

A COMPARISON

You wouldn't drink from a rusty tin cup with a clean glass at hand! Well then, why pay as much, or nearly as much, for a pump with a metal valve seat?

Myers Pump with the PATENTED GLASS VALVE SEAT?

Metal Valve seats may corrode or rust. GLASS VALVE SEATS CANNOT. Metal Valve Seats harden the check leathers quickly. GLASS VALVE SEATS DO NOT. The patent Myers Glass Valve seat is well protected and is as lasting as any metal seat and far superior.

Obituaries

Lum Stevens

The body of Lum Stevens, a former resident of this city, but recently of Powell River, B. C., was brought to this city Wednesday morning and the funeral services will be held from the undertaking establishment of Myers and Brady, Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with interment in the family lot at Mountain View cemetery. Mr. Stevens died at Spokane Tuesday morning after a lingering illness.

Mr. Stevens was 38 years and 10 months old. He resided in Oregon City for some time, being the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Stevens, the former dying about two years ago and the latter last October. While living here, Mr. Stevens was employed by the Willamette Pulp and Paper Co. and six years ago left this city to become assistant superintendent of the paper mills in Powell River. He left the northern paper mill town because of his health and moved to Spokane, Wash.

Mr. Stevens is survived by his widow and the following brothers and sisters: William Stevens, of Petaluma, Cal.; George Stevens, of Oregon City; Fred Stevens, of Lents, Ore.; Miss Mollie Baker, of Mt. Pleasant; Mrs. Eliza Neukircher, of LaGrande; Mrs. Minnie Gard, of Clarksville; and Mrs. Nellie McCord, of Molalla. Mr. Stevens' little daughter Helen died about a year ago.

Paul Schroder

Paul Schroder of Stafford died at the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Mattie Athy, at the place, where the young man was born and raised, on Tuesday morning. The cause of death was not ascertained, but Mr. Schroder had been ill for several weeks.

Mrs. Schroder and seven children, Eldon, Paul, Jr., Sophie, Marguerite, Nellie, Lillian and Harvey, survive. The funeral will be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock, with interment in the cemetery at Stafford.

Mr. Schroder was 38 years old at the time of his death and had spent his entire life in Clackamas county. He was born at Stafford and when he passed away on Tuesday was one of the best known and most successful farmers in the community that had been his life-long home.

CAKE.—Cream a cupful of sugar and a cupful of shortening together. Sift together one and one-half cupfuls of flour and one-half cupfuls of soda, cinnamon and nutmeg and add it to the sugar alternately with a cupful of sour milk. Chop a couple of raisins, sprinkle them with half a cupful of flour and add to mixture. Frost with a soft chocolate icing.

Cherry Pudding.—Beat an egg with a third of a cupful of sugar. Add a cupful of sour milk in which a fourth of a teaspoonful of soda has been dissolved and a teaspoonful of melted butter. Then add a cupful of flour and a cupful of stoned cherries. Bake in a hot oven and serve with vanilla sauce.

Sour Cream Pie.—Beat two eggs till light, then add a cupful of sugar, a cupful of thick sour cream, half a cupful of raisins and half a teaspoonful each of cinnamon and nutmeg. Bake between two crusts.

Dressing For Cold Slaw.—Whip a cupful of sour cream till stiff, then add half a cupful of vinegar slowly, half a cupful of sugar and salt to taste.

Ginger Rolls.—Cream half a cupful of sugar with half a cupful of shortening. Add an egg well beaten, a cupful of molasses and a cupful of sour milk in which a teaspoonful of soda has been dissolved. Sift a half teaspoonful each of cloves, cinnamon, ginger and nutmeg with a cupful of flour and add. Then add enough more flour to make a rather stiff batter. Bake in gem pans.

Herrnuts.—Beat an egg and add a cupful of sugar creamed with a half cupful of butter. Then add half a cupful of sour cream, a teaspoonful of soda, two tablespoonfuls of molasses, spice to taste and half a cupful each of chopped walnuts and raisins. Mix soft and drop from a spoon. These will keep a long time.

