FIFTY-THIRD YEAR—No. 33.

OREGON CITY, OREGON, FRIDAY, AUGUST 22, 1919.

ESTABLISHED 1866

SENATORS SUPPORT MEMBERS OF HOUSE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—Repeal of the daylight savings act was accomplished today, the senate voting to sustain the house in passing the repeal measure over President Wilson's veto. The vote was 57 to 19.

The repeal of the law becomes effective after the clocks are turned back to normal on October 1. It is one of the very few measures which have twice been vetoed by a president and have become laws in spite of the veto. Agitation for repeal of the daylight saving law first came from farmers, but recently had been buttressed by labor unions, mothers' clubs, rural school authorities and many other interests. Urban opinion also has become divided and officials of many cities and smaller towns have come out against the law. Congress has been flooded with petitions for repeal of the law in collision with a counter flood urging retention of the statute.

SUPT. GRIFFITH SAYS ESCAPED CONVICTS NOT AIDED BY AUTO

SALEM, Aug. 14.—Doubt that Dave Brichoux and E. B. Southwick, two convicts who escaped yesterday while being taken to a flax field in an auto truck, fled in a mysterious automobile was expressed today by Superintendent Griffith of the state hospital for insane, where the two convicts were temporary patients.

It was believed that the automobile was awaiting the two men, according to pre-arranged plans. After talking further with the attendants who were in charge of Brichoux and Southwick Dr. Griffith thinks this improbable. The attendants say the automobile was following the hospital truck. When Brichoux and Southwick leaped to freedom there was much confusion caused by other patients attempting to follow them, and when the excitement was over, the automobile had disappeared. Hospital and prison authorities are without a clue in their search for the runaways.

YOUNG BANK ROBBER MAKES GETAWAY FROM BERRY PICKING CREW

Salem, Aug. 15.—Chester William Clark, 21 years old, sent up from Washington county a month ago today for the robbery of the Bank of Beaverton, escaped, this morning from the berries fields on the state prison farm, where he was at work with a number of other prisoners.

Clark robbed the Beaverton bank during the noon hour, locking up the cashier and a customer, who happened to be in the bank at the time, in the vault and making away with $3300. The men in the berry field were under armed guard and the field was quickly surrounded when his absence was noted. Officials are confident of his early capture.

AIR PATROL REPORTS FIRE NEAR ALBANY IN RECORD TIME

Salem, Ore., Aug. 15.—Lieutenant Ridenour, of the forest airplane patrol, after a flight from Salem yesterday, reported a large fire about 30 miles east of Albany. Sergeant LaJotte, who made the flight south earlier in the day, said he had not seen the fire, indicating it had started about noon. He reported several small oil fires burning near Eugene.

DAYLIGHT LAW AGAIN VOTED OVER PRES. VETO

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—The house this afternoon repassed over President Wilson's veto the bill repealing the daylight saving law. The vote was 233 to 101. The veto must be overridden also by the senate before the law is repealed.

REPORT OF ASSESSOR SHOWS CLACKAMAS PRODUCTIONS HIGH

The following report just compiled by W. W. Everhart, County Assessor of Clackamas county, which shows the agricultural development of the county, is one of the most satisfactory ever issued and shows in concrete form the development of the resources of the county along all lines of agriculture. It is estimated that the wheat crop and oat crop of the county for the present season will be far in excess of $1,000,000 each in value, and that Clackamas county will rank a good third in the standing of the counties of the state in the production of these two grains.

The following is a detailed classification of the varied agricultural resources of the county:

Summary of agricultural and horticultural statistics of Clackamas county, State of Oregon, for the year 1919.

STATE EDUCATION AID TO EX-SOLDIERS AND SAILORS EXTENDED

According to instructions recently received by School Superintendent R. W. Kirk, the recently announced plan for state aid to soldiers and sailors desiring to receive a more complete education has been changed to make it possible for soldiers and sailors to attend high schools at state aid in addition to colleges and universities.

