and all other necessities, being utilized for the benefit of humanity, honestly and economically administered."

BOOSTER DAY WAS DECIDED SUCCESS

GRAND PARADE IS GREATEST PAGEANT IN HISTORY OF OREGON CITY

QUEEN ROSE IS KIDNAPPED

Ten-Thousand Visitors Come Here From All Parts of County and from Portland

Truly the greatest carnival Oregon City has known, with the accompaniment of music, gayety and pleasant entertainment, was Booster day. Saturday brought to Oregon City the largest crowd that has ever been in this city during one day. It is estimated that fully ten-thousand people witnessed the big parade in the afternoon, and approximately as many were here through the festive day.

There were so many interesting and exciting features to the big program that all the visitors could not possibly witness all the events and in the afternoon things came so fast after one another that part of the program planned had to be omitted for lack of time. A special edition would be required to enumerate the details of the festivities of the day.

To say that ten hours were crowded full of pleasure is hardly expressive, but, judging from the crowds in the city, everyone in the county must have enjoyed at least a part of the day in Oregon City.

The parade in the morning was an interesting event. Livestock from all parts of the county was paraded through the streets and in addition to this there was an unusually interesting array of plug-uglies and comic creations. The stock show and parade was easily one of the most attractive features of the day to the average visitor.

At the noon hour the Oregon City Commercial club entertained a number of out-of-town guests at a luncheon at the club rooms, and again in the afternoon the club was thrown open to visitors, who enjoyed light refreshments served there.

The day started auspiciously with an address of welcome by Mayor Hackett, who spoke to a large crowd from the platform before the court house. The mayor's brief address appealed especially to the rural visitors for they saw in it the embodiment of the spirit that made the Booster day a success, the spirit of harmony between country and city dwellers.

Governor James Withcombe followed Mayor Hackett on the program, and delivered not only the feature address of the day but an address that carried many interesting facts to the farmers and city residents. The subject selected by the governor was "Rural Credits," to which he has given much study, and as a worker in the interest of farm betterment the executive discussed his subject authoritatively.

Queen Rose and King Ely played prominent parts in the Booster day plans throughout the day. They were crowned at the festival center in the morning and during the day participated in all the interesting events, garbed in their regal splendor. Queen Rose and her consort were kidnapped in the afternoon just after the grand parade by a party of Royal Rosarians and Portland Ad club members. After a spirited chase in automobiles Sheriff Wilson and aides overtook the captors of the queen and king, and the royal couple was released upon the promise of a large crowd to see that Clackamas county was represented at the Rose Festival by ten-thousand people.

The big parade of the day started at two o'clock and marched its way from one end of Main street to the other. Its beautifully decorated automobiles, its uniformed marchers and its artistic floats made up a pageant that has had no equal in the history of Oregon City. The Royal Rosarians and the Oregon City Fall-sarians in their natty white suits lent a pleasing contrast to the fine uniforms of lodge teams. The Rosarians were joyously received by their hosts and were entertained from the time of the arrival of their special boat until its departure. The afternoon parade was led by Captain J. T. Apperson.

The following prizes were awarded to the entries in the grand parade: Grange floats—Damascus, Ore., first.

Lodge floats—Woodmen, first; Live Wires, second.

Commercial—Oregon Vulcanizing company, first.

Out-of-town floats—Gladstone, first; Beaver Creek, second.

Lodges, largest number in line—Woodmen, first; Artisans, second.

Decorated automobiles (Oregon City)—Mrs. E. E. Brodie, first; Mrs. H. L. Martin, second.

Decorated automobiles (out of town)—H. E. Cross, Gladstone, first; Willamette town float, second.

After the parade the Rosarian band rendered a splendid concert on the court house lawn and preceding one

REFORMATORY GETS TWO COUNTY YOUTHS

YOUNGSTERS DENIED PROPER START IN LIFE SENT TO SALEM FOR CORRECTION

As a usual thing stepfathers do not measure up to the standard upon which a fourteen-year-old lad sees his own father. Sometimes stepfathers do not love their wife's children as they should and sometimes the conditions brought about by the remarriage of a divorced mother are not as much to the liking of a boy as are the creations of his dreams, those pretty pictures of a life beyond the influence of a home that has been divided by marital troubles.

William Helms, 14-years old, stubborn and unhappy in the home of his stepfather in the woods near Bull Run, refused to go to school and left his home. His mother, Mrs. M. E. Cook, brought the boy to the authorities in this city more than a month ago. William promised to be good and returned to his home. But William is a boy, and boys do not always keep their promises to the letter, although their intentions may be as good as gold. Mrs. Cook couldn't manage the boy and early this week brought him back to the county seat.

