FIVE ARE TAKEN IN RAID ON BOAT HOUSE

YOUTHS CONFESS TO SERIES OF ROBBERIES. FOUR GO TO REFORM SCHOOL

Four boys are in the state training school and a fifth young man received a suspended sentence, as a result of a raid made Saturday on an old boat house near the suspension bridge. Constable D. E. Frost and Policeman Ed. Surfus took into custody Steve Regan, Joe Hrovat, John Brown, Joe McGinnis and Lloyd Baxter. The latter is the oldest, being 19, and was on parole from Judge Campbell's court.

Hrovat confessed to robbing government mail boxes and to breaking into the Brady Mercantile company's store here. He, with Brown and McGinnis, were on parole from the state training school. Hrovat is said to have taken from the postoffice a package of lenses and other optical supplies and to have attempted to sell them later to an employee of Dr. Prudden. After an examination by federal inspectors the boy claimed that a man had given him the box and supplies.

Steve Regan was held following the discovery that he had stolen a valuable shotgun from the Miller-Parker store. A search warrant was issued Saturday and the Regan home was searched, but the gun was not found. The boy confessed to stealing the weapon and to trading it off to a friend for a cheap rifle when he was confronted with the evidence against him. He said he had been about the store one evening when the night man stepped out. Regan grabbed the gun and disappeared.

Aside from these thefts by individual members of the gang arrested Saturday, officers believe they are responsible for the robbery of several stores in the city and for several other youthful depredations. Baxter received a suspended sentence with orders to report to Constable Frost every two weeks and to be at home at nine o'clock each evening for two years, while Hrovat, McGinnis and Brown were returned to the state school Monday. The case of Steve Regan was taken up by County Judge Anderson and he was sent to Salem.

DEPOSIT CERTIFICATE LOSS MAY BE COSTLY

Because Mrs. Henry Opperman refused Saturday to accept a certificate of deposit for the $1400 principal on a mortgage paid by John Cameron, of Tualatin, unless $3 in interest was paid at the same time, Mrs. Opperman stands to lose, at least for the time being, both the interest and the $1400. Cameron is said to have handed Mrs. Opperman the deposit slip as it was delivered to him in her presence at the Bank of Oregon City. She noted the absence of the $3 and threw the check upon a counter, refusing to take it. Mrs. Opperman and Cameron started to the courthouse to have their difficulty adjusted. Within a short time Mrs. Opperman returned to the bank for the certificate, but it had disappeared. No trace was found of the paper by the bank. Some one may have walked out with it and Cameron stands to lose considerable because of Mrs. Opperman's action.

NOTE FROM THE BOYS

Leader of Last Contingent to Camp Lewis Reports to Board

To County Clerk Harrington, Gilbert H. Hanson, in charge of the group of six boys who left this week for Camp Lewis at American Lake, has addressed the following report:

"We arrived here safe and sound at six-thirty p. m. We had a fine trip and everything went off nicely. As soon as we arrived we were met by a happy-go-lucky bunch. We surely cannot get lonesome here, for everyone seems so lively and full of fun. There are about 200 men sleeping upstairs with me and the way some of us snore is awful. Well, it is about time to go out and drill to jolt some of our breakfast down. We ate dinner at the Mount-naham hotel and supper on the train."

MISS MAY APPOINTED

Miss Orena May, who recently qualified for a federal position at Washington, has been appointed deputy county clerk by Miss Iva Harrington, clerk. Miss May will take the place of Edward Rauch, of Gladstone, who has served as deputy for two months, and who resigned last week because of ill health. Miss May has had training in various phases of the work about the courthouse.

DISEASE STARTS IN THIS COUNTY

WIRES AWAKENED BY REPORT OF TUBERCULOSIS SURVEY MADE DURING YEAR

WILL AID RED CROSS SALES

Businessmen Present Committee Reports and Cover Routine. Beans are Selling Fast.

According to the most careful possible findings in a survey of Clackamas county by the Oregon Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis, there were 138 cases of that dreaded white plague in the county this year. These figures were presented to the Live Wires of the Commercial club at their meeting on Tuesday.

The report of Mrs. Campbell on tuberculosis prevention in the county was highly interesting. She asked for increased interest in the sale of Red Cross seals at the Christmas season, and said that Oregon City had purchased only $15 worth of seals last year.

