Andrew Naterlin, a student of the University of Oregon, who has been spending his Thanksgiving holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Anton Naterlin, will return to the university today. Although he is suffering from a broken shoulder, received on Thanksgiving day, while assisting the American Legion team in the football game with the Chemawa Indians, Naterlin says "nothing will keep me from playing football, although I am suffering from injuries received in a game. I tell you the American Legion team has wonderful material, but they lack coaching." Naterlin is a substitute on the football team of the University of Oregon, and has been looking forward to the trip to California with the team in the near future, and is somewhat discouraged as he fears he will not have sufficiently recovered from his broken shoulder to accompany the team south.

Mail Carrier Is Drowned in River

Walter B. York, 35, Willamette river mail carrier, was drowned at 9:30 o'clock this morning, when the gasoline launch in which he was carrying United States mail ran afoul the Sellwood ferry cable in midstream and capsized. Thrown from the little craft, York made a vain struggle in the cold water, but is thought to have been overcome by reason of his inability to swim.

York lived at Milwaukie with his wife, who, it is said, has been in the habit of accompanying her husband on his mail delivery route and upon occasional trips with freight.

I Owe My Life to PE-RU-NA

Mr. McKinley's letter brings cheer to all who may be sufferers as he was. Read it:

"I can honestly say that I owe my life to Peruna. After some of the best doctors in the country gave me up and told me I could not live another month, Peruna saved me. Travelling from town to town, throughout the country and having to go into all kinds of badly heated stores and buildings, sometimes standing up for hours at a time while plying my trade as auctioneer, it is only natural that I had colds frequently; so when this would occur I paid little attention to it, until last December when I contracted a severe case, which, through neglect on my part settled on my lungs. When almost too late, I began doctoring, but, without avail, until I heard of Peruna. It cured me; so I cannot praise it too highly."

It Cured Me

GUY PACE TAKES STEPS TO SECURE STOLEN BONUS CHECK

Guy H. Pace, who is one of the many men of this locality who saw service during the war, has been considerably worried recently over not receiving his bonus and travel pay due him after his discharge.

His worries have about been straightened out through the receipt from the War Department information which shows that the proper voucher for the amount of $109.23 was properly sent Mr. Pace, but that it fell into the hands of another person who forged an endorsement of the voucher and obtained the money on it.

Accompanying this information were affidavit which Mr. Pierce has signed and executed and returned to the Department showing that he had never received the money.

Mr. Pace expects sometime in the future, after sufficient time has elapsed for the communication to go through the usual red tape of the Government to receive a duplicate voucher covering the amount due him.

CANBY MAN BOTH FATHER AND GRAND-FATHER SAME HOUR

Frank Dodge Has Son Born and Daughter has Daughter Born Almost at Same Hour

CANBY, Dec. 2.—Frank Dodge, one of the prominent contractors of Canby, became a dady and a grandfather at about the same hour this morning, when his wife became the mother of a son, and his daughter, Mrs. Ralph Hein, became the mother of a daughter.

The arrival of the girl and boy kept Dr. H. A. Dedman busy for several hours. Each father was hunting up the physician, who was a member of the city council and attending the session of the council at the city hall.

Mayor Adam Knight excused Dr. Dedman so he could attend to his duties, and as Frank Dodge and Dr. Dedman are both members of the school board of Canby, both are jubilant over the arrival of the newcomers who are prospective pupils of the Canby school.

The fathers of the youngsters are both contractors and working together, and it is somewhat difficult to say who is the happier the grandfather and and father o rthe father and the uncle. They were both setting 'em up to cigars at Canby Tuesday morning when telling their friends of the arrivals at their homes.

Horse Most Inefficient.

During the war a prominent engineer made the statement that the horse was the most inefficient machine used in America. No one has been quicker to recognize this than the farmer. The short haulage radius of the horse, its low rate of speed, the continually rising cost of feed and the important fact that a horse continues to eat whether he is in the field or in the stable made the farmer realize that he could save money and gain speed by motorizing his transportation. Having purchased a business car to replace his ex[illegible]ive horses.

CANADA'S PUBLIC MARKETS CUT COST OF LIVING

Bon Secours Market in Montreal

Market in Quebec

Champlain Market, Quebec

The French people have been noted for their thrift throughout their history and will go back in the seventeenth eighteenth centuries, the banner of the fleur de Lys was carried to Canada, the French brought with them, the institution of the public market place, which survives today in all French speaking Canada, and to less degree, has spread across the whole Dominion.