Supt. Kirk announces that he has received application blanks from the State which may be filled out by any young man entitled to the new privilege and that any desiring to do so may avail themselves of the opportunity at once in order that they may be ready for the beginning of the fall term of high school.

Along the same line Supt. Kirk states that the school board has had a number of inquiries of late from young men and ladies who are desirous of attending the Oregon City schools this fall but who are forced to work their way through, and they ask if there is any possibility of getting extra work outside of school hours by which they may defray their expenses. It is the desire of the school board that any persons desiring this class of help communicate with the school board and list their needs.

MEN ESCAPE FROM SALEM REPORTED SEEN

SALEM, Aug. 18.—D. C. Brichoux and Edward Southwick, escaped convicts, were seen in the neighborhood of Freewater, Umatilla county, Friday night, according to a telegram received by prison officials from Sheriff T. D. Taylor of Pendleton this morning. The two men were said to have been in a Ford bearing a Nebraska tag license.

Brichoux is said to have been positively recognized by a man by the name of Gordon, who is personally acquainted with the convict, of whom they inquired the way to Walla Walla. Sheriff Taylor was not informed until Sunday.

Queen Mary is an arden admirer and collector of old Wedgwood pottery, and often pays several hundred dollars for a single specimen. At Windsor Castle there is a room devoted entirely to this famous ware, and here are displayed in cases some of the finest and rarest examples.

It is believed to be no rare occurrence for a condor to soar to a height of four miles.

HI COST LIVING SHOULD GET CHILLED EXTREMITIES AT THIS

In many sections of Clackamas county the threshing machines are harvesting the largest crops in many years. All farmers who have planted grain are more than pleased over their crops this year. There are many fields where the grain is stacked high waiting for the thrasher to make his appearance, and very few fields remain uncut.

Mount Pleasant, but two miles from Oregon City, has never had a better yield than in 1919. Among those completing their harvest for this fall is A. C. Warner, who had his grain threshed Monday afternoon. His grain went 40 bushels to the acre. Louis Hartke, a well known dairyman residing in that section, had the bumper crop of the neighborhood. From 52 acres of land he secured 2019 bushels of grain, including wheat, oats and barley.

The threshers were busy at the home of George Yexley Tuesday morning, and the average of his crop of oats was 87 1/2 bushels to the acre and the wheat 52 1/2 bushels to the acre.

The Stafford country is one of the best grain sections of the county. Among those having harvested their crops are E. L. Sharp, who secured 87 1/2 bushels of fall wheat from 28 acres of land, and 276 bushels of oats from five acres of land. The spring oats will be threshed next week, and there is a good prospect of securing a large crop from the 20 acres of land to which they are planted.

The crop of Ernest Kruse has gone larger than was expected. The crop of Otto Nickerson, of Stafford, averaged about 35 bushels to the acre, and the threshing was completed on this farm Tuesday evening.

The wheat and oats yield of V. Ellingsen averaged well up to the acre, and the work of threshing was completed at his farm Wednesday morning.

Charles Thompson, one of the pioneer farmers of Clackamas county is among the farmers of the Stafford district rejoicing over this year's yield. From 20 acres of land he secured 751 bushels of wheat, and from 15 acres of land he harvested 445 bushels of oats, making a total of 1196 bushels from 35 acres, which speaks well for the productive soil of Stafford.

Smith Turner, whose farm is also located in this section of the county, has one of the largest crops in that section.

The grain crop of George Angel was among the largest yields in the Stafford section. His grain amounted to 1555 bushels, 30 acres of which was planted to oats and 38 to wheat.

MEXICANS HOLD TWO AMERICANS FOR BIG RANSOM

MARFA, Texas, Aug. 18.—Authorization for the payment of the $15,000 ransom asked by Mexican bandits for the release of Lieutenants Paul H. Davis and Harold G. Peterson, was received here today, and the money will probably be delivered late today to an agent of the bandits at or near Candelaria, Texas. It was announced here, The American aviators are being held somewhere in Mexico south of Candelaria.