Of the 138 cases of tuberculosis found in the county this year, 43 had been in the county more than 10 years, and 40 had been in the state that length of time. Fifty of the cases originated in the county and 33 cases were in advanced stages. Of the total 52 of the cases were new and 75 deaths were reported from this cause. Half of the cases were among males and the remainder among females, and only two were found in persons under one year of age.

In persons between 20 and 35 years of age 26 cases were found, and 17 cases altogether were more than 10 years old. Twenty-six persons suffering from tuberculosis were found to be in very poor financial circumstances and 29 needed prompt hospital attention. Forty cases should have been confined in sanitariums and 56 cases could be cared for at home with attention of nurses.

It was found that 18 heads of families were suffering and that there were 29 cases in homes where deaths had already occurred from the disease. A total of 114 children under 16 years of age were exposed to the disease, according to the investigation. Among these cases were found 42 American citizens, as closely as could be ascertained, and six Germans, four Norwegians, three Lithuanians, two Austrians, etc. Five of the cases were widows and two deserted women. Of the total number, 26 patients had pleurisy and 18 others were suspected of having it.

The report served to awaken the Live Wires to a need of support for the work of the association which is endeavoring to stamp out the plague, and the organization will make every effort to promote the sale of Christmas seals. Ten per cent of the revenue from the seals goes to the Red Cross and 90 per cent remains in the state to carry on the battle against tuberculosis.

The Wires enjoyed a report on general and district road work in the county by Roadmaster Roots and voted to hold a budget meeting next Tuesday, when the county court and the district road supervisors will be asked to attend. Mr. Roots pointed out his home district as an example of what is to be done next year in good roads work, saying that the district had voted to raise $13,000 to be spent on hard surface. The districts of the county had reported having raised $83,000 for special road work up to Tuesday, Mr. Roots stated.

O. D. Eby reported for the bean committee, and said that to date $107 worth of beans had been sold from the Live Wires' crop. W. A. Dimick reported for the soldiers' recreation fund committee and told how he, together with Rev. C. H. L. Chandler and Raymond Caulfield had raised $90 for the fund in two hours on Tuesday morning. Postmaster J. J. Cooke told of the sale of war stamp certificates through the local office. A committee comprising H. G. Starkweather, J. J. Cooke and R. J. Werner was appointed to have charge of the budget meeting of the Wires next Tuesday and a committee consisting of Clifford Ball, Harry Draper, Dr. Guy Mount, W. P. Hawley, Jr., and A. E. Rugg was appointed to aid in raising a fund for the prevention of tuberculosis in the county.

Molalla Red Cross Does Work

The military relief committee of the Molalla Red Cross auxiliary has been doing excellent work, and has finished and sent to the Portland chapter the following: Three dozen hospital shirts, two dozen invalid wraps, one knitted man's scarf, two dozen hospital socks, five dozen tray cloths, 35 dozen napkins and handkerchiefs, a total of 553 finished articles. The ladies meet at the Molalla grange hall every Wednesday afternoon.

SHERIFF NABS FIRST LOCAL ENEMY ALIEN

WILLAMETTE GERMAN FARMER TRIES TO BITE HAND THAT WAS FEEDING HIM

M. Muenzer, the first alien enemy picked up in Clackamas county under the espionage act, was taken to Portland Friday by Deputy United States Marshal Tichenor after his arrest near Willamette by Sheriff Wilson and E. C. Latourette, special United States attorney. Muenzer was accused repeatedly by his neighbors of making seditious utterances. The man has been working a small plot of ground about half a mile from Willamette for the past two years. He is a native of Germany and is said to have been in this country about two years. Muenzer is 55 years old and unmarried.

In replying to inquiries Friday, Mr. Latourette translated the recent proclamation against enemy aliens being within 100 yards of docks, as it applies to Oregon City. Mr. Latourette explained that inasmuch as the docks here are used by boats of a very limited tonnage there will be no restrictions upon aliens except in the vicinity of the government locks. Any alien enemy taken within 100 yards of the locks will be subject to internment, the attorney stated. The first result of this is that all enemy aliens employed by the Crown-Willamette Paper company or the P. R. L. & P. Co. sub-station must be replaced. Mr. Latourette had not been advised how many men would be affected, if any, at either plant, he said.

