MINERS ARE NOT LIKELY TO ACCEPT NEW OFFER

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—While committees representing miners and operators, meeting in a final effort to avert the strike of 500,000 soft coal miners set for November 1, were on the verge tonight of parting company for good, Secretary of Labor Wilson held them together, overnight at least, with a wage increase proposal that ignored union demands for a 30-hour week.

There was every assurance that the operators would accept it and every indication that the miners would reject it.

With the joint conference adjourned until 2 P. M. tomorrow, it was with the understanding that the two groups would meet then and make formal answer to the proposal. Refusal of the miners to accept will bring the conference to a close and force government officials to resort to other means to prevent the closing of the mines.

SHANTUNG SUBSTITUTE DEFEATED BY SENATE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—The long-debated Shantung amendment to the peace treaty, presented by Senator Lodge and approved by the foreign relations committee, finally was rejected in the senate today with a majority of an even score against it.

In the vote of 35 to 55, 14 republicans swung over to the pro-treaty forces, while three democrats lined up with those supporting the proposal. Of the six senators absent, two republicans were put on record as in favor of the amendment and one republican and three democrats as opposing it.

The rollcall, which came at the end of another six and a half hours of sharp debate, in reality swept away six amendments instead of one, each change in the treaty text having been numbered separately by the committee in its decision to strike out the word "Japan" and substitute the word "China" throughout the sections relating to the province of Shantung. By unanimous consent, however, the six changes were debated and voted on as one.

Only three of the committee's 45 amendments now remain to be acted on by the senate, 36 previously having been rejected. Of those remaining, one relates to American representation on the reparations commission and two to equalization of voting power in the league of nations assembly.

Sensors McNary and Chamberlain of Oregon voted against the Lodge amendment.

REVOLUTION INTENT OF STEEL MEN ADMITTED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—While members of the senate labor committee investigating the steel strike sat fairly dazed and dumfounded, Jacob Margolis, of Pittsburgh, I. W. U. agitator and admitted advocate of social revolution, today told them a story of ultra-radical activities which he said underlay and were associated with the nation-wide strike of steel workers.

Even more remarkable to his hearers was his delineation of a partially successful attempt covering the past two years to fuse at Pittsburgh for an unstated but vaguely hinted revolutionary purpose, the combined forces of the I. W. U., bolshevik and Russian industrial workers, whose imagination he acknowledged, has been caught by the successes of Lenin and Trotsky in Russia. All were working, he told the committee calmly, "to create a new society within the shell of the old."

Margolis coolly classified himself as an "anarchist syndicalist," in which capacity he had worked with and for the I. W. U. organization, and a "tolstolite anarchist." Governments, he said, will be of no use "when proper industrial conditions are established," and these industrial conditions, he predicted, will be established when workers, organized along I. W. U. lines get ready to "take over and operate industry for themselves, more efficiently than private ownership can."

OPPOSES THE LEAGUE

LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 18.—The lower house of the Nebraska legislature last night by a vote of 52 to 24 adopted a resolution requesting United States Senators Hitchcock and Norris to oppose the league of nations covenant as it stands at present.

Development of Printing

The elimination of type setting in the current number of the Lit is an advanced step in the production of printed matter, and development of the idea may ultimately revolutionize that department of the industry. Because of the printer's strike in New York, the ingenuity of the Lit management of the publication suggested applying the photo-engraving process to typewritten copy, reducing the size of the type, with the result that the last issue of the Lit is a fac-simile of type-written manuscript, photographed on plates and printed from them, eliminating entirely the composition of type forms. The appearance is naturally odd, as the reading public has not become accustomed to it, but they may be, if industrial conditions grow worse, and there is little prospect of their improvement. The right-hand column is irregular, as it is on a piece of typewritten manuscript, but the Los Angeles Times, through some process yet to be made public, has overcome this difficulty and both sides of the column are flush and regular, materially improving the appearance of the printed column.

It is not at all improbable that the new process, simple as it is, will displace machine composition in the larger publications. The Los Angeles Times announces that an investment of $7,000 will permit of the printing of a 24-page newspaper in a few hours, and when it is realized that the metropolitan newspapers have an investment of many thousands of dollars in type-casting machines, one may easily gather that this feature will be one that will appeal to publishers as a money-saving proposition.

