

OWN A GOOD WATCH

YOU hold yourself as a young man worthy of confidence, ambitions, enterprising, and people are willing to take you at the valuation you put on yourself. Therefore they expect you to carry a good watch—an accurate time keeper, in a case of reliable quality.

If you haven't such a watch, you handicap yourself. You can't offer a valid excuse for not owning a good watch. Time's too valuable to be wasted by lack of one, especially since good watches are so moderately priced at our store. Come in and examine our watches.

Let us convince you that our prices are right

Burmeister & Andresen

Oregon City Jewelers Suspension Bridge Corner

COUNTY AND CITY LOCALS

All winter hats sold at one-half price.—Schumacher & Linton.

Eugene Cummins, who has been visiting here for several days with his son and daughter-in-law, has returned to his 400-acre ranch near Madras. Wheat growers in eastern Oregon can well afford the delights of travel this year, according to Mr. Cummins' report of receipts and sales.

"Take Care of Your Eyes,"—Prudden, optometrist, Oregon City.

Mrs. Charles Stanley of Seattle has returned to her home after enjoying a pleasant visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hiatt. Mrs. Stanley spent some time with her sister, Mrs. Walter Brown, in Portland.

F. W. Rowland of Minneapolis, Minn., accompanied by his son, was in Oregon City late last week on business. Mr. Rowland is connected with the Bannock & Co. chain of stores and his duties with that company brought him here.

Neal & McClatchie Jewelry store is five doors west of elevator.

Senator W. A. Dimick spent Saturday at his office in this city, returning to the state house at Salem on Sunday. Mrs. Dimick has been spending much of the time during the legislative session with her husband at Salem.

Your eyes are your bread winners.—Prudden, optometrist, Oregon City.

Eugene Axt, express agent at the W. V. S. depot in this city, has been transferred to the Mt. Angel office of the company.

Henry Streibig left this week for California where he will travel and visit for some time. He may also go east before returning to Oregon City and in the meantime K. Koellermeier and George Melike will have charge of the Streibig market.

We grind our lenses in Oregon City.—Prudden, optometrist, Oregon City.

The death of her father is the cause of the sudden departure of Mrs. H. F. Tschirgi for Cedar Rapids, Iowa, late last week.

A delightful trip is planned by Mr. and Mrs. H. Calvert of this city, providing for their departure from Oregon City on Saturday and their return only after they have witnessed the Mardi Gras carnival at New Orleans and spent some time in the principal cities of the south and west.

Going, Mr. and Mrs. Calvert will travel by way of Salt Lake and Denver and returning will come through Louisiana, Oklahoma, Texas and California.

If you are not fair to your eyes,

Oregon City visitor over the week-end.

Broken lenses replaced. Save the pieces.—Prudden, optometrist, Oregon City.

Roland Fosberg has returned home from Montana, where he has been for three months. Mr. Fosberg was ill in Montana and was confined in a hospital at Butte for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilson had as their guests over the week-end Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Wetherford of Albany. Neal & McClatchie make a specialty of repairing watches, clocks or anything pertaining to the jewelry business.

Three Chubbys, R. H. of Portland, S. D. of New York city and Roy G. of Canby, gathered in Oregon City on Tuesday.

Obituaries

Funeral of D. E. Jenkins

Funeral services of David E. Jenkins, who died last week at his home on the South End road, will be held from the First Congregational church on Saturday morning at 11 o'clock. The Rev. J. W. MacCallum will officiate. The body has been held at the Holman parlors pending the arrival of relatives from the east.

David E. Jenkins

David E. Jenkins, 61 years old, died at his home on the South End road Friday night, after an extended period of illness. Mr. Jenkins is survived by his widow, one son, David, Jr., of Kansas; on daughter, Mary Davis, of San Francisco, and three grandchildren. He was a native of Wales, where he was born on June 24, 1856, and had lived most of his life in Ohio.

Abraham Loveall

The death of Abraham Loveall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Loveall, came suddenly on last Wednesday at the Loveall home at Rothe. The child had not been well for several weeks, and was taken with a gripe and measles a week ago, and this, together with heart trouble, caused death. He was aged 8 years and 8 months and was the oldest of four children. The family had just recently moved to Rothe from Woodburn. The body was taken to Lebanon Friday, where the funeral was held.

Isaac Tolpolar

Isaac Tolpolar, aged 59 and a native of Poland, died at his home on John Adams street Wednesday evening. Mr. Tolpolar had long been a sufferer from heart trouble and the complaint became so acute recently that he had to stop business pursuits suddenly and take to his bed. In his store on Main street, where he has done business for almost 25 years, an explosion of gunpowder recently burned Mr. Tolpolar slightly and blew out the front of his store. The shock aggravated his illness, it is said, and he did not return to business after the accident. He is survived by Mrs. Tolpolar and three daughters, Mrs. S. O. Stein and Mrs. Paul D. Dimm, of Portland, and Mrs. A. A. Price of Oregon City. Funeral arrangements have not been completed. Mr. Tolpolar was a member of the Maccabees.

Mrs. Jane C. Rands

Mrs. Jane Campbell Rands, wife of the late E. P. Rands, and a native of Manchester, England, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. A. White, here on Friday. Funeral services were held from the Congregational church Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with interment in Mountain View cemetery. Mrs. Rands was born in Manchester on June 18, 1832, and came to America with her parents at an early age to make her home in Providence, R. I. Some years later the family moved to Illinois, where she married Edward P. Rands on August 6, 1850. The couple lived in Iowa until 1877, when they came to Oregon. Mrs. Rands died here in 1903 and Mrs. Rands has made her home most of the time since with her daughter. She is survived by her children: E. M. Rands, Vancouver, Wash.; Mrs. W. A. White and Mrs. J. L. Swafford, Oregon City; C. A. Rands, Pocatello, Idaho, and Ernest P. and Harold A. Rands, of Oregon City. There are also 16 grandchildren, six great-grandchildren, and two brothers, Andrew Campbell, Portland, and Duncan Campbell, Forsythe, Mo.

Squeaky Soles in Tune.

Manufacturers of shoes who make a specialty of the squeaky variety should pay more attention to pairing them up in harmonious duets. The squeak, squeak of the hired girl's high heeled bronzed number tends to drive a saint to cuss words. But we must not heap our displeasure upon