

The Legion and Politics

Fear that the American Legion may be used as a political toolfall is partially dispelled by the tenor of resolutions adopted at the first annual convention of the New York county organization last week. That branch of the Legion went on record as being unalterably opposed to the holding of any office or membership on any standing committee by any candidate for public office and to the endorsement of any candidate by any Post or by any other administrative unit or committee of the Legion. It was further recommended that the resolutions be included as articles of the permanent county, state and national constitutions.

If other coordinate branches of the American Legion take the same attitude as the New York organization, the high purposes of the organization will not be prostituted for the benefit of office seekers, for, if the Legion is to endure it must not permit itself to be used for or against any aspirant for public favor, unless that candidate is one who, for grave reasons relating to good and patriotic citizenship, is plainly undesirable.

The American Legion has started well, and has already electrified the nation in its sturdy demand for the deportation of aliens who think so little of the United States that they refuse to take the oath of allegiance and become citizens of this country. We can well afford to encourage such an organization of young men, who, after offering their lives for the preservation of liberty, have formed a society with purest motives for the Americanization of the people of this republic.

AVIATORS DROP FLAG IN FINISH OF FLIGHT

Lieutenants E. C. Kiel, eastbound, and H. W. Maynard, westbound, were the winners in the first transcontinental air derby Saturday. Kiel landing at Roosevelt field, at Mineola, N. Y., at 6:35:10 and Maynard at San Francisco at 1:12:57 P. M.

Kiel landed just 20 seconds ahead of Major Carl Spatz, who had dropped to earth a few minutes before at Hazelhurst field and taken to the air again but too late to be the first in. Spatz had a lead of eight minutes when the two left Bingham on the final lap of their trip to the east coast.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 11.—First Lieutenant Belvin W. Maynard, leading the field of transcontinental flyers from both the east and the west, arrived at Presidio field here at 1:12:07 P. M. today, after having completed the 2701-mile flight from Mineola field, N. Y., in the unofficial time of 24 hours 58 minutes and 55 1/2 seconds.
