

LOCALS

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cox and family have gone to Camp Linger Longer, one of the ideal camping grounds near New Era, where they have pitched their tent, and where they are to spend several weeks. This is one of the most up-to-date camps in the county. Here you will find the family of J. L. Cochran, Mr. Cochran being manager of the C. C. Store, and Mr. and Mrs. James Chinn, who have made things around the camp as comfortable as at home, having their ice chest filled with good things to eat, two gas stoves and one wood stove. There is plenty of fruit nearby, and can be purchased at a nominal sum, and fishing has been excellent, even the two young sons of Mr. Cochran doing their share toward supplying the camp with fish. A photo of the fish these youngsters have caught can be seen in the display window of the Jones Drug company. Mr. and Mrs. Cochran and children are to remain in camp until September, the former making daily trips to this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Nobel and two children, who have been enjoying an outing at Bar View, where they have been the guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Nobel, who are spending the summer at that resort, returned to Oregon City Monday evening. Many enjoyable trips were made, while making their headquarters at Bar View, and some of the summer resorts of Tillamook beaches were visited. Clams and crabs were plentiful, and a number of their friends here were remembered with some of the fish.

Lieutenant Lee J. Caulfield, who arrived in Oregon City a few days ago from France, and is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Caulfield, and his sister, Mrs. Lily Blinn, will leave this evening for Albany, Oregon, where he will take up his duties as resident engineer of the Pacific Highway. Mrs. Caulfield, who accompanied her husband from the East, having met him there after his arrival from France, will remain here for a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Caulfield, and will join her husband at a later date.

Miss Leota Young, after a two weeks' vacation, has resumed her position in the office of Mrs. Mount. Miss Young spent a large part of her vacation along the banks of the Willamette at the Young home, which is beautifully located above the town of Willamette. Miss Young, being an expert swimmer and diver, has spent much of her time in the waters of the Willamette and many times has performed the feat of swimming the entire distance across the river.

Mrs. L. Hickman and granddaughter, Miss Wanda Hickman, and Mrs. Jane Crawford, returned from Newport, Oregon, Wednesday morning, after spending the past two weeks at that resort. They were accompanied by Mrs. Harvey Hickman, wife of Dr. Harvey Hickman, and the latter's sister, Miss Wink of Wisconsin. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Alldredge and daughter, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Alldredge, who were also in the party, will remain to another week.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Beckler, who have been residing in Toledo, Ohio, have arrived in Oregon City, where they are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Beckhold. Mrs. Beckler is a sister of Mrs. Beckhold, and Mr. and Mrs. Beckler were former residents of the state of Washington, but will make Oregon City their future home. They are planning a number of delightful trips in the new automobile of Mr. and Mrs. Beckhold.

Otis Engle, a former resident of Needy, and engaged in farming at that place, but of recent years of Eastern Oregon, was in Oregon City recently, where he visited friends. Mr. Engle has decided that there is no place like Clackamas county, and has returned to make his home again at Needy. He has purchased a farm near that place, having disposed of his crop of wheat grown on the farm he has been renting in Eastern Oregon.

Thomas Lovett, student of the Oregon Agricultural college, who has been at the training camp at the Presidio, San Francisco, Calif., since the closing of the college, returned to Oregon City Thursday afternoon. After spending the remainder of the summer at his home in this city, he will return to Corvallis to resume his studies at the college. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Lovett, of Thirteenth and Washington streets.

Rodney Keating, of Portland, was in Oregon City Sunday, when he visited relatives. He walked the entire distance for exercise, making record time, the trip taking a little over one hour. Keating has a number of medals received in running races. He is a student of the Washington high school. He made the trip by the river road on the west side, passing through Milwaukie. He formerly resided here.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Smith, after an enjoyable outing spent at various beaches, including Columbia Beach, Seaside and several other resorts, returned Saturday evening. They made the trip in their automobile, making the trip to the beach by way of Timbier, and the return trip by the Columbia river highway. The highway was found in much better condition than the roads by way of Timbier.

Arthur Beattie, secretary of the Willamette Valley Chautauqua Association, who returned to Oregon City Sunday evening, after a week-end visit at the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Schubei at Rhododendron, leaves this morning for Seattle, where he will spend a few days with friends. Mr. Beattie is accompanying R. R. Moore, of Salem, and they are making the trip by automobile.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Swafford, of Salem, who have been visiting at the home of Mrs. Jennie Niles, of Mount Pleasant, have returned to their home. Mr. and Mrs. Niles visited the old home place of Mr. Swafford on the Willamette Valley Southern before returning, where they spent the day picnicking on the old homestead. Many familiar spots were found by Mr. Swafford.

AGNES WINCHELL DROWNED WHILE ENJOYING SWIM

H. R. Winchell aged 58, for many years city salesman for Lang & Co., and his daughter, Agnes I. Winchell, aged 27, Reed college graduate and research worker for the government, were victims of a tragic double-drowning in the treacherous waters of the Washougal river near Camas, Wash., last Sunday.

