

Our Policy

WE believe that there is only one way to build up a successful business, and that is to give the customer all that he pays for and a little bit more.

We believe you should get a full dollar's worth for every dollar you spend.

Our policy has always been to sell only the highest grade merchandise at the lowest possible prices. That this policy is working out successfully, is attested to by the large numbers of people who patronize us. Are you one of them?

EDITOR VISITS ALASKA

M. J. Brown, of Benton County Courier, Off on Pilgrimage

Next week the Courier editor is going to grab a suit case and beat it to the interior of Alaska.

For a few weeks he is going to get so darned far away from civilization, newspapers and war dispatches that he won't know it, or be able to rejoice, if the kaiser drops dead from tonsillitis.

Steamer from Seattle to Skagway, then over the pass to the headwaters of the Yukon, then north into the Arctic Circle as far as there is anything living—or anything to live on.

The big idea is to polka far out in the open; to get away from the business lock-step for a few weeks; out in the great north land where men are not disqualified for crowding and where every son-of-a-gun looks alike.

He will follow the Yukon river from its headwaters to the Bering sea at Nome, and when boating gets monotonous he will jump ashore and break into the society push of the Indian villages; mix up with the sourdough boys in the mining camps, and do sign-language wig-wags with the Eskimos.

To pass away the long evenings—there is no night in the Arctic Circle at this time of summer—he will write Alaskan stories for an eastern syndicate of newspapers—stories of the unusual, the odd spots—and the Benton County Courier is a subscriber.

F. W. Holmes will be editor of the Courier during Mr. Brown's absence.

—Benton County Courier.

Hon. George A. Carlson

Colorado Statesman and Reformer Who Will Be Heard at Chautauqua

THE state of Colorado some time ago elected a young man governor at the age of thirty-eight. It did it deliberately, with purpose and forethought, for that young man had demonstrated that he was an able statesman, a constructive thinker, a fighter and a reformer, as courageous as he was practical. That man was George A. Carlson. His administration of the governor's office was marked by unusual ability and real democracy, and he comes now to Ellison-White Chautauqua with a burning message for all true Americans, "The Price of Progress."

SECOND OFFICERS' CAMP AUGUST 26-NOVEMBER 26

The following information regarding the second officers' training camp has been sent out by the Western Army division.

To provide officers for the drafted forces of the National Army the War Department has adopted the policy of commissioning all new officers of the line (Infantry, Cavalry, Field and Coast Artillery) purely on the basis of demonstrated ability after three months' observation and training in the Officers' Training camps.

A second series of Officers' Training camps will be held beginning August 27th, 1917, with the definite mission of producing a body of line officers (Infantry, Cavalry, Field and Coast Artillery) capable of filling all places in the grades above lieutenant and many of the places in the grade of lieutenant in the second 500,000 troops.

The second camp for the Western Department will be held at the Presidio Reservation, San Francisco, Cal., and will open on August 27th, 1917, and close November 26th, 1917.

The following are eligible to apply:

Members of the Officers' Reserve Corps (line sections) who, through no fault of their own, were unable to attend the first series of camps; also Reserve Officers of Staff Corps under 50 years of age with at least two months' service in war and who have had experience in Infantry, Cavalry or Artillery.

Non-commissioned officers of the Regular Army recommended in March, 1917, for temporary appointment in case of war, and who, through no fault of their own, were unable to attend the training schools for Regular Army non-commissioned officers in April, 1917. Maximum age limit 50 years.

Resigned officers of the Regular Army. Maximum age limit 50 years.

Men of proper qualifications made eligible for the Officers' Reserve Corps by the Army Appropriation of May 12, 1917. Maximum age limit 50 years.

Men who have qualified for commissions under General Orders No. 42, War Department, 1915. Maximum age limit 50 years.

Citizens of the United States who have had war service in the present war as officers or non-commissioned officers of the line in the armies of allied Powers. Maximum age limit 44 years.

Men of exceptional qualifications who tendered their services to the government prior to June 5, 1917, and who have been listed under G. O., War Department. Maximum age limit 50 years.

