CLARKES

Farmers are enjoying the fine weather. Some are digging potatoes and some are putting in crops while the nice weather lasts.

Mrs. Zella Schiewe and daughter, Arlene, are vsiting Peter Schiewe and family for a short time.

A. F. Buche and Walter Lee are helping W. H. Bottemiller dig his potatoes and they are turning out pretty well.

Miss Dora Marquardt visited H. C. Kleinsmith and family Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Buche visited Mr. Cogar and family Sunday afternoon.

Born—to Mr. and Mrs. Jake Zimmerman of Hillsboro, a daughter on Sunday morning, November 4. Mrs. Zimmerman was formerly Miss Ida Hoag. Miss Emma Grossmiller of Beaver Creek, is visiting her for a short time.

Albert Gasser used Mr. Bottemiller's fanning mill to fan his wheat last week and he intends to sow wheat on Monday.

Rev. Kleinbach, the German M. E. pastor, preached at Logan Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. John Marshall visited the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Marshall, and family, on Sunday.

The Clarkes school is to have a Thanksgiving program and basket social on Saturday evening, November 24.

Miss Ida Zwahlen visited Mrs. Kleinbach Friday.

William Robbins and Henry Nelson were in Oregon City Friday.

Miss Lydia and Linna Bergman visited Miss Emma Cogar Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Jason Clarke from Portland were at Clarkes Thursday.

C. H. Bergman got a load of grain chopped by Eugene Kleinsmith last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Marshall and baby were in Oregon City Friday.

STAFFORD

Most of the potatoes were dug during the pleasant weather of the past week and some have already sold at $1.50 a sack.

Roscoe and Stanley Oldham realized $17 each on a small corner in Mrs. Gage's orchard. They are boys of about 14 and 16 years of age. How is that for a war garden?

Mrs. Nussbaum raised 16 sacks of "Earliest of All" potatoes on a little patch.

Either the printer's devil or your correspondent made a mistake in reporting about Miss Eva Holton instead of Eva Mattoon as reported last week. She had her tonsils and adenoids removed at the Oregon City hospital. She is at home at present and rapidly improving, and on Sunday last rode with her mother to the hospital to call upon a friend, Miss Gladys Bullard, who is still detained there, having had an operation for appendicitis.

We congratulate Jennings Lodge in having won the first prize in the contest. Of course, we all hope to win it next time and feel more confidence, knowing that Jennings Lodge will be out of the runing.

Stafford has been doing her bit for the Red Cross, although belonging to no unit as yet. Since the third Thursday in August when the Ladies' circle meets each month, they have made one dozen nightingales, one dozen bed socks, five dozen handkerchiefs, ten pairs of socks, one pair of wristlets, two sweaters, two mufflers, 45 wash cloths, 35 quilt blocks and have work still on hand. On Thursday the 22nd, they are to meet at Mrs. John DeNui's and cut, fit and make clothes and bedding for a needy widow and her eight little children.

Miss Christina Ellegsen was in Oregon City Monday to take her music lesson and do some shopping.

There will be a meeting of the school board on Saturday evening.

Miss Ronde, who, with her aunt, Mrs. Stark occupies the Aerin house, has been obliged to carry water from Mrs. Gage's as their pump was broken.

Mr. Aerni came from his new home near Logan on Saturday and left the horse he drove, for his son, Ernest, to work while he caught a ride home with the man who gathers cream for the Logan creamery.

Ernest Aerni is plowing up the whole place here and will put it into grain.

We hear that Mrs. Mary Ellegsen was quite ill last week but is reported better at this writing.

A light frost appeared Saturday and Monday night.

Miss Sarah Frobase has been afflicted with a swelling on the palm of her hand. She has been staying with Mrs. Anna Jacobs since her people moved to Portland.

Mrs. Gordon Hayes is still in Oregon City under a doctor's care.

H. E. Hayes, who in years past was a prominent character in local politics, the advancement of the home and Grange work, at one time having been master of the state Grange, is a hopeless invalid at his home here. His mind is almost a blank, but he does not suffer physically, and his cheery, old-time smile welcomes all who come to see him, though he may forget your name the next moment. He is slowly and peacefully traveling the homeward road we all must go and is attended by his only son.

An automobile party turned round near Henry Baker's gate about one o'clock at night on last Sunday and fired two heavy shots. They finally drove back, as the tracks showed next morning, the way they had come. They startled some of the neighbors who remembered the Jennings' murder at Tualatin.

PARKPLACE

We were all much saddened and shocked by Mr. McCormick's sudden death Friday. He was much admired by all who knew him and he and Mrs. McCormick had lived here several years. We extend to Mrs. McCormick and little daughter, Avis, our heartfelt sympathy.

Frances Blake ran a sewing machine needle into her finger. The needle went nearly through and then broke off. She has a very sore finger, as it was necessary to cut the needle out.

The Boy Scouts have their suits now. They look fine and the boys are very proud of their "soldier" garments.

Mrs. Rainey and Mrs. Saunders spent Tuesday with Mrs. Brayton.

The Red Cross meets every second Friday. Everyone should consider it a patriotic duty to work for our boys. The next meeting will be Friday afternoon at the schoolhouse.

The Grange meeting will be here this week on Saturday. Everyone is requested to respond with a current event or something of interest for the Red Cross. We expect to have Mr. Mason of the Oregon City high school to read for us again soon.

Miss Myrtle Nealighie of Gladstone visited at the home of Mrs. Brayton Sunday.

Charlie Smith, who is working in Portland since the strike, decided that he had to get up too tarly mornings, so he is staying in Portland now, coming home week-ends.

Several Parkplace men helped hunt the escaped convicts last week. They "nearly" caught one of them, but somehow he got away.

Speaking of convicts, Mrs. Holmes got the scare of her life last week. There were several people in the store at the time when a negro, black as coal, came into the store asking for bread. He went out and one of the women went to the phone and told Sheriff Wilson that "one of those convicts is here; come quick!" She was still talking when in walked our friend and got some more stuff to eat. The phone rang every minute he was in there. Mrs. Holmes started to answer when in came our black friend again! When he left Mrs. Holmes found that the men had all been caught. So that poor son of the night escaped being arrested. He and his pal "beat it" up the railroad, but Mrs. Holmes was sure she would have fainted if she had been alone.

We are all breathing a little easier now that there are no escaped convicts in or near Parkplace. No, we were not afraid, but we noticed quite a few people preferred to stay home evenings with the doors locked, than to go across the street alone!

Mr. Blau is getting a fence put around his potato patch. He had several people digging potatoes, but they are all taken care of now.

Mrs. H. F. Martin of Los Angeles, Cal., spent last week with her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Hays. She has gone to Eugene to visit her mother.
