UNIONISTS OPPOSE LABOR NEWSPAPER

CARPENTERS WILL NOT SUPPORT MOVEMENT FOR NEW PAPER

A resolution opposing a "labor" newspaper in Oregon City was adopted at a meeting of the local carpenters' union No. 1388 in the labor temple here last night. The local is affiliated with the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners and has about 45 members on its books at present, although many of its members are at American Lake working on the government cantonment buildings being erected there. H. C. Tozier is the president of the local branch.

Mr. Tozier said last night that some advertising soliciting had been done in this city toward the establishment of a labor union press here. The carpenters will not support such a paper simply because it is intended to represent labor.

"That is not enough to make us ask merchants of Oregon City to dig into their pockets for additional advertising expenditures simply that we may have a labor paper. One labor paper in the state is enough at present."

"More than that," added Mr. Tozier, "the local newspapers are meeting the need here. The man who is soliciting advertising space in the new venture claims to have the support of the pulp workers' union and is basing his whole project on that."

Chester Vanderpool, of Portland, spoke to the members at the meeting last night and said there is work for about 600 men at American Lake and that several hundred are needed in Portland and vicinity.

The officers of the local are H. C. Tozier, president; E. A. Parker, vice-president; Glen Mills, recording secretary; Thomas Cook, financial secretary; E. W. Eby, conductor; D. C. Courtney, warden; Gilbert Terry, William Lowry and Gilbert Snidow, trustees.

URGE MUSICIANS TO JOIN NAVY BEFORE DRAFT COMES

The navy wants men and more than ever has opportunities for certain trade lines which should offer hundreds in the next few weeks.

Owing to the fact that certain ratings are closed, the impression has gone out that the navy is restricting enlistment generally, but the Portland office wants it particularly understood that only certain lines are closed and that many men are needed to fill ratings which offer good clean men splendid opportunities.

It is only in the following classifications that enlistments are not being made at present: Landsmen for electricians, general; yeomen; plumbers and fitters; shipwrights; shipfitters; blacksmiths; boilermakers; painters and printers. However, many men fitted under those branches might very often take a rating under other branches which are now open and in which men are needed badly.

There is a big need today for apprentice seamen, machinists' mates, first and second class. There is a special opportunity for musicians and almost every town in the state has a band which could send a representative to the navy. This particular need is most urgent and because so much of the spirit and morale of the men on board ship depends on their band, musicians everywhere are being urged to consider the call.

It is the band which gives the men their daily entertainment and relaxation from stern duty. The band helps the sailors in their drills, and in general is recognized as a big factor in the building up of the organization of the ship's crew. In this connection every rating is needed and musicians will find unlimited opportunity.

Those who have a desire to see service in the air also have an excellent opportunity at this time, for the Portland office has an opening for rating as Landsman for Quartermaster in the aviation section. This is a job of some responsibility and the man who is enlisted under such service will be extremely fortunate.

Another interesting place in the same section is Landsman for Machinist's Mates, aviation. This will include the building of airplanes, instruction in the care of engines and handling, and in other ways studying the interesting phases of air navigation. Those who fields should attract hundreds and the man who is selected for such service can count himself quite lucky.

In addition to those posts, several cooks are needed and mess attendants, which is a field of utmost importance to the navy. Through the many modern appliances which the navy supplies for the use of cooks, this phase of ship life ranks well forward in the need of capable men who can take over the responsibilities of feeding hundreds.

In brief, the ratings which are today open to the right young men are as follows: Apprentice Seamen; Machinist's Mates, first and second class; Coppermiths and sheet metal workers; Firemen, first, second and third class; Hospital Apprentices, first and

OFFICIAL DRAFT LIST RECEIVED

QUOTA WILL PROBABLY BE TAKEN FROM 300 NAMES

PRINTED BELOW

FIRST CALL TO BE AT ONCE

Notifications Will Carry Date for Men To Appear Before Local Board for Examination

In checking over the list below it was discovered that three numbers were omitted. 146 should have been 2390, Ernest J. Bauer; 227 should have been 2577, George Ott; and 249 should have been 1956, John Raymond Fugill. All the other numbers follow in the same order of consecution, those after 146 and before 227 moving up one number; those after 227 and before 249 moving up two numbers, and those after 249 moving up three numbers.

