

LOCALS

W. S. Watson, who resides on Route 2, near Logan, was among the Oregon City visitors Saturday. Mr. Watson brought in some samples of his grain, which has been placed on exhibit at the Beale Brothers' commission house at Eleventh and Main streets. Among these samples are those of Siberia and Amber wheat. Mr. Watson has resided in Clackamas county for the past three years, coming from Portland. He also has planted a large portion of his ground to oats, and says they are among the finest grown in that section, and that he expects a large crop. Mr. Watson prefers the Siberian wheat to the Amber, and says that his crop is now measuring over six feet high. Threshing will start at the Watson place in a short time, and it is believed the wheat will go about 40 bushels to the acre. Mr. Watson expects to exhibit some of his Siberian and Amber wheat at the coming county fair.

George Buck, prominent farmer of Clackamas county, whose stock and poultry farm is located in the Beaver Creek country, was among those to transact business here Wednesday. Mr. Buck came here to secure some full-blooded White Leghorns he purchased recently from the Lahr poultry farms at Lenta. There were 100 in the flock purchased. Mr. Buck has 100 more at his farm. Mr. Buck says the grain in his section is being threshed, and he thinks his oats will go about 60 or 70 bushels to the acre, and the wheat will go about 50 or more. The farmers of his section are pleased over the condition of their crops, and there will be many farmers of that section threshing during the coming week.

Dell Hart, who has been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Hart, and other relatives in this city, has returned to his home at Vancouver, Wash. Mr. Hart, who has been connected with the Pendleton Woolen Mills for several years, assisted in establishing the Bishop Brothers Woolen Mills at Vancouver, where the company is specializing in manufacturing woolen socks. Mr. Hart was for some time superintendent of the carding department of the Oregon City Manufacturing Company, going from this city to Pendleton.

M. D. Latourette is enjoying his vacation at his farm located near Crescent. Mr. Latourette is to spend his vacation improving his property and also cutting his winter's wood. Most says he did not know he had so much muscle while performing his duties in the First National Bank until he commenced to whack into the big trees on his farm. He is contemplating holding a woodcutting bee in the near future at which time only those familiar with handling the axe will be allowed to come. "Tenderfoots" will not be tolerated.

Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Rosebraugh of Jennings Lodge have just returned from a ten-days' stay at the beach. A number of the beach resorts were visited and enjoyed. Mr. and Mrs. Rosebraugh motored to Tillamook, spending a few days at Netarts, and proceeding to Seaside, returning by way of Astoria. They found the roads in good shape except for the places that are being graded and paved. They found Oregon City well represented at all resorts, and all seemed to be enjoying the good weather.

Harvey Boylan, who was one of the youngest, if not the youngest boy in his regiment serving his country in France, has arrived here from Portland, and is visiting his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. D. Alldredge, of 816 Pierce street. Boylan was 15 years of age when entering the service, and has been in France for the past two years. He recently returned to his home in Portland. Boylan made his home in this city at the Alldredge home for some time before entering the service.

Swafford, and her brother, George Swafford, left for her home Wednesday evening. Mrs. Hicks was accompanied as far as St. Paul, Minn., by Miss Agnes Harris, who is to teach for a year in her old home state, Ohio, having had a leave of absence of a year from the Oregon City schools.

Mrs. George McLaughlin and daughters, Verna and Evelyn, of Ocean Falls, B. C., left for their home Wednesday morning, after visiting among relatives in Clackamas county for the past two months. Among the relatives visited were Mrs. McLaughlin's sisters, Mrs. Welke, Mrs. Emma Freyfar, Mrs. William Kraxberger, of this city; Mrs. H. Moehke, of Beaver Creek; Mrs. F. J. Kraxberger, of Macksburg. She also visited her father, A. Klebe, of Oregon City.

J. P. Lovett, Captain Young and D. M. Shanks formed an airplane party that left Oregon City for Canby Tuesday morning, and after arriving at that city had the pleasure of making an ascent that they will not soon forget. An ex-army officer arrived in Canby Monday morning and did a rushing business, even better than in Portland. There was such a demand for rides in the airplane that it was necessary for the owner to remain in town for a second day.

