

Victrola

Victrola XIV—$150
is shown here

A living source of pleasure for everybody every day

The variety of the Victrola's music is as wide as the world. The supremacy of its artists is unquestioned by the world. The purity and perfection of its tone have made it the finest musical instrument in all the world.

The Victrola is the most accomplished entertainer ever designed by man—whether for your guests, for your family, or for you alone. Considering the fact that we are prepared at a moment's notice to put this wonderful instrument in your home practically on your own terms, shouldn't you stop in and see us today about getting a Victrola now?

Victrolas and Victrolas, $10 to $400.

Huntley Drug Co.
Exclusive Victor Agents

RECITAL GIVEN

Miss Florence Grace Presents Pupils
in Piano Recital

The Junior pupils of the piano class of Miss Florence Grace gave a pleasing piano recital Saturday evening, March 3, in the parlors of the Presbyterian church to an appreciative audience of friends and relatives.

The programme ranged from simple Streabogg and Burgmuller numbers to more difficult selections of Chopin and Paderewski. Ronald Peters of Gladstone, who is just 13 years of age, won applause with his rendition of "Il Trovatore," by Verdi-Dorn, which he played with success before the Woman's club recently. Miss Virginia Ingram played "Valse," Opus 64 No. 1, by Chopin, displaying good technique and expression.

Little Maxine Robey and Kathryn Grady, who began their musical studies less than three months ago, played their little numbers with great care and revealed future possibilities.

Other pupils whose numbers were enjoyed were: Opal Stevenson, Irene Haverstick, Lennie Ott, Ivah Ingram, Doris Reddick and Dorothy Taylor and Hazel Ballinger of Portland.

Miss Maxine Telford, a talented pupil of Gustave Flechtner, added greatly to the pleasure of the evening with violin numbers. They were: "Concert Etude," by Dancala, and "Humoresque," by Dvorak.

SPRING COMPANY LOSES

G. O. Jefferson Gets Judgment Involving
Water Rights for Milwaukie

A group of prominent Portland men, represented by the Minthorn Springs company, are involved in the suit which was settled in Judge Campbell's court on Saturday. The Minthorn Springs company, defunct, loses Milwaukie water rights by the judgment issued and the Portland men must pay the amount of the judgment to G. O. Jefferson, who brought the suit.

The Portland men involved and who must pay $500 each to satisfy the judgment are B. Lee Paget, Charles B. Moores, E. C. Giltner, E. W. Barnes, Oliver G. Walker and John H. Gibson. Mr. Jefferson, through this action, foreclosed a mortgage protecting loans made to the springs company.

Among the property owned by the company which is to be sold is the equipment of the water pumping station at Milwaukie and the water franchise for part of the city, as well as lots in Minthorn's addition to Portland.

COUNTY IS SUED

Would Annul Road Tax for 1916 in Road District 49

P. E. Linn, the Union Lumber company and several other timber concerns are responsible for the suit filed here Saturday against Clackamas county and Sheriff W. J. Wilson, which has as its object the annulment of the 1916 road tax in district 49. Mr. Linn and his colleagues, who are owners of extensive timber properties within the district, charge that the taxpayers voted a special 10-mill road levy in the district and that such assessment was the province of the county court. On that ground they base their complaint. Some 1200 acres of timber are represented by the complaining parties.

Rock Crushers Put In

A new crusher and roller has been erected near Canby and is to be operated this summer under the direction of District Road Supervisor George Koehler. Another crusher has been moved to the Baker's bridge district and is in charge of Supervisor E. C. Gerber. The two plants will figure prominently in the county's good road program for the coming season.

Want Title Quiet

Louise, Elmer A. and Fred C. Armstrong on Saturday brought suit in the circuit court here against Bessie E., Mayme L. and Donald C. Bauer to quiet titles to their interests in property in the A. E. Gribble donation land claim. Louise Armstrong is a tenant on the property and Elmer and Fred each claim an undivided one-third interest in half of the property.

That seal, with all it means to the public, might well be put on every bottle that contains

PERUNA

No other remedy ever offered the American people has more friends after two generations of success; no other remedy is more generally used in the homes of the people; no other has been so enthusiastically endorsed by the thousands.

The reason is found in real merit. For coughs, colds, catarrh, whether local or systemic, and general debility following any of the above Peruna will be found effective, reliable and safe. For irregular appetite, impaired digestion and run-down system it is an invaluable tonic.

