BALMER IS GUILTY

Stepfather Convicted of Statutory Charge in Circuit Court

A jury in Circuit Judge J. U. Campbell's court was out just two hours and twelve minutes on Monday in finding a verdict of guilty against John Balmer of Canemah in the case of the State of Oregon vs. Balmer. The charge was a statutory one.

Balmer was accused of ravishing his stepdaughter, Laura Balmer. With his wife and step child Balmer came to Oregon and to Canemah from the east about four years ago. The couple claimed to have been married at Denver, Colo., when they passed through that city, but testimony showed that they went to Vancouver and were married on February 8 of this year.

After Balmer's arrest the stepdaughter was permitted to remain with her mother under the supervision of the district attorney's office, and when Balmer is sent to the penitentiary the 15-year-old girl will remain with her mother.

Mrs. Balmer was the only witness for the defense in the case and George C. Brownell appeared as attorney for Balmer. Neighbors of the family and the little girl herself appeared for the state, represented at the trial by District Attorney Gilbert L. Hedges and Deputy Thomas A. Burke. The penalty for Balmer's crime is a sentence of from 3 to 20 years in the penitentiary. Judge Campbell will pronounce sentence tomorrow morning.

MCMAUGH CASE SETTLED

Agreement for Stipulation Reached By Father and Children

The circuit court room was crowded Saturday with residents of Oswego attending the case of John McMaugh, who filed suit against his children, E. McMaugh and Ida A. McMaugh. The settlement was reached before the evidence in the case was heard.

In 1913 John McMaugh deeded to his children a house and lot in Oswego and a few acres of land near Oswego, with a stipulation in the deed that the children should provide for him and an invalid daughter as long as each lived.

Later Mr. McMaugh became dissatisfied and left his home, and brought suit against the children to satisfy the deed. Before any evidence was introduced Saturday morning the court suggested that it might be well to effect a settlement by allowing John McMaugh to remain away from the home as he has been doing for the last few months, and that the children pay a stipulated sum agreeable to all parties, the defendants claiming that they had offered to do this on numerous occasions.

The case was settled in this manner and John McMaugh will receive $30 each month, and the deed will remain in effect. Joseph E. Hedges appeared for John McMaugh and Dimick & Dimick for the defendants.

Parade To Be Held

A big parade will be a feature of the observance of Flag day by the local lodge of Elks on June 14, according to plans being made by a committee comprising J. C. Sawyer, F. A. Miles, C. C. Babcock, H. A. Verne, and H. W. Streibig. The event will be along similar lines to the preparedness parades being held throughout the country and will be distinctly a patriotic pageant. Invitations will be sent to all lodges in Oregon City and a long line of march is expected.

The parade will form at Sixth and Main streets at half past seven in the evening and will march to Fourteenth on Main and return. After the parade a patriotic program will be held at the Elks club building, where Judge Peter H. D'Arcy of Salem will deliver the principal address.

FAMOUS HORSEBACK RIDERS.

Men Who Won Fame in the Days of the Old Pony Express.

Buffalo Bill Cody, it is believed, holds the record for the longest horseback ride of which there is authentic record. He was one of that gallant band of four-score pony express riders in the sixties. On one occasion young Cody—he didn't become Buffalo Bill until some years afterward—rode without rest for 322 miles.

When the pony express was started for the purpose of carrying mail from St. Joseph, Mo., to Sacramento, Cal., a distance of 1,966 miles, it was planned that each rider should cover seventy-five miles in a day on three different horses.

It was soon found that twenty-five miles was too much for the horses for a regular unbroken gallop, and the distance was reduced to from ten to twelve miles. For that distance every horse was pushed to his limit.

The shortest time in which the entire distance of 1,966 miles was covered by pony express riders was made in March, 1861. They carried Lincoln's inaugural address to the Golden State in seven days and seventeen hours, an average speed of over ten and one-half miles an hour.

