Milwaukie School Closed for the Year

MILWAUKIE, Dec. 17.—The Milwaukie school has been closed until January 5.

The grammar school building came through the cold weather in good shape but the water system in the high school building became frozen and several of the pipes burst and the whole system will have to be overhauled.

The special school election was held Tuesday for the purpose of increasing the teachers' and janitors' salaries and the measure carried. Seventy-seven votes were cast.

The funeral of Dr. John T. Townley was held Tuesday, December 3, from Finley's. Rev. Levi Johnson preached the funeral services. The services at the grave in Riverview were in charge of the Masonic lodge of which he was a member. Dr. Townley had lived in Milwaukie for many years and was well known and respected. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mary Townley.

The Alumni association is now practicing twice weekly on the high school floor in preparation for the forthcoming alumni-high school basketball game to be played on the above mentioned floor on Tuesday, December 30, at 8 o'clock.

Arthur Smith has been absent from school for two days due to severe illness.

Virgil Walker has fully recovered from the effects of an operation to remove his tonsils and adenoids.

The cast of the Japanese operetta, Princess Chrysanthemum, is zealously rehearsing weekly. The operetta will be presented some time during the second semester under Miss Cohen's direction.

The recent snowfall was the cause of several face-washings.

Potatoes Frozen At Clackamas

CLACKAMAS, Dec. 18.—With frozen potatoes, frozen apples, canned fruit and bursting pipes, no one is singing "Snow, Beautiful Snow."

Among the many automobiles that were abandoned on the 82d street road because of the deep snow, was that of our townsman, Raymond Piper, who after the storm had subsided, found it all but dismantled of its various valuable parts, tires, tools, robes, etc.

Fred Leuenberg, who has about a thousand sacks of potatoes stored in two separate warehouses says he will be able to salvage the same without great loss from the frost, by extreme vigilance and perseverance equalled only by a Red Cross nurse over her hospital patient.

School closed on Monday, December 8, as pupils could not attend during the storm. No Sunday school services at either church on Sunday last.

School Closes At Oak Grove

OAK GROVE, Dec. 17.—School closed Wednesday on account of the severe storm prevailing at that time, and opened Friday with very good attendance.

Regular mails began arriving Friday from both Oregon City and Portland, having been held up or delayed because of the heavy snow.

The movie was called off Friday evening because of the severe weather.

A force of men was busy all day Thursday removing snow from the room of the F. A. Smith building at the corner of Railroad Avenue and Center street.

As a result of the freezing temperature many water pipes were frozen and burst.

On Thursday night of last week thermometers registered from zero to 6 above in different localities and Friday evening and Saturday morning 2 to 3 below.

The Ladies aid apron and food sale held last Friday was well patronized and a neat sum was raised. A report reached here Saturday that Mrs. Evelyn Mae Speck, a former resident of Oak Grove, but recently of Portland, was recently married in San Francisco to George E. Covey, also of Portland.

J. P. Senger, who had a severe cold last week is out again.

Miss Nell Matthews returned Friday from Salem. She will spend the holidays at her home here.

A. Jannault is home from the hospital where he was confined with pleurisy.

G. S. Davenport returned from southern Oregon Saturday.

A cow and heifer belonging to A. R. Reynolds strayed from the barn and got on the car tracks Tuesday morning and the P. R. L. & P. Co. train due here at 7 a. m. ran into the cow, knocking off one horn and cutting and bruising her, but not seriously. The accident happened on the curve between Oak Grove and Rupert.

Mrs. J. Dean Butler transacted business in Portland Tuesday.

The Social Service club will meet with Mrs. F. A. Smith Friday, December 26 at 2 p. m. Because of the severe weather there was no meeting Thursday, December 11, hence the programs for that meeting and the coming one will be combined, so none of the work will be lost.

Mrs. H. C. Krum, Mrs. J. W. Orma-by, Mrs. J. Bigham were among the Portland shoppers Tuesday.

H. Campbell, who committed suicide Thursday of last week because his wife had returned to Portland with her father on account of severe weather and uncomfortable housing here, had been a resident of Oak Grove only about two weeks and was little known here; while his wife, formerly May Little, was quite well known, having resided here more or less for several years and last summer had charge of the confectionery for her parents at the Oak Grove beach. Mr. and Mrs. Campbell had been married for about three months.

COUNTY SHOULD ESTABLISH A COUNTY FARM

The recent snow storm has brought a number of cases of people in indigent circumstances to the attention of the county, accompanied by appeals for help.

In talking over the situation with County Judge Anderson Wednesday, a reported for the Enterprise asked Judge Anderson why this county did not have a county infirmary as other counties did. He replied that the subject had been agitated frequently but that for some reason or another the county had never provided such an institution in which to care for those who were in indigent circumstances.

Judge Anderson said he thought the county should be supplied with an infirmary and when asked if he had any suggestion to make along this line he said that the county could well afford to put up a suitable building on the county fair grounds at Canby and with the inmates of the home for the county to conduct a poultry farm.

Judge Anderson said the county was paying out now between $12,000 and $13,000 annually to care for its poor and that practically all of this money could go toward the support of the home in the event it was established as he suggested.

The county now owns 40 acres of land in the county fair grounds at Canby. This land is well drained and is admirably situated for the raising of poultry. The work necessary in caring for chickens is for the most part very light work and would not be too severe for the inmates of the home.

