

Suffered For Years

There are many people who will be interested in the experience of Mrs. Julia Byard, Fort Benton, Mont. She writes:

"I suffered for years with gall-stones. A friend wrote me about Fruitola and Traxo. I started taking it and am completely cured now and feel better than I have felt for twenty years."

Mrs. Byard's testimony is similar to that of many who have given this remedy a chance to help them. Fruitola is a powerful lubricant for the intestinal organs, softening the hardened particles that cause so much suffering and expelling the congested waste in an easy, natural way. A single dose is usually sufficient to clearly indicate its efficacy. Traxo is a splendid tonic-alterative that acts on the liver and kidneys, stimulates the flow of gastric juices to aid digestion and removes bile from the general circulation.

Fruitola and Traxo are prepared in the Pinus laboratories at Monticello, Ill., and arrangements have been made to supply them through representative druggists. In Oregon City, Portland, Canby and Hubbard they can be obtained at the Huntley Bros. Co. stores.

VEDDER ELECTED

Board Elects Supervisor for Fourth Consecutive Term

The re-election of Brenton Vedder to the position of rural school supervisor for Clackamas county was announced on Tuesday by the county school board. Mr. Vedder has served four terms in the office to which he has been appointed again, and he is considered a very capable man.

Mr. Vedder is especially valuable to the county school system because of his close cooperation with the works and plans of the county superintendent. He and Mr. Calavan are responsible for many development projects in the schools and both are greatly interested in school club work. Mr. Vedder's work is especially in connection with the large number of rural schools in the county and he has visited every one of them many times, increasing the value of his work through acquaintance with every school teacher in the county.

Carver to Celebrate

No Fourth of July program has been arranged at Milwaukie as most of the residents will have to Carver on the Oregon City line, where an old fashioned Fourth of July celebration will take place. The Milwaukie Volunteer Firemen's band will furnish the music. There will be races and sports of all kinds besides an elimination series of baseball games in which the Clear Creek, M. Seller and Oregon City nines will participate.

OLDER BUT STRONGER

To be healthy at seventy, prepare at forty, is sound advice, because in the strength of middle life we too often forget that neglected colds, or careless treatment of slight aches and pains, simply undermine strength and bring chronic weakness for later years.

To be stronger when older, keep your blood pure and rich and active with the strength-building and blood-nourishing properties of Scott's Emulsion which is a food, a tonic and a medicine to keep your blood rich, alleviate rheumatism and avoid sickness. No alcohol in Scott's.

LOOP TRIP MAPPED

Valley Clubs Conceive Pleasant Sunday Trip for Motorists

Oregon City and Clackamas county generally figure prominently in the map of the new "Valley Loop" for Sunday motorists, which goes from Portland to McMinnville and Dallas, crosses the river to Salem and returns to Portland via the east side. And it is justly so, for this county has made greater road improvement than any other section to be traversed by the loop trip. The stretch of pavement between the county seat and the bridge beyond Parkplace will be a welcome feature of the "Valley Loop."

Leaving Portland the road leads via the Pacific highway to Newberg, Dundee, Lafayette and McMinnville, thence to Dallas, 65 miles from Portland. From Dallas to Independence and thence across the Willamette to Salem returning to Portland on the east side of the river by way of Chemawa, Gervais, Woodburn, Hubbard, Aurora and Oregon City.

In a comprehensive way the route embraces the lower Willamette valley and in distance includes 128 miles, just a nice day's journey.

Except in a few places the road is smooth and in good condition. A paved road leads out of Portland to the Washington county line. In Yamhill and Polk county oiled roads are found. Polk county has a 32 mile stretch. Marion county is considering oiling the road from Salem to the Clackamas line.

Catarrh Cannot Be Cured

with LOCAL APPLICATIONS, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions, and in order to cure it you must take an internal remedy. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally and acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. Hall's Catarrh Cure was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years. It is composed of some of the best tonics known, combined with some of the best blood purifiers. The perfect combination of the ingredients in Hall's Catarrh Cure is what produces such wonderful results in catarrhal conditions. Send for testimonials, free.

