BOYS OVER HERE—OVER THERE

Frank Anderson, who has been with the 63d Infantry, and stationed at Washington, D. C., will arrive in Oregon City today. He is from Clackamas county, and has received his honorable discharge. Many friends in this county are awaiting his arrival to give him a cordial welcoming home.

Max Holman, who was with the 91st Division, and one of the well-known young men of Clackamas county, is among those to have returned to his home. He has been in France for some time, and his home is at Carus.

Alpha Oades of Clackamas, was among the Clackamas county boys returning home last week, and having received his honorable discharge from the service. He was in New York for some time, and was among the boys ready to go overseas, and was disappointed in not being able to see some of the fight before the armistice was signed.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Kirchem of Logan, have received a telegram from their son, Carl A. Kirchem, who is with the 29th Balloon Company, saying he had arrived safely from France, and was stationed for the present at Camp Mills. He expects to go to Camp Lewis soon to receive his honorable discharge. The young man arrived in New York April 18.

Clyde Warren of Redland, who has been with the 36th Balloon Company, stationed in France, has arrived safely in New York, according to word received by relatives. Warren is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren of Redland. He arrived in New York April 18, and will go to Camp Lewis to be mustered out of service.

Sergeant Elvin W. Smith who has been overseas for the past sixteen months, with the 116th Engineers, reached Camp Lewis, Sunday, April 13, and upon receiving a three-days' furlough, surprised his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Smith of Parkville, and other relatives there. The telegram of his arrival at Camp Lewis had just been received by the parents of the young man shortly before his appearance at the Smith home.

Young Smith is looking fine, and is almost entirely recovered, after having suffered from complications of the influenza. He says he has had some experience, and has seen some of the world, but no place where he has been looks so good to him as old Oregon. Smith expects to be mustered out of service soon.

"The Trouble Buster", a publication edited and printed by patients and enlisted men at the United States general hospital No. 2 of Fort McHenry, Maryland, has been received here, and is full of interesting reading matter and no space devoted to advertising. One of the columns is devoted to "About the Post", and refers to the men stationed at the post and another devoted to Red Cross and Y. M. C. A. These columns are headed with the illustrations of buildings of each organization. One column is devoted to editorial, and the poet is not forgotten, for he is there "with the goods" and these appearing in the issue of "The Trouble Buster" of April 2. There are a number of excellent articles appearing on the frontispiece.

The editor-in-chief of "The Trouble Buster" is Lieutenant J. Paul Slausser; assistant editor, Lieutenant W. L. Vanaman; managing editor, Sergeant Kenneth M. Gould; news, Private Howard Hartley; news, Private Russell Fishbaugh; circulation manager, Sergeant P. P. Yoder; distribution manager, Sergeant Roy Harshbarger.

"The Trouble Buster" is published weekly or whenever the news is abundant and the printers are not on a furlough or A. W. O. L.

Mrs. E. K. Gallinger of 508 Madison has received the following letter from Charles Richardson:

Nemerid, Germany, March 28, 1919.
 "My dear Mrs. Gallinger:
 "Your loving letter of February 27 at hand, and was sure glad to hear from you again. It found me in good health. I was sorry to hear of Dalene being so sick, and sincerely hope she is much better by the time this letter reaches you.

"Thanks for the gum.
 "Yes, it is kind of tough to stay here with these Germans, but guess somebody has to do it.

"We are having fine weather at present. I am still working in the garage.
 "Yes, it will be a happy day when we are all together again, and I bet it will seem funny to get into civilian clothes.

"Don't you worry about me bringing any fat German girls home with me. I don't even so much as look at one of them.

"I was out playing base ball this morning, and my arm is somewhat lame.

"Tell Mr. Gallinger I can beat him at a game of Pedro.

all had a few pennies, which we threw at them. Such a scramble and fight for pennies, I never saw before.
 "The town is full of soldiers and sailors, and there is a big army camp here and a naval barracks. The buildings are of typical French architecture. The roofs are pointed, and the sides are apparently of slate shingles and bricks.

