MRS. ALVINA WRIGHT, OF WILLAMETTE, DIES

DEATH COMES TO WIDOW OF LATE OREGON CITY MERCHANT AFTER LONG LINGERING ILLNESS.

Mrs. Alvina Wright, widow of the late William Wright, died at the family home at Willamette, Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock, after a lingering illness.

Mrs. Wright was a resident of Eugene before her marriage to Mr. Wright, and her maiden name was Miss Alvina Krause. She arrived in Oregon City shortly after her marriage, and her husband was in the shoe business here. He died in this city January 1, 1908. Shortly after his death she moved to Willamette, where she has since made her home. She has resided in Clackamas county for about 15 years.

Mrs. Wright is survived by two children, Miss Ruth, aged 17 years, and Raymond, aged 15 years; also three brothers, O. E. Krause and J. R. Krause, who are in the shoe business in Portland, and A. L. Krause, of Troy Grove, Ill.; three sisters, Mrs. Bertha Stephenson, of Anadarko, Oklahoma, Mrs. Minnie Moore, of Mendota, Ill., and Mrs. Edith Moore, of Portland.

The funeral services will be conducted at the Holman undertaking parlors, Fourth and Main streets, Friday morning at 11 o'clock, Rev. T. F. Bowen, of Portland, formerly rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church of this city, officiating. The interment will be in the family lot in Mountain View cemetery.

William Marshall died. William Marshall, who was engineer on the steamer Ruth several years ago, and is well known here, was buried in Portland Friday. He died at his home in that city Wednesday night after an illness of several weeks. Among the relatives he leaves in this country are Mrs. Wayne Wentworth and Mrs. Sylvia Midlam. His widow, who was Miss Beattie Midlam, of Canemah, before her marriage, survives him.

Mrs. Metzger saves life of companion. Mrs. Metzger and Mrs. Schweitzer went swimming in the lake, whose shore fringes on the north side and is considerably overgrown with marsh grass.

In diving, Mrs. Schweitzer became entangled in the reeds and in the endeavor to extricate herself went down twice before Mrs. Metzger came to her rescue.

In the resulting struggle Mrs. Metzger stayed with her friend until she herself was almost exhausted, after having been twice dragged down.

Convinced that her efforts were useless, Mrs. Metzger swam ashore, but, unable to give up the idea of making at least one more attempt to save her friend, she plunged back into the water, swam back to the place where Mrs. Schweitzer with great difficulty was able to keep her head above water.

In the second attempt both rescuer and rescued went down twice before the deep water of the lake was reached and the half-drowned Mrs. Schweitzer safely was towed to shore.

Charles Biers, of Salem, dies. L. E. Jones left for Salem Tuesday morning, having been called to that city by the sudden death of his brother-in-law, Charles Biers. Mr. Biers is well known in Oregon City, where he has visited on many occasions. He married Miss Lela Jones, a former Oregon City girl, and for a number of years has resided at Salem, where he has been connected with the Salem Woolen Mills company, as a salesman. Mr. Biers is also a second cousin of Judge Grant B. Dimick, of this city. He leaves his wife and son, Charles Biers, Jr., and his father, of Salem. He was about 34 years of age.

Three confessed boy thieves are released. Egan Conboy and Arthur Perry were released under $500 bail furnished by Mrs. M. L. W. A. LONG PLANS TO BUILD NEW THEATRE IN SUMMER OF 1917

W. A. Long, proprietor of the Star theatre, will build a modern theatre with a seating capacity of 1,000 persons next summer on his lot on Main street just north of the county building.

Mr. Long bought the property from T. L. Charman last spring and now has plans for the building which will be one of the most modern buildings in the state outside of Portland. The building will be two stories high and room will be provided for five offices and one small store room. An ornamental canopy will extend over the sidewalk in front of the lobby of the theatre.

The stage of the theatre will be large enough to accommodate road shows. White Brothers, of this city, designed the building, which will cost in the neighborhood of $30,000.

BRIDGE OF GODS IS MYTH? PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 29.—Comprehensive study of the Columbia river gorge from a geological viewpoint, which is being conducted by the Oregon bureau of mines and geology, has disproven Indian tradition regarding the "bridge of the gods," and the legends regarding the river at The Dalles.

The results of the work are to be embodied in a bulletin to be issued late this fall. Ira A. Williams, a member of the bureau, returned today from a trip over the highway and stated that the investigation is proceeding in a satisfactory manner and should lead to valuable historical discoveries.

More people are spending their vacations on national forests this summer than have ever done so before, many persons traveling long distances by automobile in order to camp in these public playgrounds.
