

CORRESPONDENCE

(Continued from page 2)

1250 white leghorn chicks, and also shipped to the Walla Walla country 100 of the same kind.

L. Kelnhofer was taking observations on the Cedar Springs ranch last Monday.

Mrs. J. Enghouse and Mrs. E. R. Boyer called on the following sick folks last Monday: Mrs. Edwin Dause, Mrs. P. DeShields and Mrs. A. Getz.

Mrs. A. Kelnhofer and Gladys Rypczynski were callers at Cedar Springs ranch last Saturday.

M. L. Haworth and family moved to Clackamas last week to make their future home.

Mrs. H. Klinkley called on Mrs. Edwin Dause last Sunday afternoon.

Dr. Hempstead was called to see John Kelnhofer, who is on the sick list.

J. Enghouse and son, Clarence, were Oregon City visitors last Monday.

Next Saturday night is the last meeting night of the literary society and they want all the calves in the county to be present as there is going to be a milk drinking contest, as well as a program and debate.

Ralph and Earl Boyer motored to Oregon City last Sunday afternoon.

A. Kelnhofer was strolling over the Cedar Springs ranch last Saturday.

W. F. Mundchenke and family were visitors with E. R. Boyer last Sunday afternoon.

E. R. Boyer and family were visitors with L. Kelnhofer and family Sunday evening.

HAZELIA

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Whitten and sons' Clifford and Leonard, spent Saturday and Sunday at Sherwood.

Mr. and Mrs. Cooley from West Linn were Hazelias visitors Sunday.

Mrs. Ed Wanker spent a very pleasant day with her mother, Mrs. F. W. Wanker, Wednesday.

Mrs. Hugh Baker and son, Kenneth, were Portland visitors Saturday.

Guy MacVay of Portland visited J. P. Cook Saturday evening.

Miss Harriet Duncan from George, Ore., spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Duncan of Redwood Farm.

Lulu Wanker, Bonnie Duncan, Wanda Wanker, Vernon Davidson, Elva Wanker, Herbert Duncan, William Nagel and O. C. Whitten were guests at the Ed Wanker home Sunday.

Misses Nell Rice and Viola Scott were pleasantly entertained by Mrs. A. Worthington Thursday evening.

Miss Maggie Kaiser, from Mountain Road, visited with her sister, Mrs. Conrad Zimmerman, Friday and Saturday.

Miss Hattie Wanker spent a few days with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Wanker, last week.

Winfield Baker was the guest of his brother, Harold Baker of Portland, Saturday and Sunday.

Misses Nell Price, Violet Scott and Margaret Papoun were visitors at the Hazelias Sunday school Sunday morning.

Miss Lena Lehmann was delightfully entertained by her aunt, Mrs. Frank Childs, Sunday.

A. E. Helms was marketing farm produce in Oswego Saturday morning.

Hugh Baker transacted business in Portland Monday.

We were sorry to hear that George Rabis of Stafford is ill, and hope for his speedy recovery.

Miss Hattie Wanker spent a pleasant afternoon with Mrs. C. Zimmerman Monday.

Miss Ethel Baker was pleasantly entertained by her cousin, Miss Marion Thomson, of Oswego.

A. Nielson was in Oswego Wednesday afternoon.

Misses Edith and Audrey Wanker spent Sunday night with their aunt, Miss Lulu Wanker.

Herbert Duncan was a Portland visitor Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Zimmerman and daughter, Verli, visited with Mr. and Mrs. William Kaiser, of Mountain Road, Sunday.

The Hazelias Literary and Debating society will meet Saturday evening, March 31. An election of officers will take place, followed by a good program. A lively time is anticipated.

PARKPLACE

Mrs. Chris Rivers, who was taken very ill last week, was removed to Portland Monday for treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown has left for Sheridan. They will be there several weeks, visiting their daughter, Mrs. Cunningham.

Mrs. Shoupe and little daughter, of California, are here visiting her sisters, Mrs. Vallet of Parkplace and Mrs. Charles of Gladstone.

Mr. and Mrs. Fleming, of Concord, are visiting the latter's sister, Mrs. Lucy Waer.

Last week a surprise shower was given to Etta Straight, who will be married shortly after Easter. The shower was given at the home of Mrs. Prager, a sister. Many useful and beautiful gifts were received.

Mr. Davenport and family moved to Gladstone the first of this week.