Plant Is Moved

Before next week the county paving plant which has been operated at Parkplace for several weeks, will be set up and ready for work at Will's gravel pit on the Estacada car line close to Wichita station, according to the statement of Roadmaster Roots. The county court plans this time to surface the highway between Milwaukie and Sellwood and will later improve other roads in the northern part of the county. This outline of work will probably cover the entire summer and it will be next year before the plant can be removed to other parts of the county for much needed work.

Passing in Review

News of the Week from War Zones of Europe and Mexico

Fighting activity in the western theatre on the fronts occupied by the British and the north wing of the French army was important and has been so for the past several days, says the official statement issued early in the week by the German army headquarters.

A detachment of 125 Mexican cavalrymen appeared Monday beyond the border line, causing a flurry of excitement among residents, who feared they were the advance guard of an attacking force. Colonel W. H. Sage dispatched a company of infantry to the line to reinforce the guard. After riding to within a block of the boundary the Mexicans withdrew about a half mile.

For those who would keep in touch with the activity of the armies of the several belligerent European nations as well as the United States, which is threatened with a serious Mexican crisis, The Courier presents a brief review of the most prominent phases of the situation. In these short reviews a thorough presentation of the battles, the diplomatic affairs and the naval engagements of the troops at war will be offered each week.

The troops of the Oregon National guard are rushing to the Mexican border slightly sooner than was at first expected, because of the receipt from the war department of a message saying: "Send troops without delay as soon as equipped; waive physical examination." The citizen soldiers of this state have been dispatched to the border in the vicinity of San Diego, Cal., in command of Colonel Clegg, and in command of Colonel Clegg, and in command of Colonel Clegg.

Mobilization of the national guard of the three western seaboard states was practically completed Monday. All Oregon's militia men were awaiting orders at Camp Withycombe and the remaining four companies of the California and Washington regiments were expected to arrive Tuesday at the camp at Sacramento and American Lake, respectively. The Montana national guard was ready for orders Monday, five companies which had been delayed by washouts, having arrived yesterday.

South and Central American republics will not offer mediation to the United States in the Mexican crisis at this time. This announcement was made this week by Minister Calderon of Bolivia, after a conference with Secretary Lansing. Mr. Calderon said the secretary had indicated that the United States considered this was not the time for mediation. The minister added, however, that the Latin American countries might consider the subject again after the United States had received a reply to the de facto government of Mexico.

The American consulate at Torreon, Mexico, was demolished last week by a mob of 3000 civilians led by the mayor of the city and a Carranza army band, according to American refugees coming from that city. According to the narrators the populace was attending a bullfight when the de facto government troops forced them to join in an anti-American demonstration. The mob rushed through the streets shouting: "Death to all Gringos," and upon reaching the consulate tore up the furniture and destroyed the building.

General John J. Pershing's expeditionary force in Mexico is ready for action if necessary. According to the best information here, his southernmost outpost is in the vicinity of El Valle, less than fifty miles from Colonia Dublan, the main base. It is believed that from El Valle a large and mobile force may be pointed eastward in a strategic position, toward the Mexican Central railroad. In the neighborhood of 12,000 men, in splendid fighting trim, compose General Pershing's army. Reports from the front indicate the highest morale among the men.

The Austrians have definitely abandoned their offensive in the southern Tyrol and are falling back, according to reports from the Italian front. The Verdun battle, by all accounts now in the crucial stage, was continued Monday with the French repulsing German attempts to advance, according to the Paris war office. The French claim to have regained ground. Probably preparatory to an effort to bring their lines west of the Meuse up to those of the east bank, the Germans are vigorously bombarding French positions in the former section.

The Russian offensive, notwithstanding its initial successes, has not availed to stay the fate of hard-pressed Verdun, where the Germans gained the most important individual success for some time. Their objective was the ridge known as Cote de Froide Terre, or Cold Earth ridge, which rises on the east bank of the river and runs northeasterly until it culminates in the peak crowned by Douaumont. The ridge and all the fortifications were carried, and the Germans swept down the reverse side until they set foot in the village of Fleury. With the earlier gains at Vaux, this brings the German crown prince's forces into touch with the whole northern front of the inner girdle of the fortress from Fort de Belleville on the east bank of the river, over the Souville redoubt crowning 388 Metre Hill to Fort Tannet, at the northeast corner of Verdun's inside lines of defenses.

