WOMAN DIES IN WELL

Survives Fall of Fifty Feet to Die of Heart Failure

Escaping death by drowning, after falling into a deep well at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Frentiss, near Canby, late last Wednesday evening, Miss Zoe Inglis, sister of Mrs. Frentiss, lived long enough to say to her brother-in-law that she was safe, and died in the well from heart failure.

Miss Inglis was a guest at the Frentiss home and was assisting Mr. Frentiss with the chores about the farm. While drawing water at the open well the young woman lost her footing and fell headlong into the opening. Her screams brought Mr. Frentiss to the well and in response to his call to the young woman, who was in several feet of water fifty feet below the ground, she answered that she was uninjured.

Mrs. Frentiss summoned aid and Mr. Frentiss descended into the well. Near the foot of the ladder, thinking he had reached the water, the rescuer released his hold and fell twenty feet, striking Miss Inglis. When help arrived and rescued the two it was found that Miss Inglis had been dead for several minutes, and all efforts to resuscitate the young woman were futile.

Coroner Hempstead is not certain that Mr. Frentiss struck Miss Inglis when he fell from the ladder, but from the size of the well it is not considered possible that he could have avoided such a thing. The coroner believes that the shock of the sudden descent and the strain caused heart failure.

Miss Inglis came to Clackamas county from Los Angeles nearly ten years ago, and her home was with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Inglis, three miles from Canby. She is survived by her parents, two sisters, Mrs. O. F. Frentiss, of Canby, Mrs. Clara Spring, of Clarendon, Iowa; a twin brother, T. W. Inglis, of Canby and another brother, Charles Inglis, of Iowa. During her life at Canby Miss Inglis had surrounded herself with a wide circle of friends and her funeral was attended by a great number of those who knew her and mourned her death.

FLAG DAY IS NEXT

Association Asks for Wide Observance of June 14

In accordance with its custom for the past nineteen years, the American Flag association calls to mind that Wednesday, June 14, 1916, will be the 139th anniversary of the adoption of the stars and stripes, as the flag of our country. It is a genuine satisfaction that the public recognition of flag day as a national anniversary is each year becoming more and more general. Any reminder would seem unnecessary to secure co-operation in widest possible observance of the day.

In the past and increasingly, every year, the governors of many of the states have, by their proclamations, called public attention to the day and ordered the flag to be displayed on all public buildings, and invited their fellow citizens to celebrate the day. Also, mayors of cities, for recognition of this anniversary, have ordered flags to be displayed upon municipal buildings of their respective cities, and by formal proclamation or otherwise, have invited their fellow citizens to do the same upon their private buildings.

Since the struggle of 1861-1865, the flag has become the symbol of a mighty nation. It has been carried to the utmost parts of the earth, carrying liberty wherever it has been thrown to the breeze. At this time of the great European war, the limits of its influence are not confined to the theatre of the awful conflict, but our own country is in great danger of being involved in its consequence, and patriotism and love of our wonderful country is called for more than ever, that we must be watchful against those who would involve us and do us ill. The stars and stripes have come to possess new beauty for friendly eyes and new terror for the foes of liberty and of law and order and of lawful government.

ELKS' VAUDEVILLE

Lodgemen Will Have Meeting, Show and Dance Tomorrow

After a brief meeting tomorrow evening the Oregon City lodge of Elks will produce a complete vaudeville performance at the club rooms on Water street. The members plan to entertain their wives and sweethearts during the evening and at the conclusion of the show will have a dance for the pleasure of the guests. The local lodge will arrange some fitting celebration in commemoration of flag day, which is June 14.

Rose Show Postponed

Spring has put a temporary damper on the West Linn rose show, which was to have been held there on June 3, and because blooms are so slow in opening those in charge have postponed the event until June 10. If spring does not bring more rose-making sunshine the date will have to be set still farther ahead, for the West Linn community is determined to have its best flowers to show before it attempts a display.

It is probable that the Oregon City Rose show, which could not be held last Saturday because of a lack of flowers, will also be held sometime later in the month.

Federson Fined

H. Federson, most guilty of a quintet of Portland joyriders who engaged in a wordy battle near Gladstone last week, to a charge of fighting, pleaded guilty and was fined $50 and costs in justice court here on Monday. Federson, with his wife, were members of a party comprising C. E. Montgomery, owner of the automobile, Viola VonLadeges and J. Matson. All had been drinking and were en route to Portland when Federson started a fight that ended in the arrest of the five.

