BRITONS HAVE 2500 BIPLANES READY FOR GREATEST AIR BATTLES IN HISTORY.

LONDON, June 17.—Sky battles on a scale such as the world has never dreamed possible are in prospect in the near future.

For six months factories of Great Britain and the United States have been working day and night turning out aeroplanes that England may assert her supremacy of the air as well as upon the seas. It is known that German factories have been working overtime since September. Zeppelins, of the latest and most powerful type, have been turned out from the factories of Friedrichshafen in numbers which convinced the British authorities that only the most formidable aeroplane fleet could hope to guard England against an overwhelming attack.

The British air fleet is now composed of 2500 biplanes and monoplanes and about 50 dirigibles. The German admiralty places less reliance in aeroplanes than the British, and now has less than 2000 Tanbers, but the fleet of Zeppelin cruisers is declared to be the greatest strength.

Publication of the fact that England was making every effort to strengthen the aerial arm of her war machine, and had succeeded, was not permitted until announcement was made in the house of commons yesterday by Harold J. Tennant, under secretary for war, that the number of British aeroplanes had been increased tenfold since the war began. He added that new machines of greater power and increased carry capacity were also in course of construction.

A general Zeppelin raid upon London is anticipated, but assurances are now given that steps have been taken to meet the German airships with the greatest fleet of aeroplanes ever assembled.

The admiralty has added nothing to its statement of yesterday regarding the latest raid on the northeast coast which occurred Tuesday night. Sixteen persons were killed and as many more were injured.

HISTORIC PLANT GOES TO STATE UNIVERSITY

EUGENE, Ore., June 12.—The entire plant, except the old Washington hand press, of the Oregon State Journal, a pioneer paper of the state, published continuously in Eugene for over 45 years until May, 1910, by H. R. Kincaid, of this city, has been donated by Mr. Kincaid to the University of Oregon. The plant will form a nucleus of the printing plant to be established at the university and authorized by the board of regents at its recent meeting.

The old newspaper press, which was one of the first to be used in this state, will be loaned to the university and it will be used to some extent in the new plant, but it is Mr. Kincaid's desire that upon his death it shall go to the state historical society.

This press was brought to Oregon around Cape Horn in the '50's and was first used in printing the Oregon Spectator, one of the first publications of the state, at Oregon City. As the plant was being moved to Eugene from Oregon City the steamboat on which it was shipped sank in the Willamette river and the press lay in the bottom of the river for several weeks before the wreck was raised.

DR. SOMMER LOSES IN RACE FOR DIRECTOR

FORMER OREGON CITY PHYSICIAN DEFEATED IN PORTLAND SCHOOL ELECTION.

PORTLAND, Ore., June 19.—Samuel P. Lockwood, without doubt has been elected a member of the board of education of school district No. 1, to succeed Dr. E. A. Sommer who has been decisively defeated on early return in the school election held today in Portland.

At 9 o'clock 38 of the 45 precincts, returned a complete vote as follows: For Lockwood..... 3873 For Sommer..... 1640

Lockwood's majority..... 2233 Dr. Sommer, who was a candidate to succeed himself carried only two precincts of 32 reported complete. They were precincts No. 4 (Atkinson school) which he carried by one vote 16 to 15, and precinct No. 13 (old Failing school), which he carried 66 to 61.

It is estimated that hardly more than 6000 votes were cast during the hours from 12 noon until 8 p. m., when the polls were closed. The city was divided into 45 school precincts for voting purposes, groups of regular election precincts being combined as to their polling places, which were nearly all in schoolhouses.

JOHN BASSETT MOORE MAY SUCCEED LANSING IN STATE DEPARTMENT

JOHN BASSETT MOORE

WASHINGTON, June 21.—Immediately after Mr. Bryan resigned as secretary of state President Wilson sent for John Bassett Moore, and they had a long talk. Mr. Moore was counsel to the state department and resigned owing to differences with Mr. Bryan. He was succeeded by Robert Lansing, here was considerable speculation as to the reason for Mr. Moore's sudden summons. Some thought it possible that he would be offered the state portfolio, while others said that he might succeed Mr. Lansing in the event of Mr. Lansing being elevated to the secretaryship of state.

LAUNCH DREADNOUGHT ARIZONA SATURDAY

MISS ESTHER ROSS IS SPONSOR FOR UNITED STATES GREAT-EST BATTLESHIP.

 DIMENSIONS OF THE ARIZONA ***
* Displacement, 11,400 tons.
* Speed, 18 knots.
* Length, 500 feet.
* Breadth, 97 ft. 10 inches.
* Armament, 12 fourteen-inch guns; 21 five-inch guns; 4 six pounders; 4 2-inch submerged torpedo tubes.

NEW YORK, June 17.—The super-dreadnought Arizona, built by the United States navy department, will be launched at the navy yard here Saturday afternoon. All arrangements have been completed, and naval officials with invited guests are gathering for the event. On invitation of Secretary Daniels the sponsor has been named by Governor George W. P. Hunt of Arizona, and will be Miss Esther Ross of Preston, Ariz.