Peruna may be obtained in tablet form for convenience. The Peruna Company, Columbus, Ohio

COUNTY AND CITY LOCALS

Go to G. F. Anderson's barber shop—best tonsorial work.

The Rev. E. E. Gilbert, Mrs. Gilbert, their daughter and young son, arrived in Oregon City yesterday from LeMars, Iowa. Mr. Gilbert exchanged pulpits with the Rev. J. K. Hawkins, who left for LeMars last week. Mr. Gilbert will preach his first sermon at the M. E. church in this city on Sunday morning. He and his family were greeted at the train yesterday by a delegation of churchmen led by Roy B. Cox, superintendent of the Sunday school, and Harold Swafford.

Optometry means eye service. Ronald Esson, Sandy druggist and M. A. Deaton, cashier of the Sandy bank, were in Oregon City this week.

Miss Celia Goldsmith has returned from San Francisco, where she has been for some time as a guest of her sister while inspecting millinery displays.

Judge Thomas F. Ryan of Salem, president of the Bank of Commerce, was in Oregon City late last week transacting business in connection with the banking house.

Fred Moser, Sherwood farmer, was an Oregon City visitor late last week.

F. C. Mortenson of Molalla was a county seat visitor on Friday of last week.

Go to G. F. Anderson's barber shop—best tonsorial work.

F. M. Byerlee of Oswego, editor of the Times there, was a guest at the Live Wire luncheon on Tuesday.

A. Longley has sold his home at Fourteenth and Jackson streets to J. Bailey and has departed for the east, where he will doubtless make his home from now on.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Heiple of Estacada entertained themselves late last week by visiting Oregon City in company with Mrs. Mary Heiple, mother of Mr. Heiple.

Mrs. D. McHenry and her son, Roy, of Salem were guests in Oregon City last week of Mrs. H. J. Harding and also of Mrs. J. L. Pace. They returned to Salem Friday evening.

Ivan Owenby is at home with his mother, Mrs. S. J. Owenby, after spending some time at La Grande in Union county.

Neal & McClatchie Jewelry store is five doors west of elevator.

The Rev. T. B. Ford, superintendent of the Salem district of the Methodist Episcopal church, occupied his former pulpit at the local M. E. church on Sunday morning. Dr. Ford was pastor here before his appointment as district superintendent.

Earle C. Latourette was in Dallas, county seat of Polk county, transacting legal business on Friday of last week.

Mrs. E. L. Baldwin of Seattle is a guest at the home of her mother, Mrs. Mary VanDong. She is also enjoying a visit with her sister, Mrs. Kate Harrington.

Neal & McClatchie make a specialty of repairing watches, clocks or anything pertaining to the jewelry business.

Call and see our spring hats. No advance in prices. Schumacher and Linton.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Wilson, Jr., enjoyed a visit from the latter's mother, Mrs. C. E. Spence of Beaver Creek, over the week-end.

Mrs. D. E. Jenkins and her son, E. D. Jenkins, have gone to Osage, Kan., to make their home. Mrs. Jenkins has leased her property at Mount Pleasant to Perry Mayes of Baker, Ore.

Optometry means eye service.

Robert Dungey has returned to his homestead in Grant county, Wash., after spending several weeks at his former home in this city visiting his mother, Mrs. J. Dungey and other members of the family.

Dr. W. A. Spalding, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Pullman, Wash., spent the week-end in Oregon City as a guest of his daughter, Mrs. J. C. Cochran, and Mr. Cochran. On Sunday morning Dr. Spalding presided in the pulpit of the Presbyterian church, relieving the Rev. J. R. Landsborough. Dr. Spalding returned to his home on Monday evening.

George Harrington, brother to County Clerk Iva Harrington, and formerly deputy sheriff in charge of tax collections in this county, was a week-end guest at the home of his mother and sister at Gladstone. Mr. Harrington is employed now as a representative of a powder company and makes his headquarters at Eugene.

John Bassett, well known Estacada resident, was in Oregon City on Monday.

Go to G. F. Anderson's barber shop—best tonsorial work.

T. C. Bates of Riddle, Ore., spent Monday transacting business and visiting friends in Oregon City.

P. Paulson of Lents spent Monday in this city, where he has friends.

J. S. Siedell of Warrenton was a business visitor in this city this week.

G. R. Helton, formerly a hotel man of Chehalis, Wash., was in this city this week ostensibly to look over the hotel situation. Mr. Helton said Monday that he would not locate in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Friedrich enjoyed a visit from Dr. and Mrs. F. F. J. Friedrich, the former their son, this week. The doctor and his family live at Astoria.