The official master list of numbers drawn for war arrived in the office of County Clerk Iva M. Harrington today and the men will be notified of their position and the date on which they must appear for examination as rapidly as the necessary papers can be made ready.

The following list of 300 names was compiled by County Clerk Iva M. Harrington and her deputy, Miss Marie Friedrichs, and it is probable that the 52 men who will compose Clackamas county's quota will be taken from this number.

There will be notices mailed to the first 140 named men. If the 52 needed are not found in this number, 140 more will be notified and so on until the quota is made up. It is well to remember that every number was drawn for the purpose of determining the order in which the men will be called.

Second and all subsequent calls will be made in the order in which the numbers were drawn. Here are the first 300 names:

FIND OLD WILL IN TREASURER'S VAULT

DOCUMENT ADDRESSED TO RAY OR ELMER LYND NEVER DELIVERED

"The last will and testament of Wm. A. Lynd. Deliver to Ray or Elmer Lynd", is the superscription, written in large scrawling handwriting on an envelope which was discovered in the vault of County Treasurer M. E. Dunn, Saturday. Ray or Elmer Lynd are not known by officials at the court house and Treasurer Dunn believes the will was left with some former county treasurer for safe keeping, as there is no provision in the law for the treasurer to handle these documents in his official capacity. The Lynd will, with several others which were unearthed Saturday, must have been in the old vault for 15 or 20 years, says Treasurer Dunn and his deputy, Miss Alberta Dunn.

The other wills are those of Mrs. Eva P. Steel, David Jones, John Cummings, W. H. Woodruff, Thomas J. Whittier and Berry Muecker. There is also a receipt and a bank deposit credit for $25 to the account of Joseph L. Peasley indicating the deposit of a United States pension warrant in 1906.

FORMER OREGON CITY GIRL MARRIED TO PORTLAND MAN

Miss Laverne Fraker, daughter of Col. and Mrs. E. Fraker, of the St. Francis apartments, Portland, was married to Edward Miles, an employee of the United States Rubber company, at 7:30 Tuesday evening. The young couple have taken apartments at the St. Francis.

Mrs. Miles, with her parents, formerly resided in this city. She is the sister of Mrs. Willard P. Hawley, Jr., and Mrs. Clifford Ball, and was popular among the younger set. The newlyweds will take a honeymoon camping trip some time during this month.

COUNCIL SHELVES CITY PARK SITE

BACKS MAYOR E. C. HACKETT IN STAND TAKEN IN S. P.

ARGUMENT

CITY ENGINEER IS PRAISED

W. C. T. U. Presents Petition to Have City Curfew Ordinance Enforced

The proposed park site for Oregon City was gently laid on the table at the council meeting last night and the reason given was that the water commission could not give a clear title to the property which it was suggested be exchanged for other land owned by the city. Part of the 13 acres controlled by the water board is under lease, it developed last night, and not a dissenting vote was cast against shelving the petition for the park.

The question may receive consideration again at the September meeting of the council as the motion to table the petition was worded "to lay the matter on the table until the next regular meeting." The motion was made by Councilman Friedrich.

A petition from the local W. C. T. U. asking that the city's curfew law be enforced was read to the council. The petition recited that its sole purpose was to protect the young people of this city and offered the services of the members of the W. C. T. U. in any way that the council or city officials might ask.

Charles Miller, city engineer, was highly praised for the showing he made in the cost of a sewer on High street. The sewer was constructed by city employees under Mr. Miller for $230.15 after private contractors had bid on the job, the lowest bid being $295. Mr. Miller did the work after the city had raised the pay of its laborers 50 cents a day, adding $15 to Mr. Miller's original estimate.