The advantage of the public market is self evident. The middle man and the big profit exacted by him is eliminated and the man and car by plan cuts out expensive delivery and credit systems. A make at reduction in prices is thus brought about.

There are several markets in Montreal but perhaps the most famous is the Bonrecours Market, named after the church of Notre Dame de Bonsecours, and well named it is indeed for it of good help to the thrifty housewife these many score of years.

In Quebec, the Champlain Market, at the foot of Chateau Frontenac in the lower town, and the St John Street Market are the largest and serve a double purpose of being at once public necessities and most picturesque spectacles.

In winter it is a remarkable sight to see frozen milk chopped with an ax and served to the customer. Then, too, the daily caravans of frozen "Tommycod" are a novel sight.

The progressive West has also adopted the public market. Winnipeg has one, and the city of Calgary has recently built a great market place to reduce the cost of living by cutting out the middle man. The plan has been successful wherever tried and experts look to the public market as the means of solving the high cost of living problem here in the United States—certainly it has done much good across our northern border.

HIGH SCHOOL DEPARTMENT

School work was resumed after the holidays with renewed pep and vigor. Teachers and students proved grateful for the few days rest by showing an increased interest in their work. This school year has started out with increased attendance, a better corps of teachers and many improvements in equipment and in other lines. The faculty and students are both cooperating in making the year 1919-20 better than all past years.

One of the good things started by the glee club is the assembly singing. Each Wednesday morning the students have a short assembly, conducted by the glee club leader, Mrs. Nita Barlow Lawrence. This is one of the most popular student activities.

Miss Johnson, who has been absent from school on account of her father's death, returned to her work Monday morning. Miss Holman, who took her place, did excellent work but all the students are glad to see Miss Johnson back.

Football has been very popular this year among the boys and girls of our high. The following are the results of the games this season:

O. C. H. S., 13—Hillsboro, 9.
O. C. H. S., 24—Canby, 6.
O. C. H. S., 0—Salem, 7.
O. C. H. S., 19—Hillsboro, 6.
O. C. H. S., 0—Vancouver, 13.
O. C. H. S., 0—Corvallis, 6.
O. C. H. S., 0—Estacada, 7.

Gordon Wilson was the captain this year; Leonard Davis, manager and Mr. King, coach.

Oregon City held Salem to a very low score and Salem defeated Eugene, who claims the championship.

Vancouver won over the Everett team, which holds the championship of Washington. Vancouver, however, won over Oregon City at a very low score.

Oregon City has been very unfortunate this year on account of the crippled condition of the team. However, every member of the line outplayed every line they have met with the exception of Vancouver.

Harbison, Vierhus, Wilson and Warner outplayed their opponents in every game.

Kellogg, who came late in the season, played a remarkable game at guard for an inexperienced player.

McDonald has been in every game a consistent ground gainer.

Damach's knack of picking the hole in the opposing line has made him a consistent ground gainer during the season.

Davis, who showed up well against Hillsboro, has been off the team since the first game because of injuries.

After injuries to other back field men, Gleason was the tower of strength on defense in the Salem game.

Ends played consistent games during the entire season. Those playing these positions were Howard Mass, Raymond Califf and William Rutherford.

Raymond Califf has broken up many forward passes of the opposing team. He gave the rooters a real thrill in the Salem game when he carried an intercepted pass 6 yards, and put us in a position where we would have scored but for a fumble on the following play.

The injury to Robert Beatie, quarterback, was a hard blow to the team. This accident happened in the Salem game.

The football players who will receive letters this year are: Gordon Wilson, Louis Vierhus, Leslie Kellogg, Hugh Harbison, Sidney Warner, Raymond Califf, Howard Mass, William Rutherford, Arthur McDonald, Robert Beatie, Melvin Gleason, George Dambach, Leonard Davis and Jesse Shannon.

These players and the student body are hoping that we will have a more successful season next year and that the team will not be under such difficulties as they were this year.

The students of Oregon City high school were not the only ones to spend their Thanksgiving holidays out of town. The faculty also spent their vacation in various places. The following is a report of the faculty's vacation:

Miss McKnight visited her sister in Corvallis.

Mrs. Woodard and the Misses Zimmerman, McQuaid, Johnson and Kobey spent the holidays at their respective homes in Portland.

