URGE MUSICIANS TO JOIN NAVY BEFORE DRAFT COMES

second class (incidentally, only two a month can be enlisted); Landsmen for baker; Baker, second class; Mess Attendants, third class; landsmen for ship's cook; ship's cooks, fourth class; landsmen for musician; musicians, first and second class; Landsmen for Quartermaster, aviation section; and Landsmen for Machinist's Mates, aviation section.

The special need as outlined is for musicians and machinists, first and second class.

There is a real live opportunity for some band from a live Oregon town to win a name and real fame.

The Portland Recruiting Office of the navy is trying to persuade some band to enlist as a whole, taking in 22 men, the number of a full navy band.

While the Portland Musicians' union is co-operating with the navy office in this endeavor, the opportunity is still open, and if some crack organization from some Oregon town gets on the job first, the honor will be theirs.

All branches of the navy have an especial need of good musicians, and the organization that gets this honor will indeed be an exceptional one.

If such a band is taken in, it will include the ratings of one bandmaster, one chief musician, and one bugler, all of which will be quite worth while to the leader of any organization which is taken in its entirety.

Are You Unlucky? Most sickness is traced to carelessness or neglect, but unfortunately who suffer from hay fever or asthma can attribute their ailments to bad luck. In August the air is full of pollen and dust that cause trouble for some, yet others are never bothered. No remedy does more to relieve hay fever and asthma than Foley's Honey and Tar, the well known family medicine for coughs, colds and croup. It clears and soothes the afflicted nose, throat and bronchial tubes.—Jones Drug Co.

DRYING FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

How to Save Surplus Products of the Garden.

CHEAP AND USEFUL DRIER

United States Department of Agriculture Gives Valuable Directions For Preserving Food by Simple and Inexpensive Home Processes—Different Ways of Drying Food Products.

(From United States department of agriculture.)

Fruits and vegetables may be dried in the home by simple processes and stored for future use. The processes are sun drying, drying by artificial heat and drying by air blast. These, of course, may be combined. In general, most fruits or vegetables to be dried quickly must be shredded or cut into slices, because many are too large to dry quickly or are covered with a skin, the purpose of which is to prevent drying out. When freshly cut fruits or vegetables are to be dried by means of artificial heat they should be exposed first to gentle heat and later to the higher temperatures. If the air applied at the outset is of too high a temperature the cut surfaces of the sliced fruits or vegetables become hard or scorched, covering the juicy interior so that it will not dry out. Generally it is not desirable that the air temperature in drying should go above 140 degrees to 150 degrees F., and it is better to keep it well below this point. Insects and insect eggs are killed by exposure to heat of this temperature.

It is important to know the degree of heat in the drier, and this cannot be determined very accurately except by using a thermometer. The reason sun drying is popularly believed to flavor fruits and vegetables a sweeter flavor lies probably in the fact that in the sun they never are scorched, whereas in the oven or over a stove scorching is likely to occur unless careful attention is given them.

Drying of certain products can be completed in some driers within two or three hours. The material should be stirred or turned several times during the drying in order to secure a uniform product. When sufficiently dried fruit should be so dry that it is impossible to press water out of the freshly cut ends of the pieces and will not show any of the natural grain of the fruit on being broken and yet not so dry that it will snap or crackle. It should be leathery and pliable.

Preparation of Food For the Drier. In large factories the vegetables are put through special shredders and slicers not adapted for home use, but convenient and inexpensive machines which can be used to great advantage are on the market. The meat grinder with its special disks can be used in certain cases, the common kraut slicer will cut large vegetables into thin slices, such as potatoes and cabbage, and the rotary hand slicer is adapted for use on a very wide range of material. A large sharp kitchen knife may be used when a handier cutting device is not available. Care should be taken that the material is sliced thin enough but not too thin. From an eighth to a quarter of an inch is a fair thickness for most of the common vegetables to be sliced and dried.

To secure a fine quality of dried products much depends upon having the vegetables absolutely fresh, young, tender and perfectly clean. If steel knives are used in paring and cutting have them clean and bright so as not to discolor the vegetable. The earthy smell and flavor will cling to root crops if they are not washed thoroughly before slicing, and one decayed root may flavor several kettles of soup if the slices from it are scattered through a whole batch of dried material. High grade dried "root" vegetables can only be made from peeled roots.