A rider named Haslam dashed off 120 miles in 8 hours and 10 minutes. Another pony expressman covered one ten mile stretch in 31 minutes, which is better than most of the Rocky Mountain railroad limited trains can do.

The news that Fort Sumter had been fired upon was flashed from St. Joe to Sacramento in eight days and fourteen hours.

Jim Moore once rode 290 miles at an average speed of eighteen miles per hour. The horses were the best that could be obtained, and, as stated before, they made short runs of from ten to twelve miles.

No wonder that sometimes a letter had $27 worth of stamps upon it when carried under such extraordinary conditions!—Philadelphia Ledger.

TOLD BY THREE FIGURES.

A Sum in Arithmetic That Would Take Many Lifetimes to Work Out.

What is the highest number that can be expressed with only three figures? Such is the question put by the Journal of the Astronomical Society of England. At first glance it would seem that the number was 999. But it is nothing of the sort; 999 is far away too small. What, then, is the number? 99—that is to say, the ninth power of the ninth power of 9.

To ascertain what this number actually is we must refer to a table of logarithms, for it would take several lifetimes to do the multiplication. The number contains 399,693,100 figures. To write it out we should have to fill 23 volumes of 800 pages each, with 14,400 figures to a page, and the number would be greater than that of all the atoms in creation.

Henri Coupin points out in La Nature that there are stars so distant that their light, traveling at 186,320 miles a second, takes a million years to reach the earth. Astronomers have taken this as a unit and called it a "million light year." The number of atoms in a sphere of platinum that had that radius would be 225, followed by 88 zeros. Now, a sphere that contained the number of atoms expressed by the ninth power of the ninth power of 9 would have to have a radius (in million light years) of 1,239, followed by 123,231,000 zeros. And yet this colossal number can be expressed by three figures.

Tame Silk.

There is more silk in the world than the silkworm ever knew. As a matter of fact, much of the "silk" which is worn is merely guncotton in a new dress. It is merely cotton dissolved in a bath of nitric acid, kept water free by the strongest vitriol. The jelly-like result is then forced through very minute tubes, and the fine threads so produced are dropped into water and rendered innocuous by ammonium sulphide. This "tame silk" has a fine luster and has all the flexibility of the worms' work. In fact, so close is the resemblance that it needs an expert to distinguish them.—London Chronicle.

She Liked Gloom.

It is a matter for thankfulness that widows of this generation are more sensible than the dowager Countess of Buchan, who passed away in the year 1786.

On the death of her husband she dressed herself entirely in black crepe, engaged two black servants to wait upon her, ate nothing but black puddings and drank for one whole year nothing but black cherry brandy. Yet she survived this gloomy diet twenty-one years before the grim reaper gathered her in.—T. P.'s London Weekly.

Diplomacy.

"It takes diplomacy to get on with a husband," said the woman who speaks her mind freely.

"I believe it does," replied Miss Cayenne. "As I understand it, diplomacy consists largely in seeming to be deceived whether you are or not."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Why She Took Him.

CANNERY TO START

Plant at Estacada Will Employ About 50 Persons

Estacada will boast its first industrial payroll in the course of the next few weeks, when the small fruits begin to ripen.

Arrangements have been completed by R. C. Deming, one of the leading small fruitgrowers of Clackamas county, for the opening of a modern cannery plant at Estacada, which will give employment to 50 people in the berry season. The initial payroll for this season will run about $6000, according to Mr. Deming, who is completing details regarding equipment of the plant.

For a number of years Estacada has made intermittent efforts to start such a project with co-operative financing, but the plans have never materialized.

The plant will confine its operations this season to the canning of loganberries, raspberries, evergreen berries, blackberries and gooseberries.

Last year Mr. Deming and other fruitgrowers of Clackamas county canned their fruits at the Gresham plant and marketed their product through brokers and wholesalers in the east, under the wholesalers' label. This year, however, all goods from the Estacada cannery will go under the trademark "Demostore Delicious Quality," the "Demostore" trademark being the first syllables of Deming, Estacada and Oregon.