William went to his new home at Salem on Tuesday. He has as his brothers misguided young fellows who are hardened criminals at tender ages. William himself is not a bad boy; he is a bit too independent to conform exactly to modern specifications of boyhood, but is not bad. His mates at Salem will be to a slight extent, much the same, while others will be able to teach the Clackamas county lad the alphabet of iniquity from A to Z.

It may not be too late for someone to save William Helms. Parental interest in the boy has lagged because of the difficulty with which he was managed, but there is no doubt that with loving care the lad could easily be redeemed and a young life turned into channels of usefulness. The reformatory school has much the same effect upon a youth as the penitentiary has upon a man. It hardens them, turns them against society and turns them out into society worse men than when they entered for correction.

William Helms is the second youth to go to Salem from this county within a few days. Last week Lester Townsend was committed to the reformatory school for entering a mountain cabin and appropriating several valuable articles to his own uses. There seems to be an excellent chance for some volunteer to make a life that will be broken if these lads are not taken from the reform school, which is only for bad boys, and give them a home that harbors the love that a young child should have.

HIGH SCHOOL PLAY CAST ANNOUNCED

PUPILS' ANNUAL PRODUCTION WILL BE SHAKESPEARE'S "AS YOU LIKE IT"

Final details for the production of Shakespeare's "As You Like It," which has been selected as the year-end play by the students of the Oregon City high school, are being made and the date for the production has been set as June 7. The cast was assembled this week and is rehearsing its work each day under the direction of Mrs. H. B. Cartledge.

The leading roles in the play will be enacted by Bessie Saunders, Robert Myers and Benjamin Staats, the former as Rosalind. "As You Like It," is the peer of Shakespearean comedies and the young thespians are extending themselves to make their interpretation of the difficult roles successful.

Special scenery is being painted for the production and elaborate costumes for each character have been ordered from a Seattle costume house. Mrs. Cartledge, who has been including a study of Shakespeare's works in her English classes at the Oregon City high school, has selected the cast for "As You Like It," with the special fitness of each individual in mind and believes that the performance at the Shively opera house next Wednesday evening will be a success for that reason.

One reason for selecting the Shakespeare comedy and the following cast to play it was the tribute to the memory of the author, whose ter-centennial is being celebrated throughout the world this year:

Duke Robert Myers
Frederick John Matheson
Amiens Albert Roake
Jacques Harry Romig
LeBeau Waldron Hiatt
Charles Wesley Milliken
Oliver Claire Miller
Orlando Ben Staats
Adam Percy Holmes
Touchstone Merle Bingham
Sir Oliver Martext Leonard Nuttal
Corin Albert Lund
Silvius Walter Whitcomb
Pages Percy Pollanz, Dale Draper
William Frank Johnke

PUPILS HAVE TRIAL AGAINST SCHOOL BOY

"Ascending Too Fast," is Charge Against School Boy

At a mock trial, a part of a program of the freshman-sophomore literary society, held at the high school Friday, Morris Holman, accused of ascending too fast, was acquitted by a jury composed of fellow students. The jury, composed of Merle Bingham, Ruth Hawkins, Birdsell Ladd, Conrad Vierhus and Mason Feudner, returned the verdict after five minutes of deliberation.

Ernestine Hart took the role of district attorney, and was assisted in the prosecution by John Beatie, special prosecutor. Holman's attorneys were Arthur McDonald and Harold Dedman. Ethel Alldredge, Ruth Elliott, Maude Lageson, Harold Miller, Lottie Johnson, Margaret Beatie, Lisle Took, Dallas Armstrong and Clarence Cannon were witnesses in the case.

GLADSTONE PROGRAM ALMOST COMPLETED

USUAL SUMMER CLASSES TO FEATURE CHAUTAUQUA PROGRAM THIS YEAR

The Courier presents a practically complete list of the auditorium attractions to be seen and heard at the coming session of the Willamette Valley chautauqua.

Although the schedule is incomplete in many respects at this time, a glance at the attractions listed shows that the 1916 Chautauqua will be an affair of no small proportions. The complete program will be published and circulated within the next week.

July 19—Robert Parker Miles, lecturer, the Kaffir Boys' Choir.

In addition there will be the usual summer school classes, prelude concerts each day, and the popular "Forum" hour, or 11 o'clock programs each day. There will be over 100 people on the program exclusive of the New York Marine Band of 56 pieces.

JITNEY QUILTS

Mountain View Stage Forced Out by Municipal Regulations

Because its operators exceeded the provisions of the municipal regulations governing jitneys, the Mountain View stage has joined others of its ilk and has been sent to the discard by Frank Chandler, who has tried in vain to make a profit with an old automobile, steep hills, regulations and high priced gasoline.

Chandler was given an exclusive permit by the city council to operate a jitney to the Mount Pleasant and Mountain View districts, but on decoration day he took down the five-cent fare sign and replaced it with one asking a 25-cent fare, in contradiction to the terms of his permit. Chandler was to have sought a franchise, but he found the jitney game a losing one and on Wednesday the service was discontinued.