A resolution was adopted endorsing the attitude of Mayor E. C. Hackett in the stand he took last January when he and a former chief of police arrested an employee of the Southern Pacific who refused to quit working on a wooden trestle which the city alleged the company agreed to construct of steel.

A long list of names favoring the proposed park site which the city may obtain by exchanging certain small pieces of property for 13 acres controlled by the water board, was presented to the city council last night, to settle any doubt about the number of representative citizens who desire the city to have a park. The petition presented last evening follows:

To the Honorable Mayor and City Council:

We, the undersigned, would respectfully encourage your honorable body to secure title to the 13 1/2-acre tract of land on Center street belonging to the Water Board by transferring to said board other properties in Oregon City belonging to said city, as proposed by said board. We would suggest that you hold the 13 1/2 acres for some future period for park purposes and at the same time, when the city is financially able, improve the same:

LATOURETTE QUILTS AS CLUB SECRETARY

S. BOWMAN CHOSEN TO SUCCEED G. F. JOHNSON AS PUBLICITY MAN

BRODIE IS NEW SECRETARY

M. D. LATOURETTE WILL DEVOTE HIS TIME TO AFFAIRS OF THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK

M. D. Latourette, who has served nine years as secretary of the Oregon City Commercial club, has tendered his resignation. Mr. Latourette has been secretary of the club since a short time after its organization and he is also one of the governors. E. E. Brodie, editor of the Morning Enterprise, succeeds Mr. Latourette. Mr. Brodie is the treasurer of the club and was until recently its vice-president.

Mr. Latourette signified his intention to resign the secretaryship several months ago to devote his entire time to the affairs of the First National bank, of which he is vice-president, but other officers of the club induced him to remain for a few months longer.

He has been active in the work of the club since its organization, giving much time and thought to the success of movements initiated for the better interests of Oregon City and Clackamas county. Many of the members expressed regret that Mr. Latourette's business affairs would not permit him to retain his position with the club.

G. F. Johnson, secretary of the publicity department, was asked to resign by the publicity committee last Friday and his position was taken by S. Bowman, advertising manager of the Enterprise, who will devote several hours a day to the work of the club and retain his position with the newspaper.

BIG YEAR FOR T. B. LAWS

War Needs Have Stimulated Thirty-eight Legislatures to Action

The war, particularly since America's entry, has proven a great stimulus to anti-tuberculosis legislation during the past year. The National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, in summarizing the work of the state legislatures during their last sessions, finds that out of 45 legislatures in session, 38 enacted anti-tuberculosis laws and 14 passed laws relating to county tuberculosis hospitals. The only law-making bodies that failed to take action in this direction were those of Alaska, Arizona, New Mexico, Porto Rico, Utah, Hawaii and Nevada.

The National Association, which is working with the Council of National Defense in fighting the spread of tuberculosis in the army, has contributed largely to this result by its vigorous propaganda, both directly and through the medium of its 1,500 affiliated state and local organizations. Believing that a fundamental of this military health campaign lies in effective legislative protection of the nation's homes, unusual effort in this direction has been made during the last year.

Of particular importance, it is believed, in checking tuberculosis is the source is the establishment of a sufficient number of well-regulated local tuberculosis hospitals to care for and segregate active cases. The number of county hospitals provided for during the year has, therefore, been especially gratifying to the workers. Most satisfactory to the National Association of the laws passed in this connection is the New York State County Hospital War Emergency Measure, enacted at the instance of the State Charities' Aid Association just before the legislature adjourned at Albany. This law provides that any county in the state not yet provided with a tuberculosis hospital which shall have failed to make such provision by January 1, 1918, shall no longer have option in the matter. The State Department of Health will be empowered to step in and establish a hospital in the dilatory county and compel the