The first two days out were the worst, but the rest of the way was like sailing on a lake.

"I have considerable trouble in figuring out the French money, but manage to get along. They try to short-change you here, and you have to watch them.

"I am going to get a few souvenirs before I go back to the States, and will send you something.

"Well, the hour is quite late now so I am going to turn in.

"Love to all,
 "JOE."

EDGAR A. STEWART BACK FROM FRANCE AFTER LONG SERVICE

Edgar A. Stewart, one of the well-known Clackamas county young men who has been with the 91st Division, in France, was in this city Tuesday on his way home at Carus. He was a member of the 347th Infantry and was ill for some time in a base hospital in France, suffering from influenza, but has fully recovered and is glad to be back on the farm. He left Camp Lewis for France June 29, 1918, and has seen much of that country. He brought back his trench hat, and when asked if he brought any souvenirs, he said, "yes, myself," but even at that he was pretty well loaded down with baggage. Mrs. Stewart, who was a bride when her husband left for France, met him at Camp Lewis, and the return of the young man and his wife on Tuesday was a complete surprise to the former's sister, Miss Floy Stewart, who is employed at the Twentieth Century store of this city, and also to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Stewart of Carus.

Before returning to the United States Mr. Stewart was stationed for some time in Germany with the Army of Occupation. He says the Germans are treating the Americans well.

Edgar Stewart was one of the young men of Clackamas county, who was sent a dollar greenback and letter by the Women's Patriotic Edition of the Morning Enterprise. This letter did not find the young soldier in France, as the committee had desired, but instead, has been returned to his address in Oregon City with many other letters his relatives have written. The letter containing the greenback was somewhat dilapidated looking when it was returned to Oregon City, but the little dollar bill was still clinging to the letter inside. This makes the third letter that has followed the owner back to Oregon City written by the committee of the Patriotic Edition, that the committee is aware of.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart are planning to attend the big Victory ball in this city April 3.

SERGEANT K. WILSON IN NEW YORK AFTER OVERSEAS SERVICE

Sergeant Kent Wilson, son of Sheriff and Mrs. W. J. Wilson, arrived safely in New York from overseas service, according to a telegram received from the young man by his parents Monday morning. He arrived at New York Sunday evening.

Sergeant Wilson has been in France for the past 16 months, and was in Germany for four months, this being the last place where he has been stationed. He is with a hospital corps.

Kent Wilson is one of the Clackamas county boys, who has been eagerly awaiting orders to return to his home in Oregon City, and has many interesting and exciting tales to tell upon his arrival here.

Corporal F. Gio Wires of Arrival

Corporal Fred Gio, one of the well-known Oregon City young men among the first from Clackamas county to go overseas, has arrived safely in New York from France, according to a telegram received by his mother, Mrs. M. Gio, of Fifteenth and Washington streets Monday afternoon. He had just arrived in port when the telegram was sent.

Corporal Gio is with Company E 411 Telegraph Battalion, Signal Corps, and he was one of 100 young men selected from the telephone service to enter the signal corps. He was with the Pacific Telephone company for eleven years, and was one of the most experienced young men in that line selected. He has been in some of the thickest fights, and has had many narrow escapes while placing lines along the battle line. Corporal Gio expects to arrive within a short time at Camp Lewis, where he will receive his honorable discharge.

Carl Kimmel Back From Over Seas

The Flying Circus--But!

Hundreds of Oregon City people craned their necks Monday to view the much heralded flying circus, which failed to materialize here.

As the official announcement was published in Saturday's Morning Enterprise that the fleet of airplanes would fly over Oregon City, this newspaper proposes to show to its readers just why the announcement was made and who made it.

M. D. Latourette, county chairman for the Victory Loan campaign, wired John L. Etheridge, state director of organization, requesting that gentleman to arrange to have the flying circus appear here, and on Friday afternoon Mr. Etheridge's secretary advised Raymond P. Caufield, chairman for Oregon City, over long-distance phone, that the aircraft would fly over Oregon City, and that details would be announced later.

