TO AID FAMILIES

Commercial Club Takes Charge of Campaign for Funds

The matter of handling the relief work among the families of members of G company, O. N. G., who have gone to the front with their troops, has been taken over by the Commercial club, through the board of governors and a special committee and plans are under way that will insure the proper attention to the needs of those who were left behind when the sudden call to arms was sounded.

A meeting of business men was held at the Commercial club yesterday and after considerable debate Judge J. U. Campbell stopped the proceedings with a motion that the board of governors of the club be empowered to meet any immediate demands with funds from the club treasury and that a committee of five be appointed to devise the most suitable means for raising a relief fund.

It is proposed to have the board of governors, in cooperation with the special committee and a ladies' auxiliary that is being formed, take charge of the expenditure of the money that is subscribed. The ladies will probably determine where to place the money to the best advantage. There are approximately 15 men in G company who have left wives and children at home and most of these will appreciate the assistance given by the club and those interested in the relief work.

The special committee appointed by O. D. Eby, president of the Commercial club, who presided at the meeting yesterday, comprises: J. E. Jack, F. B. Schoenborn, G. A. Harding, O. D. Eby and M. D. Latourette.

LECTURE ON SCIENCE

Fine Introduction by Local Member of Christian Science Church

An appreciative audience listened to Prof. Hermann S. Hering, who is a member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship of Boston, Mass., speak on the subject of Christian Science, Tuesday evening at the high school auditorium.

Rev. Moore, in introducing the lecturer, said: "Confronting the people of this generation is a phenomenon which cannot be disposed of by denunciation, criticism, or indifference. Thirty odd years ago, on Tremont street, Boston, Mass., my attention was attracted to a card tacked upon the door of a public hall. The writing on this card stated that on that afternoon Christian Science services would be held in that hall and that Mrs. Eddy would be present and would conduct the meeting. I was not particularly interested in the subject matter of this announcement save only that it afforded me an opportunity to ascertain exactly how many people the city of Boston contained who were willing to spend an hour that quiet Sunday afternoon in the consideration of a subject, which, at that time, was just beginning to attract slight attention by its new and radical religious statements.

"Twenty-four persons constituted the sum of this audience, and I have a right to suppose that Mrs. Eddy, herself, helped to swell the number of this audience to an even two dozen.

"Mr. Calvin A. Frye C. S. D., the new president of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, states that thirty-four years ago—namely in 1882—he attended a Christian Science meeting in Lynn, Mass., in the parlor of Mrs. Eddy, where the audience consisted of eighteen persons, and the favored hearers were seated on camp stools while listening to strange but simple and helpful words as they fell from the lips of the new prophetess, Mrs. Eddy.

"Behold the change which this third of a century has wrought. Today in Boston is located the great First Church of Christ, Scientist, affectionately known as The Mother Church. This church comfortably seats about five thousand worshippers, and twice every Sunday and on every Wednesday evening it is crowded with throngs who come together to participate in the simple services.

"Christian Science churches encircle the globe, and the cause of Christian Science is making phenomenal growth, year by year, throughout the world.

"In the last ten years the number of churches has increased from 949 to more than 1600, and the number of members of the Mother Church has increased one-hundred-sixteen per cent in the same time. Hundreds of thousands of people of respectability and thoughtfulness are testifying to the comforting and health restoring power of the truth which is contained in the bible as interpreted by the Christian Science Text Book, Science and Health, by Mrs. Eddy.

"The publications of the Christian Science church in Boston, Mass., The Journal, the Sentinel, and the Monitor, have gained unprecedented popularity, and authority. And the gift of $193,544.00 to the relief fund for the war sufferers in Europe evince that Christian Scientists are in no sense devoid of true and substantial sympathy with those in poverty and distress.

"Here then is a phenomenon which must be reckoned with, calmly, prayerfully, without reference to creeds and systems of theology and therapeutics. Reason and conscience unite in the demand that we apply our hearts to the solution of this problem.

"A gentleman is present who knows the Truth, who possesses the ability to speak the Truth, and to instruct us in the Truth. I bespeak for him a most thoughtful and sympathetic hearing."

Gladstone Man Answers Charge Against Him