Captain and Mrs. Charles Parker arrived in Portland Thursday evening, and were met in that city by Dr. and Mrs. Clyde Mount and Mrs. Parker's mother, Mrs. May Russell. Captain Parker recently returned from France, and is to receive his discharge from the service at Camp Lewis, Wash., after visiting in this city for a few days. He will also visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Parker in Salem, before proceeding to Camp Lewis.

Mrs. H. Douglass, of Canby, was in Oregon City Monday afternoon. Mrs. Douglass returned from Eastern Nebraska a short time ago. She was accompanied to Nebraska by her children, Cora and Lewis. They were the guests of relatives for six weeks, and experienced such warm weather that Mrs. Douglass is now complaining of the cold weather here, but says there is no place like Oregon.

W. A. Carlson, of Redland, one of the prominent farmers of Clackamas county, was among the Oregon City visitors Thursday. Mr. Carlson brought in a sample of his wheat. He is one of the foremost stock breeders of pure-blooded stock in the state and is specializing in breeding the Holstein cattle. He sold a few days ago a six months' old Holstein animal for $150.

Grandma Shrum, of The Dalles, Oregon, arrived in Oregon City Tuesday morning and will spend the remainder of the week as a guest of Mrs. N. M. Alldredge. Mrs. Shrum has been visiting her son at Monroe, Wash.; a grandson, Norman Shrum, at Bremerton, Wash.; a granddaughter, Mrs. R. O. Bradley, of Hillsboro, and her niece, Mrs. W. W. Wells, of Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. George Howell and sons, Richard and Raymond, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Pearson and family, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Bond and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Roake, who formed a camping party making headquarters at Cannon Beach, Oregon, have returned to Oregon City. They secured plenty of clams and other sea fish, and had a most delightful outing.

Mr. Boyer, an old Oregon pioneer, and veteran of the battle of Gettysburg, whose home is near Molalla, was among the Oregon City visitors Wednesday. While here he visited among some of his old time friends. Mr. Boyer was among those receiving wounds while in action, and was in the thickest of the fight of the big battle.

William Weismandel, of Bozeman, Montana, has arrived in Oregon City, where he is visiting his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Casper Weismandel, and his cousins, William and Chris Weismandel. Mr. Weismandel is making his annual visit in Portland, attending the Buyers' Week session. He is in business in Montana.

Marie and Raymond Schneider, of Needy, spent Saturday and Sunday at Gladstone as guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Noe. This was their first visit to Gladstone and Portland, as well as Oregon City. They were taken to Portland by Mr. and Mrs. Noe on Sunday and were given the time of their lives visiting the city park.

F. G. Eby, attorney, who has been associated with his brother, O. D. Eby, in the law business in Oregon City, has gone to Oakland, Calif., where he will practice law. Before coming to Oregon City over a year ago Mr. Eby practiced his profession at Sacramento, and will visit that city while enroute to Oakland.

N. A. Kidder, employed by the Jackson Lumber Company, and for the present with his family at Newberg, where he is getting out timber for the company, was in Oregon City on business Wednesday. Mr. Kidder expects to return with his family in September to resume his residence at West Linn.

Jack Rheima, prominent farmer, has a number of samples of his grain at the Beale Brothers' commission house, and among these is two-row barley, and wheat. Harry Moorehouse, of Beaver Creek, and Frank Rees, of Highland, are also showing oats and wheat that are attracting attention.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Keith and children, now making their home in the Toole residence during the absence of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Beckman and daughter, are to occupy the residence of Judge Grant B. Dimick on Fourteenth and Main streets. They will take possession within a short time.

Mrs. Bertha Adams, who has been taking a special course in library work at the University of Oregon at Eugene, has returned to Oregon City and resumed her duties as librarian at the library in this city. Miss Esther Harris has been acting as librarian during the absence of Mrs. Adams.

Mrs. and Mrs. Everett Downey and daughter, Virginia, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Gurley of Willamette, left last Thursday for their summer home, the "Honeybrook," at Seaside, where they are to spend the month of August. They made the trip by automobile, and camped while enroute.