Blanching of vegetables is considered desirable by some housekeepers, although it is not strictly essential to successful drying. Sun drying has much to recommend it, since it requires no expenditure of fuel and there is little danger of the product becoming overheated. Dust, however, gathers on the product, and unless it is protected carefully flies and especially certain insects which habitually attack dried fruits will lay their eggs upon it.

He Felt Like Ninety Nothing will make a person feel old quicker than disordered kidneys, for when they are not working properly the whole system is infected with poisons that cause aches and pains in all parts of the body. A. W. Moorgan, Angola, La., writes: "Oh, I suffered with pain in my back. I am 43 years old, but I felt like a man 90 years old. Since I took Foley Kidney Pills I feel like I did when I was 21. They tone up and strengthen the kidneys, and promptly relieve annoying bladder troubles.—Jones Drug Co.

A TWICE-TOLD TALE

One of Interest to Our Readers Good news bears repeating, and when it is confirmed after a long lapse of time, even if we hesitated to believe it at first hearing, we feel secure in accepting its truth now. The following experience of an Oregon City man is confirmed after three years.

Thomas Trembath, 310 Sixth St., says: "I have bought Doan's Kidney Pills at Huntley Bros. Co.'s Drug store and they have my endorsement. I used them when my back and kidneys bothered me and they certainly made the soreness and lameness in my back disappear in short order." (Statement given April 4, 1913.)

On April 17, 1916, Mr. Trembath said: "Doan's Kidney Pills can't be equalled for backache and other signs of kidney trouble. Whenever my back pains or my kidneys are out of order, a few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills fix me up all right." Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

9,000 "Foreign" Cars Pass Through Yellowstone Park on Way West

The only advertising done by the Northwest Tourist Association has been in automobile magazines in the west.

The results, however, are shown by the fact that more "foreign cars" have already passed through Oregon in 1917 than were in the state during all of 1916.

Nine thousand cars have passed through Yellowstone Park, all headed west.

Oregon has been included in the plans of the National Parks Highway association, the road having been extended through from Rainier National Park to Crater Lake National Park. The Portland Chamber of Commerce carried the expense of this work for 1917.

Our Hidden Strength

How often it happens that men who have long been "down-and-out," who have been considered "nobodies," "good-for-nothings," not well-balanced, have changed suddenly, as though touched by a magic wand, and have quickly become men of power, inspirers, helpers of others. Something happened that quickened this spirit, and from miserable liabilities they have suddenly been converted into valuable assets to their community.

John B. Gough was a drunken nobody. All at once, apparently by accident, he was converted. Something touched Gough and from being a slave of the bottle he became its master. From a miserable example he was transformed into a tremendous uplifting and inspiring force in the community. Before he came to himself he was dragging men down; after he responded to the call of the divinity within he was leading hundreds and thousands of men to take the pledge, to lead cleaner and nobler lives.

When a poor youth working as scullion in a kitchen in Italy first got a glimpse of a great painting, the sight aroused something within him which he had never felt before. It revealed a new artistic impulse, and he exclaimed, "I, too, am an artist!" Following this inward call, he got a chance to work in the studio of a famous artist, and finally became a greater artist than the painter of the picture which had inspired him.—Orison Swett Marden in August Nautilus.

Marriage Licenses

Marriage licenses were issued here to Vint Post, of Dallas, and Chester A. Minty, of Salem; and Christina Fischer and Xavier Widner, of Oregon City. The former couple were united by Justice of the Peace John N. Sievers yesterday morning.

Marriage licenses were issued here Thursday to Lulu M. Richter and Abe Johnson, of Canby, and Hannah Hall and Thomas Snively, of Woodburn, Ore.

Has Recovered Her Health

So many women are suffering from similar afflictions that this testimonial letter from Mrs. Laura Beall, Plattsburg, Miss., will be read with interest: "I got in bad health. My left side hurt all the time. I took doctor's medicine, but it did me no good. I took two bottles of Foley Kidney Pills and I feel all right now." Backache, rheumatic twinges, pains in side, swollen and sore muscles and kindred symptoms are quickly relieved by Foley Kidney Pills.—Jones Drug Co.