Citizens with valuable military experience and adaptability for commissioned grade, or citizens who have demonstrated marked ability and capacity for leadership, and are clearly adapted for military service in commissioned grade. Maximum age limit 44 years.

Employees of the United States must obtain the signed recommendation and consent of their chiefs.

Men who applied for the first series of camps must re-apply whether or not certified as suitable for the first camps. They will have no preference in selection for these camps but will be on an equal basis with other applicants.

The minimum age limit for all applicants is 20 years and 9 months. However, in order to obtain the experienced class of men desired, preference will be given to men over 31 years of age, other things being equal. Because of the anticipated large number of applications, it will probably be difficult for men under that age to qualify except in instances where the applicant has pre-eminent qualifications or unusual military experience.

Note particularly that letters of recommendation are not wanted, but only the names of three responsible citizens who know the applicant best. Each applicant must be examined physically at his own expense by a reputable physician, who will fill out the physical report forming part of the official application blank. This preliminary examination is subject to review and the examining officer may require another examination. Men who submitted physical examination on the Army blank for the first series of camps may submit these reports in lieu of a new examination. Applications will be received up to July 15, 1917. Under no circumstances will an application be considered if received after July 15.

Accepted applicants, unless they are reserve officers or members of the Regular Army or National Guard in Federal service, will be required to enlist for a period of three months, under Section 54, National Defense Act, and will agree to accept such commission in the Army of the United States as may be tendered by the Secretary of War. The enlistment obligates one to service in the training camp only.

The Government will pay the men in training $100 per month during the three months' course and will provide transportation, uniforms and subsistence except that Reserve Officers in training will receive the pay of their grades and will provide uniforms and subsistence at their own expense.

Since the special object of these camps is to train a body of men fitted to fill the more responsible positions of command in the new armies, every effort will be made to select men of exceptional character and proved ability in their various occupations. While it is desired to give full opportunity for all eligible citizens to apply, no man need make application whose record is not in all respects above reproach and who does not possess the fundamental characteristics necessary to inspire respect and confidence.

Every candidate must file his application in person with the Local Committee of the Military Training Camps Association in the town in which he resides. A Military Training Camps Association Committee will be appointed in every town having a population of not less than 2500 within the eight states from which candidates are to be drawn for the Presidio Camp. From these Committees application blanks can be secured. Information as to the identity and address of the above mentioned Local Committees can be had from the cashier of any bank. Do not mail your application.

The headquarters of the Military Training Camps Association for the Western Department can be addressed as below.

P. M. LANSDALE, Executive Secretary Military Training Camps Association of the United States, Western Department, 201 Pine Street, San Francisco, Cal.

The committee for Oregon City through which applications for the next Officers' Reserve Training camp must be made is composed of Will T. Wright, president of the Bank of Oregon City, chairman, Chas. H. Caulfield, of the Bank of Oregon City, F. J. Meyer, of the First National Bank, and John R. Humphrys, of the Bank of Commerce.

REGISTRATION CARDS FILED Names of Eligibles for Clackamas County Part of Record

The numbered copies of the war registration cards which were completed by the county draft board Monday were taken to Portland by Deputy District Attorney Thos. A. Burke and Sheriff W. J. Wilson and turned over to Adjutant General George A. White, to become a permanent record of the United States government. Sheriff Wilson said he did not believe there were any slackers in the county, as every report of suspected ones had proved groundless. There were 2625 names registered in Clackamas county.

Obituaries

Hugh George

Hugh George, 55 years old, died at the Oregon City hospital Sunday after several weeks' sickness. Funeral services were held at the Holman undertaking parlors at ten o'clock Tuesday morning and were in charge of Clear Creek grange, of which Mr. George was a member. Interment was in Mountain View cemetery.

Mrs. Mary Jeremiah

The fifth death caused by a complication of pneumonia and measles in this city within the past few weeks was recorded Thursday morning when Mrs. Mary Jeremiah, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Earp, succumbed to the disease at the Oregon City hospital. Mrs. Jeremiah was a sister of William Earp, 16 months of age, who died June 19 of the same sickness. Mrs. Jeremiah was 17 years old and is survived by her father and mother, two sisters, Helen and Mildred and two brothers, Theodore and Perry. She was born in Oregon City and attended school here until her marriage.