Grange meeting Saturday. There is to be a fine program. Miss Talbot is to give her illustrated lecture, which was postponed last month on account of inclement weather, on "The Montessori Method of Raising Children." There will also be an extra good musical program. Every month the lecturer hopes to have a good and instructive program.

Mrs. Rheta Rivers is the proud owner of a Dodge car, which Gus has taken possession of; at least until Mrs. Rivers is strong enough to run it. Mr. Rivers don't seem to be coming in on this. We wonder why. Perhaps—later.

EAGLE CREEK

The Helping Hand society was pleasantly entertained by Mrs. R. M. Brash last Wednesday afternoon. The next meeting will be held April 4 at the home of Mrs. E. Naylor.

Mrs. Katie Douglass was a Gresham visitor last Thursday.

Earl and Everett Shibley, of Springwater, were dinner guests of R. B. Gibson last Friday. They were out looking for a horse.

Miss Edna Kennedy spent the week-end in Portland.

Mrs. H. H. Udell was the guest of Mrs. R. B. Gibson Friday and Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Duns were visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Douglass Sunday.

Walter Douglass has recently built a garage in which to keep his new Ford.

Mr. and Mrs. Domm and Mr. and Mrs. Will Douglass were entertained by Roy Douglass and wife at their home Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Orke were Estacada visitors on Monday.

DAMASCUS

Mr. and Mrs. Colter drove to Gresham Sunday.

Miss Mary Hall attended Pomona grange at Sycamore one day last week.

John Hartshorn has been spraying his orchard.

A. J. Carlson was called to Mt. Angel one day last week to visit his little girl, who was sick with la grippe.

Mr. Royer and family motored to Lents Sunday.

Amos Hall is busy banking out wood and will haul it to Portland as soon as the weather settles.

Raymond Cline, who has been at The Dalles the past year, has returned home.

The people of this neighborhood enjoyed very much the stereoscopic lecture given by Mr. Calavan and Mr. Marris at the school house Monday evening. The school was presented with the standardization banner.

The dance given at the German hall Saturday evening was well attended.

SOUTH HIGHLAND

Tom Parrish is visiting at the home of his brother, Jim Parrish, at Oregon City.

Earl Martin, little son of August Martin, is very ill with pneumonia.

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Kandle, Mr. Smith and Mr. McNaught motored to the city Friday.

T. Cornwald made a business trip to Portland Monday.

Miss Lydia Martin left last week for Walla Walla, Wash.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Kandle and Joe Wallace motored to Portland last Saturday, returning Sunday with Mrs. Wallace, who has been in a sanitarium the past three weeks.

Miss Burner, who is teaching at St. Johns, was home Saturday and Sunday visiting her parents.

John Schram was a Beaver Creek visitor Monday.

Joe Wallace is baling hay for E. Holmes this week.

MOLALLA

No shortage in moisture now; and the advent of real spring weather is eagerly looked for.

The "old landmark" felled! The "Big Fir tree," or "Sam Engle's tree," has recently been cleared out of the road preparatory to grading the Engle hill. This monster proved to be two and a quarter centuries old. After sawing the tree down Leslie Shank "jumped the stump" out with 45 pounds of powder without doing damage to adjoining property.

From the civil engineering maneuvers about town, some street improvements may be expected to begin soon.

Mrs. Guy died last Saturday morning after a long illness.

Charles Cutting passed into the beyond Sunday night. His remains will be laid at rest at Redland.

CHERRYVILLE

March is going out like a lamb. Everybody here is getting ready to plant potatoes next week on Good Friday.

Ezra Trueman died at his ranch north of Brightwood on Sunday of this week, and his body was buried here at the cemetery on Tuesday of this week. Funeral services were conducted by W. J. Wirtz of Sandy.

Mr. Trueman was in his 69th year and came here from Uew York state about 12 years ago for his health.

What Ails You?

Have you become run-down, weak, emaciated, pale after a long siege of colds? Does the skin show that the blood is thin and watery? Spring is the time when vitality is at its lowest ebb—clean house now—by ridding the body of its accumulated poisons. Refresh the blood with a stimulating tonic.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, free from alcohol or narcotics and extracted from roots and herbs with pure glycerine, banishes from the blood all poison and impure matter. It dissolves the impure deposits and carries them out, as it does all impurities, through the Liver, Bowels, Kidneys and Skin.