SIX MORE ARE SENT TO CAMP LEWIS TO FILL IN

Notice was received late last week by the local exemption board of the failure to pass requirements at Camp Lewis, of Robert James Mattoon, Oregon City, and Wilson E. Test, Eagle Creek. In the places of these men the board ordered Russell Scramlin, Macksburg, and Orris E. DeVaul, of Milwaukie, to report. The new men selected for service in the national army reported for duty to the local board on Monday and went to American Lake on Tuesday. The party contained six young men from the county, including Gilbert Henry Henson, in charge of the group; Robert Roseau, David Humphry, Thomas and Max Adolph Hollmann, certified for service early in the week to take the places of six others who failed.

Robert James Mattoon, who came home because of physical disqualification, was one of the men in this county to claim exemption. He claimed dependency of his wife, but Mrs. Mattoon's testimony did not uphold the claim and he was certified.

FLEMING SENTENCED ON SECOND COURT HEARING

M. Fleming, arrested some time ago on a municipal charge of carrying concealed weapons and released, was found guilty on Saturday in Justice of the Peace John N. Sievers' court. Fleming was sentenced at once to serve 15 days in jail and pay a fine of $20. Attorneys for the Crown-Willamette paper company, by whom Fleming had been employed as a strike-breaker, served notice of appeal.

Lee French, late acting chief of police, arrested Fleming, and before Recorder Loder he was fined $50. A warrant was sworn to in justice court at the instance of friends of French and others and the man was tried again in the justice court.

Allen Heirs Lose

Heirs to the estate of George T. Allen are barred from claiming any interest to certain property involved, through an order signed last week by Judge Campbell in favor of Kittie L. Hanson. The case went by default.

A judgment for $4000, with attorney's fees of $200 and interest at 7 per cent since January, 1915, was entered in favor of Cassie Epperson and against W. E. Orrison.

Gibson Gets Dower Right

Through the action of Judge Campbell's court last week, Harvey Gibson has obtained right to deed away his wife's dower right to property which he desires to sell. Mrs. Gibson is an inmate of the Oregon State hospital. A proviso in the order is that Mr. Gibson shall continue to support his wife and that he shall secure securities of $1000.

Marquam Celebrates

On Thanksgiving eve, Marquam held its annual Thanksgiving dinner. There was a large attendance. Besides the program an interesting address was delivered by the Rev. J. F. Coleman, of the Marquam Methodist church, on the Red Cross work, and 35 persons gave their names for membership in the organization. There will be an auxiliary formed at that place.

PRESIDENT ASKS WAR ON AUSTRIA

SPEECH IN CONGRESS MEETS WITH APPROVAL THROUGHOUT THE NATION

DEMANDS FREEDOM OF ALL

Chamberlain Says Address is Best Ever Made by Executive. Prompt Action Wanted

A definite statement to the world of America's war aims and of the basis upon which peace will be considered was made Tuesday by President Wilson in an address to congress, in which he urged immediate declaration of a state of war between the United States and Austria-Hungary—Germany's vassal and tool.

As to Turkey and Bulgaria—also tools of the enemy—he counseled delay, because "they do not yet stand in the direct path of our necessary action."

To win the war, the president declared in emphatic and ringing tones, it is the immediate and unalterable task ahead. He urged congress, just beginning its second session, to concentrate itself upon this task.

The president sharply dismissed the possibility of premature peace, sought by German intrigue and debated there by men who understand neither its nature nor the way it may be attained. With victory an accomplished fact, he said, peace will be evolved and based upon "mercy and justice"—to enemy and friend—with hope of a partnership of nations to guarantee future world peace.

The war will be deemed won, he declared, "when the German people say to us, through properly accredited representatives, that they are ready to agree to a settlement based upon justice and reparation of the wrongs their rulers have done." Terms of peace, he added, would not include demerment, robbery or punishment of the enemy, but would be based on justice, defined briefly as follows:

"Freedom of nations and their peoples from autocratic domination, reparation to Belgium, relinquishment of German power over the peoples of Austria, Turkey, the free Balkan states, as well as evacuation of Prussian territorial conquests in Belgium and northern France."