ATTITUDE OF COUNTRY TO DECIDE ROAD PLAN

Plans have fully matured for a county wide campaign for the success of the proposed $1,700,000 road bond issue, to be submitted to the people at a special election next month, according to a statement made at the Live Wire luncheon by M. D. Latourrette, chairman of the road bond committee. It is not the purpose of the committee, explained Mr. Latourrette, to hold campaign meetings in Oregon city, but about 400 committees have been named in the school district to circulate petitions and to organize active campaigns to carry the bond issue in their respective localities.

Four years ago Clackamas county voted upon a proposal to issue bonds for $600,000 for roads, and the plan went down to overwhelming defeat, due largely to the general belief in the county that it was Oregon City scheme, in which the farmers were not primarily interested. Mr. Latourrette does not propose to have the same error made this time, and points out that nearly all of the roads proposed are of direct benefit to the people of the country and it is up to them to go out and get the votes to put the plan across.

Oregon City is interested in the plan for the general good and development of the county and because in the bond issue $105,000 is set aside to help in the construction of a new bridge across the Willamette at Oregon City.

SUPREME COURT ASKS DISMISSAL OF WILBUR CASE

SALEM, Or., Oct. 21.—The case of the state of Oregon against Julius Wilbur, formerly proprietor of the once notorious Friar's club at Milwaukie, which is now pending in the United States supreme court, will be dismissed according to a decision reached by Attorney General George M. Brown and Gilbert Hedges, district attorney of Clackamas county.

Wilbur was convicted and sentenced to pay a fine and serve a jail sentence in the Clackamas county courts for the sale of liquor made on September 23, 1916, in violation of the state prohibition law. He then appealed the case to the state supreme court, with the result that the verdict of the lower tribunal was affirmed. It was charged in the appeal that the indictment against Wilbur was faulty in that it failed to set out to whom the alleged sale of liquor was made.

Following the ruling of the Oregon supreme court the defendant appealed the action to the United States supreme court, but arguments were delayed because of the absence of Wilbur's attorney in France. This morning the attorney general received a telegram from Washington that the case would probably come up about October 24. Knowing that Wilbur had not filed a brief in the case, and that he had left the state in order to escape serving a jail sentence in Multnomah county, the attorney general telegraphed to ascertain what action could be taken in having the case dismissed without creating the expense attendant to a trip to Washington.

A reply was received this afternoon to the effect that it would be agreeable for the state to employ counsel in Washington to make formal appearance and ask for dismissal of the case.

The number of women employed by the railroads of the United States has been reduced since January 1 from 100,000 to about 75,000.

CONCURRENCE IN RESERVATIONS NOW SUGGESTED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—By a vote of 10 to 7 the senate foreign relations committee today adopted a provision that all reservations to the German peace treaty as finally adopted by the senate, must be acquiesced in by the other nations signatory to the document.

Nine republicans and one Democrat—Shields of Tennessee—voted for and six Democrats and one Republican—McCumber of North Dakota—voted against the proposition that all reservations protecting American sovereignty rights and interests under the treaty must be agreed to by the other nations before American ratification of the treaty would be considered binding upon the United States.

The provision adopted to be reported to the senate for incorporation in the resolution of ratification.

Unless the other nations parties to the treaty consent to the reservations ratification of the treaty by the senate is not to be regarded as final or effective, it was proposed by those members of the committee who voted for the provision.

Hot verbal clashes between the Republican and administration members of the committee marked consideration of the provision before it was adopted.

It was predicted at the White House that the action of the senate foreign relations committee will be defeated on the floor of the senate.

ROAD MEASURES GIVE PROMISE OF SPIRITED CAMPAIGN

Under section No. 201 of the general laws of 1919 the county court is clothed with authority to submit at a special election any question proposed under the initiative, and paragraph 15 makes it plain that the 5 mill road tax C. E. Spence and others may be voted upon at the special bond election, which will probably be held in Clackamas county some time in December. The act specifically provides that the law shall be liberally construed, and Attorney Schuebel, who looked up the matter Friday, is of the opinion that the county court is entirely within its rights in submitting a tax measure at the bond election.

Road bugs are intensely interested in the announcement that two proposals are to be submitted to the people, and there is a prospect of a warm campaign for both measures this fall.