GUN CLUB IS HOST

Mrs. Schilling Makes Best Record at Inter-Club Shoot

Mrs. Carl J. Schilling of the Portland Gun club, made the highest score of the day at the meeting with the Oregon City club here on Sunday, when the latter club was host to a large party of Portland trap shooters. Mrs. Schilling registered 93 per cent, and was followed by E. Long of the local club, who scored 92 per cent. Mr. Long received the medal presented to the highest gun for the month. J. P. Bull, Carl J. Schilling and P. J. Holohan were among the Portland professionals who took part in the shoot here on Sunday.

The following scores were registered during the day:

Mrs. C. J. Schilling, 93; E. Long, 92; P. J. Holohan, 90; E. J. Schilling, 88; J. P. Bull, 88; A. L. Zacherison, 80, all of Portland; H. Rakel, 80; G. McKilligan, 80; Louis Ballough, 80; L. Holohan, of Portland, 76; Ben Beard, 74; C. Parker, 73; L. Farr, 72; Charles Wright, 70; C. Ferguson, of Portland, 69; H. Williams, 64; R. E. Green, 60; A. E. Estes, 58; C. Mount, 58; C. Tschirg, 54; O. Smith, 54; Guy Elliott, 52; O. C. Berry, 52; R. Parker, 48, and Miss Emma Finnimore, of Portland, 48.

Strawberry Social at Milwaukie

The Catholic ladies of Milwaukie will serve strawberries, cream and cake at the Grange hall on Tuesday evening, June 6. There will also be a great musical program to which the best local talent and Father Raymond's celebrated male quartet will contribute. Mr. Guy Seavey, Milwaukie's artistic cartoonist, will draw some humorous sketches. A dance will conclude the program. Three great events, each alone well worth the price of admission, are rolled into one. The ladies in charge will heartily welcome their Oregon City friends and patrons.

Hedges May Go East

Joseph E. Hedges is planning on a trip east, to arrive at Yale college, his alma mater, before June 20, on which date will be held a big reunion of the class of 1891. Mr. Hedges is not certain that he will make the trip, but the appeal to the college-day spirit that has been sent out has almost won him over. Twenty-five years ago a group of young men left Yale halls with diplomas and many of these staunch friends have not met since that day. Mr. Hedges is anxious to renew the friendships of student days and has been asked to speak at some of the functions in connection with the reunion.

...Additional... ...Locals...

After spending several days in this city with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Simmons, Earl Lankins returned to his home at Hubbard on Monday.

Miss Dora Jackson of Oregon City expects to leave in a very short time for Morrow county, where she has accepted a teaching position in one of the schools. Miss Jackson plans to visit friends and become acquainted in the new community before her school starts this fall.

Mrs. S. M. McCowan, formerly state president of the Woman's Relief corps, G. A. R., and once a resident of Oregon City, where she was a charter member of Meade Relief corps, took part in the memorial day exercises on Tuesday.

Little Boy Is Buried

Little Hurley Arthur Dieringer, the 5-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Dieringer, who died at the family home in Portland last week, was brought to Oregon City late in the week. On Sunday the remains were taken to Carus, where funeral services were conducted and where interment was made.

Farm Changes Owners

What is known as the old Sandford place in upper Garfield has again been the object of barter. The place was owned by J. M. Whelan, who last week sold the property to Portland people. Mr. and Mrs. Whelan have moved into Portland.

Thirteen Graduate

Thirteen pupils will be graduated from the Oak Grove grammar school at exercises which are to be held at the M. E. church at that place next Wednesday. The eighth grade exercises will be featured by the appearance of a prominent Portland educator. Pupils will read essays and there will be a musical program.

Foot Crushed

Bert Perry, of Molalla, sustained a badly crushed foot on Thursday while standing on a Portland street corner. A wagon wheel passed over the foot and crushed the member so badly that treatment at the emergency hospital in Portland was necessary.

BOOSTER DAY WAS A DECIDED SUCCESS

of the most interesting events of the day—the water fight between two teams of firemen. The Fountain hose company team, fighting with two men against three, captured this event after a long struggle.