Both bodies were recovered later in the day and taken to Camas, where they were prepared Monday for transfer to Portland.

Mr. Winchell, with his wife and two daughters, left Portland early Saturday for a camping trip along the north fork of the Washougal river, above Camas. They had intended camping for two weeks.

Miss Winchell was one of the first graduates of Reed college and was also a graduate of Columbia university. For the past year she had been a bacteriologist for the government at the Rockefeller institute. She had recently been chosen for similar work at Johns Hopkins university, Baltimore. She had been in Portland passing the summer vacation with her parents and had intended leaving shortly for Baltimore to take up her new work.

Miss Winchell was well known to residents of Oregon City, having been an instructor of Science in the city high schools at one time.

ATTENDANCE AT ANNUAL SCHOOL SHOWS INCREASE

The teachers' training school held at the Barclay school house is attracting many teachers, and unusual interest is being manifested among the 110 teachers in attendance.

State Superintendent Churchill spoke before the teachers Friday afternoon and talked largely on the new course of study. Mr. Churchill also talked on the "Teachers' Retirement Fund."

On Monday Dean E. D. Ressler of the Oregon Agricultural College, spoke at length on the problems confronting the teachers and teachers' organizations. He said problems should be handled through the organizations of the state, what is called the "State Teachers' Association," the county organizations—the county training school and the local institutes, also the federal organization—National Educational Association. Mr. Ressler brought out a number of good points during his address. Among these what had been accomplished at the last legislative session when the minimum salary of $75 was established for the teachers. This was accomplished through a committee from the state organization.

Today J. M. Tice will talk on "The Palmer Method of Writing," and Wednesday Joseph Schoffer, of the University of Oregon, will address the assembly.

MEN TAKEN FOR RECENT THEFTS ARE RELEASED

An attempt was made by a burglar to enter the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Gadke at Tenth and Railroad avenue Monday morning at 4 o'clock, but which proved futile, as the robber was frightened away before making a successful entrance. He had removed the screen from a window, and was in the act of raising the window when Gadke called out to the intruder, who immediately fled.

A light was in the kitchen at the Gadke home when the man made his appearance, and it is probable the man believed the family were in that part of the house.

Gadke immediately telephoned to a night officer, Edward Surfus, who later arrested two suspicious looking characters on Main street, who claimed they had made their headquarters for the night in some brush near the Gadke home, but had been driven out on account of the rain, and claimed they were on their way to Portland.

These two men were seen acting in a suspicious manner Sunday evening shortly after the return of Mr. and Mrs. Gadke from Colton. They notified the Parker family residing close by, but when the bushes were searched they were either hiding elsewhere or had left the place. It is believed by those residing in that section the men were hiding in the brush when they found they were being watched.

STRIKERS GO TO WORK ON ADVICE OF WILSON

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—Telegrams received by the American Federation of Labor today indicated that railway shopmen who struck without authority have already started going back to work in response to President Wilson's letter, in which he asserted the government would not consider higher wages for them until all men were back on their jobs.

Strikers were reported to have returned to all shops on the Lackawanna and on the Norfolk & Western railroads.

FARMERS OF CENTRAL POINT DISTRICT ARE TAKING HEAVY CROPS

George Randall, Jr., who is engaged in farming at Central Point about four miles from Oregon City, was in town Tuesday.

Mr. Randall has had a portion of his grain threshed and expects the best yield he has had for two years. The grain he has already had threshed has yielded exceptionally well, going over 36 tons to the acre. He has threshed 2193 bushels of gray winter oats from 26 acres of land and has harvested 847 bushels of wheat, with the greater portion of this crop still in shock.

The wheat is of the Kinney variety and in many places attained a height of over seven feet. A number of samples of this wheat will be exhibited by Mr. Randall at the Clackamas county and Oregon State fairs as a sample of what this county can produce in the way of grain.

The straw will be baled and sold and at the prevailing prices is no small item in the total yield of the field.

ACTIVE DEMAND FOR GLADSTONE PROPERTY INCREASES BUILDING

Residence property is in great demand in Gladstone and vicinity, and has been for some months. Every house of a desirable nature is occupied and there is steady inquiry for rental property as well as for purchasable property. During the past 30 days no less than half a dozen dwellings have changed hands and the prices paid were good. Several new homes are being erected.

Lexon, Mass., Aug. 11.—Andrew Carnegie, the world's greatest philanthropist, is dead.

The aged steel baron whose benefactions totaled more than $300,000,000, succumbed to bronchial pneumonia, at his summer home at "Shadow Brook," here this morning.

A statement issued by the attending physicians merely said: "Andrew Carnegie died shortly after 7 o'clock this morning."

Mr. Carnegie was within a few months of being 84 years of age and is reported to have left a fortune in excess of $300,000,000.
