Runaway Couple Caught By Frost

Albert A. Wilson, aged 25 years, is in the Wasco county jail facing a statutory charge and the 19-year-old daughter of a Clackamas county merchant is free under $200 cash bail, as the result of an adventure which ended Tuesday with the return of Constable Jack Frost to this city from The Dalles where the arrests were made.

Wilson, according to local officers, has a wife in Portland, living at 514 Hawthorne avenue.

The girl in the case, whose name is withheld, was working in the Oregon City woolen mills and later in a local

BABY TOT SECURED BY HABEAS CORPUS AND SHERIFF'S AID

CHILD TAKEN FROM MOTHER BY ODD CIRCUMSTANCE, RESTORED BY COURT.

Sheriff Wilson Wednesday evening got a baby on a writ of habeas corpus. While thus engaged, the sheriff was accompanied by Mary Malson, of Portland, the baby's mother, who earlier in the day had applied for and received the writ, directing Carl Freeman and Jane Doe Freeman to surrender the child. The Freemans, who live near Bull Run, obeyed the writ, which is returnable Thursday in the circuit court.

Back of the journey to Bull Run for the child, who is but three months old, lies an unusual story. The baby was born in a Portland maternity home on April 3, and subsequently was taken to Bull Run by the Freemans, who desired to adopt it. At the time the child was removed from the hospital, its mother was still bed-ridden and was not aware of the circumstances. Later, when she tried to regain possession of the infant, the Freemans, who had become much attached to the babe, refused to give it up.

The mother, therefore took legal action to regain possession of her child, and fearing that the Freemans were about to leave the state, expedited matters by utilizing a writ of habeas corpus. It is believed that this is the first time in Oregon legal history that a writ of habeas corpus has been issued to return a baby to its mother's care.

HUGE CELEBRATION PLANNED AT CARVER

ADVENT OF NEW RAILROAD AND FOURTH OF JULY FURNISH JOINT MOTIF FOR FUN.

One of the greatest celebrations on the Fourth of July will be at Carver the present terminal of the new Portland & Oregon City car line, on the picturesque Clackamas river, near Baker's bridge. All residents of Oregon City know where Baker's bridge is located and since arrangements have been made by the enterprising citizens of Milwaukee, many of this city have planned to spend the day at this delightful place. The roads along the Clackamas river are in excellent condition, and those who are not lucky in owning a machine will go to Milwaukee on the car and from that city go on over the new line. The fares will be reduced.

The people of Milwaukee are to show all that they are patriotic people and among the features that they have ofered those making the trip are a free dinner and supper to be served under the shade of the giant fir trees. There will be plenty of pink lemonade to quench the thirst and all kinds of fresh roasted peanuts to feed the children. There will be other kinds of refreshments, but it would not advise to take along the pocketbook, as there will be an extra charge for these. But the meals to be served free will be as good as any served at a first class hotel.

There will be excellent music during the day. Mrs. Carl Moore, a well known soprano of Gladstone and pupil of Mrs. Neita Barlow Lawrence, is to be among the soloists; and it is probable that a quartet of young ladies will also sing. A band from Milwaukee will furnish the music for the day and evening, and will be relieved by an orchestra. Those who wish to "step" may do so, as the dancing pavilion floor will be in excellent condition at that time.

There will be games and sports of all kinds for young and old. A huge bonfire is to be built in the evening. Among the features will be a baseball game between Clear Creek Creamery and the M. Seller team of Portland, and the Oregon City Redmen. There will also be races. If you are fat you can enter the fat men's race, and if you are thin you can enter the thin men's race.

Hon. George C. Brownell is to be the orator of the day, and the Declaration of Independence will be read by Miss Lillian Anderson, daughter of Judge Anderson.

The following are the committee having charge of the celebration: Sports and races—D. M. Simonsen, Mr. Greiger and Dr. Appleby; music and entertainment—A. C. Davis, Mrs. S. Bowman, Mrs. Margie Johnson; publicity—Ed Bryans, Philip Streth, and D. M. Simonsen; transportation—C. H. Hansen, Mr. Carver and Fred Berkemeier; grounds—Mr. Dallas, W. B. Day, Mrs. Morand, Mrs. Pennell, P. King and Mr. Margary.

Two left for The Dalles on the steamer Dalles City. The boat was unable to make the trip up the river, and Tuesday they started up the river again on the State of Washington, but the steamer was unable to go up the river. Wednesday they traveled on the Bailly Gatzert, arriving at The Dalles that night. They are alleged to have registered at the Umatilla House at The Dalles and Thursday they went to a cherry farm near the city and were living in a tent when located by Constable Frost and Chief of Police Curtis of The Dalles, Saturday.

MERRY MISS OONETTE LEADS ASSOCIATION

The progressive and effective work of the Clackamas County Cow Testing association is demonstrated by a study of reports of Neal C. Jamison, official tester, just completed. The figures cover the month of April and show that 32 cows in the association are producing over 45 pounds of butterfat a month.

