

STRIKE ON RIVER VESSELS SETTLED; "OPEN SHOP" NOW

MEN GET INCREASE OF FIVE DOL-LARS A MONTH—LOSE UNION RECOGNITION.

75 DECKHANDS NOW OUT OF WORK WILL HAVE TO WAIT FOR BERTH

Employment in Future to Be Given Without Discrimination as to Membership in Unions, But Present Employees Stay.

After being on strike more or less successfully for three months, deckhands on the river steamers Saturday night ended their troubles with the river steamboat men, and called their strike off. The men get an advance of five dollars a month in wages, and in turn agree to recognize and accept the "open shop" principle as far as employment is concerned.

The strike was settled at a meeting between a committee representing the steamboat operators and a committee from the Deckhands' union. According to the agreement reached between the two committees, the men will be taken back to work as opportunities open, and there will be no discrimination against members of the union. The men, for their part, agree not to discriminate in any way against non-union men now employed, and will work with those at present employed in perfect harmony.

Wage Increase Remains.
Wages on the river boats will be $45 a month, with quarters and board. Previous to the strike most of the men received but $40 a month, but on June 1, when the strike was called, the steamboat operators raised the wage to $45, and they have been paying this to non-union men ever since.

Old men will be taken back into service as jobs are open; but non-union men at present employed will not be dismissed to make room for them. There are, it is said, about 75 union men who are at present out of work, and who will have to wait their turn to get back again.

Local Crews Not "It."
This settlement practically has no effect on the crews of the boats of the Willamette Navigation company, operating from Oregon City. This line has been paying the men $45 a month for some time, and had practically no trouble when the strike was called. In general terms the settlement calls for "forgetting bygones and giving any competent men work whenever vacancies exist."

MOUNTAIN SLIDE OF LAST WINTER CAUSE OF PIPELINE BREAK

INTAKE WATCHMAN IS ALMOST THROWN INTO RIVER WHEN VALVE FLIES OFF.

A mountain slide last winter was the cause of the broken blow-off valve on the South Fork pipeline which caused a water famine in Oregon City, West Linn, Willamette and Bolton Friday night, according to Harold A. Rands, chairman of the board of water commissioners and the engineer who built the line, and Fred McCausland, superintendent of the water department, who returned to Oregon City from the intake Saturday.

Mr. Rands and Mr. McCausland left Oregon City for the intake at 7 o'clock Friday night in an automobile. It was necessary for them to walk four miles over a dark mountain trail, carrying tools on their backs, to reach the place where the break occurred. The break was soon repaired and by midnight Saturday a steady stream of water was flowing into the reservoir.

Last winter a miniature slide covered a blow-off valve in the canyon of the upper Clackamas river over 20 miles from here. Watchman Morris Friday attempted to take the rocks from the valve when the valve suddenly flew off, almost knocking him into the Clackamas. The valve was four inches in diameter and the water shot up in the air many feet. It is thought that the weight of the rocks on the valve prevented it from flying off before, as it was broken by the slide months ago.

HUGHES TO BE FILM STAR.

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—Charles E. Hughes will play the leading role in a campaign "movie" play with Colonel Roosevelt and William R. Wilcox, national campaign manager, both cast for star parts, according to the plan of the republican campaign committee announced yesterday.

George Zinslerling has moved to Oregon City, where a job awaits him at his old trade of building.

AUTO DASHES DOWN SINGER HILL; 3 HURT

J. M. POORMAN ENDS WILD RIDE
AT FOOT OF TREE—CAR
BADLY DAMAGED.

Three girls were slightly injured Sunday when an automobile driven by J. M. Poorman, a Woodburn banker, got out of his control, dashed down Singer Hill and stopped at the foot of a tree. Two girls in the car and its driver escaped unhurt. The party left Oregon City before the names of the girls could be learned.

Mr. Poorman and the party were on their way to the Columbia river highway. An armful of kindling wood on the floor of the car in front of the driver's seat, became tangled with the foot break and Mr. Poorman reached down to get the kindling out of the way. The car got out of his control and ran at a high rate of speed down the grade to the foot of the hill. The car was badly damaged.