Judge J. R. Kelso, justice of the peace at Milwaukie, was a county seat business visitor on Tuesday.

A. Schaffer of Mount Angel was in this city Tuesday attending to business matters and shaking hands with friends.

A. J. Burns of Drain, Douglas county, was a guest of friends in Oregon City Tuesday.

Frank Schweitzer of Estacada was a county seat business visitor on Tuesday.

M. H. Shelton of Ashland was here on Tuesday to spend the day with friends before going to Portland for a visit.

Otto Aschoff, proprietor of the

They are here--

The Miller-Obst Special Suits $15

All Wool Fabrics in Fast Color Blue
Serges, Fancy Cassimeres and Tweeds

Made by the Famous

A. B. Kirschbaum Co.

The Only All-wool Home

Come and see the new spring models in Pinch-back, Box-back, English and Conservative styles.

You will be surprised at the beautiful patterns and cloths. Every suit has our guarantee of complete satisfaction.

MILLER-OBST

Suspension Bridge Corner

Oregon City, Oregon

Copyright 1916
A. B. Kirschbaum Co.

President Wilson's Second Inauguration Ceremony Attracts Attention of World

Pennsylvania avenue, Washington, D. C., was a mass of humanity on Monday—a loyal multitude paying a tribute of respect to President Woodrow Wilson upon his second inauguration as head of the government of the United States of America. President Wilson and Vice-President Thomas R. Marshall took the second oath of office—making history for the democratic party—at noon, after a long parade and ceremony.

The president took the oath standing bareheaded, Mrs. Wilson standing a few feet away. He shook hands immediately with the chief justice and with the vice-president. He lifted his hat to the crowd, and began at once to deliver his address, while the crowd leaned forward, but the high wind made it impossible for those more than a few feet away to hear, and many of them began to leave.

Even the crowds on the nearby stands could hear nothing and many of them, chilled by the cold wind and uncomfortable wet benches, went away.

The wind died down slightly when the president was half through and his words became audible to those on the platform and in the front ranks of the crowd. Many took off their hats and listened intently. The president took off his hat at the first cheers, but the wind was so cold he soon put it on again.

The president concluded his address at 1:04 and prolonged cheering followed. Immediately the space in front of the stand was cleared to make way for the president's carriage. The surging crowd was pushed back and at the conclusion of his address the president led the inaugural procession back to the White house, where it passed in review before him.

President Wilson is regarded as the most methodical, systematic, time-saving chief executive within the memories of some of Washington's oldest residents.

From the very first of his administration, the Mexican difficulties and the European war have added immeasurably to the duties of the president, but he has managed to maintain a strict schedule for his working hours; he never has been known through personal fault to be late with an engagement and has religiously conserved his time.

A White house caller, booked for a five-minute interview with many a president, often got an hour. If one arranges a five-minute interview with Mr. Wilson, one gets exactly five minutes—no more—and the way is cleared for the next caller.

Many word pictures of the president at work and at play have been written, but those closest to him say that his every-day life is a natural one for a man who never has been wealthy and has grown up in an atmosphere of regularity and natural living.

Mr. Wilson does many things personally that could easily be done for him by others. Frequently he walks from the executive offices to the White house to get a book or letter when he could more easily press a button and have some one bring it to him. He has never allowed precedent to interfere with the course he thought the most direct.

The time the president's working day begins depends upon the season of the year. Ordinarily, in winter he gets up between 7 and 7:30, but in summer he usually arises earlier—sometimes 5 or 5:30. He believes in daylight saving whenever possible.

When he first came to the White house he attended to most of his official work in the morning, and played golf in the afternoon, but this winter he reversed his program, and played golf in the warm morning hours and worked in the afternoon. He goes golfing either with Mrs. Wilson or Dr. Grayson soon after breakfast, and works on his mail from noon to 1 o'clock. In the afternoon he sees callers and signs official papers, except on Tuesdays and Fridays, when the cabinet meets. Ordinarily an hour on Monday, Wednesday and Thursday afternoons is set aside for the reception of members of congress.

