Books Make the Best Christmas Presents

There is nothing easier to buy than a book—and nothing that makes a better showing for the cost. There is nothing that indicates such thoughtfulness on the part of the giver and that brings such real and lasting pleasure, as well-chosen books. Good books have a peculiar dignity all their own. A dainty volume costing but a trifle often possesses a character and worth that no money, spent in other articles, can buy.

EAST CLACKAMAS

Well, Mr. Editor, while we are floating around on the nob's to keep dry we will try and write you a few lines.

M. Tong has his contract for wood hauling nearly completed and says he is not sorry, either.

A few from here attended the basket social at Stone Saturday night, and from the word we got the financial receipts did not amount to very high figures.

The literary was well attended last Saturday night. There were some real good talks on both sides by the debaters. The question was: "Resolved, that dollars have more influence on mankind than religion." The judges decided in favor of the negative.

It has been decided to secure the traveling library for the literary society. E. L. Boyer was appointed librarian.

Ralph Boyer is building a house on

Bennett Avenue, so you see we are still growing.

The P. & O. C. railroad is hauling material for a switch on the north of Cedar Springs ranch.

The Literary is going to give a Christmas tree and entertainment at the school house this year. Messrs. E. R. Boyer, Bennett, and Sandstone form the committee. They are to be assisted by the teacher, E. L. Boyer.

The following visitors were at Cedar Springs ranch Sunday: Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Searles, Elsie and Margie McNair, Mr. and Mrs. Antone Heinreich and Freddie Dane and E. L. Boyer.

E. L. Boyer was separated from 10 cents last Saturday to ride over a mile in the compartment car on the P. & O. C. railway.

Some of the natives of Clackamas were pretty sore because the 10-mill special road tax was defeated there a week ago Saturday night. They blame the East Clackamas fellows for its defeat, but there must have been quite a number in their own vicinity voted against it from the standing of the vote.

Earl Boyer was in Portland Saturday and Sunday having amateur dentists working on his teeth.

The Riverdale Farm is showing some thoroughbred Holstein cattle at the Fat Stock show at Portland this week.

The East Clackamas Social club meets with Mrs. J. W. Bennett December 15th.

W. F. Mundehenne and family were shopping in Oregon City Saturday. Well, Mr. Editor, for the benefit of your readers who might live in other states we want to mention that last November was in second place on record for wet weather in 45 years. Some rain, eh?

J. W. Bennett was a Portland visitor Monday.

Mrs. S. M. Haworth is laid up with lumbago having been so for the last two weeks.

The carpenter is building waiting rooms along the line of the P. & O. C. railway.

H. Van Water and family were doing business in Portland last Saturday.

Mrs. M. Schram visited with her daughters over the week-end and also visited the Literary Saturday evening.

HIGHLAND

Still it rains and looks as though it might continue for some time. The farmers are way behind in their planting, but still it could be worse.

Arvid Hanson is back in our neighborhood again, from Eastern Oregon. Marion Mudgett has gone to Oregon City to work.

At our road meeting on Nov. 26, we voted a ten-mill special road tax and by a majority vote recommended Bert Codd as our road supervisor for next year.

Highland Grange met on Saturday the fourth of December, and elected their officers for the coming year. Some of the young folks met at the hall the same day and practiced singing for the basket social which the Grange will give on Saturday night, January 1, 1916. All the ladies are invited to bring well filled baskets. Those wishing to dance after the program and social is over will be allowed the pleasure.

We understand that the Farmers' Union of Clarks will give an entertainment in the Grange Hall in the near future but the date has not been set yet.

On account of bad weather and roads Schram's auto truck has about quit running into Highland until spring, but it is running regularly between Portland and Beaver Creek. When there is a load to be picked up either in Highland or Clarks they will come out after it, however. We hope that in a year or two more the roads will be improved so that they can run into this vicinity the year round.

Dwight Fairfoul, of Montavilla, is visiting friends in Highland at present.

Elsie Schram is attending the high school at Elwood and says they have a fine school there. She goes on horse back, which is quite a ride, but she has not been tardy or absent yet.

It is reported that George Hanson and wife will be in Highland during the holidays visiting friends and relatives.

A few days ago we noticed a small log about six or seven inches through laying across the road between Clarks and Frank Nicklos' place. It looked as though it had been there for some time. The mail carrier has to drive over it every day except Sundays and holidays. Wouldn't it be wise to petition the county court to order the supervisor of that road district to go and remove it? It would only take him from home to get to it. Him about fifteen minutes and he would only have to go six or eight

LOGAN

Last Saturday was election day for Harding Grange and there was something near the old time lively scrapping for offices. Mrs. Funk had a short lecture's program. A. M. Kirchem said that birds are the farmer's best friends and untiring enemies of insect pests and great weed seed destroyers. Therefore they should be protected against the small boy's natural destructiveness. There was much corroborative evidence. The single tax crank threw a few pebbles into the calm sea of content which created some ripples of antagonism. This is to be expected until Oregon grangers get used to the pebbles and reach the point of the Washington state grange, which has declared in favor of a single tax on land values.

There will be a Grange masquerade dance on December 18th. Samuel Gerber has returned from Hot Lakes improved in health. Born, to Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Kirchem, a son. Mother and son are reported as doing well and the father as well as could be expected.

According to Portland papers, two prominent citizens of Logan, Henry Babler and Miss Mahala A. Gill, were married last week. We wish them a full measure of happiness.

Following is the list of officers elect of Harding Grange: Master, George A. Kohl; O. W. M. Kirchem; L. Freida Kirchem; S. A. L. Funk; A. S. George Tracey; C. Mrs. E. Young; T. F. P. Wilson; Sec. Effie Kohl; G. K. Mrs. A. Tracey; C. Lottie Kirchem; P. Lillian Anderson; F. Mrs. Thorpe; L. A. S. Mrs. Gladys Sloper.

Fred Brown and family have returned from their trip to Eugene and vicinity and report a pleasant visit with relatives there. Fred got the limit of deer while hunting.

CHERRYVILLE

December starts in all right. The east wind is fast drying up the mud.

November was a record-breaker in the amount of rainfall, nearly 11 inches falling.

The interest at the Lyceum keeps up and the topics discussed are living issues and in keeping with the reform measures before the public to day.

In meeting with people in different parts of the county any person would be convinced that they are in an ugly mood about this land grant business, as they are determined the supreme court of the U. S. and the U. S. congress, the great law-making body, must be obeyed and this land sold at a price not to exceed $2.50, in tracts of 160 acres. If these mandates are not to be enforced, then there is no use of having any government.

Already there is talk of what office the Governor of this state will seek after his time expires. His political career is ended as no person is so dense as to expect that a public official who will fly in the face of the Supreme Court and defy public opinion in the land grant business can expect any further favor from the public. He and all of his followers are headed for the toboggan slide.

HOMEDALE

Mr. Becker, who used to live near Beaver Creek and who went to Washington, is visiting with his uncle, Mr. Henry Baars.

The Ladies' Improvement club of Maple Lane invited their husbands to a chicken pie supper last Wednesday, and how those husbands did work! After supper an impromptu program was rendered.

A meeting of the telephone subscribers of Division No. 1, was held in the Maple Lane school house on Friday, December 10th at 8 p. m. for the purpose of electing a director for the ensuing year.

The Homedale Card club will meet with Mrs. Blackburn Saturday evening. All members please attend. Something doing!

The funeral of Mr. Hettman (of Lone Oak Farm) took place on Saturday. The sympathy of the community is tendered to Mrs. Hettman in her bereavement.