CONGRESS ASKS FOR A WEEK TO ENACT NEW LAWS

PRESIDENT WILSON MAY MAKE APPEAL TO EMPLOYEES
AS LAST EFFORT.

LITTLE PROGRESS IS MADE BUT OFFICIALS STILL ARE HOPEFUL

Confidence Prevails at Capital That in Some Way Strike Will Be Averted—Legislation Now Being Considered.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—All the influence of the administration was brought to bear today in an effort to persuade the railroad brotherhood leaders to cancel or postpone the order calling for a nationwide strike Monday, while leaders in congress began paying the way for legislation designed to prevent or stop the threatened industrial catastrophe.

Little progress was made in either direction, but nevertheless in official quarters tonight there still prevailed confidence that in one way or another the walkout would be averted. To the spokesmen of President Wilson who approved them, all of the brotherhood officials gave the same reply: that they had no power to recall the strike order and that only one thing, "a satisfactory settlement," could keep their men at work after 7 a. m. Labor Day.

Further pressure will be brought to bear, and as a last resort the president is considering a public appeal to the men themselves to have the order rescinded. Apparently the legislation which is being counted upon to stay the brotherhoods is that part of the president's program which would fix an eight-hour day for railroad employees engaged in operating trains in interstate commerce and provide for an investigation of its effects by a commission or board.

REPUBLICANS NOMINATE COOVERT FOR SENATE

MULTNOMAH COUNTY DELEGA-TION DOMINATES MEETING AND NAMES OWN MAN.

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 29.—(Special)—E. E. Coovert, a Portland attorney, was tonight given the endorsement of the Republican county central committee of Multnomah, Clackamas and Columbia counties for joint senator at a joint meeting of the committees in the Central library.

By sheer force of members, the members of the Multnomah county committee dominated the meeting, and after giving Mr. Coovert the endorsement of that committee by an overwhelming majority, the Portland man was endorsed by representatives of the three committees without a dissenting vote. George E. Swafford, of Oregon City, was secretary of the joint committee. Columbia county committee, with the exception of one member who was made chairman of the meeting, absented themselves, and there were only 10 members of the Clackamas committee who responded to the call. H. A. Lewis, of Russellville, was nominated in the Multnomah county caucus, but he received only 14 votes, while 258 were cast for Coovert, including about 100 proxies.

It is understood that Lewis will stay in the race. He is a farmer and is president of the Multnomah County Fair Association. An effort will be made, through mandamus proceedings, to compel the secretary of state to place Mr. Coovert's name on the general election ballot as the Republican candidate. Dr. H. M. Patton is also a candidate for the position, which was made vacant by the resignation of George M. McBride, who is running as an independent candidate for county judge of Multnomah county.

CAUSE OF EFFORT MADE TO

OSWEGO PLANT'S ATTORNEY SAYS OUTPUT IS HELD TO ONE-SIXTH

Aman Moore Brings Action Against Several Individuals and 14 Corporations Under Sherman and Clayton Laws.

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 28.—Suit for $1,500,000 against an alleged cement combine seeking absolute control of the ruin of the Oregon Portland Cement company, of Oswego, was filed in the federal court today by Aman Moore, largest individual stockholder, vice-president and treasurer, in the name of the company.

"According to the normal consumption of cement in the coast states, the difference between what consumers pay and what would be a reasonable price, amounts to $1,200,000 a year," asserted Coy Burnett, who with Attorney Logan and Smith, is filing the action for the Oswego company. "Because Aman Moore is opposed to his company excavating from the public this excess charge, this suit is made necessary."

"In addition to the public question, the direct result of the trust arrangement is that Oregon Portland Cement company is allowed to sell only in a part of Oregon, and even in that territory it is required to divide with four California companies, thus rendering it impossible to sell more than one-sixth the capacity of the company."