POSTAL SALE OF FOOD SUPPLIES HERE IS BEGUN

Assistant Postmaster W. B. Howell, of the Oregon City postoffice, announced Monday that the postoffice officials have received schedules and full instructions for the sale of government food supplies, as announced from Washington several days ago, and that the local postoffice is now prepared to receive orders from individuals.

According to Mr. Howell the food supplies can only be secured by the local office in standard package lots, and in case individuals order less than case lots the office is prepared to pool orders so that they will make up the necessary amounts of case shipments.

As an illustration, the standard case of bacon amounts to six 12-pound cans; individual orders for less than that amount will necessarily have to be pooled to a total of 72 pounds to make it possible for the local office to place the order. It is not necessary for the individual purchasers to arrange a pool or orders, this matter being handled from the local office.

The food supplies available for purchase by residents of Oregon City and vicinity are stored and shipped from San Francisco, and the purchaser must necessarily pay the parcel post charges from that point.

Mr. Howell stated Monday that he has already received a great many inquiries from local people regarding the variety of supplies and the method of ordering, and he is confident that orders will be placed for every pound which has been allotted to this district by the Zone Surplus Property office, who has charge of the sale of the government army food supplies.

Full details as to the method of ordering and the variety of supplies obtainable may be received from Mr. Howell by inquiring at the local postoffice.

CELEBRATION HELD AT WILLAMETTE U. 75TH ANNIVERSARY

Salem, Ore., Aug. 16.—Willamette university was 75 years old today. On August 16, 1844, 20 students presented themselves for instruction at the new institution for higher learning at Salem. More than 10,000 other students have passed through the halls since 1844. Miss Chloe A. Clark was the first teacher and was assisted in directing the school by various missionaries.

During the last commencement of the university an historical pageant was given in celebration of the anniversary of the founding of the school and on next Sunday evening the celebration is to be continued by an address in the First Methodist church of Salem, given by Charles B. Morres of Portland. Mr. Morres is a graduate of the class of 1870, having received both his primary and collegiate education at Willamette. He is authority on the early history and development of the school.

WAR COST WAS OVER 2 HUNDRED BILLIONS

LONDON, Aug. 18.—The war cost $200,000,000,000, Premier Lloyd George declared in his speech in the house of commons today on the financial and industrial situation. Most of this sum was spent for purposes of destruction. He asserted that the change from war to peace conditions would take just as long as the change from peace to war. The first outstanding fact of the present situation was the alarming adverse trade balance, he said.

PHYSICAL TRAINING FINDS MUCH FAVOR WITH CITY TEACHERS

By a vote of the teachers who are attending the summer normal in this city, held at the Barclay school house, the last week of the normal will be held at the Oregon City high school building. By this change the last week will be a most pleasant one. The building is much cooler than the Barclay building and the grounds, where the physical training is to take place is more desirable than that of the Barclay school yard. The physical training is under the direction of Louis Leppere, who has been physical instructor of the Washington high schools, and who has had much experience in the East before coming West to take charge of the physical training course in the Oregon City schools.

As a new law makes it compulsory for every teacher in the state of Oregon to teach physical training, giving at least 20 minutes every school day to this kind of work, there are many teachers taking this course offered them. The class is making wonderful progress.

City Superintendent R. W. Kirk, Miss Lilli Schmidt, of West Linn, and Mrs. Mary Fuhrer, county superintendent of Marion county, are the instructors, and each day excellent lectures are given. Rev. C. H. L. Chandler, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church, addresses the teachers.

Friday will be the last day of the summer normal, and will close one of the most successful terms ever held in this city.

HIGHWAY RIGHTS ARE PURCHASED BY COURT

Deeds for the property necessary for the right of way of the Pacific highway through Clackamas county were filed with the county clerk Saturday morning, and it is probable that the work of opening up and paving the new units will be started in the immediate future and be rushed to completion by the County Paving board.