LIEUT. MAYNARD HAILED VICTOR IN FLYING TEST

MINEOLA, N. Y., Oct. 18.—Lieutenant Belvin W. Maynard, victor in the army's air race across the continent and return, the greatest aviation endurance test of history, landed here at 1:50 p. m.

Lieutenant Maynard flew the 145 miles of the last stage in his great flight at a speed of nearly two miles a minute.

The first persons to greet him as he stepped from his machine were his wife and two little girls, who rushed across the field amid the frantic cheering of the hundreds of spectators who were marshalled at a safe distance by special details of soldiers.

The first words uttered by Lieutenant Maynard when he put his foot on mother earth again were a generous tribute to Sergeant W. E. Klein, his companion on the flight.

AIR PASSENGER LINE

MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 20.—An aerial passenger line using six three-passenger and two 16-passenger airplanes soon will be established between Havana and Miami and saving 48 hours in the present New York-Havana trip.

W. G. MACDONALD IS FINED $20 WITH COSTS FOR ASSAULT

William G. MacDonald, arrested Wednesday on a charge of assault and battery preferred by his wife and father-in-law, pleaded guilty in the Justice Court this morning and paid a fine of $20 and costs. Mrs. MacDonald filed a suit for divorce against her husband Thursday, charging that he had beaten her, and their children and her parents. Mrs. MacDonald is living at Coaleo, near New Bra.

During the Middle Ages and in the Renaissance period brides were crimson to the exclusion of all other colors.

Roosevelt's Last Words

I cannot be with you, and so all I can do is to wish you godspeed. There must be no sagging back in the fight for Americanism, merely because the war is over. There are plenty of persons who have already made the assertion that they believe the American people have a short memory and that they intend to revive all the foreign associations which most directly interfere with the complete Americanization of our people. Our principle in this matter should be absolutely simple. In the first place, we should insist that if the immigrant who comes here does in good faith become an American and assimilates himself to us he shall be treated on an exact equality with every one else, for it is an outrage to discriminate against any such man because of creed or birthplace or origin.

But this is preicated upon the man's becoming in very fact an American and nothing but an American. If he tries to keep segregated with men of his own origin and separated from the rest of America, then he isn't doing his part as an American. There can be no divided allegiance here. Any man who says he is an American but something else also, isn't an American at all.

We have room for but one flag, the American flag, and this excludes the red flag, which symbolizes all wars against liberty and civilization just as much as it excludes any foreign flag of a nation to which we are hostile. We have room for but one language here, and that is the English language, for we intend to see that the crucible turns our people out as Americans, of American nationality, and not as dwellers in a polyglot boarding house; and we have room for but one soul loyalty, and that is loyalty to the American people.

ROAD PETITIONS IN CIRCULATION AROUND COUNTRY

Petitions for the $1,700,000 road bond issue were placed in circulation in various sections of Clackamas county Monday and are expected to be completed before the end of the present week and filed with the county court, which will be requested to call a special bonding election as speedily as possible. The court must give at least 20 days notice, and may give as much as 40 days, but supporters of the bonding plan will urge the court to fix the date of the election within the minimum time, that taxpayers of the road districts may be able to hold their district meetings. The bond act provides that the county court may call an election upon petition of 5 per cent of the vote for supreme judge at the last election and it is mandatory upon the court to call the election upon petition of 25 per cent. If the court will consent to an early election, the date will likely be about November 15.

SCHOOL BONDS RECENTLY VOTED BRING PREMIUM

School district bonds to the amount of $35,000 authorized by the voters several weeks ago were purchased Friday by Devereaux & Co., of Portland, bringing a premium of $178.53, exclusive of the lithographed bonds that will be furnished by the buyer.

The bonds bear 5 per cent interest and mature in 20 years but are optional in 10 years. The Lumbermen's Trust Co. of Portland offered a premium of $162.75 and another Portland concern offered but made a charge for furnishing the bond blanks.

The Bank of Commerce, of Oregon City, Morris Bros. and Clark Kendall & Co., of Portland, offered a premium for 5 1/2 per cent bonds and Freeman Smith & Camp Co. submitted a bid of $175 above par for a 5 1/2 per cent bonds.