MOLALLA CELEBRATES

Thriving Community Plans Big Program for Fourth

The fourth of July will be the occasion for a big celebration at Molalla this year as the result of a decision reached at a meeting of citizens late last week. There is a possibility that interest may be aroused in part by the presence of a flying machine.

W. A. Beck was elected chairman of the committee to have charge of the celebration and Emerson Reed will act as secretary. Concessions and the grounds will be in charge of Dr. E. R. Todd and Emerson Reed; programs, L. W. Robbins and G. L. Taylor; sports, Fred Park and Leo Shaver; finances, Bert Park and B. Barick. Each of the committees named will select a third member and all will work toward making July fourth the biggest day of the many that have been celebrated by the Molalla people.

JITNEY IS RUNNING

After Being Arrested Man Provides Himself With Permit

George Saunders says he can make money where another man failed. Therefore, George started operating a jitney to the Mountain View district on Saturday, to take the place of the one that gave up the effort last week. Saunders neglected to provide himself with a permit, however, and was hauled before Recorder Loder soon after he made his first run. Mayor Hackett granted a special permit for the car and the driver continued garnering the nickles. Saunders applied to the city council last night for a regular permit. He is operating a smaller car than the one which found the route did not pay.

Cliff Farm House Burns

Sparks from a burning log started a fire at Canby on Tuesday afternoon that caused the total destruction of the "Cliff Farm" house, known as the old Judge Brodie place. The occupant, Chester Brodie, was in Portland at the time of the fire, although two tenants were at home. The loss is not covered by insurance. The Cliff Farm is one of the well-known

A WOMAN'S TORTURE

No ingenuity of barbarism ever devised an agony so intense, so persistent, so long-enduring, so nerve-harrowing as that which is suffered day after day by the woman whose distinctly feminine organism is deranged or diseased. There are three trying times in every woman's life: 1st—when girlhood blossoms into womanhood; 2d—when motherhood is achieved; 3d—the change.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription was devised to make these three periods safe and painless by restoring to vigorous health the organs involved. It soothes, heals, nourishes. It gives nature just the help it needs. It is the only ready-prepared medicine devised by a regularly graduated physician and skilled specialist in the diseases of women.

You know what you are getting with this Prescription of Doctor Pierce's, because it's extracted from native roots by using glycerine—no alcohol or narcotics. The ingredients published on wrapper and free to the world.

For all diseases peculiar to women, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a powerful restorative. For nearly fifty years it has banished from the lives of tens of thousands of women the pain, worry, misery and distress caused by irregularities and diseases of a feminine character. Buy it now, in liquid or tablet form from your druggist or send 50 cents or $1.00 to Doctor Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., for tablets. Write for free book on woman's diseases.

If you will pay the mailing charges, Doctor Pierce will send you his cloth-bound book of over 1,000 pages, newly revised with color plates and illustrations. Send three dimes or stamps to Dr. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., and enclose this notice.

Indiana Man's Experience

Frank Moseley, Moore's Hill, Ind., writes: "I was troubled with almost constant pain in sides and back and attributed it to weakening of my kidneys. I got a package of Foley Kidney Pills. Great relief was apparent after the first doses and in 48 hours all pain left me. 'If you have rheumatism, backache, swollen, aching joints or stiff, painful muscles, why not try Foley Kidney Pills? They stop sleep-disturbing bladder ailments, too.'—Jones' Drug Co.

The Molalla neighborhood is to be credited with enterprise in its interest in establishing a beet sugar factory and planting many acres to beets—if the farmers organize properly and support the factory. Beet sugar factories, and all other kinds that are in their proper place and properly conducted, spell prosperity for Clackamas county.

Tuberculosis is contagious, preventable, curable.