George Reddaway, of Stone, formerly of this city, was among the Oregon City visitors Wednesday. Mr. Reddaway is engaged in farming, his farm being located on the banks of the Clackamas, where he is specializing in water melons. He is looking forward to having a good crop this season.

Mrs. B. H. Stewart of Linn's Old Mill, was among the Oregon City visitors Saturday, bringing the Enterprise some of the delicious early apples that are grown on the Stewart farm. The apple trees on this farm are heavily laden this year, and the crop will be unusually large.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Dodd, of Clackamas Heights, are receiving congratulations over the arrival of a daughter, weight 12 pounds, born Thursday afternoon, July 31. The little one made her appearance into the world at the hospital of Mrs. Barlow at Eleventh and John Adams streets.

Mrs. Laura R. Mack and son, Charles, who have been at Sheridan, Oregon, since June, have returned to Oregon City, and have taken up their residence on Tenth and Harrison streets. Mrs. Mack is the instructor in the art department of the Oregon City high school.

J. W. Cole, of Liberal, was among the Oregon City visitors Saturday. He formerly resided in Oregon City, but now owns one of the most attractive homes in the Molalla country. He was accompanied by his brother-in-law, E. R. Rehner, also formerly of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Freytag and Mrs. Alice McKinney of Gladstone left Wednesday evening for Newport, where they are to enjoy the sea breezes for several weeks. They are making the trip by automobile and will occupy a cottage upon reaching their destination.

Corporal Charles Riley, who has been with the 23rd Engineers and stationed in France, has returned to Oregon City. Corporal Riley has been visiting relatives in the East, and for the present is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lindquist, of Willamette.

L. A. Pearson, who arrived with his family in Oregon City last winter from Nebraska, left Wednesday evening to look after the harvesting of his crops on his Nebraska farm. Mr. Pearson has decided to make his future home in Clackamas county.

Mrs. J. G. Noe, who has been at W. Oodburn for the past two weeks, where she has been acting postmistress during the absence of the postmaster, has returned to Gladstone. Mrs. Noe, before her marriage, was assistant at that office.

Mrs. George Howell has gone to Iowa and Nebraska, where she is to visit relatives for three months. Among the relatives to be visited will be Mrs. Howell's mother. This is the first time Mrs. Howell has visited her old home in 12 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Burr Tatro of this city are receiving congratulations over the arrival of a son, born August 6 at the Barlow Maternity Hospital at Eleventh and John Adams streets. Mr. Tatro is an instructor of the Oregon City high school.

"If you have any good apples, potatoes, beef or other farm produce for sale see F. T. Barlow at C. W. Inn, West Linn, and he will pay you cash on delivery. Phone Pacific 608."—Adv.

OREGON CITY MAN IS APPOINTED AGENT OF STEAMSHIP COMPANY

Fred C. Charman, a former Oregon City young man, born and raised here, who has for the past year been agent for the China Mail Steamship Company with headquarters at Shanghai, China, has been appointed agent of the Admiral line, with headquarters in Shanghai.

Mr. Charman has had much experience in the shipping trade, and was with the Admiral Line for a number of years with headquarters at Seattle, before going to China. This line has recently established offices at Shanghai. The Admiral line is a consolidation of several steamship companies operating on the Pacific Coast, and owns 27 ships, which are operated on the Pacific routes. Thirty-five steamers have been assigned to the line by the United States Shipping Board, and are running on various routes out of Seattle and Portland. The Shipping Board has allotted the company seven 10,000 ton steamers for operation between Seattle and Portland and the Far East. The company plans to operate passenger ships on the Pacific at a later date.

Mr. Charman has also been connected with the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, having been purser on several of the large vessels of that company, with headquarters at San Francisco.

MANUAL TRAINING INSTRUCTOR NAMED AT BOARD MEETING

At the regular meeting of the school board held Monday evening Miss Helen Leathers, recently of the Burton, Wash., high school, was elected to the position of instructor in the manual training department of the Oregon City schools. Miss Leathers has been named as manual training instructor for the new West Linn high school and will devote her time equally between the two schools.