Under present conditions and at the present time the county is caring for about 25 men and women. The present system is to board these poor people out in private families over the county.

The county makes a contract for their board, room and washing and every month a warrant is issued for the bill. There is one old man who

POOR OLD MAN SHOULD BE SENT TO SALEM IS OPINION

An Enterprise reporter called on County Judge Anderson Wednesday afternoon to inform him of the offer of A. J. Haas with regard to the proper care for Joe McDermott, the old man who is living in a fearful condition in a little hovel near Seventeenth and Washington streets.

After learning of Mr. Haas' offer, Judge Anderson said that it was his opinion that because there were no property rights involved it would not be advisable to appoint a guardian for the old man; but he offered the suggestion that the old man should be taken up by the county and examined and then if it were found proper to have him sent to the state institution at Salem where he would receive the best of treatment and care, including clothing, food and medical attention.

Mr. Haas in discussing the case with the Enterprise representative stated positively that Joe was mentally unable to care for himself but that Joe did not want to leave Oregon City.

After talking the matter over with Judge Anderson it was decided that Joe be examined as to his mental condition. Judge Anderson said, further that he was familiar with the condition and that something of a definite nature must be done in Joe's case.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The mechanical drawing class have stopped work in order to make skoes. About 25 or 30 pairs of skoes have already been made. The cost of materials for the making of one pair of skoes is about 75 cents.

Skoes are made from 1x4 fir lumber and are planned, drawn to a half inch thickness. The end to be bent is then boiled for about 45 minutes. The skoes are then put in a specially made rack which bends the points. Then the bottom is smoothed off and straps are put on to fit the wearer's feet.

The manual training boys have derived a great deal of pleasure from these during the recent snow. They are as capable of standing on them as clm timers are.

The domestic science course is divided into two classes. In the D. S. I. class are freshmen girls doing laboratory theory work. In the other, the D. S. II. class are the more advanced girls who handle the cafeteria under the supervision of Miss Fern Pair. Lunches are served every day at cost price, and are proving a great success. There is an average attendance of 100 students each day.

The seventh and eighth grades from both public schools are also being taught domestic science work in the afternoon.

Many different dishes are prepared such as salads, soups, meat, puddings, etc., at from 5 to 7 cents. The average students' lunch usually costs from 18 to 23 cents.

On December 9, the senior and junior debating team met to decide a question for debate. The questions selected, "That railroads should revert back to private ownership, twenty-one months after peace is declared." The seniors are to uphold the affirmative and the juniors the negative. The debate was to have been held this coming Friday but has been postponed until after the Christmas holidays.

Kenneth Hutchinson, who would have graduated with the class of '19 had he not joined the service, was a visitor at our school on Monday and Tuesday. Kenneth arrived home Wednesday, Dec. 10, for a twenty-day furlough with his family. He has been stationed at Mare Island since his enlistment. He is very glad to be at home and to visit his friends in Oregon City.

Prof. John R. Dowland, of Barclay school, has been in charge of Miss Johnson's class Monday and Tuesday owing to illness of the teacher.

Other visitors at our school were Miss Madge Warner, Laurence Hull and Carl Molline.

December 6 the girls of the art department enjoyed a very pleasant trip to the art museum in Portland last Saturday. They saw a large collection of paintings by Clara Stevens that were excellent in color; some reproductions of old master's work, and a large collection of old Japanese textiles. These were all very helpful to the pupils who are now studying line design and fine color. They were accompanied by their instructor, Mrs. L. R. Meek.

The Milwaukie boxing card held Tuesday evening in the big arena there drew one of the best crowds of the season. Although the weather was not ideal for auto travel, many machines were parked along the main street of the town.

The main event—Jimmy D'Arcy vs. Tommy Gibbons—was won by Gibbons, after D'Arcy fought him to a standstill for the two last rounds. Gibbons deserved the decision given by Denver Ed. for the reason that D'Arcy traveled around the ring like a turkey on a hot iron for about six rounds. Fans could see that D'Arcy was afraid of the St. Paul Kid, and that he kept covered up and away from the champion for some time. About the eighth round, D'Arcy found that Gibbons had nothing up his sleeve, and waded in to the champion in great style, and when the gong sounded for the last round, Gibbons was a little groggy. D'Arcy claimed after the fight that he missed the chance of his life by not wading in from the start, but thought Gibbons had more punch, and looking for a knockout. After the decision was given to the St. Paul wonder, the crowd hooted considerably, but the ringside spectators today claim that the decision was O. K.

Carl Martin put up one of the worst exhibitions ever seen with Toughy Wing. He did not fight in his usual style, and Wing made a monkey out of him.

Neil Zimmerman and George Brandon put up a peach of a scrap, but Zimmerman was a little too strong for his opponent. However, it was one of the best fights on the card.

Boddy Ward lost to Stanley Willis by a wide margin. Willis is one of the best boxers around this neck of the woods, and it takes a hard hitter to beat him. But credit must be given to Ward as he was a clean boxer, and clever.

The next card scheduled for the Milwaukie arena will be on January 1, and will be the best boxing program ever put on in the Pacific northwest. The Milwaukie commission will spend $9000 on the above date for the best in the country, and it is expected that a large attendance will be on hand.

And even if we were
Sure that the end was here
It would be a fine feeling
To know that our garden
Would furnish
First premium vegetables
For the Clackamas county fair
And that Oregon City
Made record time