A total of $3740.78 was paid for the units of land acquired and the several parcels will now make it possible for the County to construct unbroken highway from the north to the south boundary lines of the county.

The Society of the Holy Names of Jesus and Mary was the largest single property owner to sell the right of way, the land acquired from that institution bringing a total of $1622.78. The others from whom property was purchased are: Portland-Oregon Land Co., $100; Alma Donaldson, $172; Katie E. McDaniel, $425; Chester Deering, $198; C. W. and Cora Henkel, $372; Jane Oathout, $475; J. T. and L. R. Vickers, $475.

SUIT IS FILED TO STOP TAKING OF ROAD GRAVEL

Through her attorney, O. D. Eby, of this city, Olga Netter has filed an injunction proceedings to restrain M. E. Phillips, a contractor, who is supplying gravel to the Pacific Highway, from the property of Mrs. Netter located on Pudding river.

Mrs. Netter, in her complaint, claims Phillips has contracted 14,000 yards of gravel for the highway to be taken from the Pudding river, and that he has been taking much material from her property, and asks for $500 damages. The gravel plant has been established on the opposite side of the Netter property, and Mrs. Netter objects to having the contractor take the gravel from her place.

COMMANDER REED TO HEAD EXPEDITION IN FLIGHT OF PACIFIC

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—An American naval officer will be the first aviator to fly across the Pacific ocean, if plans being worked out by the navy department mature successfully.

Commander Reed, who made the first flight across the Atlantic, is slated to head the Pacific expedition. The flight will be from San Francisco to Manila and thence to the mainland of Asia.

Compared with the Atlantic flight this undertaking will be gigantic. The distance flown will be nearly twice that in the case of the air voyage to Europe. Tentative plans call for a flight in four legs to Manila, comprising a total distance of more than 7500 miles. The first leg will be San Francisco to Honolulu, 2809 miles; second leg, Honolulu to Midway Island, 1100 miles; third leg, Midway Island to Guam, 2000 miles; fourth leg, Guam to Manila, 2500 miles. This course follows the Pacific cable route, stations of which are established on Guam and Midway Islands.

The plans are being perfected in the utmost secrecy and no hint is obtainable as to the approximate date of the trial. It is known, however, that larger and more powerful naval airplanes than hitherto employed are being constructed especially for the Pacific flight.

The same general plan will be followed as in the crossing of the Atlantic. Destroyers and all available light naval craft on the West coast and some additional vessels sent from the Panama canal and the Atlantic fleet will be stationed at intervals on the legs to render assistance in the event of mishap to the aviators.

YOUNG MAN OF MONITOR DROWNED SWIMMING

Edward Ole Peterson, aged 17 years, and residing in Monitor, was drowned in Butte creek, near that city Sunday afternoon about five o'clock while swimming with a party of friends.

At the point where the party was in bathing the creek is about twenty-five feet wide and in one place is about fifteen feet deep. W. J. Giger and wife, the latter a sister of the drowned man, had swum across the creek to a small ledge on the far side and Peterson, according to Mr. Giger, was attempting to do likewise when he suddenly threw up his hands when within a few feet of the ledge and disappeared.

Giger immediately dove into the water, and although himself not a very capable swimmer grasped hold of the young man and brought him to the surface. As he broke water Mrs. Giger, who was apparently hysterical, jumped into the water, landing squarely on top of the two, and in order to save her Giger was forced to loose his hold on Peterson. After getting his wife back to the ledge he again got hold of Peterson, only to have his wife repeat her performance of jumping on them. This occurred four times, and the last time a young man by the name of Jess Rigdon, who had appeared on the scene, restrained Mrs. Giger and her husband was able to locate the body of Peterson and get it to shore.

Dr. Shorey of Woodburn, who was in Monitor in answer to a call, was called immediately and worked over the body for a considerable length of time before giving up hope of restoring life.

The body was in the water for fully thirty minutes before it was recovered.