Sour Cream Filling For Cakes.—Whip a half cupful of sour cream and add half a cupful of powdered sugar and half a cupful of blanched almonds chopped fine. Flavor with vanilla.

Pancakes.—Dissolve half a teaspoonful of soda in two cupfuls of sour milk and add one and one-half cupfuls of breadcrumbs, a tablespoonful of melted butter and two or three eggs. Enough flour must be added to make the batter the right consistency.

CAUSE AND CURE OF BIGOTRY

(Sermon by Dr. W. T. Milliken)

In two verses of John 17 (21-22), we find expressed one of the dearest wishes of our divine Master's heart. The "Our Father" of Matthew six is really the Disciple's prayer. The seventeenth of John is the Lord's prayer. And in it he pleads "that they (believers) may all be one; even as thou art in me and I in thee, that they may also be one in us; that the world may believe that thou didst send me. And the glory which thou hast given me I have given unto them; that they may be one, even as we are one."

Oneness of believers, then, is surely an ideal that lies very to the heart of the Master.

Did Oneness Mean One Denomination?

I am very sure that it did not. There is a vast difference between "Union" and "Unity." Often there is more unity where there is no union. Pat and Biddy could never agree in their married life. One day, in a lull between domestic battles, he sat reading his paper while his wife busied herself with her knitting. Old Rover lay asleep under the stove with the tabby cat coiled up against his furry side, blinking and purring. Biddy watched them for a moment or so and then said:

"Patrick, why can't we live as decent and peaceable as them two dumb brutes?"

Pat glanced over the top of his paper, and grunted:

"Them together wanst."

Some people together and you have a Kilkenny fair in miniature, whereas otherwise they would forever work together in peace and unity.

Someone has said, "Conscience is one thing north of the Pyrenees Mountains, and another thing south." He was wrong. He should have said, "Temperament is one thing north of the Pyrenees and another thing south." How often conscience gets the blame for the misdeeds of temperament. Many of our church affiliations are matters of temperament. One man resembles the old fellow who said he simply had to yell when he felt good or "blow up like a boiler." His yell would knock all the spirituality out of a service for another man, who would draw nearest God in solitude, where he could approach him in meditation. A third cares neither for the Methodist "Amen" nor for the Quaker silence, but is lifted heavenward through a service that appeals to his intellect. Still another can best approach God through the channel of the sensuous of a grand ritual. One enjoys the feeling of dependence that comes through letting someone manage his ecclesiastical affairs for him. Another must have a finger in every pie, or the world is going wrong. Were the Baptists to swallow the rest of Christendom they would never be able to digest them. Thousands would be without the things that they most depend upon to build up their spiritual life. Were the Methodist church the only one in existence it's spiritual energy would all run down squelching heretics whose sensibilities would be sent into cold shivers by the "Amen Corner." The same is true of Presbyterian and Congregationalist, United Brethren and Lutheran, Christian and Episcopalian. Hence it would be an unmitigated disaster should all the Evangelical bodies of Christendom decide to come together in one denominational type. It needs many types to suit many temperaments. Read the messages of the Lord to the angels of the seven churches in Revelations two and three, and you will find as great a diversity between local churches as you find between denominations today. It is a popular pastime for shallow-pates to twiddle at the great denominations. But the men who do so for the most part would not recognize a temperament if they met it around loose, and hence do not realize that these denominations are not bodies which unchristian all other bodies, but are groupings of men in service for Christ according to similarities of disposition and outlook. In nine cases out of ten a sneer at denominationalism covers a shallow brain. To bring about the desire of our Lord the church, then, needs not UNION, but UNITY.

The Kingdom and the Church

To locate and to cure bigotry two things must be clearly apprehended. The first is the difference between the church and the kingdom of God. The second is the distinction between Christian essentials and philosophizing about those essentials.

