A. Byron Raises

Fine Sweetpeas

A. Byron of Meldrum, is known as the sweet-pea king of Clackamas county, and from the indications of his greenhouse at Meldrum is of the state, for he is now sending the sweet-pea blossoms over the Northwest. His large greenhouse where the delicately shaded flowers are now blooming is a wonderful sight. The building is 150 feet long and 24 feet wide, and there are five rows extending the full length and are about 18 feet in height, literally covered with white, pink, salmon and lavender blossoms of exceptionally fine fragrance.

These sweet-pea blossoms are of the swallow-neck variety, the first of this kind grown in Clackamas county. Last week he sold from this greenhouse 500 handsome bouquets.

Although Mr. Byron is growing other flowering plants he is specializing on the sweet-peas and mignonette. He has specialized on these flowers for the past ten years at Meldrum, and he is now planning to erect a larger greenhouse and this will be located near the track of the Portland Railway, Light & Power company, where a display window for potted plants is to be established.

Mr. Byron has donated flowers to the hospitals and to the Red Cross affairs.

Of interest to many in this community was the wedding of Miss Sabra Deaton and Corporal Alvin Klinger, which was an event of April 9, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Deaton, of Lents.

At 12:30, to the strains of the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin, with Miss Keithley at the piano, the bride and groom entered. Under a huge American flag, they were met by Rev. Smith who using the ring ceremony pronounced them man and wife.

The bride was exquisite in white veil combined with rich white lace. Her veil was caught up with orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of white carnations.

The groom, who recently returned from overseas duty, wore his uniform. The house was beautifully decorated with the national colors.

The bride is the youngest child of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Deaton and is a graduate of the Sandy high school. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Klinger of Bull Run.

J. B. ALLISON HEARS FROM SON.

W. S. S. Edw. Luckenbach New York, N. Y., March 12.

Dear Dad: We are putting to sea sometime this week and I'll try and write a few lines in answer to your last letter. The ship has been repaired and loaded and is now ready for sea.

I received a letter from the telephone company a short time ago offering me my old job upon my release from the service and return to Portland. I took it up to the captain and asked him again for a discharge, but he told me he would not release any more men for sometime, but when he did let some go he would consider my application.

I have little hopes of getting out this summer, and I will consider myself lucky if I don't have to complete the rest of my enlistment. I may try and get a job on a freighter when I do get out. I hear rumors of this Co. making one of their ships electric drive, and if they do, I may try and get a job with them.

We are going to Brest, France, this trip, as near as I can find out. We have a permanent ballast of steel and a small cargo. The trip should not take over six weeks provided we do not experience any engine trouble.

Well, Dad, I have special liberty to day and am going ashore at one o'clock, so will close for this time. With love to all.