The school board at its meeting last night also voted to increase the salaries of the janitors of the city schools from $70 to $80 per month to meet the increased cost of living.

HAWLEY PULP TEAM DEFEATS OSWEGO TEAM IN CONTEST

The Hawley Pulp & Paper mill company's baseball team defeated the Oswego team at the latter's ball field last Sunday by the score of 8 to 2. The battery for the Millworkers was Rowin and Endres, and that of the Oswego organization was Anderson and Anderson. A return game is being arranged for.

BARRETT STOCK IS BOUGHT BY LARSEN & COMPANY OF THIS CITY

E. S. Larsen, of Larsen & Company, who is in charge of a grocery store at St. Helena, has arrived in Oregon City to remain for about ten days. Mr. Larsen has purchased the stock of groceries of the Barrett Company that failed recently, and will conduct a sale for eight days. Mr. Larsen still retains his business here at Tenth and Main streets, and is doing well since starting in business at St. Helena.

Pains in the side are most promptly relieved by the application of mustard.

OREGON RESIDENT WHO CROSSED PLAINS DEAD IN CALIFORNIA

Mrs. Mary A. Hurley, one of the early Oregon pioneers, former resident of Oregon City and Portland, died Sunday morning at 2:30 o'clock at Santa Barbara, Calif., at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Carrie Davis.

Mrs. Hurley was born at Springfield, Illinois, December 15, 1842, and was the daughter of the late General M. M. and Mary Anne McCarver, prominent early Oregon pioneers. Coming across the plains in the year of 1845 with her mother, where she joined General McCarver, who had come to Oregon City the year previous, Mrs. Hurley spent her childhood days on the McCarver Donation land claim at Mount Pleasant, now known as the Warner farm. She was united in marriage to Mr. Hurley in 1858 at Mount Pleasant, and left soon after for Lewiston, Idaho, where she made her home for some time, later coming to Oregon City, where she remained for many years. While in Oregon City Mrs. Hurley was an active member of St. Paul's Episcopal church, and was a charter member of St. Paul's Guild of that church.

After residing here Mrs. Hurley moved to Portland, where she remained until going to California nine years ago, where she has since resided. For a number of years she has made her home at Coronado, Calif., and recently left for Santa Barbara for the benefit of her health.

Mrs. Hurley is well and favorably known by many of the Oregon City pioneer families, and has many friends here, as well as in Portland.

Mrs. Hurley is survived by the following children: George Hurley, prominent resident of Loomis, Wash.; Mrs. Fred Terry, of San Diego, Calif.; Mrs. Annie LeRoy, of Coronado, Calif.; Mrs. Carrie Davis, of Santa Barbara, Calif.; Mrs. A. S. Labowitz, of Portland. A daughter, Mrs. Belle Cavalline, died in Portland, several years ago, and a son, Elmer Hurley, died at Manila, P. I., while in the military service during the Spanish-American war, and the husband died 17 years ago.

Mrs. Hurley also leaves the following grandchildren: Marie Cavalline, of New York; Lucetta Cavalline, of Portland; Dorothy LaRoy, Louis Cavalline, of Portland; Edward and David Labowitz, of Portland. Mrs. W. W. Myers, Mrs. C. C. Babcock and Miss Anita Hensley McCarver, of this city, are nieces of Mrs. Hurley, and Charles McCarver, of this city, a nephew. The funeral services were held Tuesday morning at 10:30 and interment was at Santa Barbara.

ALIMONY DODGER IS DEFENDANT IN DAMAGE SUIT FILED BY WIFE

In an action filed with the County clerk Thursday, Louis Mueller, who was arrested on July 19 on complaint of his divorced wife, Ethel Mueller, for failure to pay alimony, is named in conjunction with Julia Mueller, his second wife, as defendants in a suit to recover damages for property which they are accused of having fraudulently dissipated and which belonged to the plaintiff before she was divorced from Louis Mueller.