Other parts of the day's program that helped greatly toward its success were the execution of the Demon Pessimism and the exhibition given by children of the city schools at the library park in the morning. Neatly garbed youngsters executed pretty dances and exercises, including the time-honored Maypole dance. The river events, held late in the afternoon, were also very interesting features. The jousting contest was unique and the boat races exciting.

The stock show, which was one of the headline attractions of the day, called forth stock from many of the ranches of the county and it is said to have been the best collection of livestock ever assembled in this county. The prize winners at the stock show follow:

Best farm team out of town folks, B. H. Ford; best draft team weighing over 2800 pounds, owned by farmer, David Scherubel; best driving team, hitched to buggy, George A. FALLSARIANS ENTHUSED

Marching Order Plans Fine Season of Activity

Talk of a moonlight excursion to the mouth of the Willamette or to the mouth of the Columbia is going the rounds in the ranks of the Fallsarians and a great deal of interest is being displayed by the members as a result of the splendid showing they made in the grand parade of Booster day, last Saturday.

Although the organization has been together only one year it compares favorably with other such clubs in the state, and given the experience of the Royal Rosarians would undoubtedly be as nearly a finished marching club as are the Portland uniformed boosters. The men in the Fallsarian ranks are attending strictly to the details of making the club one of the best of the several in the state and in preparation for appearance in the Rose Festival next week will hold a series of fast and snappy drills. With the infusion of the fraternal and the civic spirit into the members there is expected to be little trouble in getting the members to practice and in getting them to report for trips in the future.

The interest created during the Booster day program, when the Fallsarians took an active and important part, and the example afforded by the attendance and the enthusiasm of the Royal Rosarians, will be a great help to the proper upbuilding of the local organization.

A new and very attractive tie was selected by the Fallsarians at an informal meeting on Saturday morning and with the new official hat the uniform is about the best that a like amount of money could possibly buy. This regalia will be worn not only at the Rose Festival, but on several other occasions this summer, including, possibly, the Salem Cherry fair and the proposed moonlight excursion. The details of the excursion will be discussed at a meeting soon.

SPORTSMEN DONATE

Brook Trout to be Distributed in the Waters of County

A petition asking for funds to finance the planting of a shipment of brook trout in the Molalla river and brook trout was circulated this week by some of the well known sportsmen of Oregon City. Those donating were:

FOREIGNERS APPLY

Applications for Citizenship Papers To Be Heard Next Week

Several races and more nationalities are represented in a list of twenty-five Clackamas county residents who have applied to the circuit court for final certificates of citizenship. These foreign persons, many of them having lived in the United States for a great many years, are probably hastened in their progress toward full citizenship by the recent enactment of a statute providing that a resident, in order to vote, must be in possession of final papers of naturalization.

The following applicants will present their claims before Circuit Judge J. U. Campbell on Monday, June 5.

Phillip Bucklein, Seventeenth and Jackson streets; Carl Schandt, 401 S. Sixteenth street; Frank Stankiewicz, 711 John Adams; Alfred Wood But-terfield, Canby; William Wallens, Estacada; Charles Holmes and George Reddaway, Oregon City; Griffith Jones, route 3; Nels Oathes, Canby; Robert Kroner, route 2; James Wil-kinson, 201 Fourteenth street; Edward Alfred Lloyd Hughes, 125 Eighteenth street; Daniel Williams, 1003 Fifth-teenth street; Kasper Zenger, Mu-lino; Max Buse, West Linn; James Brown Paterson, Gladstone; Charles W. Friedrich, Oregon City; Joseph Eberhart, Boring; Frederic Stevens Baker, Gladstone; Andrew Zenger, route 3; Edgar Horner, Estacada; James Smith, Jr., Eagle Creek; August Mantz, Molalla avenue and Eric Hedlund, Fifteenth and Polk streets.

DOUBLY PROVEN

Oregon City Readers Can No Longer Doubt the Evidence

This Oregon City citizen testified long ago.

Told of quick relief—of undoubted benefit.

The facts are now confirmed. Such testimony is complete—the evidence conclusive.

It forms convincing proof of merit.

P. H. Busch, 11 Eleventh St., Oregon City, says: "I suffered from an acute attack of kidney and bladder trouble and got no relief until I used Doan's Kidney Pills. They stopped the trouble after I had taken two boxes and I have had no return of it since." (Statement given March, 1910.)

On April 17, 1916 Mr. Busch added: "I am permanently cured of my former trouble and Doan's Kidney Pills get the credit."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Busch has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.