Merry Miss Oonette, owned by the W. S. Ladd estate, leads the cows of the association. During the month of April she produced 1519.7 pounds of milk and 71.09 pounds of butterfat. Dordina Senna, also owned by the Ladd estate, however, ran Merry Miss Oonette a close race, producing 1453.9 pounds of milk and 70.69 pounds of butterfat during the month.

Picabo, the property of N. H. Smith, is another high producer. She gave 1467 pounds of milk and 69.55 pounds of butterfat during the month. These three cows have an average variation of about one-half pound of fat.

The leading two-year-old cow is Eighty's Pride, owned by G. W. Thiesen, producing 855.1 pounds of milk and 54.73 pounds of butterfat during April. Bonny Bell Figgie, owned by H. L. Badger, is the leading three-year-old, having produced 1111.7 pounds of milk and 52.76 pounds of butterfat. The leading grade cow is Topsy, owned by A. L. and I. J. Hughes. She produced 1183.3 pounds of milk and 61.89 pounds of butterfat in April.

A silo will be built in a day at the Charles Rider farm in the Central Point district Friday under the auspices of the cow testing association. Two members of the Oregon Agricultural college faculty will talk, explaining the use and the construction of a silo. The meeting will be an all day affair, farmers and townsmen from every part of the county attending. A basket lunch will be served at noon. The silo will be built of Clackamas county materials, the lumber coming from a mill at Liberal.

Funds To Be Raised To Provide For The Wives Of Soldiers

Preliminary plans for the establishment of a fund to be used to provide for wives of the men at the front were made Wednesday afternoon at a meeting of 29 representative members of the Commercial club. O. D. Ely, M. D. Latourette, H. E. Williams, Frank Schoenborn, J. E. Jack and George A. Harding were named a committee to form definite plans for raising the money and for distributing it.

As the first step, a general appeal is made to all the people of Oregon City. Elsewhere in this issue of The Enterprise there is a slip to be used in making pledges.

While donations of any character are acceptable, the committee prefers that pledges of a certain amount each month be made by all who are able to afford a regular gift. The sum need not be large. Twenty-five cents a month will be welcomed as much as $10 or $15 a month. The money can be sent to the Bank of Oregon, the Bank of Commerce or the First National bank.

While the funds are being raised and the relief work more thoroughly organized, the board of governors of the Commercial club will donate money from the club's funds to relieve emergency cases.

Families of members of G company should not be allowed to be in want while husband, sons or brothers are fighting along the Mexican border, believe members of the committee. Financial aid from all of Oregon City, however, is needed to provide money enough for the work planned.

GIVE US CARRANZA AND VILLA

(Tune—"Bring the Good Old Rag.") Hear the bugle call to arm to fight in Mexico!

Hear the clank of gaiting guns to stop this blood show!

Hear the sound of life and drum as off our soldiers go After Carranza and Villa!

Chorus:—Beware! Beware! You reproaches take care! Our blood you want—now take it if your dare!

Greasers, villans, bandits, devils—none of us you scare. Give us Carranza and Villa.

We have tried to reckon with your treacherous, thieving gang; Tried to teach you justice, truth and mercy as we sang.

Tried to make you love us—but instead a shot you rang Back from Carranza and Villa.—Cho.

Shoot you viperous demons—try to make us eat the dust; Keep yourselves dishonest, so your word we cannot trust; But this murderous shooting game, remember, stop you must.

Back from Carranza and Villa.—Cho.

Tooze Files Second Suit for $20,000

City School Superintendent F. J. Tooze Thursday filed a libel suit for $20,000 against H. B. Cartledge, foreman of The Oregon City Enterprise and Mrs. P. Gregory Cartledge, his wife, who was head of the English department of the school. Mr. and Mrs. Cartledge were the authors of Bulletin No. 1, in which was a demand for a public investigation of the friction in school affairs.

The suit is the second action for libel filed by the city superintendent. Mr. Tooze instituted an action against Claude G. Miner, principal of the high school, for $20,000, for writing a letter to J. A. Churchill, state superintendent of public instruction, in which Mr. Tooze was charged with writing anonymous letters and immorality. C. Schuebel and C. D. & D. C. Latourette are Mr. Tooze's attorneys.

The particular parts of Bulletin No. 1, which Mr. Tooze charges are false and defamatory, follows:

"The man entrusted to superintend the educational, and incidentally the moral welfare of our splendid generation of rising boys and girls should, above all things, be a man with character above the slightest suspicion; of whom there could be no hint of dishonesty, untruthfulness or acts of a sinister character; a man who would blush to create any suspicion of manipulation to make himself solid with this or that influential parent or with the board to whom he looks for reelection. In character, he should personify broad character and absolute honesty."

Another suit against Mrs. Cartledge alone, based on the letter of resignation sent to the school board will probably be filed soon. It is known that the papers in the case have been prepared.