As soon as the Arizona takes the water, the keel will be laid for the still greater super-dreadnought California, which is also to be built at the local yard. The Arizona is the fourth of the greatest battleships built in New York, the others having been the old flagship Connecticut, the dreadnought Florida and the super-dreadnought New York. The Arizona will be entirely completed and ready to take her place in the battle fleet by next spring.

The hope is entertained here that President Wilson will be able to make the trip from Washington tomorrow to witness the launching. Secretary Daniels is expected, also Assistant Secretary Franklin D. Roosevelt, Admiral Fletcher and his staff, Admiral Dewey, Governor Whitman, and a large delegation from New York will attend and the launching will take on the atmosphere of a big festival.

Miss Esther Ross, who will christen the giant warship is a typical western girl. She is only 17. She will not use champagne to christen the vessel, but will break over the nose of the Arizona a bottle of water taken from the first flow over the spillways of the great Roosevelt dam in her native state.

A Curious Needle.
A curious needle was once in the possession of Queen Victoria. It was made at the celebrated needle factory at Redditch and represents the column of Trajan in miniature.

This Roman column is adorned with numerous scenes in sculpture, and on the needle (which was presented to the queen on her visit to the famous factory in December, 1864) scenes in her life are presented in relief, but so small that it requires a powerful magnifying glass to see them clearly.

This "Victoria" needle can, moreover, be opened and contains a number of needles of smaller size, which are also adorned with scenes in relief. —London Spare Moments.

"Astoria's reclamation service," says the Budget, "is attracting widespread attention. Even old-time residents wonder why the work was not undertaken many years ago. All confess the future of Astoria has a permanent forecast for a substantial development."

"It says here that some noted scientists have decided that animals have a keener sense of smell than humans because they do not kiss," said the old fogey. "It is claimed that kissing destroys the sense of smell."

"It is a cinch that the lad who made that discovery never kissed a girl who had been eating onions," replied the grinch.

Mean Brute!
"Isn't this terrible!" exclaimed Mrs. Gabb as she looked up from the newspaper which she was reading. "It says here that a man traded his wife to another man for a mule."

"It is terrible," agreed Mr. Gabb. "The man who gave the mule for the woman must be a hopeless idiot."

Things to Worry About.
The earth is shrinking about two inches each year.

Our Daily Special.
If you keep on bragging some one may ask you to produce the goods.

Luke McLuke Says:
A few women wear well. But most of them wear out.

When they are first married they have to hug and kiss for ten minutes in the hall before he can leave the house to go to work. But about a year later, when he says goodby in the morning, she turns one side of her face to him and he pecks at it with his lips as if he was afraid he might touch it and get poisoned.

Next to paying an old bar bill, paying for a suit of clothes after it is worn out is the hardest job.

Why is it that you can't get a bald-headed man into a front seat in church and that you can't keep him out of one in a theater?

A woman and a phonograph can always speak for themselves.

A man never gets any credit. If he talks in his sleep and says nice things about his wife she knows that he is just pretending to be asleep and is handing out a little salve because he knows she is listening.

The reason why the debutante in a self made family likes to hear her mother tell people about the time when she took in washing is because it tickles her all over to hear her father tell his friends about how they used to live in one room and had to use the bed as a dining table.

There are not many sure things in the world. But one of them is that you will never get $1,000,000 by sitting down and figuring what you would do with it if you had it.

A single woman speaks of "the dining room," "the buffet," or "the rug." But a married woman speaks of "my dining room," "my buffet" and "my rug."

Lots of men who whip their children for telling lies will go out and use decoy ducks when they are hunting.

Any old time a notice states that there are a "few choice seats left," it means that darn few seats have been sold.

There are a lot of high toned Christians who hope that heaven will be a big place, because it would be very embarrassing to have to come into contact with a lot of common people up there.

A Small Detail.
Enthusiastic Reporter to city editor: I've got a story here about a man who drank poison, cut an artery in his wrist, shot himself and jumped into the river in an attempt to commit suicide. Somebody pulled him out, sent him to a hospital, and he's going to live.

It's a cracking good yarn. City Editor—What's his name? Reporter—I didn't bother to get that. I thought you would want just the big features for the noon edition and I would get the details afterward.—Pittsburgh Press.

GENERAL VILLA NOW SAID TO BE READY FOR PEACE MOVEMENT

GENERAL VILLA

It is said that Mexican identified with the Villa-Zapala movement are trying to bring about a reconciliation with the Carranzas faction with the view of establishing a government that could claim recognition at the hands of the United States. Eliseo Arredondo, Washington representative of General Carranza, received a message from a Carranza command on the border saying he had been approached by a Villa official, speaking presumably with authority, to learn what could be done to initiate peace negotiations. The message was forwarded without comment by Mr. Arredondo to General Carranza at Vera Cruz.

GERMAN SPY IS SHOT IN TOWER OF LONDON

LONDON, June 23.—The German spy, Muller, was shot in the Tower of London. It was officially announced today. Rosenthal, Muller's companion, who was arrested with him, will be tried later. This is the second time since the beginning of the war that the grim announcement of a spy being shot in the historic tower has been made. The first spy to be shot was Hans Lody. Muller was tried, as was Lody, by a military court and sentenced to death.