Mueller is still being confined in the county jail for failure to pay alimony, and will not be released until August 8. He gained a considerable amount of notoriety some time since for his stand of being a "conscientious objector" to payment of alimony, claiming his stand was based on his religious principles.

TWO ARE INJURED ON FISH LADDER NEAR HAWLEY MILL

C. Stutz, aged 54, and A. Lindsey, aged 17, were severely injured at the mill of the Hawley Pulp & Paper company Monday morning by being struck on the head by falling timber while engaged in the construction of the new fish ladder that is being installed over the Oregon City falls.

Stutz suffered a badly lacerated scalp and was stunned for a considerable length of time when he was struck on the head and Lindsey, who was injured about ten minutes after the accident to Stutz occurred, sustained a bad scalp wound. Both men are under the care of Dr. M. C. Strickland and are reported to be in no danger.

CONGREGATION OF BAPTIST CHURCH VOTE FOR PASTOR

According to announcement made following the vote taken by the congregation of the Baptist church last Sunday, Rev. W. D. Pettibone, at present pastor of the Baptist church in Idaho Falls, Idaho, has been extended a call to the local pastorate to fill the vacancy made through the recent resignation of Rev. W. T. Milliken, who has been called to fill the pastorate of the Highland Baptist church in Portland. A telegram has been sent to Rev. Pettibone notifying him of his appointment. He has been pastor of the church in Idaho Falls for the past three years.

CHICAGO RACE RIOTS ENDED; NO FIGHTING

CHICAGO, Aug. 1.—With state troops in full control in the "black belt" of Chicago, rioting that has terrorized that section for four days and nights was pronounced by state and city officials "at an end" today. The total dead since the fight at the Twenty-ninth street bathing beach on Sunday, the inception of the race riot, which resulted in the drowning of a negro lad, in 32-15 negroes and 14 whites. The total injured is known to be more than 300 and may exceed 500.

Adjutant General Dickson said today that the situation was well in hand, and that while the embers of race hatred were doubtless still smoldering, he feared no further outbreak. During the night several calls were made for troops, and in some instances shots were fired, but quick responses to the summons led to suppression of the altercations.

NEW HIGH SCHOOL AT WEST LINN WILL BE READY FOR FALL TERM

Work on the new high school building in West Linn is reported to be progressing favorably and it is expected that the actual construction of the building will be started within a few days. The foundations are all completed and are sufficiently set to carry the superstructure of the building. It is hoped and expected that the building will be ready for occupancy before the opening day, September 22.

The new West Linn high school is being formed through the merging of the Willamette and West Linn school districts, and it is reported that approximately 100 pupils will enter the new institution when the fall term opens. The course of study to be taught in the new high school course and in addition will include manual training and commerce departments.

Professor J. L. Gary, who has been appointed as principal of the new institution, has recently arrived from Bandon, Ore., where he had charge of the high school of that city, and reports the following teachers who have been named, with the classes and studies they will be in charge of:

Miss Jane Lindsey, formerly of the Springfield, Ore., high school, will teach English and dramatic work. Miss Minerva Gleason, formerly of the Puyallup, Wash., high school, will be in charge of the Domestic Science and Art departments.

Miss Vesta Lamb, formerly of the Willamette schools, Foreign Languages and Commerce.

Miss Dorris Mace, of Willamette, History and Girls' Physical Education. The manual training department, in charge of Miss Helen Leathers, will be a unique innovation, as it has been customary in school practice to place this department under the charge of male teachers. Miss Leathers, who has been instructor in the manual training work in the Hoquiam high school for the past term, has made an enviable name for herself in her chosen profession, and the school directors consider themselves extremely fortunate in having secured her services for this department in the new school.

QUARANTINE EVADER IS APPREHENDED BY OFFICERS AND FINED

W. H. Bradley, of 421 Water street, who was afflicted with smallpox at his home recently, and placed under quarantine by City Health Officer Dr. J. W. Norris, on the evening of July 13 broke his quarantine and, evading the police, made his escape from his home and out of the city. The city officers were instructed by Dr. Norris to keep an eye out for the man and to arrest him if found.