Miss Todd remained in Oregon City visiting with friends.

Miss Morgan went to her home in Corvallis for her vacation.

Miss Tiffany visited her sister in Woodburn.

Mr. Tatro, with his wife and two children, visited his parents in Clinton, Ore. He says that he spent bi time in hunting for ducks. But he didn't say he got any.

Mr. King remained at his home in Oregon City and spent his time resting.

Mr. Kirk, with his wife and family, visited relatives in Portlnad.

Miss Haley spent a peaceable vacation at her home in West Linn.

Mr. Arant, with his family and friends from Corvallis, spent his vacation on his farm at Mount Pleasant.

Miss Wagner remained in Oregon City and entertained friends from her old home in the east.

Mrs. Mack remained with her family in Oregon City.

Lee Young, one of our youthful freshmen, has written and published a song entitled "Til Mary O'Dugan"s Daughter and Run O'Dougan's Store." The author follows his plot very clearly and it is very well written. By the name, of course, you can see it is an Irish song and very amusing. Every one in school is very anxious to hear this song and hope the young author will write more in the future and develop this talent of his.

The students of the high school and the faculty members welcomed a number of the alumni on Wednesday, November 26. They were entertained in the afternoon by an assembly given in honor of the coming Thanksgiving day. Those of the alumni who visited were Leonard Rhinearson, Lawrence Hull, Robert Meyers and Earl Boardman, who are attending the Oregon Agricultural college. Thelma Selbe and Dorothy Blake from Monmouth and Conrad Vierhus, who has been in La Grande, and Niama Armstrong visited the high school Monday, November 24.

An assembly program was given Wednesday, November 26. The program consisted of two selections by the high school orchestra; vocal solo entitled "Alone in Love's Garden," by Maude Lagheson, accompanied by Norma Holman and a piano solo by Marie Walker. Norma Freytag told the story of "The Keeper of the Light"; Miss McKnight gave a talk on Thanksgiving, concluding with the reading of Lincoln's Thanksgiving address. Rev. Pettibone gave an address which centered mainly around the American ideals. The program was concluded by a piano soloby Ralph McCoy.

One of the first of this year's school activities was the formation of a boys' glee club. Ten boys enrolled at the first meeting and officers were elected.

Stanford Eby is president, Eugene Vedder vice president, Alfred Beatie librarian and secretary, and Birdsell Ladd treasurer. The boys have good tone volume and Mrs. Lawrence, the instructor, expects to make a big success of the club.

One-half a credit will be given at the end of the year to any student who joins and attends the meetings of the club regularly.

A week before Thanksgiving the teachers of Oregon City high had quite a novel experience. A friend of Mr. Kirk invited him to bring all the teachers to Hawley's mill just after school, to visit and inspect it. The plan met with great favor in the teachers' eyes, so at 3:15 all eighth period classes were postponed or dismissed and the start for the mill was made. Grinders, beaters, digestors, rolls and various other machines of interest were inspected.

Miss Haley, instructor in chemistry, and Miss Woodard, instructor in physics, were especially interested in the new sulphur process installed a few years ago. The excitement and fun started when Miss McQuaid, Miss Todd and Miss Haley stopped by one of the machines to watch one of the acid tests.

The rest of the party went on out and across the street to the new building, but these three were too engrossed in watching the test to notice this.

A few minutes later the three started after the others' at least they thought they did, but a small sairway presented itself and up they went.

At about this time the party across the street was interested in one of the new machines and didn't notice the absence of three of their members. The lost ones wandered practically all through the beater room before finding anyone who could direct them out. The man they found was questioned but said he had seen nothing of the party.

He offered his services in a search for them, however. Up elevators and down, through doors and up stairs, around corners and posts they searched and still the party remained unfound. A short conference was held which resulted in a trip across the street into the new building and the open arms of the rest of the party.

This little adventure made the trip the more interesting and as the teachers were none the worse for their experience, they all agreed that it was a fine trip.

The election of the Hesperian staff was held last Wednesday noon. It was carried out in exactly the same manner as a regular municipal election. Printed ballots were used and were numbered in the regular manner.

Polling places were arranged for each of the four classes and the voting started at 12:20. The ballots were all counted before school was dismissed and the results of the election were printed and tacked on the bulletin board.

The staff has some of the best talent in the school and a better than ever Hesperian is expected this year.