After dinner, generally about 7 o'clock, the president does no work unless it is absolutely necessary. He either reads, plays billiards or goes to a theater. Detective stories, poems and autobiographies are his favorite literature. It is more or less of an open secret that his preference is for thrilling old time detective stories. Often he gathers his family about him and reads poems. Frequently he steals away to a gallery to view some paintings.

The president, now 60 years old, is very healthy, and his only weaknesses are of the stomach and eyes. Because of attacks of indigestion he is more or less on a diet most of the time, but is as regular in his meals as in all his other habits.

Society has no charms for Mr. Wilson and for society with a capital "S" he has a positive aversion. On more than one occasion his failure to hide his feelings has been noticeable. He avoids all social functions whenever possible.

As a breaker of precedents Mr. Wilson set official Washington aghast even before he came into office by announcing that he did not desire the usual inaugural ball. He followed that by declining membership in some so-called exclusive clubs which always had claimed the membership of presidents.

When he began the custom of delivering his address to congress in person he revived a custom which had died with Washington and Adams. No president since Jefferson had addressed the congress personally and no other president since Madison had addressed the senate separately on foreign affairs as President Wilson did on his celebrated peace note. His fondness for directness of action has led to the shattering of many other precedents.

Oftentimes when he wants to confer with a cabinet officer quickly he walks to his office. He goes to the bank in person to deposit his salary, and when he needs something goes shopping like any one else. If he wishes to confer with a senator, and the senator is spending a quiet evening at home, the president goes to the senator's house. Precedent always has decreed that the senator must come at the call of the president.

Marmot tavern in the Mount Hood country, was in Oregon City on Tuesday. When Mr. Aschoff comes to town he entertains his friends by his clever work with the scissors and cuts from scraps of paper the most perfect pictures in such small sizes that they can just be made out.

D. F. Ridgeway of Canby was a county seat visitor Tuesday.

Courier and Daily Journal—$4.75.

OUR CLOSING OUT SALE

of all our Hardware, Tools, Crockery, Granitware, Jewelry and Platedware is proving an immense success.

Purchasers are saving from 25 to 50 per cent, and they are certainly showing their appreciation by their liberal purchases.

While we will continue in the Grocery and Produce business, we are, during this great sale, making special discount on groceries.

BEST BERRY SUGAR, - - - - - $7.80
DRY GRANULATED SUGAR, - - - - - $7.60
BEST HARD WHEAT FLOUR, - - - - - $8.20
CORVALLIS FLOUR, - - - - - $7.50

If you want to save money on your spring and summer supplies, now is the time to do so, these prices will only be on a few days longer.

DON'T DELAY

LARSEN & CO.

Cor. 10th and Main Sts.

Oregon City, Oregon

REV. GILBERT ARRIVES

New M. E. Pastor Will be Introduced to Congregation on Sunday

Rev. and Mrs. E. E. Gilbert, with their daughter and young son, arrived in Oregon City Wednesday morning, and Mr. Gilbert will immediately take up the work of the Rev. J. K. Hawkins, who exchanged pulpits with Mr. Gilbert and has gone to Lemars, Iowa. Rev. Mr. Gilbert and family were met at the station by a group of Methodist Episcopal churchmen led by Roy B. Cox, superintendent of the Sunday school, and Harold Swafford. They will take up their residence in the M. E. parsonage and Mr. Gilbert will preach his first sermon on Sunday.

morning after being introduced by Dr. T. B. Ford of Salem.

Mr. Gilbert is a native of Ontario, Canada, where he was born in 1869. He has spent most of his life in Iowa, and was educated at Cornell university. For 22 years he has been in the northwest Iowa conference of his church. His last charge, where he remained more than five years, was Lamars, Iowa, the pulpit he exchanged for the one here. Mrs. Gilbert is a native of Iowa and was educated at the Cedar Falls Normal school in that state. Miss Gilbert has just completed a course of study at Morningside college to come to Oregon City with her parents.

Courier and Daily Journal—$4.75.

The Story of the

Kodak

THE friendships of school days, the very atmosphere of the home, every phase of life that makes for companionship—in all of these is an intimate picture story—a story that glows with human interest, grows in value with every passing year.

Let the Kodak keep the story for you

Burmeister & Andresen

Oregon City Jewelers

Suspension Bridge Corner

It Is Worth Much

To Know Whether You Need
Glasses or Not

We Can Tell You

Prudden
OPTOMETRIST

612 MAIN STREET

OREGON CITY, ORE.