A tale of high finance reading like lurid fiction is set forth in the pages of the complaint, which portrays a purported deliberate effort to throttle an industry which is not amenable to the demands of a trust. Mismanagement and shortage will result in the closing down of the Oswego plant Friday, it is charged, for at least two months, possibly indefinitely.

For damages to the plant, all alleged to be a part of a widespread conspiracy, bail of $1,500,000 is sought, and the instruments by which the suing litigants hope to gain their demand are the Sherman and Clayton anti-trust acts. Under the terms of these laws damages treble the actual loss of $500,000 to the company are demanded.

Several individual and 14 corporations are named as defendants.

WOMAN HAS WARRANT ISSUED FOR HUSBAND THEN CHANGES MIND

MRS. ZOA COLLEN OF OAK GROVE
NOW DOESN'T WANT HUSBY
PUT IN JAIL.

Mrs. Zoa Cullen, of Oak Grove, realizes that a woman has the right to change her mind and she also believes in using that privilege.

Tuesday night she called Sheriff Wilson by telephone and asked for protection from her husband, who, she said, was beating her. The sheriff put his Oak Grove deputy on the case, and Wednesday evening Mrs. Cullen came to Oregon City and swore to a complaint charging Edward Cullen, her husband, with assault.

Cullen works for a telephone company and was in Portland. Constable Frost got in touch with the Multnomah county sheriff's office and men were sent out to find Cullen. Early Wednesday evening Mrs. Cullen telephoned the sheriff again. She didn't want her husband arrested, she declared, and if he was put in jail on her own complaint she did not intend to appear as a witness against him.

She says she intends to bring an action for a divorce.

WEST LINN WINS LOWER FARE FROM RAILROAD

SOUTHERN PACIFIC OFFICIALS PROMISE IMPROVEMENT IN WEST SIDE SERVICE.

Officials of the Southern Pacific promised the West Linn council Wednesday night a 5-cent fare to any point on the Willamette falls line and other changes in operation. The promise comes after the council of the town across the river threatened to pass ordinances forcing the road to live up to these conditions.

The 5-cent fare is considered the reasonable promised concession. In the past the road has charged 5 cents from the central station at the west end of the suspension bridge to either Willamette or Bolton but 10 cents was charged for the ride from one end of the line to the other, although both Willamette and Bolton are in the city limits.

The trains in the future, the officials promised, will run slowly at all crossings and lights will be put up along the right of way. The company is not anxious to put up warning bells at crossings, and the officials Wednesday night promised more care in operating trains in the future.

The Wier boys of Monument, N. M., are coming back for the steer roping and they expect to make faster time this year than last. Every event will have many old favorites in it and many new ones.

SUICIDE THEORY IS ACCEPTED IN GLOCKNER CASE

MORPHINE IS SHOWN FROM CHEM-ICAL ANALYSIS, BUT NO OTHER DRUG.

MRS. ZABRISKIE GIVES SHERIFF REVOLVER AS FAREWELL TOKEN

Woman Who Played Important Part in Case Selects Oregon City as Her Home After Brief Stay in the County Seat.

Mrs. Maude Zabriskie, who was held since Sunday night by Sheriff Wilson and Coroner Sievers as a material witness in the probe of the mysterious death of Fred Glockner, prosperous Sandy merchant, was released Tuesday. She likes Oregon City so well after her brief and enforced residence that she said she intended to stay here.

As a farewell token Mrs. Zabriskie gave Sheriff Wilson the 25 calibre automatic revolver which Glockner gave her two weeks before his almost lifeless body was found on the bluff Road near Sandy a week ago. The revolver looked like new and with it, the gift included the neat leather case and an unopened box of 50 shells.

Local authorities are convinced that Mrs. Zabriskie was not directly responsible for Glockner's death, although they believe that she has played—probably unintentionally—the role of the vampire in as interesting a series of circumstances as was ever portrayed on the moving picture screen. With the results of the chemical tests of the stomach of Glockner made known Tuesday, the puzzling aspects of the case are rapidly being cleared up.