Emphasizing the purpose of the United States not to interfere in the internal affairs of any nation, the president asserted that no wrong against the German empire was intended, and that there was no desire to rearrange the Austro-Hungarian empire. He said when he spoke eight months ago of the right of nations to free access to the seas he had Austria as well as the smaller and weaker nations, in mind.

Appearing before congress in joint session for the first time since he asked for the war declaration against Germany last April, the president was more than usually warmly greeted, and his speech was received with enthusiastic applause, which grew tumultuous when he reached the recommendation as to Austria. Diplomats, justices of the supreme court and other high officials assembled on the floor joined in the demonstration.

HAL SWAFFORD WRITES FINE LETTER FROM FRONT

Harold A. Swafford, sergeant in Co. E, 13th Railway Engineers, writes the following interesting letter to his brother, George E. Swafford, from his hut at the battle front in France. Harold Swafford was secretary of the Willamette Navigation Co., before enlisting for foreign service and is well known in the county. The letter, which passed without a censor mark, reads:

Queque port en France
Mardi 30, Octobre, 1917.
Dear George:
I had a dream last night and I thought I was back home telling you all about how fine it was to be floundering around in mud over your shoe tops and living on short rations. In the midst of it I woke up of course, and was naturally disappointed to find it was only a dream.

Well, it doesn't look very rosy right now, does it? If they can force the Italians into some sort of a separate peace then we ARE in it. I don't believe anything could keep us out of a long, hard fight then, but a revolution in Germany. I sure hope that will come to pass. Say, if you want to get an idea of what is being done over here and keep pretty well posted, read the articles in the Saturday Evening Post and especially if you have not done it, read the one entitled "Come on with the Punch," by George Pattullo, in the copy of October 13, 1917. Somebody got hold

HAWLEY MILL STARTS GRINDING WOOD PULP

HIGH WATER SEASON AIDS. ONE MORE MACHINE IS PUT INTO ACTION

With the arrival of the high water season in the Willamette and a large amount of water coming over the falls from the upper river, the Hawley Pulp & Paper company is making preparations to start the first of its grinders in the pulp mill for the year. In the meantime one more paper making machine has been put into operation, despite the company's statement that for the time being only two machines would be operated.

Under present conditions three machines are being operated on a 24-hour basis and most of the manufactured product is being shipped out of the plant without delay. While the Southern Pacific company could only promise one railroad car a day, thus preventing the shipment of paper, it has been furnishing two or three cars a day. For this reason the mills are able to operate without difficulty in the shipping end. It is said that present indications point to a gradual resumption of work until the former full capacity has been reached.

The Hawley company was forced to discontinue the manufacture of paper when its workmen walked out in sympathy with the strikers of the Crown-Willamette mills. Within a short time two machines were restored to operation and lately the third had advised its former employees to seek work elsewhere because the car shortage would prevent the starting of additional machines. It is reported from the company's main office in this city that practically no trouble has been experienced in securing men to operate the three machines and the management has stated that no workmen have been brought into the city for the places that were open.

JUST SEE WHAT THE CAT BROUGHT INTO THE JAIL

Well, well! See what the cat brought in. Colonel Edwards DeRaymonte, doctor of medicine and consulting physician of Carnegie university, Wilmington, Del. and by his own confession he is all of that and more. Our friend the colonel came to Oregon City to work in the mills; found there was a strike on and refused employment—started back to the place he came from and stopped—the arm of the law grabbed him.

The colonel, confessing himself to be a British subject and carrying papers indicating that he is a Russian, is one of four gentlemen arrested Wednesday night by Patrolmen Burke and Surfus. The colonel and Otto Rose are held in the city jail as suspicious characters on the belief that they may prove to be alien enemies. Joe Floris, who came from Guanajuato, Mexico, when Porfirio Diaz lost his head-of-state, and Joe Fine, Yiddish candy maker who "never scabbed and never will" are the men in the county jail. Floris claims the board in a Montana town did not give him a registration card. Fine claims to have lost his. In the absence of cards they are being held.

This Colonel DeRaymonte, M. D. person is some man. He is unable to make himself understood in English, yet claims to be a British subject. He nearly worked himself into a frenzy when he was jailed after he had worked his way very close to a fight while awaiting the train Wednesday night to carry him away from this horrible town. He carries his sword with him, does the colonel, in addition to a valuable barometric instrument. He paced the floor like a mad man when he was told that he would have to wait until later to talk with the British consul.