Many use the terms "Kingdom of God" and "Church" as though they stood for the same thing. They do not. For instance, Jesus said: "Except one be born anew he cannot see the Kingdom of God. Thousands find their way into the churches who know nothing of the new birth. He said:

"It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for a rich man to enter the Kingdom of God." If a rich man thinks it is hard for him to enter the average church let him make almost any kind of a profession, and apply at almost any kind of a church, and see. Christ said: "The Kingdom of God cometh not with observation." You cannot say "Lo, here!" or "Lo there!" But a live church is very much in evidence in a community because of its efficient service; and a half-dead one is equally in the public eye through its fairs and bazars and chicken-pie suppers.

The church is an organization within the kingdom intended to work out its principles in time. The Kingdom is not of the world yet it is a conquering force in the world. Some day it will control the world. Oh no, you poor little atheist, Christianity has not collapsed in the European war. England forgot her Christ and began to run after Robert Blatchford and other poor little short-sighted unbelievers like yourself, and her churches were emptied. Rationalistic unbe-liefs filled the pulpits of Germany, and "Kultur" replaced God. France profaned its sabbath and scoffed at its believers. In Russia the Holy Synod replaced piety by politics. So God left the whole unbelieving mass to ferment itself out, and the result was that pride and selfishness and shakels of silver loomed larger and larger until the whole business frothed out into the present war. The Kingdoms of this world are destined to become the Kingdom of our Christ, and the revival is already beginning in war-stricken Europe. Personally I do not look for the consummation of the Kingdom until after the coming of the King. In this I am a Premillennarian. Yet I think the Pre's err in that they fail to see that the personal rule of the King will be but the consummation The mustard seed of the Kingdom is now growing in the world. There is no evil in the kingdom, for it is only composed of God's own. For once heaven, therefore, does not mean evil in Matt. 13. God's Kingdom is a kingdom of the truly redeemed and has in it no evil. The church may have both evil and good together. The Kingdom will be drawn out of the church, some day, like the wheat from the tares, or the good fish from the valueless. The consummation of the Kingdom is drawing closer with every man who accepts Christ as his Lord and Master. Every man who has stretched a hand of surrender up from the darkness of earth until he has felt the answering clasp of forgiveness from God's side is a citizen. These churches of ours are but bodies organized of citizens of the Kingdom to propagate its principles. No one church is as broad as the Kingdom. All the churches together are not as wide as it is, for many know Christ as Lord, and thus are citizens of the Kingdom, who belong to no church. The church ends at the cemetery. The Kingdom is eternal. No one will be known as a Baptist, or a Methodist, or a Presbyterian, or a Lutheran when we get over beyond. All earth distinctions will be lost in our common onship with God and heirship with Christ. The first basis of unity, then, must lie in power to distinguish between the Kingdom (towards the extension of which all our churches strive to work) and the churches, which are but temporary organizations, each trying to help men into the kingdom in its own way.

Distinguishing Essentials from Speculations About Essentials

Evangelical churches recognize a small group of essentials. Note, now, that these all have to do directly with life, not with philosophizing about life. They are:

1. SIN. John's statement: "If we say we have no sin we deceive ourselves and the truth is not in us," has an answering echo in every honest man's common sense. The world is helplessly involved and needs a Saviour.

Thankful For Relief Remedy Brought Her

Says Fruitola and Traxo Possesses All the Merit That Is Claimed for It

After completing the necessary treatment, Mrs. S. S. Cole, Lampasas, Texas, was so well pleased with the results that she wrote the Pinus laboratories as follows: "Fruitola and Traxo are all you claim. It removed a quantity of gall-stones and I feel sure it saved my life. I am well now and thankful to you for the great good your medicine has done me."

Fruitola is a powerful lubricant for the intestinal organs and one dose is usually sufficient to clearly demonstrate its efficacy. It softens the congested masses, disintegrates the hardened particles that occasion so much suffering and expels the accumulated waste to the great relief of the patient. Following a dose of Fruitola, Traxo should be taken three or four times a day in order to rebuild and restore the system that has become weakened and run down from constant suffering. It is a splendid tonic, acting on the liver and stomach most beneficially.

Fruitola and Traxo are prepared in the Pinus laboratories at Monticello, Ill., and arrangements have been made to supply them through representative druggists. In Oregon City, Portland, Hubbard and Canby they can be obtained at Huntley Bros. Company's Drug stores.