Upon the representations of Mr. Etheridge's office, Mr. Caufield felt justified in authorizing the announcement that appeared Saturday morning, and waited for details that never came.

Hundreds of people, who would have gone to Portland to see the widely advertised flying circus, stayed in Oregon City Monday, expecting to view the flying craft, and suffered a real disappointment. Monday morning Mr. Caufield wired Mr. Etheridge for confirmation of Friday's advice and then, and not until then, he received the following wire:

"Major Spotts, in charge of flying circus, has definite instructions from Washington covering flights. Is positively forbidden to make any changes in schedule. Regret Washington refuses our requests. Better come to Portland."

It may be fun for Mr. Etheridge to play horse with Oregon City, but we fail to spot the joke, and we suggest that he, or whoever is responsible for this faux pas, render an explanation or deliver an apology to our people, who were deprived of the privilege of seeing an exhibition that they would have gone many miles to witness.

"Better come down to Portland," wires Mr. Etheridge at 1:30 P. M. Monday. Does he think this invitation could have been relayed to the people of Oregon City through a megaphone?

Mr. Etheridge is an affable gentleman, and is doubtless a fine organizer, but he might better be in the livestock business, where they sell Bull by the trainload.

Camp Merritt with his company, and received his honorable discharge from the service at Camp Lewis.

Kimmel was overseas 15 months, and was a member of Company B, 127th Infantry and in sector at Alsace, Chateau Thierry, Soissons and Argonne. He left here with the Third Oregon.

SUES FOR DIVORCE

George E. Larson of Milwaukie, entered suit for divorce Monday against Sarah Larson on the grounds of desertion.

They were married in Portland, September, 1910, and he alleges she deserted April 20, 1918.

Many Real Estate Deals Are Reported

During the past week there have been a number of important farm transactions made by the real estate firm of Elliott & Son, of this city. Among these are the sale of the Badger dairy farm when Henry Campbell of Portland, was the purchaser; the Statter place at Canby, consisting of 20 acres, and bringing a price of $6,000, purchased by Sam Miller, a retired dairyman of Coquille, Oregon; also 57 acres at New Era owned by Mrs. Woodcock, and sold to Mr. King. Mr. King, who formerly resided near Oregon City, and known far and wide as the "Cabbage King." Mr. King has been residing in California for a number of years, but has decided there is no place like Clackamas county, and he is to again take up his residence on his farm he has just purchased. Mrs. Woodcock is to make her home in the East with relatives.

UNION HIGH SCHOOL WARRANTS CARRY BY VOTE OF 55 TO 2

Bonds for the union high school at West Linn carried at the election Friday almost unanimously. There were 58 votes cast, 55 for the bonds and 2 against, one being defective.

This is the second time these bonds have been voted on and the first time they carried by a good majority but it was discovered that there was a small error in the voting which necessitated the second election.

A meeting will be held at the West Linn hall next Wednesday evening to decide on the time for the sale of the bonds and the length of time they are to cover.

PROBATE COURT

T. A. Roots filed Friday for the guardianship of the estate of James Thomas Knox, a minor, grandson of the late James W. Roots. His mother was a daughter of the deceased and there are three children. The estate consists of an interest in real estate valued at $2,000.

Portland Hog, Says Etheridge

The Portland hog, that animal with a cloven hoof and a curly tail, was to blame for the failure of the flying circus to visit Oregon City, according to John L. Etheridge, State Director of Organization, who, in a wire to Raymond P. Caufield, chairman for the Oregon City Victory Loan district, passes the buck to his Portland associates, naming no names.

We have often heard of the Salem hog, but it appears that the swine has moved to Portland, or maybe it's a brother of the original Salem hog.