GIRL BROUGHT HOME

Constable Frost Uncovers Obscene and Melodramatic Affair

Some of the vile and sensational motion pictures that find their way into public attention have nothing on the story told by Constable Frost, who returned on Tuesday afternoon from The Dalles with a young woman in charge.

Last week Constable Frost heard the tearful plea of a father whose daughter had left her employment in Oregon City at the behest of Albert A. Wilson of Portland, a married man. Upon the promise of marriage the young woman accompanied Wilson to The Dalles and when the constable found them they were employed at a cherry orchard where they were supposed to be married. The local officer caused the arrest of both Wilson and the Clackamas county girl and the former is held in the Wasco county jail under a charge of white slavery. The girl was returned to her home near Oregon City after her father had posted a bond of $200 to insure her appearance later in Wasco county to answer to a serious charge.

The young woman had been employed at the woolen mills here and worked for a short time in a local restaurant. She attended a dance where Wilson was a guest and he enticed her into eloping with him. The wife of Wilson was in Oregon City in connection with the case on Tuesday.

If You Like Curry.

LAMB CURRY.—Cut the meat in small pieces (inferior portions, such as the neck, can be utilized in a curry), dip in flour and fry in hot olive oil, pork fat or butter, until a rich brown. Mince or slice an onion and fry in the same way. Then put into a saucepan, cover with boiling water and simmer until the bones and gristly pieces will slip out. When the meat is sufficiently tender add a cupful each of strained tomato and rice, then a little celery cut fine or celery salt to season, with salt, paprika and a little curry powder. Cook ten minutes longer and serve.

Curry Sauce.—This is nice with any delicate meat or fish or can be poured over boiled rice for a side dish. Put two tablespoonsful of butter in a saucepan, then stir into it two tablespoonsful of flour. Add a scant tablespoonful of onion juice and a teaspoonful of onion juice and cook a moment or two, but do not allow them to brown. Stir in gradually a cupful of cream, season with salt and just before serving, add, if you like, a hard boiled egg chopped fine.

Tomato Curry to Serve With Roast Veal or Lamb.—Mix a tablespoonful of curry powder with a quart of cooked and seasoned tomato. Put in a buttered baking dish in alternate layers with uncooked rice, using a cupful of the rice in all. Cover the top of the dish with buttered breadcrumbs, cover and bake an hour or until the rice is done.

Curried Beans.—Soak half a pint of butter beans for a couple of hours and then boil them in salted water until they are tender. After draining them well, season with salt and pepper and put them aside until they are required. Cut a large onion into slices, chop it coarsely and put it into a stewpan containing three tablespoonsful of butter. Add two tomatoes, sliced and cut into small pieces, and as soon as the onion begins to acquire a golden color sprinkle in a tablespoonful of curry powder and let it cook very gently for ten minutes. Pour in three cupfuls of boiling water, and when the sauce has boiled draw the pan to the side of the stove and let it simmer gently for a quarter of an hour. Then add a tablespoonful of tomato ketchup, a teaspoonful of vinegar, two teaspoonfuls of lemon juice and the beans. Cover with buttered paper and place the stewpan in a moderate hot oven for an hour. The curry should be carefully stirred once or twice during the time, and the heat should not be allowed to increase or the curry will be too dry when done.

Shindler Appointed
Leo Shindler has been appointed to serve out the unexpired term of Councilman H. N. Hopkins, who resigned from the aldermanic body of Milwaukie recently. It is expected that another resignation will be handed in as the result of disaffection in the council. The water rate will be reduced from 30 cents per 100 cubic feet to 15 cents per 100 cubic feet. A minimum rate will be established as soon as the Bull Run system has been completely installed. Island station probably will be furnished with Bull Run water too.

Milwaukie Would Organize
Colonel C. U. Gantenbein, to be commander of the proposed regiment of volunteer soldiers in this state, has received an application from certain patriotic citizens of Milwaukie asking for permission to organize a company of infantry in that city. There are a number of former regular soldiers as well as guardsmen and ex-officers making their homes in Milwaukie and the applicants are confident that they would recruit, in a short time, a very creditable command.

A large number of Clackamas county young people were at the Oaks last evening to attend the annual outing of the Portland O. A. C. club. The former collegians assembled from the vicinity of Portland and enjoyed a bountiful basket luncheon before the program was turned over to speakers and to dancing at the Oaks park hall.