Funeral services were held at the Holman undertaking parlors Friday afternoon at four o'clock and interment was in the family plot in Mountain View cemetery. Rev. W. T. Milliken officiated.

Mrs. Sarah Anne Ware

Mrs. Sarah Anne Ware, 82 years of age, widow of the late James W. Ware, died at her home here at six o'clock Monday morning. Funeral services were held at the United Brethren church at three o'clock Tuesday afternoon, Rev. Harry Hart officiating. Interment was in Mountain View cemetery beside the remains of her husband who died several years ago.

Mrs. Ware is survived by the following named children: Mrs. Eva May, of Oregon City, with whom she made her home; Mrs. C. A. Rands, of Pocatello, Idaho; Mrs. J. E. Wiley, of Palouse, Wash.; Mrs. E. L. Shaw, of Oregon City; J. V. Green, of Clackamas; and the Rev. A. J. Ware, of Oregon City. Joseph Myers, of Coquille, Oregon, and W. W. Myers, of this city, are brothers. Mrs. Mary Wright, of Portland, is a sister of the deceased.

Mrs. Ware is one of the early pioneers of Clackamas county. She has lived here for nearly 50 years and was widely acquainted.

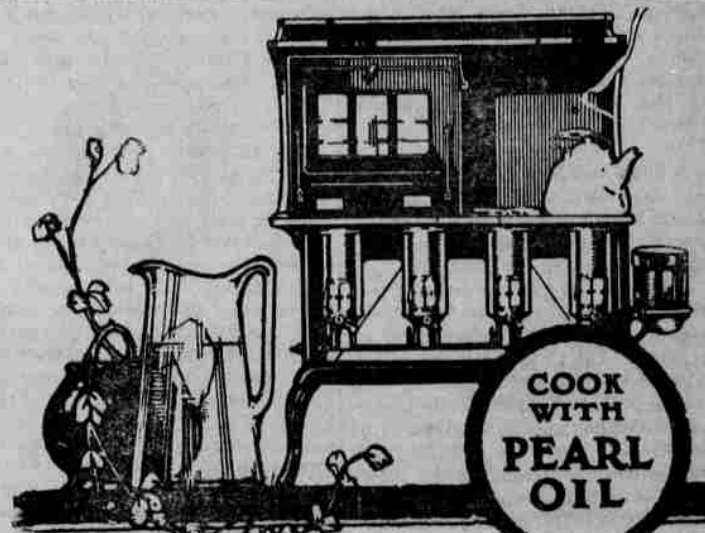

ROSES BLOOM PROFUSELY

Gardens of Rose Growers Attract Visitors With Their Beauty

The unusually late season which retarded the blooming of roses seems to have added beauty to the blooms which are opening with profusion all over Oregon City. Buds from the garden of Mrs. J. J. Cooke, wife of Postmaster Cooke, attracted considerable attention at the postoffice last week, and the hedge of Caroline Test-outs in front of the home of Mrs. G. A. Harding with a background of nearly every variety and shade is another beauty spot. The garden of Mrs. Grant B. Dimick, whose roses have captured prizes in former years, is now in full bloom and attracting many visitors.

Impostor Collects Dog Tax

A warning to dog owners to pay no taxes to anyone but himself is given by Constable Jack Frost, who says an impostor has been visiting homes in this city and collecting the amount of the state tax. Constable Frost says he has given no one authority to collect the tax and that the power is vested in his office solely.

COOLNESS

There's nothing so cool as an oil stove for summer cooking. All the heat is concentrated on the cooking and not radiated about the kitchen.

Cooks everything any wood or coal range will cook, and cooks it better, because of the steady, evenly-distributed heat.

Use it all the year 'round—more convenient than a wood or coal stove, and more economical.

The long blue chimneys prevent all smoke and smell. In 1, 2, 3 and 4 burner sizes, with or without ovens. Also cabinet models. Ask your dealer today.