The chemical tests showed a trace of morphine, the poison which R. E. Essen, the Sandy druggist, says was taken from the shelves of his store and which Glockner is believed to have stolen while the druggist was out on an errand. The mysterious holes in the walls of the stomach, which attracted so much attention at the post mortem examination early Sunday morning, might have been caused by any of a number of things, say local officials.

The chemical analysis failed to reveal a trace of any poison or drug other than morphine. Even the morphine was almost all gone and a trace was found only with difficulty, owing to the fact that a stomach pump was so freely used at Sandy soon after Glockner was found on the roadside.

No inquest will be held, although Acting Coroner Sievers swore in a jury Monday night at Sandy and the jury men viewed the body. All here are satisfied that Glockner ended his own life.

Mr. Glockner was laid to his last rest at Sandy Tuesday. The simple services at the Glockner home drew half of the town and many from the surrounding country, for he was well known and well liked.

Old Folks Saved From Suffering

Mrs. Mary A. Dean, Taunton, Mass., is 87 years old. "I thought I was beyond the reach of medicine, but Foley Kidney Pills have proven most beneficial in my case."

Mr. Sam A. Hoover, High Point, N. C., writes: "My kidney trouble was worse at night and I had to get up from five to seven times. Now I do not have to get up at night, and consider myself in a truly normal condition, which I attribute to Foley Kidney Pills, as I have taken nothing else."

Mrs. M. A. Bridges, Robinson, Mass., writes: "I suffered from kidney ailments for two years. I commenced taking Foley Kidney Pills ten months ago, and though I am 61 years of age, I feel like a 16-year-old girl."

Foley Kidney Pills are tonic, strengthening and up-building, and restore normal action to the kidneys and to a disordered and painful bladder. They act quickly and contain no dangerous or harmful drugs.

RAILROAD STRIKE CRISIS MAY TURN ON LEGISLATION

CONGRESS IS CALLED UPON TO AVERT TRAFFIC TIEUP—NE-GOTIATIONS BROKEN OFF.

PRESIDENT WILSON STILL IS HOPEFUL OF FINAL SUCCESS

Brotherhood is Not Agreed as to Whether Enactment Can Change
Outcome—Men Prepare to Oppose Wilson's Program.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—President Wilson, laying the railway strike situation before congress today with recommendations for legislation advanced the crisis to a stage where the next developments depend upon two points. They are:

Whether the legislation he proposes can be passed.

If enacted, will it be effective to prevent a strike already called for 7 a. m. September 1?

The brotherhoods, announcing their intention to fight certain portions of the president's program, are at loggerheads over whether its enactment would prevent the strike.

The railway presidents favorable to President Wilson's plan in the main, think it would make it difficult for the strike to begin.

Meanwhile, although negotiations between the employers and men were broken off today by the rejection of the railway presidents' latest proposal for arbitration, President Wilson is continuing his efforts to bring the two sides together on some form of agreement. Efforts which might be described as "almost superhuman" are being exerted to that end tonight.

President Wilson expressed tonight his earnest hope that the brotherhood would yield to his request that pending action by congress they rescind their strike order. He asked the leaders to do so at their conference last night, but they declined, saying they had not the power. President Wilson takes the position that in view of his recommendations to congress, the brotherhoods have nothing to gain and much to lose if they carry out their strike order, because he believes under such circumstances public opinion will stand against them.

L. L. PORTER RETURNS FROM CHICAGO WHERE HE UNDERWENT OPERATION

WEST LINN RECORDER MUCH IM-PROVED—EFFECT OF HEAT WAVE DESCRIBED.

A vivid story of the suffering resulting from the heat wave through the middle west has been brought back to Oregon City by L. L. Porter, who returned recently after five weeks in the Illinois city.

Mr. Porter declares that a temperature of 75 degrees in Chicago is equivalent to 90 degrees here. The mercury does not fall to any great extent during the night. One day, for instance, the thermometer registered 96 degrees in the heat of the day, and at midnight was at 88. Hundreds died from the heat during Mr. Porter's stay in Chicago.