Mr. Etheridge appears to be just as sore as the people of Oregon City are, and in a red hot telegram to Mr. Caufield, received Tuesday afternoon, he utters the following compliment about the people of the city of his abode:

"No one is more distressed over disappointment of people of Oregon City than State Director of Organization. We did everything that could possibly be done to get planes to you. It was nothing else than another demonstration of Portland's hogghishness. You might give them flying circus, sham battles, parades and then Portland can't beat Oregon City in patriotism.

"JOHN L. ETHERIDGE,
 "State Director of Organization."

GARY MOTOR TRUCKS WIN IN ROAD WORK COMPETITION

GARY 3 1/2 TON TRUCKS

Three Gary 3 1/2-ton Trucks, purchased by Kay County, Oklahoma, for public road work—after a competitive test with five other leading makes of trucks.

We now have twenty trucks on the way like those shown above, all equipped with 3 1/2 yard steel lined bodies, with Hydraulic Hoist, that we are bringing in for road construction work. These will be sold under the factory's absolute guarantee for the full period of one year.

GARY steel products lead the world. GARY Trucks are in the same class.
 Don't chance an unknown quality.

REPORT OF W. C. NORRIS CO.

Here is the report of the W. C. Norris Motor Sales Company, of Tulsa, Oklahoma, on the three trucks shown above, and covering their experience with motor trucks in general and GARY Trucks in particular.

"We have just closed the deal with the County Commissioners of Kay County for three GARY 3 1/2-ton trucks. We competed with five other makes, and outpulled them all. The performance of the trucks we frankly state is marvelous. The "H" and "HJ," 2 and 2 1/2-ton models with four speed transmission, outpull, overpower and outclass everything in their rated capacity; while the 3 1/2-ton is even greater in pulling power and load carrying capacity. We consider your worm drive, semi-floating Sheldon Axle as the only safe and sure form of construction for hard usage and to withstand the strain and abuse to which a truck is subjected in the oil fields and kindred lines of work. Our observation, experience and knowledge of actual results in meeting oil field requirements, with heavy loads and no roads, convinces us that GARY TRUCKS can be relied upon in every instance and will deliver a long life of service at a nominal upkeep and low cost of operation. We are for the GARY TRUCKS strong and shall concentrate our future efforts exclusively on the GARY line.

R. C. NORRIS MOTOR SALES CO.
 (Signed) N. D. Sutherland, Gen. Mgr.

Note: The W. C. Norris Motor Sales Company are a million dollar concern, and one of the largest in Oklahoma. After several years' experience with other lines of trucks, they have dropped them all and rely exclusively on GARY Trucks for heavy duty oil field work and for all purpose usage.

There is a Gary Truck for every purpose, one to five-ton sizes. All of the highest quality of design and construction. Certainty of Service is our slogan, and as WEST COAST FACTORY AGENCY we shall always be prepared to supply any duplicate part that may be required, and do any repair or service work necessary.

BREWSTER-BRIDGEPORT GROWERS, INC.

Producers, Packers and Shippers of Fine Apples.

Gentlemen: The 2-ton Gary Truck that we purchased from you in June, 1917, has been in service continuously since that time, and during the busy months of the fruit season we have operated the truck 24 hours a day. We have no trouble requiring no repairing or duplicate parts and did not have the truck in the shop until we sent it in to have the new tires put on.

We consider this a wonderful record and evidence of the highest standard of design, material and workmanship, to outwear a set of solid tires over rough roads, without having any repairing to the mechanical parts of the truck. The truck has been handled by one of our former teamsters, without truck experience, and he worked the truck over the rough roads that one will find mostly in our section. The GARY has the power and never fails to deliver the load. We think it is the best truck built, and give it our unqualified endorsement.

Yours very truly,

CAN YOU BEAT IT?

Mansfield, Wash., January 29, 1919.
 Gentlemen: You want to know how we like the 1 1/2-ton Gary Truck we bought in Spokane last July. We are more than pleased with it. We thought at the time we had bought the best, but we really got more than we expected. We have done lots of hauling and the truck is in just as good shape as ever. We have done more hauling than trucks lots larger, and with less expense. Yours truly,