LESTER ST. ONG WRITES LETTER HOME TO WIFE

Lester St. Ong, for whom an exhaustive search was made last summer after his fish basket, containing his fishing license, was found near the Willamette river basin at Oregon City, is working in the state of Washington, according to information received here to the effect that his wife, who lives at Portland, had received from him a letter with an inclosure of $200. The information was received by I. D. Taylor, chief deputy in the tax collector's office, and it is stated that St. Ong wrote rather a rambling letter.

Last Summer St. Ong, who had been working in the shipyards at Portland, came to Oregon City to secure employment in Busch's furniture factory. His service were not required and he went up to the Falls to fish, when he failed to return home a search was made and his fish basket was discovered. Members of Multnomah Camp, Woodmen of the World, with Grappler Hugh Brady, dragged the river, and the effort to locate St. Ong continued for more than a week, without success. It is feared his mind was unbalanced, as his domestic relations were said to have been ideal and no reason could be assigned for his conduct.

LOYALTY LEAGUE UNDER NEW NAME TO BE CONTINUED

The members of the Loyalty league met at the court house Saturday afternoon, deciding by a unanimous vote to continue their activities. The name will be changed to the United Americans. A committee to draft a platform for the new organization was named and will report at a meeting called to meet at the same place next Saturday.

LABOR JARS AWAY FROM INDUSTRIAL CONFERENCE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—Labor withdrew from the national industrial conference tonight after its final effort to obtain adoption of a collective bargaining resolution had been defeated by the vote of a majority of the capital group.

Although the representatives of both the public and capital announced their intention of remaining in the conference, the next movement in the effort to restore industrial peace to the country evidently rested with President Wilson.

Secretary Lane will make a personal report of the situation to the president, but neither leaders in the conference nor officials generally would venture a prediction as to what course Mr. Wilson would take.

The conference will be called together tomorrow as usual.

Withdrawal of the labor group was announced by President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor, after a dramatic speech it came only a few hours after Secretary Lane had read a letter in which President Wilson, dictating from his sickbed, appealed for harmony in the conference and for the final working out of a programme of industrial peace.

SPENCE TO MAKE WAR ON BONDS FOR ROADS

Charles E. Spence, master of the state grange, announced Thursday that he would take immediate steps to initiate a measure to provide for a 5-mill tax each year for a period of ten years, in opposition to the proposed road bond issue, involving an expenditure of $1,700,000. Under Mr. Spence's plan, there would be available about $1,500,000, but only $150,000 would be at the disposal of the county court each year.

The petitions for the road bond election will be placed in circulation to day, and under the bonding act, the county court may call an election upon petition of 5 per cent of the electors, based upon the vote for justice of the supreme court at the last election. In the event that 25 per cent of the names of the electors are obtained, the court must proceed to call the election. The millage plan will be operated under the initiative, requiring only 8 per cent of the vote for supreme judge.

Mr. Spence hopes to get into action in time to place his proposal before the people at the same election at which bonds are to be voted upon. It is generally believed that two ballots may be necessary, but the same election machinery may be used, and the voter will be permitted to express his choice for or against both proposals.

In the event the people give a majority to both propositions it has been feared by local attorneys that both would be in effect, while other attorneys contend that the proposal receiving the largest number of favorable votes would be effective.

The opposition of Mr. Spence to road bonds has consistent and of long duration, and been attitude prefaces a fight in Clackamas county. His counter proposal was submitted at a mass meeting of road enthusiasts several weeks ago, and the farmers, who comprised probably 90 per cent of those in attendance, favored the bonding idea as against the millage plan by a vote of 124 to 13, making a concrete demand for the easy construction of the roads proposed to be improved and manifesting their unwillingness to wait 10 years.

Another phase of the road situation became public Thursday, when it was reported that the paving companies would fight the bond issue, on the provision embraced in the preamble to the act requiring the county court to let contracts, except for work done with the county's own paving plants, for labor only, the county to furnish all material. Mr. Spence, however, is of the opinion that the court may exercise its discretion and that it may award contracts for both labor and material, despite the injunction of the bonding act. He argues, however, that under the millage plan, the court would be obliged to obey the injunction of the people, given under the initiative.

Clock Goes Back One Hour Sunday

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Today saw the start of the last week of daylight saving. Next Sunday the law becomes ineffective. The hands of the clock will be set back one hour.