Traffic in the city was tied up by the heat. Thousands of horses were killed. One ice company lost all but four of its horses because of the extreme weather. Many laborers were laid off during the hot spell and many stores and offices were closed.

Mr. Porter found business throughout the middle west prosperous. Factories of all kinds are running and every able bodied man who wants a job can easily find one and usually at unusually good wages.

The political situation in the district visited, Mr. Porter finds uncertain. Most of the large middle western states are in the doubtful column, he believes after reading both Republican and Democratic newspapers.

Mr. Porter went to Chicago to receive treatment and to undergo an operation on his knee, injured six years ago by a fall from the sidewalk. He returns much improved. Mr. Porter underwent the operation at the Presbyterian hospital and Dr. Arthur Dean Bevan performed the operation.

Mr. Porter is City Recorder of West Linn.

Pay Day Comes To Cheer State Troops

IMPERIAL BEACH, Cal., Aug. 22.—(Special).—The long waited for day arrived at last and somewhat transformed the camp of the Third Oregon Infantry today. Pay day has come and gone. This morning, just before sunrise, the regimental band ushered in the new day—a day that was welcomed by each soldier on the border. Between the hours of 10 a. m. and 2 p. m. exactly $62,000 was distributed in the Oregon camp. Each man answered when his name was called and presented himself before the paymaster. The privates received $21, the corporals $29, and the sergeants from $35 on up as they ranked.

After the pay had been given out the camp took on a business appearance. Almost every man had business with the other fellow. Collecting seemed to be every other man's business. Bill collected of Pete in order to pay Jack. Pete collected of Jack so that he could pay Bill—and so it went all day long. Small change was scarce. Everyone wanted a jingle.

One noticeable feature of the day was the fact that the Oregon boys did not fall for the cheap peddlers that hung around camp throughout the entire day. Everyone seemed to have something to sell. Every article imaginable that a traveling peddler is likely to carry was offered for sale. The boys gave them a consideration, of course, but if the article was not worth the money they soon expressed their opinion to that effect. Some peddlers, however, left before the day was over, somewhat disgruntled.

Chaplain Gilbert was on the job, however, as he had promised, with plenty of Well-Fargo money orders with which to send money home. About fifty per cent of the $62,000 went back to Oregon. Some sent the money to their families, others to their mothers. Some sent part of their pay to their home bank to increase their account.

Tonight the camp is quiet. No one is disorderly. Some have gone to San Diego, others to the beach. It is but two weeks until the next pay day. On account of the delay this time it brings two pay days within but a few days of each other. From now on pay will come regular, and that feeling that comes over a man when he is broke will not cause so much embarrassment as it did this time. Pockets that have not had a rattle, save a horseshoe nail or two and a Springfield cartridge, can now send forth the clank of money. Everyone feels better than usual and is mighty glad that Uncle Hamme at last kicked through.

Company G of Oregon City, was one of the last companies paid. During the time they had to wait before their turn came they grew somewhat restless. Watching the other fellow count out his money when you are waiting in a pay line is enough to make one grow restless at any stage of the game, especially when pay days are so far between.

Edward Ely, a private of Company G, left for Oregon City yesterday. He is returning to his family, being discharged through the regular military channels.

Others who are waiting to go are Quartermaster Sergeant Spague, Private O. L. Smith and Corporal C. Roll. Their discharges are expected in due time, for they have applied for them on the strength of the married men's clause, their families needing them at home.

Private Lamers, who is still at the Fort Rosecrans hospital suffering from two broken ribs, resulting from a wrestling match, is reported doing nicely. He expects to be back in the service soon.

Sergeant Miller has been in San Francisco at a hospital there for two weeks. He is to undergo an operation for adenoids.

Private Amacher is also at Fort Rosecrans where he will have his knee operation. The doctors say the joint is full of water, but the operation will not be serious, and the patient is expected to return to his company in a short time.

No sickness in G company has been reported to the hospital. Everyone seems to be faring nicely, and the boys are not in the least uncomfortable.