The operator claims that the high cost of gasoline and repairs, together with steep hills and the city regulations are responsible for the defeat of his attempts to maintain the much needed service. Night and morning crowds found the jitney a very popular means of transportation, and especially appreciate it now that they have to walk back and forth.

No action will be taken by the city against Chandler for his infraction of regulations by charging 25 cents on decoration day rather than the 5 cents to which he was limited.

Sandy Methodists Convene

The third quarterly conference of the Methodist church for the Sandy charge will be held at Dover, June 3 and 4. The quarterly conference meeting will be held on Saturday at 2 p. m., and preaching services on Sunday at 10:30 a. m. by the district superintendent, the Rev. T. B. Ford, of Salem, after which a basket lunch will be served.

MANY PUPILS TO FINISH CLASSES

NEARLY 500 WILL GET EIGHTH GRADE DIPLOMAS IN THE COUNTY SCHOOLS

MOST SCHOOLS ARE CLOSED

Superintendent Estimates Majority Will Take Up High School Courses in Fall

This spring very nearly 500 pupils will receive eighth grade diplomas from the various schools of the county and will form the largest eighth grade class ever graduated in the county. Not only do these pupils have the honor of being members of the largest eighth grade class to graduate in the county, but they have completed their grammar school course in the best year in the history of the Clackamas county school system.

Superintendent Calavan has issued 346 diplomas to those who were graduated from the schools in May, and this month approximately 125 additional diplomas will be issued to those pupils in schools which do not close until some time this month. The total therefore, will approximate 475 or more, with 346 diplomas already issued.

Last year 300 diplomas were issued to May graduates, and about 143 to June graduates, also 105 diplomas to those who were graduated from the eighth grade in the Oregon City schools, thus making a total for the county of 548. It is estimated that the graduation this year from the Oregon City schools will be about 90, making the total for the county approximately 655.

By Friday, June 9, all but one of the county schools will have closed its doors for the summer vacation. The one school to extend its term beyond that time is the Jones' Mill school.

Superintendent Calavan and Supervisor Vedder are greatly pleased at seeing such a class leaving the eighth grades. They are also being complimented upon having directed such a successful year of school work.

The county superintendent estimates that at least 75 per cent. of the eighth grade graduates will enter high school next fall. Last year nearly 75 per cent. continued their education. Mr. Calavan attributes this large proportion to the enactment of non-resident tuition law, which provides for the education of pupils from districts where there are no high schools, in other districts free of tuition. Without the non-resident law, Mr. Calavan believes, the number of pupils to continue their studies into the high school course would be less than 25 per cent.

The following children received eighth grade diplomas after successfully passing the final examinations arranged by the county superintendent's office:

Winona Mullan, Mildred Gledhill, Katherine Seavey, Fay Webber, Ethel Knoff, Ethella Adaline Mobley, Michael Amee, Casper Sanders, George Mottie, Maude Misher, Raymond Hedwig Burkett, Grace Misher, Jessie Barnes, Grace Hyland, Margaret Tweedie, Alta Mahler, Louise Kinzy, Vernie Busch, Joseph Busch, Carl Durig, Leonard McMurry, Eda Minder, Iva Sprague, Elma Heyerly, Roy Smith, William Sieber, Elsie Van Water, Gezelius Nordling, Elmer Olson, Arnold Fischer, Carl Johnson, Robert Seaman, Ethel Munger, Walter Pagh, Loretta Smith, Elmer Judd, Peter Menane, Leo Milan, Marion Barrum, Hugh Harbison, Ruth Lund, Elvora Kraxberger, Allie Kraxberger, Estes Gribble, Chas. Stevens, Mable Sprague, Myrtle Evanson, Gordis Watts, Stanley Livingston, Vernita Symmonds, Theresa Schechla, Esther Anderson, Clara Lingle, Ralph Gage, Lorena Kleinsmith, Junia Schmidt, Herman Jessor, Harold Lindahl, John Marshall, Herman Faline, Maud Andrews, Truman Phillips, Lillian Sandstrom, Hans Baumgartner, Gladys Capen, Kenneth Knighton, Harold Ringo, Edith Sterns, Ella Karlik, Elsie Buse, Mabel Ford, Leonard Schwartz, Herman Eckerson, Emmet Shields, Tom Carleton, Ellery Hickman, Frank Hogan, Richard Nixon, Anna McLarty, Harleigh Wright, Clarence Doty, Lincoln Damours, Cecil Wells, Marion Oswald, Stanley Mason, Verne Faurie, Alfred Shaver, Vivian Robbins, Mary Palfrey, Merle Adams, Alma Hoffman, Clayton Yoder, Vernon Loifgreen, Robert Wilson, Clifford Weddle, Myrtle Boreland, Edith Lucas, Esther Moser, Robert Man
