ROAD BONDS BOOSTED

Eugene Place of Meeting, Clubs Will be Formed Over State

The good roads rally held in Eugene Saturday was an indication of the interest Oregon people are taking in road matters. The two sessions of the conference were attended by about 300 persons and were crowded with interest. Nearly every county in western Oregon was represented and these representatives stated that they came to Eugene to get information on the proposed plan for the issuance of $6,000,000 bonds for road construction.

The outgrowth of the meeting is a proposal to organize road clubs in every county, town and district in the state as soon as possible so that every resident of the state may be informed fully before he is called to pass upon the bonding plan. The bonding plan was indorsed, but regardless of this action the decision to give all matters in connection with the bonding scheme the fullest publicity through the newspapers and by discussion at road club meetings is of great importance. By this method, if the plan to bond is wise, the people will be encouraged to vote for the bonds; if it is ill-advised they will determine to reject them. It is certain, however, that Oregonians will not act blindly in support of the bonds.

The most encouraging feature of the meeting held Saturday from the viewpoint of the friends of the bonding plan were statements made by several speakers that before investigation they doubted the advisability of bonding, but now favored the plan. The bonding plan is a great issue and should be considered very carefully by the people before the election of June 4. Every community should hold its road meetings and invite to those meetings speakers who have studied the step for good roads which it is proposed to take and which is more far-reaching than any yet taken in the history of this state. —Eugene Guard.

PLAN C. E. CONVENTION

Gladstone to be Place of Annual Clackamas County C. E. Meet

The monthly cabinet meeting of the Clackamas County Christian Endeavor Union was held last Sunday at the home of Dr. Roy A. Prudden in Oregon City.

It was decided to hold the annual county convention at Gladstone about the first of May. It is expected that Lloyd Carrick of Portland, ex-president of the state C. E. union, will be one of the speakers. The cabinet hopes to make this convention bigger and better, if possible, than the one held at Parkplace last May, which was a success in every way.

A "Spring Expert drive," to be executed at once, was planned. An "expert" class in Oregon City is now studying Amos R. Well's book, "Expert Endeavor."

Those present at the meeting were: Lorraine A. Ostrom, president; Elbert Charman, vice-president; Miss Shirlee Swallow, secretary; Miss Clara Tate, treasurer; Miss Ethel Davies, Quiet Hour superintendent; Miss Anna Rinearson, evangelistic superintendent; Miss Marian White, efficiency superintendent; William Miller, publicity superintendent; S. B. Rankin and Dr. and Mrs. Roy A. Prudden.

Two members of the county cabinet also held office in the state C. E. union, Elbert Charman being state president and Miss Shirlee Swallow state Quiet Hour superintendent.

The county union includes sixteen Christian Endeavor societies.

Little Girl Had Croup

Every mother knows and fears croup. Mrs. R. M. Raney, R. F. D. 2, Stanford, Ky., writes: "My little girl had been having croup every few nights. I began to give her a few drops of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound every two or three hours, and that night she slept well, never coughed any, and the next day her cold was gone. To all of my friends I am saying, 'Get a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar for a gripple, coughs, colds and croup. A genuine cure.'"

COURT REFERS PETITION

Acres Tracts Will be Replatted and New Roadways Located

The county court, in session here last week, Friday referred the matter of the location of the so-called Girt road and the Henry Yost road to boards of viewers. Taxpayers in these districts had petitioned the court for the location of the roads. The Girt road is in the Eagle Creek district and the Yost road is near Wilsonville.

The court Friday ordered the vacation of the Holladay Acres, upon petition of the Continental Realty & Improvement company. The company plans to re-plot and improve the Holladay tracts, close to the Multnomah county line. The company will re-survey and dedicate roadways.

Wait, postmaster at Canby, was elected vice-president and W. H. Bair treasurer.

Judge Grant B. Dimick is the retiring president of the association and Ward B. Lawton is relieved as secretary. Ed Fortune, who had charge of the racing program last year, will again arrange that department. The fair dates set at the meeting Friday are September 18 to 21 inclusive.

MRS. VIOLA BURR WRITES

Clackamas Woman Discusses War and the Ship of State

Clackamas, Rt. 1, March 9, 1917. Editor Oregon City Courier: War breeds hate, to be sure, and as hate is apt to blind the reason, it might be well to take a look at our ship of state and keep it well balanced. Without the clouds and rain man would soon perish from the face of the earth. We need the blue sky, but to sail away into the blue sky one would soon reach the regions of ice. So it would be better that we stay closer at home and man one ship with reason, good judgment and common sense, and to see that one ship of state is well balanced. And isn't the human mind like a ship well balanced? Even an air ship must have plenty of ballast to keep from toppling over and coming back to earth with destruction to itself and occupants.

While some may differ in opinion, hasn't the minority of the U. S. senate acted as a balance wheel and given everyone time to reason out these difficult questions. The president was elected to a second term on "He kept us out of war," and it would not be justice to the people to rush into war without a thorough understanding of the situation. If it is absolutely necessary to arm these merchant ves-

MR. F. GIFFORD

Prominent Farmer in Canada Describes His Escape from the Operating Table

In a letter to friends at Saskatoon, Mr. F. Gifford, of the Ball Rock farm, Maymont, Saskatchewan, Canada, says: "Thanks to Fruitola and Traxo I am still alive. I lay on my back for sixteen days, suffering the agonies of a dozen deaths. I began taking Fruitola and was relieved of a great many gall stones. My health is now fully restored."

Fruitola and Traxo are compounded from the original Edsall formulas at the Pinus laboratories in Monticello, Ill., and can be purchased in Oregon City, Portland, Canby and Hubbard at the Huntley Bros. Co.'s drug stores; a doctor's prescription is not necessary. Fruitola is a pure fruit oil and acts as an intestinal lubricant and disintegrates the hardened particles that cause so much suffering, discharging the accumulated waste to the sufferer's intense relief. One dose is usually sufficient to indicate its efficacy. Traxo is a tonic-alternative that is most effective to rebuild and restore the weakened, rundown system. A booklet of special interest to those who suffer from stomach trouble can be obtained by writing to the Pinus Laboratories, Monticello, Ill.

sels, it can be done with reason and has at the same time given all time to understand what it all means.

Everyone has had time to think it over. In justice to the minority let us all hope for the best.

VIETOR SUIT OUSTED

Action Resulting from Campaign Feud Thrown Out of Court

Maxwell Vietor's $10,000 damage suit against the Oregon City Enterprise and Thomas A. Burke, deputy district attorney, was dismissed by Judge Campbell Friday. The action was the outgrowth of an attack which Vietor alleged the Enterprise made upon him when he was the democratic candidate for sheriff against W. J. Wilson. Burke was the alleged author of the story attacking Vietor for his work as self-appointed publisher for an alien who was confined in the county jail here. Vietor, it was said, attempted to discredit Sheriff Wilson and District Attorney Hedges for holding the prisoner, who was later sent to the asylum. The suit was filed by Vietor on October 20, 1916.