Word was sent to Astoria, where it was believed the man had departed for, but his whereabouts were unknown until he made his appearance in Oregon City this week, when he was arrested, and taken before City Recorder John W. Loder. He was fined $7.50 on the charge of breaking quarantine.

Dr. Norris has been busily engaged in watching those afflicted with smallpox or whose families are suffering from the same, and he will see that anyone violating the law will be fined.

Small Suzanne, who has recently begun to study geography, came to dinner from her home work the other evening with a puzzled look. "Daddy," she said, "I don't exactly understand about the Rocky Mountains—what they divide, I mean. Will you explain it to me, please?" At the end of a rather detailed explanation she exclaimed joyfully: "Oh, now I understand. Thank you, daddy. You know I always supposed before that Fifth Avenue divided the East from the West."

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR MISS MCCELLAN ARE MOST IMPRESSIVE

The funeral services of the late Miss Ethel McClellan were held from the Holman & Pace funeral parlors Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with Rev. E. B. Gilbert, pastor of the Methodist church, officiating. During the service Mrs. W. C. Green and Mrs. Glen Hankins sang most impressively "Some Time We'll Understand," "Somewhere the Sun is Shining" and "Rock of Ages." Miss Frances Bowland was organist.

Rev. Gilbert spoke highly of the character of Miss McClellan, and the many handsome floral tributes were an evidence of the high esteem in which she was held by her many friends. Many friends from this city and of Portland attended the services, and followed the remains to their last resting place.

The pallbearers were intimate friends of the deceased and were Miss Myrtle Henderson, Miss Morieta May, Miss Ethel Poland, Mrs. Dorothy Howell, Miss Opal Knop, of this city, and Miss Nona McLean, of Mill City, Oregon. The interment was in Mountain View cemetery.

The grave was banked with floral tributes, and arranging these were Mrs. Lee Yoder, Mrs. McGinn and Mrs. W. S. May and Mr. Hair.

Automobiles were furnished by Messrs. Babcock, Hair, Farmer, C. W. Bagby and Foulam.

Miss McClellan was born in Cameron Junction, Wisconsin, October 8, 1894, where she remained until accompanying her parents to Idaho, where she attended and completed her course in the high school at Boise. After completing her schooling Miss McClellan taught three successful years in Idaho. Two years ago she accompanied her family to Oregon, first making her home at Toledo, where she taught school for one term, and she also taught in Roseburg. Coming to Oregon City she resumed her teaching. It was while employed as a teacher of the Teasel Creek school Miss McClellan was stricken with influenza, the effects of which she did not recover from, and which was the cause of her death.

Miss McClellan is survived by her parents, two sisters, Miss Alice McClellan and Miss Ida McClellan; a brother, Henry McClellan, all of this city. She is also survived by relatives in Portland. Ralph Davis, a close friend of Miss McClellan, and whose home is at Toledo, was among those coming here to attend the funeral services.

PIONEER RESIDENT OF OREGON PASSES TO FINAL REWARD

Mrs. Luella Eula Reed, who died at her home in this city July 29, was born in Oneida county, New York, April 28, 1856.

At the age of 12 years she moved with her parents, Seth E. and Lydia M. Johnson to the vicinity of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, where she was married April 2, 1874, to James H. Reed, who survives her, and has been a resident of Oregon since 1876.

Mrs. Reed was the mother of eight children, seven of whom survive, namely: Marion and James Reed, of Portland, Oregon; Harry Reed, of Camp Lewis, Wash.; Mrs. Bortha Cooke, of Camas, Wash.; Mrs. Mary Palmer, of Los Angeles, Calif.; Mrs. Lillian Carr and Mrs. Addie Shearer, of Oregon City. Seventeen grandchildren also survive. She also leaves the following brothers and sisters, of Sunnyside, Clackamas county: L. S. Johnson, George Johnson, Mrs. Lillian Hunter, Mrs. Elva Hunter and Mrs. Bertha Dendorff.

Mrs. Reed was a consistent Christian woman, a devoted wife and mother, and to know her was to love her.
