WILSONVILLE

Dan Stahunecker is quite ill and is under a Sherwood physician's care. Little Miss Isabelle Hornung has been unable to attend school the last few days, on account of throat trouble.

Miss Unace O. Keef and Miss Maurine Brown gave a surprise party to the teachers of our school Thursday evening. The school children were all invited and a good time was enjoyed.

Miss Scollard went to her home at Woodburn Friday evening, returning Monday noon to her duties as our school principal.

Miss Fisher spent Friday night with Mrs. Rutherford, going to her home in Portland Saturday morning, returning to her duties as primary teacher Monday morning.

The farmers have volunteered work enough to gravel the main road from Wilsonville to Sherwood, except about one mile, making four miles of good road, besides quite a lot on other cross roads. It has been a far greater task than was expected and all were compelled to double their first donations.

Mrs. Charles Myers father has returned to his home in the east after a month's stay with his daughter's family at their beautiful country home.

Mrs. Hornung entertained the W. C. T. U. ladies of this place Thursday. Mrs. Hornung presided and Mrs. George Seely conducted the devotional part. Two songs were sung by a visitor from Oregon City. Mrs. Andrews, also of Oregon City gave a splendid report of the state convention at Pendleton last week. The coming election and the ballot were discussed and many points explained. About 16 ladies attended.

The republican rally at Wilsonville in the A. O. U. W. hall was well attended and Mr. Hughes very much lauded. At the beginning of Mr. Winter's "wonderful" address he said he would answer any questions asked at the close, or, if he could not, Mr. Brownell would. But, alas! Mr. Brownell retired before Mr. Winter's half finished and Mr. Winter himself made a very hasty retreat about 11 o'clock, without at least hinting at his opening remarks.

Miss Mary Anne Brobst, accompanied by Prof. Chapman of Portland, gave a splendid musical recital at Sherwood Friday evening. A crowded house of very appreciative character greeted them.

The Grangers of Sherwood held their annual Grange fair in their hall Saturday, where live stock, vegetables, fruit, flowers, grain, fancy work and cooking were exhibited. Friends and neighbors for miles around came to see and enjoy the old fashioned fair of pumpkins, pigs and chickens. The Middleton and Sherwood schools also competed for a loving cup. This was the final of a three years' tussle to see who are keepers, Sherwood having held the prize two years. The judges awarded the trophy to Middleton finally. Next year they will start anew. Mr. Maris, the state field industrial worker, was there and gave the school children quite a talk on club work.

Mr. and Mrs. William Baker and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Baker have just returned from Pacific City, where they have spent two weeks fishing and hunting. The ladies canned 80 quarts of huckleberries gathered on the trip.

The Corell Creek school had a basket supper and social Saturday evening, and all enjoyed a good square meal in the good old fashioned way. A long table was covered with good things to eat.

LOGAN

The rain was welcome to settle the dust, start the grass and make a start toward soaking the ground for fall plowing. But, of course, most of us were not quite ready for it and would have had dry weather work to do until Christmas.

The rain stopped the gravel hauling on the road but it is hoped there will yet be a chance to finish up. The work should have been commenced sooner, but Kirchheim brothers could not get the grade completed.

E. C. Gerber, road supervisor, and those who were working at the gravel hauling, give some estimates which show that the new rock crushing plant and hauling with trucks is a very economical way of doing the work. They estimate the entire cost of crushing and applying the material, on the Schuttel road, of course, excluding the cost of the plant, at 88 cents per yard and that to do work of the three trucks in the same time would require 18 teams for hauling and two snap teams, which would very nearly double the cost. The trucks cost $250 each per hour, hauled 4 yards per load and made six loads per day on the longest hauls from the pit to the Tracy corners. Three men and two teams, with wheel scrapers, keep the crusher going and gravel, rocks and sand all go through together and drop out of the bunkers in the trucks as first class road material. One man easily spreads after the trucks. Truck hauling is unpopular with some farmers, as they want to work with their teams, but it seems they will lose more out of one pocket than they put in the other.

