

LOCALS

Walter Taylor of Molalla, who has been in charge of the Molalla Pioneer during the absence of his father, Gordon Taylor, was among the Oregon City visitors Monday. Taylor returned a few days ago to his home from the Hagby Hot Springs, having accompanied a fishing party to that point. The first week the party was there a large forest fire broke out, and it was necessary for Taylor and Stanley Mason to give their assistance. They toiled from early in the morning until evening in checking the fire by digging trenches. The fire was started from an electrical storm in the mountains. About 90 acres of land were burned over. Otto Wilkowski and J. B. Mason, of Molalla, were also in the party making the trip to the Hot Springs. Taylor says the forest rangers did excellent work. There were about eleven men fighting the fire at times.

IN SOCIETY CIRCLES

A pretty home wedding was solemnized Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Davenport, of East 47th Street, Portland, when their third daughter, Miss Blanche Davenport, became the wife of Mr. Frank Peckover, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Peckover, of Parkplace, who recently returned from Ohio. The impressive ceremony was performed by Rev. W. T. Milliken, pastor of the Highland Baptist church, of Portland, and formerly of this city. The wedding march was played by Vivian Rauch.

The ceremony was performed beneath a floral archway, the color scheme being pink and white. The living and dining rooms were correspondingly decorated.

The bride, who is a very attractive young woman, was attired in cream colored tulle, embellished with lace, and carried a shower bouquet of pink and white sweet peas.

The bride's maid, Miss Grace Davenport, sister of the bride, was becomingly gowned in cream colored crepe de Chine, and carried a shower bouquet of pink sweet peas.

The best man was Fred Peckover, brother of the bridegroom.

Following the marriage ceremony refreshments were served.

Attending the marriage ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. George Davenport, of this city; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Davenport, of Portland; Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Davenport, of West Linn; Beatrice and Vivian Rauch, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Peckover, of Parkplace; Miss Amy Peckover, of Parkplace; Mr. and Mrs. Winifred Knight, of Portland; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Rauch, of Gladstone; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Davenport, of Portland; Miss Gussie Martin, of Portland; Mrs. S. Simpkins, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Davenport, of Portland, Lisle Took.

Mr. and Mrs. Peckover are to leave within a few days for their future home at Ackron, Ohio, where the former has been for the past three years employed by the Goodyear Tire company.

The bride was a former resident of Parkplace and Oregon City, and graduated from the Parkplace high school. She has a host of friends in this city and at Parkplace, as well as at Gladstone, where she also made her home before going to Portland three years ago.

The bridegroom is well known here as well as at Parkplace. He recently returned from Ohio by automobile.

The engagement of Miss Marie Sheahan, elder daughter of William Sheahan, whose home is in Ocean Falls, Wash., formerly of this city, and Lieutenant Lamar Toose, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Toose, Sr., of Salem, is announced. The marriage, which will be solemnized at the Sheahan home September 11 at 8:30 p. m., will be a very quiet affair.

Miss Sheahan, who is a graduate of the Oregon City high school, and also a student of the University of Oregon for one year, taking a course in the University of Wisconsin at Madison a year, was a most popular young woman while here, and where she has a host of friends. She is a member of the Chi Omega sorority.

Lieutenant Toose is a graduate of U. of O., and was commissioned as lieutenant during the European war, at Plattsburg, N. Y., in 1917. He was a student of Harvard when entering the service. It is his intention to resume his studies at that institution after his marriage, and the young couple will make their home at Cambridge, Mass. After peace was declared, Lieutenant Toose took up the courses of law and French in the Sorbonne University at Paris.

The engagement of Miss Dorothy Elizabeth Latourette, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Latourette, of this city, one of the most popular young women, and Mr. Homer E. Rolfe, of Gladstone, is announced.

The marriage will take place early in September, and the young couple will make their home in Portland.

MOLALLA ENJOYS FLYING THRILLS IN AIRPLANE

Members of the household of J. R. Cole residing on their farm near Molalla were considerably surprised Friday about noon when an airplane appeared a short distance over their home and after maneuvering for a few moments settled to earth in a nearby field.

After coming to rest the aviator emerged from the cockpit and greeted Mr. Cole and his sons who had hurried out into the field, and announced that it was necessary for him to trespass on their property as he was about out of gas. Mr. Cole invited the stranger into his home for a cooling drink and a rest before resuming his journey, and during the ensuing conversation he was induced to stop over for a few hours for the purpose of giving an exhibition flight and also to gratify the desire of a number of residents of the locality to go up for a joy ride.

Beginning at 5 in the afternoon, under ideal weather conditions, the stranger made a number of flights during which he took up ten of the residents of the Molalla district, the flights lasting until 9 p. m.

Those who were fortunate in enjoying the novel experience of an air trip were: L. W. Robbins, Mr. Ingram, Mrs. L. W. Robbins, Naomi Robbins, Robert Elkins, Pearl Harless, Sidona Austen, Mrs. E. R. Todd, Stanley Mason and Harley Whitford.

In order to make the taking-off and landing of the plane more safe the telephone company took down a number of their country lines and several poles. Shortly after the arrival of the plane people from all the surrounding district commenced arriving at the field, and many automobile loads, advised by telephone of the visit of the sky traveler, journeyed many miles for the privilege of viewing at first hand this modern bird of the air.

The stranger aviator departed for Portland about 6 o'clock Saturday morning announcing before he left that he would return about the 25th of this month for a longer visit providing weather conditions were favorable.

4 YOUTHS ARRESTED FOR THEFT AT HUBBARD

Advices received by the Sheriff's office from the office of Sheriff Hurlburt of Portland Friday morning were to the effect that Harry Staben and Wilbur Wilson, wanted in Marion county for the theft of an automobile and a number of automobile tires from a garage at Hubbard Wednesday night had been apprehended and placed under arrest.

A third member of the party, of whom there are thought to have been four, named Harry Forschner, was arrested Friday morning by Sheriff Wilson and Chief Deputy Woodward at the Jackson sawmill in the lower end of town and when confronted with the confessions of the other two accomplices readily confessed to his share in the thieving operations. He was placed in jail here and was taken to Woodburn Friday, with Staben and Wilson to face formal charges.

As the result of the confession of Forschner Sheriff Wilson recovered all of the automobile tires which were stolen from the Hubbard garage and hidden under an old store on Main street in Gladstone. They were 18 in number. The automobile was recovered Thursday morning on the road near Willamette.

A report from the Sheriff's office late Friday evening stated that Orville Merchant, the fourth member of the auto thieves' gang, was arrested in Portland Friday afternoon by Sheriff Hurlburt's office and is being confined in the Multnomah county jail pending his being taken to Woodburn for trial.