If you have indigestion, sluggish liver, nasal or other catarrh, unsteady nerves or unsightly skin, get the "Discovery" to-day and start at once to replace your impure blood with the kind that puts energy and ambition into you and brings back youth and vigorous action.

Sold by druggists in liquid or tablet form; or send for trial package of tablets to Dr. V. M. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

MOTHERS OF OREGON.

Albany, Oregon.—"At one time I was weak and nervous; had headache and backache; liver was sluggish, and I was troubled with constipation. I needed a tonic—a constitutional builder. A friend told me about Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I took it and it built me right up, gave me new strength, put my liver in good shape, and helped me in every way."—Mrs. ELLEN DODDLE, 1118 E. 2nd Street.

ery. I took it and it built me right up, gave me new strength, put my liver in good shape, and helped me in every way."—Mrs. ELLEN DODDLE, 1118 E. 2nd Street.

The House On the Hill

By PAULINE D. EDWARDS

A girl was pacing the hall of a country house impatiently. Presently she stopped and called:

"Come, Molly; the auto's waiting."

"All right, Imogen; I'll be with you as soon as I can be on my yell. Have you your goggles?"

"Goggles? No! Do you suppose I would make myself hideous by wearing such things?"

Imogen went out to the piazza, where at the foot of the steps the automobile was waiting, and said to the chauffeur:

"You needn't go today, William. I'm going to drive myself."

"Yes, miss."

"Is everything all right?"

"Yes, miss."

"Come, Molly; let's be off."

Molly came hurrying out, trying to adjust a veil and pull on a pair of gloves at the same time, a somewhat difficult feat to perform. The two got into the auto, and the machine chugged down the driveway to the gate.

It was a mild spring morning, and the roads were fine. Imogen was quite an expert driver, and there was nothing to mar the pleasure of the trip till they had been out a couple of hours and were some thirty miles from home.

Then one of the tires subsided and let the wheel to which it belonged down on to the ground.

"Oh, dear!" exclaimed Molly. "What shall we do?"

"There's a shed or stable or something over there; let's go over and see if we can get any help."

Having placed the auto on the side of the road, they both walked the hundred yards that separated them from the house and found a man in overalls tinkering with an automobile.

"Oh, how fortunate!" exclaimed Molly. "It's a garage."

"We've got a puncture or something," said Imogen to the man. "We've left our auto out there in the road. Would you mind coming out to see what's the matter?"

The man left his work, went with them to their auto, inspected the wheel and said:

"It's not a case of puncture. There's a rip in the tire."

"Oh, dear!" exclaimed Imogen. "Can it be fixed?"

"Not here. I haven't the tools."

"What shall we do?"

"I'll put enough wind in it to get your machine into my garage, and there it must be left till you can get another tire. I see you have no 'extra.'"

The man managed after much difficulty to get the auto into the garage. Then he said to them:

"I will take you to your home, and you can send some one out with an extra tire to take your auto back."

"Do you think that's the only thing to do?"

"Yes. Please wait till I go to the house and get off these overalls. I'll be back in a moment."

He went up a byroad and disappeared. The two girls occupied themselves looking at an imposing mansion on the top of a hill, at the foot of which they waited.

"That's a fine house," said Imogen. "I wouldn't mind being at the head of that house—that is, if I had a husband to be!"

"At the foot," supplied Molly.

In a few moments the man returned in chauffeur costume.

"I should think you'd be hungry," he said. "It's past lunch time, and you'll not get home before 3 o'clock. Perhaps you'd better go up to that summer hotel," pointing to the house they had been admiring, "and get something to eat. It's not yet opened for the season, but I think you'll find something to stay your appetite."

"What a beautiful site for a hotel!" exclaimed Imogen. "We thought it a private house."

They climbed the hill, were admitted by a maid in white and black uniform and shown into a dining room having none of the appearance of one belonging to a hotel. There a delicious luncheon was served. On attempting to pay for it the maid said that there was no one in the house to receive cash and they would have to pay another time.

"We'll leave it with the man at the garage down there," said Imogen.

"Yes, miss," the girl assented.

Returning to the garage, they found the man waiting for them with an auto ready. They entered it and started for home. On the way home the chauffeur became more communicative, and Imogen remarked sotto voce to Molly that he used very good language for an auto tinker. When they reached the house Imogen took out her pocketbook, asking him how much his charges would be, including the luncheon.

The chauffeur replied that there was no charge for the ride; on the contrary, he had been much honored.

