The legislative session is over, and all the big talk of commission combinations and other far-reaching economies does not seem to have materialized in anything very useful. The tax limitation law of we the people seems to have been the only thing that held down expenditures, some Portland papers to the contrary notwithstanding.

MULINO

Fire destroyed the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Howes last Wednesday afternoon. It is supposed to have started from a defective fuse about 1:30 p. m. Our entire community sympathizes with these elderly people in their misfortune, as they lost almost all of their papers, clothes and furniture. Mr. Howes is a partial invalid, suffering from a slight stroke of paralysis. The ladies' club of Mulino met and started sewing to provide clothes, bedding, etc., for them.

The first new residence for 1917 has been completed in Mulino by Mr. Hyton upon his lots in the townsite west of the W. V. S. railroad. At least one more new residence is assured for the coming season.

The dance at the hall Saturday night was well attended.

DAMASCUS

The play given in the German hall Saturday evening was well attended and well acted. A dance followed the play.

The grangers met at the grange hall Saturday and held their monthly meeting. One thing that can be said about the grangers, they always have plenty to eat.