YOUTHS ARRESTED

Juvenile Officer Gets Minors for Smoking Cigarettes

For smoking cigarettes, two minors, Harold Kuks and Charles Alexander, were fined and lectured Friday by Justice of the Peace Sievers after their apprehension by Juvenile Officer D. E. Frost. Kuks, whose home is at Oak Grove and who is 17 years old, was fined $2.50; and Alexander, aged 13, who lives at Bolton, was fined $5. In connection with the same case Joe Kerrick, a local cigar dealer, was arrested on a warrant and arraigned before Justice Sievers. The charge against Kerrick was dismissed, however, and the boys were taken into custody. Alexander is said to have misrepresented his age to the dealer.

Hospital Company Sues

The Oregon City Hospital company Tuesday filed suit against Ed and Marie Persinger to collect on a promissory note for $204.75, dated in this city on May 12 last. The note calls for interest at 8 per cent, and the complaint asks for attorney fees in the sum of $50.

FIGHT ON BRIDGE CAUSES ARRESTS

STRIKE BREAKERS SAID TO HAVE BEEN ATTACKED ON WAY TO MILLS

KELLER ORGANIZES POLICE

Men Sign Charges Against Labor Agent. Workmen Entertained at Thursday Feast

Leo Sams, E. S. Moore and D. Burgess, arrested Monday morning following trouble on the suspension bridge, when paper mill workers were badly treated, were released from custody later in the day. Moore and Burgess are under $25 bail. Sams has sworn that he was taken from his bed in a local hotel and locked in jail. Moore claims to have been going home when he was arrested. August Triske, a crippled striker, has made affidavit that he was beaten by F. W. Larson, a state police officer, who got into trouble when he was a special city officer for trying to arrest Lee French, then acting police chief. Peter Hahn has made affidavit that Moore and Burgess were attacked by police and George Dunmire stated over his signature that Night Policeman Ed Surfus threatened the life of S. A. Richards, a union official.

Many phases of the fight Monday morning have come to light in the investigation that was carried on by Sheriff Wilson and others following the affair. Austin Nichols, a strike-breaker, claims to have been headed off and assaulted by members of an automobile party as he was near his home Sunday night. He says that S. A. Richards was in the group that attacked him. Among others attacked on the suspension bridge by crowds said to have been made up of strikers, were W. Guidenoph, of Sanders; J. S. Demoy, of Estacada, and Frank Miller. The first two were beaten, but not seriously injured. Miller suffered painful bruises and emergency treatment from a physician was necessary. It is said that several stitches were taken in the young fellow's upper lip, where he had suffered from a blow. He says he was handed a card to read by the crowd that followed him over the bridge when he returned from Portland, where he was reading he was attacked.

Alvin Curl, who had not yet reported for his first day's work at the mill, was in company with E. E. Davis, R. A. Jeffcott and Glenn Smith and the party had just started across the bridge from the Southern Pacific train upon which they had arrived, when they were followed. On the bridge they were attacked, it is alleged and Smith and Davis escaped, while Jeffcott was beaten and Curl, telling his assailants that he had not worked at the mill, is said to have been loaded into an automobile and taken a part of the way to Portland, where he was left.

Governor Withycombe Wednesday sent Captain Keller, the parole officer, to Oregon City to assume charge of the corps of special agents which is at work here in connection with the strike. He will organize the corps and co-operate with the sheriff and the city police officials in enforcing the law.

"Since violence has been resorted to, I think it advisable, so that order may be maintained and the law enforced, that the special agents representing the state be properly organized, and this office, in view of this, has assigned this work to Captain Keller," said the governor.