For the luncheon, he owned the house in which they had lunched, and in this, too, they had honored him.

The girls looked at each other in consternation.

"But you said," Imogen protested, "that the house was a summer hotel."

"I lied there," said the man imper turbably.

The three sat regarding one another for a few moments, then burst out laughing.

"Pardon me," said the chauffeur. "I couldn't help it. You walked right into your own trap."

"That was some years ago. Today Imogen is at the head of the house on the hill, and the gentleman chauffeur is at the foot of it."

He met with an accident about three years ago from which he never fully recovered and which eventually caused his death. He was a good citizen and good man, universally respected by everybody who knew him.

Rocks are being put in at the dam by Mr. Griffin preparatory to taking salmon for spawn sometime in April.

R. L. Holman, Leading Undertaker, Fifth and Main St.; Telephones: Pacific 415-J; Home B-18.

Courier and Daily Journal—$4.75

When you buy supplies you want the best goods for the least money. As a reasonable business proposition you buy it from the firm that not only have the reputation of honest dealing but have the goods and financial ability to supply you at the very lowest prices

Larsen & Company

Carry the Largest Stock of Goods in Their Line in Clackamas County

GROCERIES WHOLESALE AND RETAIL

Building Material Lime, Cement, Plaster, Fire Brick, Building Brick, Drain Tile, Land Plaster, Hydrated Lime, Fertilizers, Etc.

Flour, Feed & Grain Field, Flower & Garden Seeds Poultry and Dairy Supplies

We are Sale Agents for Pratt Food Co. and Carry a Complete Line of Poultry Regulator and Remedies for all Animals

We are Closing Out our Hardware, Graniteware, Crockery, Cutlery and Kitchen Utensils at GREATLY REDUCED PRICES

Special For This Week

Best Hard Wheat Flour, per Barrel $8.40 Best Cane Sugar, per 100 lb. Sack $7.80
Corvallis Patent Flour, per Barrel $7.75 Beet Sugar, per 100 lb. Sack $7.60
Land Plaster, per Ton $10.00

MORE COURIER HISTORY

Mr. Robbins Sheds New Light on Mystery of Our Beginning

Logan, Ore., March 27, 1917.

Editor Courier:

In the matter of Courier history: I was established in Clackamas county in 1858, have been a reader and in political sympathy with all the democratic papers that have been published in Oregon City and a correspondent most of the time, and if memory were more nearly perfect, could give the editorial genealogy in chronological order.

I. LeMahieu may have been the founder of the Courier, but I have not so classed him. If the paper is 35 years old it seems to me that it is between five and 10 years back from Mr. LeMahieu's advent in Oregon City. Anyhow, the first democratic editor—and the one that was longer on the job than any successor—was A. Nolter, called "Tony." His time was in the '70's and he went to Portland and published a democratic paper called the Standard from about 1880. He died in Portland a few years ago. His Clackamas successor was Col. J. B. Pithian, who, I am told, still publishes a small paper in Portland, though nearly incapacitated by rheumatism.

Fithian was followed by LeMahieu, though there may have been an interval between with a change of name. Contemporary with Fithian and a part of LeMahieu's term was a rotund, blond Englishman by the name of John Rock who presided in the Enterprise chair and who, I remember, called LeMahieu a cross-eyed Jew because both eyes did not look in the same direction. Rock retired to his brother's farm in Tillamook and died there.

It is interesting to me to recall the characteristics of succeeding editors, but perhaps this is enough, for the present at least.

O. D. ROBBINS.

INSURE WORKMEN

Old Notion That Corporations Have No Souls is Passing

Affairs in some of the war-torn nations today would hardly warrant the general statement that the world is growing better; and yet normally there is evidence that it is. Two hundred and fifty thousand workmen employed in American industries have had their lives insured by their employers. This represents insurance policies to the total amount of about $250,000,000. The premiums on these insurance policies are paid by the companies for which the men work. This system of insurance for employees, paid for and maintained by the employers, has been growing over a period of about five years, but has attracted little public attention. The whole subject was forced to the front the first of the year by the action of the board of directors of the Union Pacific system, which took out insurance policies covering every one of its employees from 16 to 70 years of age who have been in service one year or longer and who are not receiving more than $4,000 a year in salary. This one insurance means an insurance policy of $30,000,000 and includes some 30,000 employees at work on 8,000 miles of railway. Men and women are included, the office boy as well as the oldest employee.