Mrs. L. E. Robins has gone to Gladstone to live for a time with her niece, Mrs. A. Davey. Jacob Gerber and O. D. Robbins are keeping bachelors' hall and if any women folks want to take lessons in housekeeping a few promising pupils will be placed on the list.

Mrs. Vivian Gerber has gone for a vacation visit with her parents in southern Oregon.

Miss Bernice Gaud spent Sunday afternoon with Miss Florence Kleinsmith.

J. O. Staats was in Portland last Monday on business.

Jack Hooper, the Watkins man, was in Clarkes last week.

Robert Schuebel, our road supervisor, has put up a rock crusher at Ring's. He is going to put some rock on the bad roads near there.

NO REASON FOR IT

When Oregon City Citizens Show the Way

There can be no reason why any reader of this who suffers the tortures of an aching back, the annoyance of urinary disorders, the pains and dangers of kidney ills will fail to heed the words of a neighbor who has found relief. Read what an Oregon City citizen says:

Mrs. Harry Brant, 1004 Ninth St., Oregon City, says: "I had been troubled by my back and kidneys for several years. My back nearly killed me at times, it pained so. I could hardly straighten up when I got down in a stooping position. I also had more or less trouble from my kidneys. I had heard Doan's Kidney Pills recommended so highly that I got a box and found them beneficial."

NEWBERG BRINGS DEFEAT.

Fast Game Precedes Championship Contest With Estacada Saturday

Before a good crowd of school children and townspeople, the Newberg high school team won from the Oregon City high school team at football on Saturday afternoon by a score of 9 to 0. The game was slow and ragged on both sides, but served to make apparent the shortcomings of the home team, which Coach Waggoner will correct this week in preparation for the county championship game against the Estacada high school team next Saturday.

Estacada defeated the Camas, Wash., high school team Saturday in a fast and snappy contest, scoring six points against the visitors. With this record Coach Waggoner figures he will have no easy contest with the Eastern Clackamas representatives.

MRS. DYE SPEAKS.

Popular Writer Has Books Published in Cheaper Edition, Big Demand.

At Portland yesterday Mrs. Eva Emery Dye of Oregon City, famous as the author of stories of the early days of the Oregon country and most popular chronicler of the history of the olden days when the northwest territory was young, appeared before the Coterie club and delivered a highly interesting address on "Pioneers of

OLDER BUT STRONGER

To be healthy at seventy, prepare at forty, is sound advice, because in the strength of middle life we too often forget that neglected colds, or careless treatment of slight aches and pains, simply undermine strength and bring chronic weakness for later years.

To be stronger when older, keep your blood pure and rich and active with the strength-building and blood-nourishing properties of Scott's Emulsion which is a food, a tonic and a medicine to keep your blood rich, alleviate rheumatism and avoid sickness. Today." Mrs. Dye's address created a great interest in club circles and a large audience was out to greet her.

A popular priced edition of Mrs. Dye's works has recently been issued by her publishers, indicating a constant and growing demand for her interesting stories. When publishers undertake the publication of a 50-cent edition it indicates that people are reading the books and that the higher priced editions have enjoyed a heavy sale.

PUPILS TO DEBATE

High School Joins Forensic League With 65 Other Schools.

That the Oregon City high school is to take a keen interest in forensics this year was indicated Friday when 32 pupils reported to John Mason, head of the English department, who will coach the local team in the state debating league. The subject for this year's contests is: "Resolved, that Oregon Should Adopt a Health Insurance Law Embodying the Essential Features of the 'Standard Bill' of the American Association for Labor Legislation." Mr. Mason says that from the many who have reported their interest and ambition to take part in the debates, he will be able to select a team that will put Oregon City high in rank among the 65 schools in the league.

Estacada Wins at Football.

The Estacada football team triumphed over the Camas high school team on the Estacada gridiron Saturday afternoon, winning by a score of six to 0. It is said that the contest was one of the speediest and closest games ever played on the Estacada field. Last year the same teams battled to a 0-to-0 tie. The Estacada stars on Saturday were Wagner, fullback; Savier, right half and Jannsen, left half. Next Saturday the Estacada team meets the Oregon City high school boys in the annual contest for the county championship, and the eastern Clackamas players are keenly anticipating the fray in their practice scrimmages.