Nineteen men in a group of 33 which arrived in Oregon City Tuesday from Seattle, where they were recruited for work in the paper mills here, Tuesday signed affidavits bringing several charges against labor agents, especially against one M. M. Peterson, of Seattle, charging misrepresentation. Peterson told them, the affidavits say, that they would have inside work at $3.12 a day in a mill not troubled with a strike, and that, although there had been a strike here, it was practically settled. They were told, the men say, that the mills owned the town and that one mayor of Oregon City had been ousted because he sympathized with labor. The men say they were told that there was no picketing here, but that they were threatened with imprisonment if they attempted to get away. Some of the arrivals are in destitute circumstances and the union officials are making arrangements for their care, it is said. Those who signed the affidavits are: W. T. Rabold, A. N. Peterson, H. A. Tucker, S. P. Sorenson, Wm. Hollick, Frank Thompson, Frank Wood, W. L. Kelly, C. Carlson, Frank Ruellias, Otto Rose, Joe Floris, A. Ulrichs, Reyes Amezcua, Eugene Olago, Charles Lewis, James Gildays, H. Green, and Albert Woods.

A warrant was issued Saturday for the arrest of Roy Ott, president

STATE COMMISSION'S TAX A LOWER TOTAL

COUNTY COURT ANTICIPATED DROP IN VALUE WHEN BUDGET WAS DRAWN

A reduction of $197,372.73 in the State Tax commission's assessment of public service corporations in Clackamas county is noted in the report of the commission in the hands of Assessor W. W. Everhart, and the county court is contemplating itself upon the forecast it applied to the draft of the budget for 1917 in lowering its estimate of valuation by the tax commission of $200,000.

The total of the tax commission's assessed valuation of public service corporations, which include the P. R. L. & P. Co., the Southern Pacific Co., mutual telephone companies and other power and light companies, is $5,697,017.94. This would have left the county court in the midst of a mighty puzzle, had it not been for the fact that the county assessed valuation had been raised to provide an addition of $240,000 over the total valuation of property last year.

The big reduction for the present year is made on the extensive holdings of the P. R. L. & P. Co. The Southern Pacific, which admits that it has enjoyed increased earnings in the past year, has had its holdings valued at approximately $15,000 less. In certain instances assessed valuations have been increased, notably in cases of the Oswego Light & Power Co., a Ladd holding. Mutual telephone lines and smaller public service companies have generally been advanced, some of them considerably. Trackage of transportation companies has been reduced in valuation, according to Assessor Everhart, approximately $1000 a mile.

The Oswego Light & Power Co., the only one which suffered any material increase in assessment, had been complaining about the increase in the county valuation against it, when the state assessment came along to add insult to the injury but had been suffered at the hands of the county. This verifies the accuracy of Assessor Everhart's assessment, it is said.

The county's total receipts from all source for next year are placed at $562,771.50, and to this will be added an estimated balance of $10,000 from the present year and $17,772.81 to be derived from sources other than direct taxation. Direct taxation will produce a revenue of $544,998.69, making, in all, the above total.

MRS. ROBERT D. WILSON, OLD RESIDENT, IS DEAD.

The death on Wednesday morning of Mrs. Harriet Wilson, wife of Robert D. Wilson of this city, has removed a woman of wide acquaintance and popularity and left many friends and relatives to mourn. Mrs. Wilson passed away at the family residence from the effects of dropsy and heart trouble. She had been suffering for several months.

As a member of one of Oregon's pioneer families and a daughter of Samuel and Faith Hughes, Mrs. Wilson came to Oregon across the plains as a babe in arms. The family located at Springfield, but Mrs. Wilson had lived in Oregon City for some time previous to her marriage to Mr. Wilson. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson moved to Albany after their wedding and within a few years came to Oregon City.

Those who survive are the husband, a member of the firm of Wilson & Cooke; one son, Charles Wilson of Bend; two sisters, Mrs. Ada Pearl, Oregon City, and Mrs. Pernice A. Warnock, Concord Station, and three brothers, Robert Hughes, Sweet Home; William Hughes, Thornton, Wash., and John M. Hughes, Palouse, Wash.

Funeral services will be conducted from the Congregational church, of which Mrs. Wilson had long been a faithful member, on Friday afternoon at two o'clock. Interment will be in Mountain View cemetery.

CALIFF IS INJURED

Paper Mill Worker's Clothing Gets Caught in Machine Press

Mervin Califf, 25-year-old employee of the Crown-Willamette mills, was painfully injured on last Thursday morning when his shirt was caught in one of the presses. As a result stitches were taken in the young man's scalp and in both thighs. He suffered painful bruises. Califf is said to have been helping to wash felts when his clothing was caught and torn off at the point of contact. He is a married man, has a child and lives in Oregon City. He has been an employee of the mills for several years.