C. E. SPEAKERS ANNOUNCED

Tentative Program Outlined for C. E. Convention at Gladstone

Plans for the second annual Clackamas county Christian Endeavor convention, being worked out by the executive committee of the county C. E. union, are taking definite shape and indicate that the two-day program will be full of attractive features.

Among the speakers at the convention, which will be held in the Gladstone Christian church on May 6 and 7, are Lloyd R. Carrick, ex-president of the Oregon C. E. union; Miss Helen Orr, secretary of the state union; Miss Estella Ford, state superintendent of the Life Work Recruits department; Miss Gertrude Eakin, vice-president of the state union; G. Everett Baker and E. Earl Feike. The last two are former presidents of the state union.

Officers for the county union for the year following the date of the convention will be elected. The present officers are: Lorraine Ostrom, president; Elbert Charman, vice-president; Miss Shirlee Swallow, secretary; Miss Clara Tate, treasurer.

C. N. Harlow of Oregon City has accepted appointment as transportation manager for the convention. He will make travelling arrangements for the delegates, who will come from all parts of the county.

It is expected that the registration of delegates will pass the 200 mark.

Alaska's Tanana Fields.

The Tanana coal field, Alaska, will be tributary to the government railroad now under construction from Seward to Fairbanks. Though the coal in this field is lignite and hence of low grade, yet it has great value as a source of fuel and power for Fairbanks and other Yukon placer camps. The field is about sixty miles south of Fairbanks. It is estimated by the United States geological survey that the Tanana field contains some 10,000,000,000 tons of lignite.—Argonaut.

What a Dynamo Is.

A dynamo or generator is simply a machine for delivering electricity. It may be driven by gas engine, steam engine, windmill or other convenient means. Just as a pump driven by an engine causes water to flow, so a dynamo delivers electricity. The magnet of an automobile is a form of dynamo.—Farm and Fireside.

Japanese Silk.

Japanese silk is generally regarded by experts as naturally inferior to Chinese, yet the export of steam flature silk from Japan has been increasing in recent years by leaps and bounds. While that from China has been at best no more than holding its own.

OLSON ARRESTED

Garage Man Charged With Sale of Intoxicating Liquor

August Olson was arrested last Thursday at Mulino by Constable D. E. Frost on a grand jury indictment charging him with the illegal sale of intoxicating liquor to Orran I. Adkins. The indictment under which the arrest was made was one of the secret findings returned by the recent grand jury. Olson was released soon after his arrest on giving a $100 bond and appeared Saturday morning for hearing, and through his attorney, Judge Grant B. Dimick, entered a plea of not guilty. Olson is a garage owner at Mulino.

Desertion is Charge

Desertion is the charge made against Richard L. Zeller in a divorce complaint filed in the circuit court here Friday by Martha A. Zeller. The couple was married at Portland on December 8, 1909, and there are no children nor property rights involved. Mrs. Zeller says her husband deserted her at Portland on February 20, 1916, and she wants her maiden name, Martha A. Webb, restored to her.

Marriage License

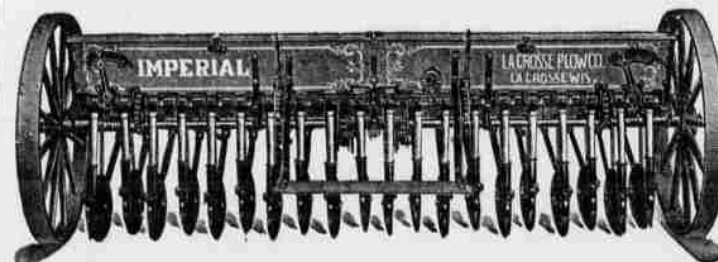

A marriage license was issued here last Thursday to Frieda Schweitzer and Albert Johnston, of Boring, Or.

The Imperial Disc Drill

Only Drill Made with Horse-Lift

AND ORIGINAL DRILL MADE WITH FOOTBOARD

A LEADER--NOT A FOLLOWER

Enlarged view of Foot-Board, Horse-Lift and Hand Levers. The inner levers with turned in handles are horse-lift levers. The outer levers shown as broken off are hand-lift levers used to put on pressure, or to lift discs when drill is standing.

Made its own reputation in the field—Double discs or shoes interchangeable with single discs

WM. E. ESTES

7th & Taylor Streets

"ON THE HILL"

Oregon City, Ore.