

CANBY AND SOUTHERN CLACKAMAS

REALTY CHANGES IN CANBY VERY BRISK

During the past week a number of prospective buyers of Clackamas county property have visited Canby, calling at the real estate office of C. L. Bates. Those having visited this section of the county have been favorably impressed and are contemplating returning later to look at several farms in the vicinity of Canby.

Among the places sold during the week by Mr. Bates were two lots owned by LeRoy Bates in Gurley's Addition, John P. Bany purchasing the property. Mr. Bany will take immediate possession.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Cooper, who have resided near Canby for the past five years, owning a 30 acre farm, all of which is under cultivation have sold this place to a Mr. Bivens, from Fairhaven, Wash. Mr. and Mrs. Cooper have taken up their home in Canby, and taken possession of the William Lamb place, which they have purchased.

The Cooper place purchased by Mr. Bivens has one of the finest artesian wells which added to the value.

CANBY LOCALS.

Dr. L. A. Dillard, the dentist, has been making daily trips to Portland during the week, while his wife is visiting relatives in Portland.

Mrs. Prouty and son, Allen, who have been visiting Mr. Prouty have returned to their home in Portland.

Miss Lorraine Lee, spent Monday and Tuesday in Molalla, where she visited her aunt, Mrs. Clark. Miss Lee is organizing a class in voice at that place.

A McGillevray, of Portland, was in Canby Sunday, where he visited Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Sheldon. He is connected with the Standifer corporation being an accountant for the company.

Corn Production Good In County

MACKSBURG, Oct. 16.—The gloomy prediction that Oregon could never be a corn-producing state has found ample refutation in 1919, if at no other time. While the silos are filled to their utmost capacity there is plenty of this nutritious cereal still standing in the fields. The sweet corn undamaged by frost is in its most delicious state for the table, while the cattle are luxuriating in all other parts of the plant consuming every fibre of it, to the great benefit especially of the milk cows who make rich returns for this highly nutritive food.

Notwithstanding that the war is ended and that there is partial cessation of the demand for foreign export, no relaxation in the arduous crop in our community is to be observed. Larger than ever is the area devoted to the potato crop, the harvest of which has commenced.

Though large tracts of this product are still as green as in midsummer and must be left to complete their growth, there are enough in full maturity to keep the diggers at work.

Some compromise between the school authorities and the rising generation must be reached as to juveniles bent on securing some of the revenue derived from picking apples before settling down to school. Valuable services do these youthful workers, with their supple frame and eager hands render the ranchers in this important part of the harvest and proud are the children of buying their books and other requisites for the school outfit from money earned with their own hands.

The Ebby district has, at last, secured a teacher from Molalla and opened school on the morning of Monday, October 13, with its usual enrollment, minus the children working in the fields, who will return to school in a fortnight or less.

The Mothers club is to meet on the afternoon of Thursday, October 23rd at the home of Mrs. Pretonne.

The Little Girl's Sewing circle will hold its regular fortnightly meeting at Mrs. G. M. Baldwin's home on Saturday, October 18.

George Scramlin, who has been seriously ill, is showing some signs of recovery though still unable to return to his store.

Rheumatism, Stomach and Liver Trouble

STEEL BRIDGE WILL SPAN MOLALLA RIVER ON PACIFIC HIGHWAY

Rapid progress is being made on the new highway bridge that is to span the Molalla river just south of Canby, and from the present indications the bridge will be completed by the first of the year. At this point the river is shallow. There is plenty of sand and gravel available, and the machinery for making the concrete has arrived on the grounds and will soon be ready for operation.

The new structure will be of three steel spans, and with two concrete girders, one at each end of the bridge, and will have a reinforced flooring. The grade on both sides of the river has been established, and the north side will require considerably more grading before the road is paved.

The bridge is being constructed by the Portland Bridge Company. A large crew of men is at work on the bridge, and is anxious to complete a large portion of the structure before the rainy season commences.

A portion of the highway will pass through a large field in Canby, and after crossing the Molalla river, it extends south along the Southern Pacific track as far as Aurora, passing through one of the best farming sections of that portion of the country.

Carry His Torch

There is more behind the campaign to raise $5,000.00 in this county for a monument to the memory of Theodore Roosevelt in Washington and the creation of a park at Oyster Bay than the money involved. The Roosevelt Memorial Association is looking beyond the dollar in its effort to preserve for all the people of the United States the inspiration that flamed in the heart of Mr. Roosevelt and guided his statesmanship. Unless the monument for the creation of Roosevelt memorials kindles in the souls of his fellow Americans greater devotion, more loyalty and deeper faith, it will have accomplished only a small part of what it was intended to do.

Clackamas County will do her part in contributing to this fund. M. D. Latourette, who repeatedly put the county over the top in Liberty Loan drives, has been chosen as chairman for the Roosevelt memorial campaign. In this community there are thousands of people who loved that great American. The path of the traitor, the demagogue, the spoilsman, the profiteer, the revolutionist, the fifty-fifty citizen, is rough and difficult in America today largely because of the words and deeds of Theodore Roosevelt during the last quarter-century. The words of William Boyce Thompson, president of the Roosevelt Memorial Association, are inspiring:

"Theodore Roosevelt has fallen. Other runners must carry his torch. Men and women, working in every state of the Union, for a national memorial to Theodore Roosevelt, are the natural torch-bearers. Only such should be chosen as are themselves altogether American at heart, scorning the thought of divided allegiance; and those chosen should conceive their task as a matter not merely of collecting dollars for a monument but of preaching Americanism for the greater good of their fellow men."

Aviation Field at Canemah Is Chosen

Selection of an aviation field near Oregon City for temporary use was made by Wallace Caulfield and Lloyd Richey, Wednesday. After going over the territory between Gladstone and Canemah, they picked upon a field just over the hill above Canemah near the Pacific Highway. The field is 600 yards long and apparently very desirable. The committee will get in touch with a Eugene aviator, who wants to come to Oregon City to make commercial flights.

Hubby Played Cards Squandered His All Wife Wants Alimony

Alleging that Henry J. Blair, of this city, squandered his money on cards and gambling instead of properly supporting himself and their children, Mrs. Letha A. Blair filed suit for divorce in the circuit court Saturday. She wants $50 a month alimony.

Mrs. Blair lives in Willamette while her husband lives in Oregon City.

Ernest Jose, stepson of Andrew Weidner, of Willamette, died in Oregon City Wednesday morning, after an illness of some time, suffering from an abscess of the lungs.

Ernest Jose, who has been in the service, recently returning from overseas, was 30 years of age.

The young man's mother died two years ago.

The remains are at the Brady undertaking establishment, but funeral arrangements have not been made. The interment will be in Mountain View cemetery, where the mother of the young man is interred.