Mrs. Giger, sister of the drowned man, was later reported to be in a critical condition as a result of the hysteria which beset her and caused her to act in such a peculiar manner while her husband was endeavoring to save her brother.

Coroner Johnson was called from this city Monday morning and after hearing the facts of the case found that Peterson came to his death through accidental drowning. The body will be buried in the Miller cemetery at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning.

PIONEER MERCHANT AND BOAT BUILDER IS DEAD AT ASTORIA

ASTORIA, Aug. 15.—Emanuel Malagamba, a prominent resident and business man of Astoria for the past 30 years, died at his home here yesterday morning after an extended illness.

Mr. Malagamba has been in the boatbuilding business here, in partnership with Joe McCann, for many years maintaining a plant at the foot of Fourth street. His firm has built a great many of the launches, fishing smacks and flat barges now in use on the Columbia and Willamette rivers.

He was 58 years of age and is survived by his wife, three daughters and one son. Funeral arrangements await the arrival of one of his daughters from Vallejo, Cal.

BIG BRITISH ATTACK ON PETROGRAD LAUNCHED

LONDON, Aug. 20.—The Anglo-Balkan offensive against Petrograd is apparently in full swing with the land forces supported by British air and naval forces.

The following summary of the situation was printed by the Standard today:

"British munitions are pouring into Reval and are being supplied to Admiral Kolchak's and General Deniken's anti-Bolshevik armies. Advances from Bucharest state that the Roumanians are preparing for an offensive against the Russian Reds, joining up with the advancing army of General Deniken. In the meantime the British are keeping order in the Caucasus and on the littora of the Caspian sea.

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMS TO BE REOPENED TO DISCHARGED SOLDIERS

Under an opinion of the attorney-general recently rendered to the Civil Service Commission, United States soldiers, sailors and marines who missed opportunity to enter civil service examinations because of their military or naval service may now be given a chance to qualify for government employment.

The Civil Service Commission, wishing to give discharged service men every opportunity to qualify for civil positions, asked the Attorney General for an opinion as to whether it would be legal to open, for the benefit of honorably discharged soldiers, sailors, and marines, examinations which had been closed. The Attorney General having expressed the opinion that such action is legal in view of the spirit of a recent act of Congress which provides for preference in appointment to civil service positions for discharged soldiers, sailors and marines, the Civil Service Commission will open up to honorably discharged service men examinations which were pending on April 6, 1917, the date of America's declaration of war, or which were subsequently announced, and for which registers of eligibles now exist.

Sixty days from August 1, 1919, will be allowed soldiers, sailors, and marines in which to be examined for positions for which examinations have already been held if they were discharged prior to August 1, and sixty days from the date of their discharge will be allowed those discharged subsequent to August 1, 1919.

OREGON CITY MEN RAISE JACKPOT TO PAY FORD'S DAMAGES

Seattle, Aug. 16.—"United we'll ride in high-priced cars, divided we will have to ride in flivvers. There is nothing penurious about Oregon. We would have paid it had the amount been twice what it is—yes, even three times."

So declared the members of the executive committee of the Oregon State Editorial association today as they drew a bank draft for 6 cents to send to the Chicago Tribune as a tender to Henry Ford for the nominal award made him by the jury in his suit for libel.

The Oregon editors are attending the National Editorial association convention here.

Oregonians who helped to raise the "pot" for the Tribune were Lloyd Riches, secretary of the Oregon State Editorial association; S. C. Morton, president of the Oregon newspaper conference, and John E. Gratek and E. E. Brodie, member of the conference executive committee.

A strange letter reached the Prince of Wales not very long since from a small Indian village at the foot of the Himalayas. It was written on a piece of dried tiger-skin, apparently with a pointed stick and some red dye. The writer stated that his father had the honor of escorting the late King Edward when he went tiger shooting in the jungle, and expressed the hope that should the Prince ever feel inclined to attempt the ascent of the Himalayas, the Prince would honor him by accepting him as one of his guides for that somewhat hazardous adventure.
